URSULINE ACADEMY, CHATHAM.

The Commencement Exercises at the Ursuline Academy, Chatham, Ont., were held on the 21st October, the feast of the tutelary saint of the institution, the glorious, martyred virgin, St. Ursula. St. Cecilia's Assembly Hall was tastefully and prettily decorated, the prevailing hues in the drapings, as also in the costumes of the students, being white and blue, the convent colors. Palms, ferns, autumn leaves, with bloom of rose, carnation, aster, chrysanthemum, and the myriad-hued blossoms which beautify nature in this bright month, were scattered in artistic profusion, making a brilliant background and setting for the sweet young faces and slender, girlish forms which adorned the stage.

The places of honor were occupied by His Lordship, Right Rev. F. P. McEvay, D. D., Bishop of London; Rev. Father McBrady, O. S. B., President of Sandwich College; Rev. Father James, O. F. M., P. P. of Chatham, Ont.; Rev. Father O'Donohue, C. S. B., P. P. of Port Lambton; Rev. Father Andrieux, P. P., Paincourt; Rev. Father Bouba; P. P., Ridgetown; Rev. Father McKeon, P. P. St. Mary's, London; Rev. Father Meunier, P. P., Windsor, Rev. Father West, P. P., St. Thomas; Rev. Father Tobin, Stratford; Rev. Father Mugan, P. P., Italeigh; Rev. Father Lanziois, P. P., Tilbury; Rev. Father Hermann, O. F. M., Chatham; Rev. Father Parent, P. P., McGregor; Rev. Father Ladouceur, P. P., St. Peter's; Rev. Father McGee, P. P., Maidstone; and Rev. Father Loiselle, P. P., Big Point. The hall was filled with guests and friends of the academy.

The chorus of welcome, "Hail to our Guests," was excellently sung by the entire school, the orchestral accompaniment of string and wind instruments, supported by two pianos, adding greatly to the brilliancy of the effect. The entertainment which followed was one of superior merit and excellence. Its theme, "The High Vision of the Holy Grail in Song and Story," is for its purity and refinement, a classical one in the highest sense. The Prologue, by Miss Jessie Kathleen Wilson, introduced the subject in a most fellicitous manner; and was followed by "The Chimes," a charming chorus on the mystic chimes of the Grail castle, sung by the junior pupils with graceful gestures. The duet in "The Chimes," sung by Olive and Laura Mather, was very sweet and pretty. Miss Mary Gertrude Prud'homme, in a fine essay made an eloquent apology for the presentation of legends; at once placing the legends of the Holy Grail on a plane far above ordinary myths or folk-lore. The chorus, "Mousa-lout Bells," was well sung by the senior pupils, the solo being beautifully rendered by Miss Gavin.

Then followed an exceedingly fine paper, a close consideration, read by Miss Jessie Margaret McVean. In this was recounted the stages by which the great legend was preserved, expanded and transmitted through the old chroniclers of Britain and the medieval minstrels of Germany, until the revival of the traditions in the last century.

Miss Beatrice Gordon Cosgrave and Miss Mary Elizabeth Gavin in two superb essays, "The Arthurian Symphony" of Alfred Tennyson" and "Welsh Saga Drama" of Richard Wagner, illustrated the manner in which these two great masters of poetical and musical arts utilized the rich material of these legends, the former in his exquisite epic, "Idylls of the King," and the latter in his incomparable music dramas "Lohengrin" and "Parsifal."

"The Five-Fold Vision" was excellently portrayed in recitation: that of Percival's sister by Laura McDonald; those of Percival and the spotless Galahad by Olive Mather; Sir Bors by Emma Ouellette; and Lancelot's by Hazel Washburne.

"The Mystic Lessons of the Grail Visions," by Miss Kathleen Loretta Spereman, formed a fitting sequel to the wonderful history of that sacred cup, bringing down from the high region of idesility these marvellously wrought legends, (wherein is less of legend than of mysticism) and placing them in our hands as a sweet illustration that commensurate with the truth and purity of our daily lives will be the perfection with which we will behold the Vision

In the beautiful chorus,
"Afar it disappeareth,
As dies the lustrous light of day,"

was depicted the last earthly vision of the precious vessel,

"As down dark tides the glory slides,
And star light mingles with the stars."

The programme also included several pianoforte numbers. The "Symphony" was very artistically executed by Miss Mabel Edmonson, "Piccolo," by Maybelle Parker with orchestral accompaniment on second piano by Bessie Brackin; and "Sarcenata" by Miss Edmonson with orchestral accompaniment on second piano by Anna Carson were brilliantly rendered. The accompanistes of the choruses were Agnes Bower and Maybelle Parker. The violins were played by Miss Florence Surby, Kathleen Spereman and Angela Crotty.

