Died.

On the 13th ult., Charles, infant son of Mr. John Weldon, aged 3 months.

On the 19th ult., Mrs. Mary Weldon, wife of Mr. John Weldon, aged 24 years.

Suddenly, on Wednesday morning, Mr. Marcus Crummie, aged 46 years—a native of Londonderry, Ireland.

On Friday morning, the 5th inst., after seven days' severe affliction, of diarrhœa, Mr. Mark Varley, in the 47th year of his age; highly and deservedly esteemed and respected by all who knew him, while living, and whose unexpected and sudden death will be deeply lamented by his friends and a large circle of acquaintances. Of him it may be said (if not a perfect) he was "an upright man, one who feared God and eschewed evil."

On Sunday, of the prevailing epidemic, Eleanor Edley, beloved wife of Mr. Hugh Wilson, in the 56th year of her age. Her christian-like deportment in this life had always been a bright example, but her death-bed was Heaven indeed. Her departure from this vale of tears will never be effaced from the memory of those who had the mournful pleasure of being present on that occasion;—well might it be said, "look and behold! how Christian can die."

At Economy, Nova Scotia, on the 29th ult., Mr. John Crane, aged 75 years.

At San Francisco, California, on the 27th July last, Mr. George Patterson, West River, Pictou.—Also, at the same place, on the 29th July, Mr. James McKeand, aged 29 years, son of Mr. John McKeand, Rogers' Hill.

Lost overboard from the brig British Queen, on her passage from Aylesford, N. S., to Boston, Wm. Crowley, 1st officer, son of James Crowley, Esq., of Digby.

[FOR THE CHRONICLE.]

PROVINCIAL LUNATIC ASYLUM.

Messrs. Editors,—Whatever the result of the pending investigation may be, the public may be well assured of one fact, namely:—It will be impartially, fairly and honourably conducted, on the part of James W. Chandler, Esquire, the learned Commissioner appointed by the Government to receive, comment upon, and transmit the testimony adduced on both sides. The suggestion that there should be more then one Commissioner, is weak indeed. If there were three or more, the responsibility would be divided, and the whole affair would be bungled, as is always the case, when there are too many cooks, who inevitably spoil the broth. We have one Master of the Rolls, who decides cases in Equity to any extent. Why not have three? Simply because, centuries of experience have proved, that one is quite sufficient, to ensure justice, impartiality and accuracy.—There was one Commissioner—Lord Durham—to investigate the real and alleged grievances of the Canadians, why not three? Because the wisdom of the British government was rightly exercised as the sequel proved, in naming one only. Surely then, one Commissioner is sufficient in the present instance.

If there is guilt it will be exposed, and the culpable parties severely punished, and if there is collusion, of course there is more than one person concerned who will be called to a fearful account. I have heard a portion of the testimony, which if uncontradicted, disclosed scenes and acts of diabolical villiany, which will brand the perpetrator with eternal infamy. But we must recollect the maxim "Audi alteram partem," and be governed by the injunction which it conveys.

Brown's Shakers'

PURE FLUID EXTRACT OF ENGLISH VALERINA, (Valeriana Officinale.)

Manufactured by the United Society of Shakers by a process peculiarly their own, from the pure green root, imported from England and raised by themselves, and from which only, and active property of the Valerian can be obtained. It is highly approved of by the Faculty. Physicians and others are respectfully invited to give it a fair trial.

Price, twenty five cents a bottle, or two dollars and fifty cents a dozen, with liberal discount to wholesale dealers. Directions accompany each bottle.

FRIEND SAMUEL BROWN, ENFIELD, N. H.

You ask me to give my opinion of the Fluid Extract of Valerian, which you prepare. When it a secret remedy or a patent medicine, I certainly would not reply. But from the honourable ground which you have taken in this matter, and knowing also the labor you have bestowed upon this preparation, I am willing to give publicity to my opinion of the preparation referred to. Ever since our knowledge of organic chemistry has been so much increased, we have found out that many very excellent remedies are in the material state so combined and associated with other principles as to render them in a great degree useless to us. This was remarkably the case with the Valerian. We could not use it as often as we wished, because of the great bulk both of powder and infusion which it was necessary to throw into the stomach in order to get a full effect. Nausea and even vomiting resulted from the large doses. This compelled us to abandon its use. Chemistry showed us that the active principle is a peculiar acid (the Valerianic acid) which exists only in small quantity in the root. In your method of preparation this active principle is detached from the nauseating constituents of the root, and obtained in solution. We may then look upon your Fluid Extract of Valerian as a solution of Valerianic Acid. The action of this article upon the nervous system is most happy in all cases where the exhaustion of nervous energy is below the healthy standard, and it hence becomes a most important remedy. We owe you and others many thanks for putting so valuable a remedy as the Valerian into a convenient shape for use.

