FROM ALL OVER THE MARITIME PROVINCES

FREDERICTON

Fredericton, May 13—About 7,000,000 feet of bank logs have arrived at Springhill and it is now thought that the first estimate of the total cut at 8,000,000 feet is too small, as there is a considerable amount of lumber to come in yet. An adverse wind today kept the bank logs from arriving in any large quantities. It is thought that the total cut will be in the neighborhood of 9,000,000 feet.

The water at Springhill and here is falling slightly but there is a good run of loose logs into the booms.

The death took place last evening at his home of James Carten after a lingering illness, at the age of fifty-four years. Seven daughters survive. They are: Marion, of Hartford (Conn.); Mrs. Lyman Homer, of Portland (Me.); Evelyn, Bessie, Frances, Mabel and Katie, at home. One son, Arthur W. Carten, of Halifax, also survives. There are three brothers, all residing in Fredericton—William, Richard and John.

Mrs. Margaret McConaghy, widow of John McConaghy, passed away this morning at the home of John Howland, West Oromocto, after a lingering illness.

B. M. Hill has been appointed division engineer of the Valley Railway in Woodstock in succession to L. B. Lincoln. Representatives of Kennedy & McDonald, contractors, are here making preparations to start work on the Valley Railway.

The water in the river has been falling slightly since yesterday.

The U. N. B. will announce the list of medal and prize winners on Wednesday morning. It is said that competition for the Douglas medal is very keen.

Fredericton, N. B., May 14—The graduating class of the University of New Brunswick held a dinner at the Queen Hotel tonight. The class numbers forty-two. This evening at the meeting the class decided to continue the practice of devoting the class fund to athletics, the support of a football coach being what is intended.

Hon. J. V. Ellis and wife arrived from St. John this evening for the closing exercises of the university. The associated alumni will hold a meeting at the provincial normal school building tomorrow night. The announcement of the alumni medal winner will be made.

The baseball club's squad of players is expected to leave Boston tomorrow morning reporting here tomorrow night.

Harry D. Creed, until lately accountant with R. Chestnut & Sons, has been offered and has accepted a good position in Saskatoon and will leave for that place tomorrow evening to enter upon his duties. His family will follow.

K. R. Machum, of St. John, member of the junior class at the U. N. B., will leave on Monday for the West to again take up forestry work this summer.

Eva Moorehouse whose home is at Stone Ridge had one of her hands severely injured in a mangle at the Globe laundry a few minutes after the laundry resumed operation at 1 o'clock this afternoon. The girl was taken to the Victoria Hospital immediately after the accident her hand being terribly burned and crushed.

W. H. Allen, of Penniac, has chartered the schooner H. H. Chamberlain to carry pressed hay for the Boston market. She will load at Sheffield this week. He has shipped 600 tons of hay to the American market and has 700 tons yet to forward. The price has recently advanced $2 a ton.

It is now believed that Scott Act Inspector Timmins has the inside track in the race for the position of jailer vacated by the death of George S. Winter. The position has been vacant for more than two weeks but the applicants are so numerous that the patronage dispensers are unable to agree upon a choice. Fred Yeoman of Marysville has the support of the McLeod faction while Pinder's wing is backing Timmins.

There has been no change in the condition of the river here for four days. The big lumber drives on the head waters are making satisfactory progress. There is plenty of snow in the woods and conditions are considered very favorable.

The U. N. B. track team, which will compete at the intercolegiate sports on May 22 will be composed of Kuhring, Howe, Otty, Shives, Maimann, Melrose, Murray and McDonald.

Several university students will go west next week to work during the vacation.

HOPEWELL HILL

Hopewell Hill, May 12—The ladies of the village last week organized a sewing circle, for the purpose of raising funds, so it is understood, for the finishing of the public hall here. Miss Helena Nichol was elected president, Miss Annie R. Peck vice-president, and Mrs. G. M. Russell, treasurer.

Miss Mary Russell, teacher at Upper Dorchester, spent Sunday at he rhome at Hopewell.

Rev. W. J. Kirby, pastor of the Methodist church, delivered an interesting sermon for Golden Rule Division, Sons of Temperance, in the church here this evening. The members of the order attended in regalia.