The conferring of medals and diplomas was followed by a pleasant little speech from His Lordship, who in the happiest manner mingled with his gracious words of commendation some salutary advice for the young students. Very Rev. Father McBrady, President of Sandwich College, then spoke a few words; after which His Lordship granted the pupils a holiday.

DIOCESE OF PETERBOROUGH.

ST. GEORGE'S CHURCH BLESSED.

September 23rd will ever be a memorable day for the few Catholics in Baysville, when their pretty church was blessed to the service of Almighty God. The ceremony of blessing the Church was performed by His Lordship the Bishop of Peterborough, assisted by the Rev. Father Kelly, of Trout Creek, and our parish priest, the Rev. Father Collins of Bracebridge. After blessing the outside of the building the blessing of the inside was proceeded with, the Bishop and Rev. Fathers repeating the Litany of the Saints. The Holy Sacrifice the Mass was offered up by Rev. Father Kelly, after which the Bishop delivered a beautiful sermon, which was very much appreciated by both Catholics and Protestants, several of the latter being present. At the close of the sermon His Lordship gave Confirmation to three candidates, and gave a fine explanation of the benefits to be derived from this Holy Sacrament. After the Confirmation His Lordship was presented with a short address on behalf of the congregation, signed by J. D. Smith, T. P., M. J. Kelly, F. J. Hogan and Timothy Kelly. His Lordship kindly replied, speaking words of praise and encouragement and urging all to persevere in attending to their religious duties. The decorations of the church are done in Muresco colors and give high religious tone to the interior. The work was executed by Mr. J. D. Smith, decorator.

MARRIAGE.

BLACKBURN-HAYES.

At St. Joseph's church, Douro, on Tuesday, Mr. John Joseph Blackburn, of Newmarket was married to Miss Helena Hayes, Rev. Father Kielty officiating. The bride, who was given away by her father, Mr. J. Hayes, wore grey crepe de chene over grey silk, with garniture of cream applique. She carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums and wore a gold chain and pendant studded with pearls, the gift of the groom. Miss Mollie Hayes, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, in old rose crepe de chene, trimmed with cream medallions. E. Blackburn, brother, was groomsman.—Daily Examiner, October 26.

OBITUARY.

MRS. BRIDGET O'BRIEN, LONDON.

An old and respected resident of East London, Mrs. Bridget O'Brien, died at the family residence on last Thursday, October 29th. Mrs. O'Brien had been ailing for nearly two years, but her illness was not considered serious until two weeks ago. Her earnest piety and resignation at all times to God's Holy Will was truly edifying.

The deceased was born in Scariff, County Clare Ireland, eighty-three years ago. She leaves to mourn her loss two daughters—Mrs. John McGuire of Ardock, North Dakota, and Miss Nellie O'Brien of our Forest City.

The funeral took place on Saturday, October 31, to St. Mary's church, where Rev. Father McKeon celebrated a Requiem Mass for the repose of the departed soul. Interment took place at St. Peter's cemetery. Rev. J. T. Aylward, Rector of the Cathedral, officiated at the grave.

May she rest in peace!

CATHLENE D. CONNOR, BRANT.

The Angel of Death has again visited our midst, this time to claim the soul of Cathline, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Connor of Brant. Although our little friend had been lingering for some weeks past, it was expected that she might recover, as she had always enjoyed excellent health, and every possible effort was exercised to save her. But all in vain. She gradually grew worse, until on October 7th death came as a relief to her sufferings. Although only three years old, Cathlene, owing to her kind and loving disposition, had won the love of old and young. Hence the news of her death was keenly felt throughout the community. But it is impossible for anyone, other than her sorrowing parents, to realize the severeness of her loss.

Being the sunshine of her home she cheered the father who after a day of weary toil found sweet consolation in his child. And now since we understand why a father mourns, how easily it is for us to understand why the mother who has loved and cared for Cathlene from infancy should grieve. Truly the cross is hard to bear, but knowing that our darling shines among the angels we should cast aside our grief and rejoice at the accomplishment of the will of God.

The funeral, which took place on Oct. 9th, at 2.30 p. m., was exceptionally large, showing the esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. Connor are held. Four of the old school boys acted as pall-bearers. The remains were interred in North Brant.

C. M. B. A.—Branch No. 4, London.

Meets on the 2nd and 4th Thursday of every month, at 8 o'clock, at their hall, on Albion Block, Richmond Street. T. J. O'Meara, President; P. F. Boyle, Secretary.

