FROM

Yesterday's Edition:

THE LEGISLATURE.

FREDERICTON, April 10.

The House in Committee passed the Supply Bills introduced yesterday.

A message relating to the Botsford matter was laid before the House.

House went into Committee on the Orange Bill. No discussion took place, as the members considered it would do no good and only result in angry invective and bitter recrimination.

Adams moved that the bill receive the three months hoist which was carried by the following vote:—Yeas, Kelly, Caie, McQueen, Theriault, Blanchard, Landry, Adams, Girouard, Gillespie, Hanington, Phillips, Napier, Otty, Humphrey, Williams, Maher—16.

Nays, Hatheway, King, Crawford, Wills, Wedderburn, McPherson, Bailey, Beckwith, White, Coram, Ryan, Palmer, Tibbits, Lindsay, McAdam—15.

House in committee on Caie's bill to provide for the erection of fences around the Kouchibouguac Beaches.

Attorney General, Wedderburn and others thought it might interfere with shore rights etc. and it would not be well to pass it without some alterations.

In course of discussion the Secretary said that he hoped the House would not separate without considering the bill sent down from the Legislative Council affecting the Campobello Fishery matter, as he was afraid that if it was left in its present state there would be blood shed. The Americans now come along and clear out the wiers set by our people in front of their very doors on the shores.

Caie's bill was passed with an amendment.

Gough came in and asked to have his name recorded in favor of giving the Orange Bill the three months hoist.

Phillips objected to having the vote recorded, on the principle that it was not right. He thought Gough's object would now be served, as his name would be in all the papers, and his constituents would know his position.

Gough replied that he wished to have his name on the journals of the House, not in the papers. His wish for newspaper notoriety was not as strong as that of the member for Restigouche.

The request was not granted as a member objected.

House in Committee agreed to a bill in addition to the River du Loup Railway incorporation Act, and also reported progress without leave to set again on Tibbits' bill to repeal the dual representation Act

The House in Committee agreed to a bill to incorporate the Trustees of the St. John Young Men's Christian Association.

The Secretary gave notice that the House would be prorogued to-morrow and that the Government would provide a special train so that the Northern members would get home before the Sabbath.

House in Committee agreed to a Bill to authorize the St. John Sessions to raise money to pay for improvements to be made in the Alms House, and also to a Bill to provide for a salary of $1,600 of the Superintendent of Education.

Otty moved House in Committee on report of Committee on bye roads.

—They have a resolute old fellow up in Washington county, New York, who, because his property was placed in the hands of his son, to prevent his squandering it upon drink, took to his bed and stayed there day and night for twenty years. He was determined that if his son had his property he should take care of him. He has been in good health all this time, but is waited on like a child.

—The entire length of the canal by which it has been proposed to connect the Caspian and Black Seas would be 630 Russian versts, or 400 miles. It is calculated that the work of construction would take 32,000 laborers six years. Aside from the benefit of the canal on commerce at large, it would serve to replenish the Caspian Sea, which is thought to be gradually drying up.

—The lumbering business of the Messrs. Cushing Bros. of Winterport, M., at Repentigny, Province of Quebec, Canada, is quite extensive. They employ three hundred men, one hundred horses and several yoke of oxen in the woods this winter, and will get out about 11,000,000 feet of logs. These logs will all be sawed into long lumber and sugar box shooks at their mill during the season of 1872.

—The Bangor Whig and Courier, in anticipation of a big freshet this spring, is preparing the minds of its readers for a terrible calamity by republishing an account of the disastrous flood of 1846.

Messrs. Scammell Bros., agents for the Anchor Line, received the following despatch this morning:—

HALIFAX, April 10.

"Dacian wrecked thirty miles Eastward; all lives saved. Sending steamer hopping to save cargo.
T. A. S. DEWOLFE & SON.

Nearly all of the New Brunswick goods was for St. John, one firm having 149 cases, another 111, another 106, and others smaller quantities. Nearly all the dry goods houses in the city, besides grocers, and others, suffer by the wreck. One house in St. Stephen loses 9 cases. One Fredericton House loses 6 cases, and another 9 cases. The class of goods lost is badly wanted in the market now, being largely valuable and fashionable dry goods; and although nearly everything is insured, it will cause great inconvenience to replace them.

Clam Bay and Jeddore are in the vicinity of the wreck.

Our merchants are awaiting information in reference to the condition of their freight before ordering again by cable.