Mrs. James Smith, eighty-seven years of age, is seriously ill at her home at West River.

What is spoken of as a particularly impressive sermon was delivered by Rev. Mr. Love, the Baptist pastor, this aftrnoon, from the text: Remember Thy Creator in the Days of Thy Youth. Mr. Love is now blind and his unfortunate condition added to the effectiveness of the very touching discourse. The pastor has an assistant to read the lesons for him.

Hopewell Hill, May 13—A resident of the village has a horse that has been very sick as a result, it is supposed, of poisoning from fox poison, that some rash person had been using on the marsh. Another man had a cow that, it was thought, suffered from a similar cause. The placing of poison in the way supposed, makes the responsible parties subject to a heavy penalty.

Silas Wright, son of W. T. Wright, of this place, and one of the village's bright young men, has taken a position with the Bank of New Brunswick branch at Riverside, and went on duty this morning.

Hopewell Hill, May 14—Captain Joseph Cook, of Hopewell Cape, a retired ship master, had a narrow escape from drowning yesterday. The captain had been over to Dorchester in a small sail boat, and when nearing the Hopewell shore on return, jibed the sail in "wearing ship" and capsized the little craft. The captain was thrown into the water, but clung to the stern of the upturned boat, his calls for help, fortunately being heard by others who hastened to his assistance, and rescued him from his perilous position. At his advanced years, the captain would probably not have been able to hold on to the boat very long and the nearness of help was very fortunate.

The steamer Wilfrid C., is loading hay at the public wharf here for Dorchester. J. A. McLellan is shipping the cargo to the Sackville Hay & Feed Company.

Through the instrumentality of Miss A. R. Peck, the sum of $10 was secured here in aid of the Moncton hospital fund.

SALISBURY

Salisbury, May 13—Miss Helen Barnes, of this place, assisted in increasing the Moncton hospital fund, by carrying on an energetic and successful tag sale here on Thursday.

Mrs. J. L. Trites reutrned home on Saturday from a pleasant visit with relatives in Hillsboro (N. B.)

Fred Francis, eldest son of Rev. F. G. Francis, of this place, who is a student in civil engineering at McGill College is spending the summer holidays with a railway engineering party, near Calgary.

Mrs. Brittain, who has been visiting friends here, returned to her home at Norton, last week.

Miss Blanche Carter spent Sunday at River Glade at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Trueman Jones.

Billy Cummings, who has charge of A. E. Trites' racing stable here, is taking some of his track horses to Moncton this week. Several others will be sent to Fredericton for the summer.

V. E. Gowland, who came home from Nova Scotia Saturday, had his yearling "Rudy Kip" colt out in harness Saturday evening and the fine little animal proved very tractable.

LOWER WOODSTOCK

Lower Woodstock, May 13—James Scott will be done rafting his winter's cut of lumber in about ten days.

Norman Yerxa has gone to the American side to work for the summer.

Samuel Yerxa and wife are rejoicing at the arrival of a baby boy recently.

Miss Estelle Ragerman is on a prolonged visit to friends in Woodstock.

Miss Violet Winchester is visiting her sister, Mrs. Sam. Yerxa.

Gorden Flemming, of the C. P. R., spent the week-end with his father, Wm. Flemming, of this place.

NEWCASTLE

(Delayed in Mails.)

Newcastle, May 8—Miss McDonald, who has been visiting Miss Ritchie for some time, returned to her home in Pugwash (N. S.), last week.

Mrs. Fred V. Chesman, of St. John's, Newfoundland, who has been visiting friends and relatives in New York and Boston for the past three months, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. R. Waldo Crocker.

The members of the married ladies Midge Club were entertained very pleasantly at the home of Mrs. Walter Jardine last Friday evening.