THE MONTH OF THE DEAD.

PRAY FOR THE DEAD.

(By "Una," Mary A. Ford.)

Oh, pray, pray for the dead!
Kneel in thought where the withered grasses
Rustling sway o'er a once bright head;
Summer dies, and the dying flowers
Sigh, "Remember your loved and dead."
Fading, fluttering, whirling, falling,
Leaves come down with a sob of pain—
Come to cover the dear ones lying
Under the cold November rain—
Cold as clay when the soul has fled,
Oh, pray, pray for the dead!

Oh, pray, pray for the dead!
Every second Death is calling,
Dear ones fall like the Autumn leaves;
Where's the grove that has lost no garland?
Where's the home where no mourner grieves?—
Grieves for those who, perhaps, in anguish,
Barred from glory, are doomed to roam,
Voiceless, helpless. Oh you loved them!
Beg our Father to call them home—
Home from suffering, darkness, dread;
Oh, pray, pray for the dead!

Oh, pray, pray for the dead!
Pray for those whom the yawning billows
Swallowed down in their fearful wrath,
Those who scorched by the breath of fever,
Fell like grass in the mower's path,
Those who dropped by the way unnoticed,
Those who died in the battle's din.
All are loved by our Lord, and holy,
All must suffer who stoop to sin;
Plead for rest for each weary head,
Oh, pray, pray for the dead!

Oh, pray, pray for the dead!
Buried friends, can we e'er forget you—
You who felt for our weal or woe?
God be with you, our silent sleepers,
Lying under the turf so low
Useless, vain is our weak bewailing—
Vain are murmur and sob and tear;
What, oh, what can our grief avail you,
Lifeless dust that was once so dear?
Hark! a sigh from each lowly bed:
Oh, pray, pray for the dead!

NEW BOOKS.

Sick Calls or Chapters of Pastoral Medicine, by Rev. Alfred Manning Mulligan, Birmingham, Eng., is a very interesting book for priests, lately published by Benziger Bros. Cardinal Gibbons has beautifully remarked "that the visitation of the sick is the touchstone of apostolic zeal and charity." This work is a compendium of medical and moral science well worthy of perusal by those for whom the gifted author writes. Price, $1.10.

DIOCESE OF LONDON.

MISSION AT ST. PATRICK'S CHURCH, RALEIGH.

On Sunday, Oct. 18, a successful mission was commenced in the new church by Rev. Father Kreidt, Carmelite, of Niagara Falls. The people crowded to the church every morning and evening during eight days to hear the instructions and sermons of the renowned preacher. People from other parishes and some of the neighboring priests came to hear him when the word of his preaching went abroad. During the eight days he went over the whole Christian doctrine explaining everything in plain and simple language. He pointed out all the vices, their causes and remedies. He encouraged the people in all the virtues and the means to obtain them, and portrayed the everlasting kingdom of heaven as the reward of the just.

People of all denominations crowded to hear him. Those who attended regularly got a deep insight into religion. The weather was very fine all through, and the many crowds and scenes of beauty in the new church during the mission has left a deep impression on the people.

The Rev. Father arranged to have the people solemnly renew their Baptismal Vows at the end of the Mission on Sunday evening. The church was crowded. All were provided with candles. The Rev. Father preached with burning eloquence till 9 o'clock to a spellbound congregation, exhorting each class of the people to persevere in the virtues of their different states of life. He then asked the acolytes to illuminate the church. The candles of the congregation, and altars were lighted. At his request the congregation stood up, the priests and acolytes formed a semi-circle with lighted candles in the sanctuary, the preacher in the centre, and holding their candles aloft, every one solemnly pronounced aloud after the Rev. Father the words of Renunciation and the Baptismal vows. It was a grand and solemn sight.

On Monday morning the Missionary Father celebrated a Requiem Mass for all the deceased members of the parish.

Pandora Range

SMOOTH, HARD CASTINGS—EASILY POLISHED

Every woman who prides herself on a well-appointed kitchen wants her range to be well polished, look clean and have a new, elegant appearance.

This is not possible if the castings are not right—all castings in the "Pandora" range are made from the highest grade of pig-iron (no scrap of any kind is used) the best skilled moulders in the land do the moulding, the utmost care and latest machinery is used in the cleaning, and when finished every part has a smooth, hard, black surface which takes a beautiful, rich polish and never has that grey effect always seen in poor castings.

Special flue construction in the "Pandora" forces the heat around the oven twice and directly under every pot-hole—is a perfect baker and a perfect cooker at the same time.

Sold by all enterprising dealers. Booklet free to any address.