Yours respectfully,
EDWARD E. PHELPS M. D.
Prof. Therapeutics and Mat. Med. in Dartmouth

The above invaluable Preparation is signally efficacious in all Nervous and Hysteric Affections, Peoplessness, and Sick Headache, producing quiet, and tranquil sleep, and leaving no unpleasant sensations after its use,—the inevitable result of Opiates, Camphor, and the many articles usually administered.

Having had an opportunity of giving a thorough trial to Brown's Shakers' Fluid Extract of Valerian, and having seen its good effects especially manifested in a severe case of Tic Douloureux, I have no hesitation in saying that I consider it superior to any other form in which the Valerian is ever used, and as eminently deserving the attention of the medical profession.

DR. LA'MERT
ON THE SECRET INFIRMITIES OF YOUTH AND MATURITY,
With Forty Coloured Engravings.

Just published, and may be had in French and English, in sealed Envelope, 2s 6d sterling.

SELF-PRESERVATION:

A MEDICAL TREATISE ON THE PHYSIOLOGY OF MARRIAGE, and Disorders of Youth and Maturity usually acquired at an early period of life, which enervate the physical and mental powers, diminish an enjoyable the natural feelings, and exhaust the energies of Manhood. With practical observations on the Treatment of Nervous Debility and Indigestion, whether arising from these causes, close study or the Influence of Tropical climates, Local and Constitutional Weakness, Syphilis, Stricture, and all Diseases and Derangements resulting from Indiscretion. With FORTY Coloured Engravings, illustrating the Anatomy, Physiology, and Diseases of the Reproductive Organs, explaining their structure, uses and functions, and the various injuries that are produced in them "by solitary habits and excesses, and infection."

By Samuel La'Mert, M. D.

No. 37, BEDFORD SQUARE, LONDON.

Doctor of Medicine, Marticular Member of the University of Edinburgh, Licentiate of Apothecaries' Hall, London, Honorary Member of the London Hospital, Medical Society, &c.

CONTENTS OF THE TREATISE;

CHAPTER I.—On the Philosophy of Marriage, with its Hindrances and Obligations, and on Infelicitous and Unproductive Unions.

CHAPTER II.—On the Anatomy and Physiology of the Generative Organs, their functions, structures, and secretions, proving that great Mental and Physical Power are dependant on their healthy action.

CHAPTER III.—On solitary Habits; their various effects on the Animal Economy; the concealed cause of Debility of the functions of the Stomach, Lungs, and Brain, and general Weakness of the Mental Faculties.

CHAPTER IV.—On the Secret Disorders of Youth and Maturity, and the Treatment of Nervous and Local Weakness, Mental Debility, and Premature Decay.

CHAPTER V. and VI.—On the Disorders arising from indiscriminate Excess, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Strictures, and other diseases of the Urethra.

REVIEW OF THE WORK.

Marriage requires the fulfilment of several conditions, in order that it may be really the cause of mutual happiness. Could the veil, which covers the origin of domestic wretchedness, be raised and its true source in every instance disclosed, in how many could it be traced to physical disqualifications and their attendant disappointments. Excesses are always injurious; the gift, which when used in moderation is fraught with advantage, becomes, when abused, the prolific source of mischief, and of greater or less injury to the constitution and vital powers. The particular excesses, on the nature and consequences of which this Treatise professes to divine, are productive of greater misery to the human frame, than any other to which it is subject.

This Work contains an accurate and complete account of the Anatomy and Physiology of the Reproductive Organs, and of their relative conditions in health and disease. Not are these the sole contents of the Work, the means of escape, as well as the nature of the danger are pointed out in clear and intelligible language. It deservedly requires the closest attention and study, for what subject can be of more importance than the preservation of health, and the physical capabilities of which every man should be posessed. It unfortunately happens that the unhappy victim of excesses, indulgence and vicious habits, whether acquired in early life, or from the follies of advanced age, while suffering from their invariable consequences, unwisely entertains a fear of applying to the qualified physician for relief. Shame and the dread so frequently but erroneously entertained that these complaints are beyond the reach of art, alike restrict him, and prevent his seeking for assistance where alone it can be procured. In acting thus, he forgets that actuate discrimination in ascertaining the causes of disease, sympathy with the sufferer, and above all, secrecy, invariably characterize the intelligent and practical physician and to the medical man, who can show by his possession of the requisite legal qualification that he is entitled to esteem and respect in his professional pursuits the utmost confidence should be extended. DR. LA'MERT has obtained the highest medical honours, as his diplomas testify, and the great extent of his practice for many years is a guarantee for his professional experience, which has reference almost solely to the treatment of these diseases.

The work may be had in St. John, of H. Chubb & Co. price 2s. 6d. sig.; Halifax, Messrs. Mun on & Co.; Quebec, Mr. Neilson.