The at home given last Tuesday evening by the Highland Society of New Brunswick, at Miramichi, in the Opera House, was undoubtedly the most brilliant and successful social function that the participants have enjoyed for several years. About 350 guests were present. No pains had been spared by the committees in charge, in providing for the comfort and enjoyment of the guests. Especial credit is due the committee in charge of the decorating which was carried out on a very extensive and elaborate style. The two hours of the evening from half-past eight until half-past ten, were given up to a musical and literary programme, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all, then followed a programme of twenty-two dances. Supper was served about midnight and later on ice cream. The guests were received by the following committee: John Robinson, Jr., chairman; R. A. Morrison, secretary; E. A. McCurdy, Robert Murray, A. A. Davidson, James Nicol, E. H. Sinclair, A. B. MacKinnon, R. Corey Clarke, John McDonald, R. Nicholson, M. D., and John C. Miller.

Very many handsome costumes were worn by the ladies, among whom might be mentioned Mrs. F. E. Neale, cerise satin, with tunic of silver and crystal; Mrs. Forsythe, cream satin with net overdress; Miss Harris, Moncton, pale pink satin, with lace tunic; Miss Robinson, Millerton, cream satin, pearl trimmings; Mrs. J. H. Miller, pale blue satin sequin overdress; Mrs. Elder, Mill Bank, yellow satin; Mrs. Hubert Sinclair, white silk crepe de chine; Mrs. T. V. Chesman, St. John's (Nfld.), handsome gown of yellow satin, with tunic of black, embroidered ninon; Mrs. H. B. McDonald, Chatham, white silk crepe de chine, with touches of coral pink; Mrs. James O. Fish, black satin; Mrs. Burchill, white satin, with white lace overdress; Mrs. Charles Morrissey, cream satin; Mrs. E. A. McCurdy, pink silk with overdress of crystal and silver sequin; Mrs. James Stables, black satin; Miss McEucrowe, yellow satin; Mrs. Joseph Kingston, cream satin; Miss Hubbard, old rose satin; Mrs. Waldo Crocker, yellow satin,veiled with white marquisette; Miss Annie Lawlor, pale blue satin; Mrs. W. A. Park, yellow satin; Mrs. Howard Williston, blue silk; Miss A. E. Shaw, black satin, with tunic of black lace; Mrs. J. B. Burchill, black satin; Mrs. C. D. Manny, white satin, black lace overdress; Mrs. Gilmour Stothart, green satin, veiled with green marquisette; Mrs. C. C. Hubbard, black silk; Miss Florence Ferguson, yellow satin, with tunic of yellow marquisette; Miss Lucey, Chatham, pink chiffon, with touches of blue; Miss Crocker, yellow silk; Miss Jean Morrison, white satin; Miss Lou Mersereau, blue satin; Mrs. John Johnston, Loggieville, champagne satin; Mrs. O. Nicholson, black silk crepe de chine; Mrs. Wm. Stables, mauve satin; Mrs. John Morrissy, black satin; Mrs. Hennessy, white satin; Miss Lalor, pink satin; Mrs. James Miller, Chatham, black lace over black satin; Miss Thurber, Millerton, white silk with touches of pink; Mrs. John Robinson, green satin, veiled with green marquisette; Mrs. T. V. Tozer, black lace over black satin; Mrs. William Johnstone, Calgary, old rose silk; Miss Ritchie, black silk; Mrs. Donald Morrison, black silk; Miss Fleming, white silk; Miss Lingley, pale blue satin, with tunic of embroidered net; Miss McQuarrie, blue satin, gold trimmings; Miss Donalds, creame silk; Mrs. K. L. Lawlor, Chatham, grey satin; Mrs. McDonald, Winnipeg, cream satin, and Mrs. Volkman, blue satin.

Miss Helen Harris, of Victoria, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. E. H. Sinclair.

Rev. Willard McDonald, of St. John,who is supplying Rev. S. J. McArthur's pulpit, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Miller.

Mrs. Norman McLeod and son, Miller, have gone to Montague (P. E. I.), on a visit.

Rev. W. E. Piper, B. A., of London (Eng.), is the guest of Rev. Dr. Cousins.

R. Barry Allen, of Fredericton, is the guest of Principal and Mrs. R. L. Heatherington, this week.

Mr. James P. Whalen has gone to Saskatoon on a business trip.

