YOUNG'S DIAMONDS AND WATCHES London
Increasing the Value of a Gift
Add tasteful distinctiveness to an article and you increase its gift value without changing its intrinsic value.
Where numerous gifts are grouped there are two qualities which stand individual gifts apart—overapparent costliness and distinctiveness. For one purpose money alone is required. For the other taste and discrimination. Distinctiveness may be found in a small, less expensive article as well as in higher-priced goods. We have both for your choice.

OLDEST KNOWN CODE OF LAWS DISCOVERED

Tablets From Nippur Were Prepared Four Thousand Years Ago.

Philadelphia, June 21.—The oldest known written code of laws in the world probably antedating that of Hammurabi by at least a thousand years, has been discovered in part among the hitherto untranslated clay tablets from Nippur at the University of Pennsylvania Museum. The Hammurabi code was prepared about 2100 B. C., and was discovered about 20 years ago on a large diorite stone (some paragraphs missing), by French explorers.

The laws, which have just been translated by Abbe Scheil of Paris, deal with responsibilities of hired servants, with trespass on farms and orchards, harboring of slaves, rentals, rights of slave women who have borne children to their masters, punishment for adultery, etc.

One interesting statute provides that rentals must run for three years in case a man has taken over a house the owner does not know how to manage. This is somewhat obscure, and may mean that all rentals were for that term. In any event property could not lie idle or be improperly used if someone was willing to use it for public benefit.

The discoveries are considered of the highest importance and search will be made for further tablets containing additional laws.

Tomorrow is the day for the big Grenfel Mission garden party at the home of Mrs. Becher, St. George street, which will be held from 3 to 6 o'clock.

Small wonder it is that each recurring vacation season sees added numbers turning for rest and recreation to "Nature's Wonderland," "Muskoka"; for there may be found all the elements that go to make a pleasant holiday. The clear, bracing atmosphere and sparkling waters under sunny skies serve as a welcome relief after the stifling city streets, and the healthy, vigorous outdoor sports, swimming, canoeing, motorboating, golfing, etc., in such surroundings rebuild the body and enable one to return to the daily round with added zest and renewed interest in life.

Descriptive of this area, including Lakes Joseph, Rosseau, Muskoka and Sparrow, the Canadian National Railways 1920 "Muskoka" folder tells of its beauties, and, too, what is no small factor in its popularity, of its accessibility. Included also is an excellent map of the lakes named, a list of hotels and boarding houses with information as to rates and accommodation and list of its golf courses. For free copy and information as to week-end service now in effect, write General Passenger Department, Canadian National Railways, Toronto. J.12,15,19,22