Mrs. Keith Anderson returned on Tuesday morning from Chicago, where she had been called by the death of her sister, Mrs. (Rev.) J. R. DeLacey, formerly Miss Alice Lord, of Newcastle.

PERTH

Perth, N. B., May 14—It is now known that the special train which bore Hon. Frank Cochrane, minister of railways, and party over the Transcontinental last week caused the death of a buck deer near Wapske on its return trip. The train raised a buck and a doe which raced along the track ahead of the train and then attempted to plunge through a wire fence at the side of the track. The doe escaped but the buck was thrown back. It made a second desperate plunge, however, and(it is thought, broke its neck.

General regret is felt over the shipping of the yearling bull moose reared by Emery A. Hallet, of Coronation, to Young Morris, of Trenton Park (N. J.), last Friday. The animal was a fine specimen and was thoroughly domesticated. It ate hay and oats like a hard working horse and was well halter-broken. Visitors to Perth made it a point to drive to see the animal which would eat fruit from a person's hand.

The moose when a calf but a few weeks old wandered onto the farm of Mr. Hallett, a year ago. A permit to rear it was secured from the surveyor general. Other permits were obtained to sell it and lastly to ship it. The price paid is said to be $100. It is the first live moose that was ever sent to the United States from this part of the country. Hereafter it will be kept in a state park.

Little or no water for the time of year is to be found in small brooks. As a result lumber drivers are having a hard time. It is feared that some of the drives may be hung up. In the St. John and the larger branches the water is at an ideal pitch.

CHIPMAN

Chipman, May 14—David Ray Dufferin, is confined to his bed, suffering from heart trouble and an attack of dropsy. Dr. Armstrong is in attendance.

John F. Parkhill is the new stipendiary magistrate, and Harry Darrah the new issuer of marriage licenses in place of L. R. Wilson, who left recently for Vancouver.

One schooner loaded coal here this season, having arrived a few days before the first trip of the May Queen.

A steam dredge, with a tug and scows is at work deepening the river channel below the government bridge.

An accident which resulted in the breaking of several saws in Sayre & Holly's mill caused them to shut down for a few days last week.

Owing to the immense number of logs in the river at present, work is plentiful, and the mills will probably run night and day in future if men for the night shift can be procured.

The Big Forks and Gaspereaux drives are expected shortly. The recent heavy rains will hasten their arrival considerably.

The N. B. Coal & Railway is now shipping coal by way of Moncton over the Transcontinental from Chipman.

J. W. Moran, head of the dry goods department in King Lumber Company's store will remove shortly to Petitcodiac, where he has accepted a position with the Susgex Mercantile Company. Mr. and Mrs. Moran will be greatly missed in the social life of the town, for they always took an active interest in church and social functions. They formerly lived in Campbellton, but losing everything in the great fire there they came to Chipman where Mr. Moran accepted a position with King Lumber Company.

The citizens of this town, and indeed the whole community received a shock when the very sudden and unexpected death of Mrs. Robert Clarke was announced on Friday afternoon last. Mrs. Clarke was ill with pneumonia only a few days and the end came very suddenly and without apparent warning. She was a young woman—the picture of health and strength—and her sudden demise has cast a gloom over the entire community. Mrs. Clarke was an estimable lady of sweet and retiring disposition, and leaves to mourn, besides her mother and sisters, a husband and a family of six sons and daughters.

The funeral, which was largely attended, took place yesterday at 2 o'clock p. m. Service was held in the Presbyterian church by the pastor Rev. Edwin Smith, and interment was at Riverside cemetery.

Arbor Day was observed here on Monday. The school grounds were well cleaned up, and trees and flowers planted. The improvement is quite noticeable. It is understood that a movement is on foot to clean up the whole town.

AMHERST

Amherst, N. S., May 15—A very sad accident occurred here this morning, resulting in the death of a bright three-year-old boy, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Burgess. The parents live on the outskirts of the town and had a half of a barrel sunk in the ground as a well from which to obtain spring water.

The little fellow was evidently stooping over to get a drink and fell in head first. He was only out of the house five minutes when his mother went to look for him and found his dead body in the well. The water was less than a foot deep. Mr. and Mrs. Burgess are English immigrants who have lately settled here and much sympathy is felt for them.

The old town of Wallace, famous for its quarries, is going to have a big boom this coming summer. At the recent session of parliament a large appropriation was made for the dredging of the harbor and also to extend a branch of the I. C. R. to the town.

These expenditures were secured at the request of the Dominion Coal Company which intends building piers at the port for the shipment of Springhill coal to the Montreal market.

It is understood that the Dominion Coal Company will at once begin the work of constructing the piers and engineers are expected on the ground at an early date to survey the railway line. It is anticipated that the work will be well advanced before the end of June.

Houses are at a premium in Amherst. There is not a vacant house in town and although the building season has hardly opened thirty houses are under construction and the board of trade is dealing energetically with the situation. A committee has been appointed and a company will be formed which will undertake the building of sixty houses during the summer.

Private enterprise will erect probably one hundred other residences for the housing of the growing population of the town.

RICHIBUCTO

Richibucto, May 15—Mrs. H. H. James acted as organist in Chalmers' church on Sunday evening in place of her daughter, Miss Edith James, who had not returned from Boston, whither she had gone with her father, H. H. James, barrister, on a short trip. They reached home on Monday evening.

Mrs. T. S. Sweeney, of Portland (Me.), came last week to spend the summer with her sitser, Mrs. Bernard Doucet.

Wm. Tweedie, of Kouchibouguac, a student at Dalhousie College, has been engaged by A. & R. Loggie as bookkeeper at the Kouchibouguac Beach during vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Curran and baby, who were living with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Curran, at the time of the fire which destroyed their residence, are now boarding in Rexton, where Mr. Curran has taken a position with the Swedish Canadian Lumber Company.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Baird are preparing to take up their residence in the McLeod house, in Cunard street.

BELONGED TO AMHERST

Tuesday, May 14.

The young man who was killed by being run over by the I. C. R. freight train near Fernhill on Wednesday night last, is now identified as John Hughes, a carpenter, of Amherst (N. S.) The identification was made yesterday morning by his brother, who came here yesterday. He was taken to Fernhill and the body was disinterred. He positively identified it as that of his brother, who had been away from his home for several weeks. The body was brought into the city and taken to Beatteay's undertaking rooms in Carleton, and was taken back to Amherst on the late train last night.

Stains may be removed from the zinc tops of kitchen tables with vinegar.

The work of the students for the year will be found in the studio rooms. The studio of Prof. Hammond, R. C. A., containing some of his recent work will be open to visitors.

Return tickets at one fare may be obtained at all stations on the I. C. R., D. A. R., and P. E. Island railways. Visitors will please be sure to ask for a standard certificate when they purchase their tickets. A free return ticket will be given them by the I. C. R. ticket agent at Sackville on the presentation of this certificate duly signed.

WOODSTOCK OFFERS SITE FOR VALLEY ROAD SHOPS AND STATION

Woodstock, Hay 15—A. R. Gould and Ross Thompson met a delegation of the board of trade and town council here today in reference to the location of the Valley Railway station and repair shops.

A proposition was submitted by which the town will give the land required by the railway under certain conditions. Mr. Gould has taken the proposition under consideration and will make his decision known in a few days.

It is the general impression that a union station will be decided upon.

FUNERAL OF W. A. HICKSON LARGELY ATTENDED

Newcastle, May 14—The body of the late William A. Hickson arrived in Newcastle yesterday forenoon from Montreal, accompanied by Mrs. Hickson, the Misses Hickson, Cecil Riopel, of Montreal, and Robert Hickson, of Bathurst. The funeral party was met at the depot by a large body of prominent citizens, headed by Rev. Dr. H. T. Cousins, and a procession was formed which preceded the body to Mr. Hickson's late residence. There the workmen of Hickson's mill were assembled for a last look at their employer.

The funeral was held at 3 p. m. At the house a short service was conducted by Rev. Dr. Cousins, assisted by Rev. Willard Macdonald, who is supplying the Presbyterian pulpit. Dr. Cousins officiated at the grave. In the funeral procession were more than seventy carriages, among them many from Chatham, Nelson, Douglastown and Millerton, and a vast concourse on foot, the latter including deceased's former employes. The pall-bearers were Hon. Allan Ritchie, Hon. J. P. Burchill, Sheriff O'Brien, Wm. Sinclair, E. A. McCurdy and F. E. Neale.

Saw Rockets Fir and Steamer

Sensational Eviden Given in Titanic Inquiry

Seaman on Steamer Cali nian Notified Captain He Didn't Get Out of —Second Officer Corro rates Story — Liner About 30 Miles from Do ed Ship—Captain Lo Queer Testimony.

London, May 14—The Titanic Boa Inquiry spent today in endeavorin ascertain whether the steamer which the officers of the Californian rockets fired on the night when the Star liner went down, was really vessel. It will continue the investig on the same lines tomorrow.

Three officers of the Californian, ley Lord, the captain; Gibson, an ap tice, and Herbert Stone, the second cer, who was on the bridge at the the rockets were fired, were examine the order named. All of them ins that the vessel could not have bee Titanic, as it was not so large, but were unable to answer the question to them to suggest what vessel it as they had not heard of her since

Captain Lord repeated his evi given at Washington in regard to ing the Titanic of the presence of and stopping his steamer on that acc He also recounted that the second and the apprentice both told him next day that they had called him informed him that a vessel was rockets, and that he had replied whe was called. He asserted, however, he must have been half asleep as he not remember receiving the message

Captain Lord would not admit that rockets fired were distress signals. thought that they might have been pany's signals.

Counsel for the White Star line poi out, however, that the firing of ro of any kind at night was an indicatio distress.

Was 32 Miles from the Titanic

Upon getting up the next morning hearing of the rockets, Captain Lord that he had the wireless operator and then heard that the Titanic sunk. From the wreckage he saw wards his own steamer must have thirty-two miles from the Titanic she went down.

Asked by Sir Rufus Isaacs wheth felt quite comfortable in mind in refe to his action, when he heard that th tanic had sunk, witness replied tha thought they ought to have seen he nals. That was the only thing that ried him. He was positive, however, the vessel they saw was not the Ti as it was impossible to mistake a like her.

Captain Lord denied that he had the United States senatorial comm that he ordered the operator at 1 o to call the Titanic. If the operator been called he would have heard th tanic messages.

In reply to Lord Mersey, wtiness there was no reference in the log "Mysterious ship."

Gibson, the apprentice, told of the lights and rockets of a vessel, a trying to signal her by means of signals and having reported the matt the captain.

Asked what he meant by his state in evidence that the vessel appeare be "very queer" out of the water ness replied that the vessel's red seemed to be higher out of the than when she was first seen.

Lord Mersey—"That would show she had a list to starboard."

Gibson continued that the aft also seemed higher but there was ing about the vessel resembling a pa ger steamer.

Capt. Lord's Queer Story.

The other officers of the Californian sent out of court during the examin of Captain Lord at the request of Rufus Isaacs. Captain Lord, conti his testimony, said that both the appre and the second officer who were on bridge during the night, told him in morning that they had called him d the night, and had reported that a v nearby had been firing rockets and th had answered their calls. He hin however, could not remember doing and in the morning asked the second o why he had not been called. The o replied that he would have called the tain himself if he had thought that rockets were distress signals. The se officer said emphatically that the were not distress signals.

According to the apprentice, Ca Lord, when he was called, asked if lights were white ones.

Sir Rufus Isaacs asked: "Why w you ask that question?"

"Because the company signals are with colored lights."

"Then white lights are distress sign

"Some companies use white lights

Lord Mersey and Sir Rufus Isaac tested that the captain was not doing self justice.

Captain Lord, in reply to his own sel, said: "While it was dang through the ice, if I had known the Ti was sinking I should certainly have so, although I do not believe I could reached her in time."

Lord Mersey asked Captain Lord to the address where he could be found the Californian sailed again.

Saw Rockets Fired.

Gibson, an apprentice on the Califor who was on the bridge of that vessel ing the night of the disaster, said th could not see the outline of the ste which was lying nearby,
