Poetry.

THREE STAGES OF WOMAN'S LOVE.

There is a love in early life,
Which shuns parade and worldly strife,
And seeks, contemned the princely dome,
In humble cot a happy home.
More gorgeous than the pomp of kings,
The coral and the pearl it brings,
And all the glory of the skies,
In living diamonds—beaming eyes,
The rose's bloom it yields to view,
And lends its fragrance with its hue:
The gladdening smile, the balmy kiss,
With looks of fondness, thoughts of bliss,
Feelings that scarce know worldly leaven,
And dreams of ecstacy and heaven,
Life's dull anxieties above,
Such, such, is woman's early love!

There is a love of elder growth,
Less dazzling than the love of youth,
Where gentle looks and anxious care
Aspire, the husband's toil to share;
Which seeks its solace and employ,
Providing for her children's joy;
Which owns to happiness complete,
'Till they are healthy, clean and neat;
Which strives to spare the humble store,
And makes thus little something more;
Love, which, the frugal table spread,
A blessing breathes on daily bread;
Which scorning finery and pride,
Exults in comfort self-denied,
And teaches man the vain to scorn
For pleasure to compare with home;
This claims, as that the heart could move;
And this is woman's noon day love.

There is love in a latter stage,
When pain and sickness grew on age,
When to so active once, and gay,
Perceives approach his closing day;
When failing strength and tottering limb,
And sunken cheek and eye grows dim,
And faltering voice and visage wan
Have to a sceptre changed the man:
Then, love, by the found wife possessed,
Too vast, too grand to be expressed,
Delights assiduously to pay,
And soothe with tender sympathy;
Cheerles the moments for the past,
And fondly soothe him to the last.
This love, in hours the most forlorn,
Surpasses that of youth's bright morn;
Different from that which marked life's prime,
Though not so brilliant, more sublime;
This love, from heaven derived its birth,
Confesses no alloy of earth;
Lifts the sufferer from his woe,
Above the care of things below,
And points to brighter scenes above;
And this is woman's final love.

TRIUMPHANT SUCCESS OF
Buchan's Hungarian Balsam of Life,
THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY FOR
Colds, Coughs, Asthma, and Consumption.

THE most celebrated and infallible remedy for Colds, Coughs, Asthma, and every form of Pulmonary Consumption, is the HUNGARIAN BALSAM OF LIFE, discovered by that eminent medical chemist, Dr. Buchan, of London, England, and extensively known as the Great English Remedy.

It has been tested for upwards of seven years in Great Britain and on the continent of Europe, where it is universally considered the great and only remedy for this awful malady, and is now introduced to the public under the immediate superintendence of the inventor. Within three years it has been distributed from Maine to Florida, and from Canada to Wisconsin, and its effects are every where alike astonishing and triumphant.

As a preventive medicine, and an antidote to the consumptive tendencies of the climate, it is invaluable. As a remedy for severe and obstinate coughs, inflammation of the lungs, roup, &c., it is unrivalled. But the Proprietor is so confident of the merit of this great remedy, in the worst forms of consumption, that he prefers to have it used by the DYING INVALID, rather than by persons afflicted with some simple and less dangerous disorder of the throat and lungs:—this may seem strong language, but it is the result of experience in thousands of cases, sustained by the most intelligent and unimpeachable testimony. It is not pronounced an infallible remedy in all cases, but it is THE MOST INFALLIBLE remedy known to the civilized world. It is the best preventive of hereditary consumption—it is the best defender against the influences of climate—it is the best remedy for incipient consumption—and it is the great and only remedy for that fearful softening of the lungs—inflammation of the membrane, and tuberculous decay, which are the last effects of that dreadful scourge, and which are erroneously supposed to be beyond the reach of medical aid;—the agent or proprietors of other medicines dare not claim for their preparations a power like this: they know that in no case have such effects been produced;—the great object and purpose of the common remedies is simply to palliate,—not to cure; this is easily done by the intelligent Physician or Druggist; but while daily trying with these inferior compounds, the patient linger to death, and every day places him farther out of the reach of a cure.

Such is not the case with the Hungarian Balsam. It is always salutary in its effects—never injurious. It is not an opiate—it is not a tonic—it is not a mere palliative. It is not intended to lull the invalid into a false security. It is a great remedy—a grand healing and curative compound; the great and only healing and curative compound; the great and only remedy which medical science and skill has yet discovered for the treatment of that malignant and inveterate malady. It is in fact the best remedy in the world.

[From the John Bull, newspaper, London.]

There is certainly some mysterious and occult virtue in the Hungarian Balsam of Life, which the medical faculty are unable to discover. Dr. Buchan's celebrated medicine has performed cures in many cases, where the most eminent of the faculty have pronounced the patient incurable, and have abandoned him to his fate. Its wonderful virtues in the diseases of the throat and chest, in all their stages, have proved to be certain.

RILEY'S DENTIFRICE.

As an essential point of beauty the Teeth must ever stand pre-eminent. No regularity of feature no brilliancy of complexion, no sparkling eyes, or silken hair, can render that lady beautiful who, when she opens her lips, (though they be of coral) displays a set of discoloured Teeth. On the contrary, even homely features and a sallow complexion are embellished and rendered agreeable by a set of white Teeth. On the other hand, the effects of decay, the accumulation of tartar, the black teeth, and tainted breath, which are invariable accompaniments of a bad state of the mouth, will always prove loathsome and disgusting.

Among the various disorders of the mouth, there is none so destructive as scurvy—which on first entering the gums causes them to bleed on the most trifling occasions, and produces the most offensive and putrid breath. There is more loss of Teeth from this Disease than from all others.

Could persons afflicted with it see for a moment the state of their mouths, or catch the odour of their own breath, they would rejoice in finding a remedy so cheap and simple, and yet so efficacious, as the one now offered.

To professional men, shop keepers, and tradesmen generally, who have much intercourse with the fashionable world, a good state of the mouth must be of the utmost importance.

Besides, is not an offensive breath, which in nine tenth cases out of twenty, proceeds from a bad state of the Teeth and gums, very much calculated to prevent the blessings of matrimony? and how often from inadvertence or neglect is the happiness of the married state grievously interrupted from the same cause.

To insist on the importance of these things must be a waste of words. Were it not obvious that there are many persons who never bestow themselves the trouble to think upon the subject—who seem scarcely aware that they possess Teeth at all, while their gross and culpable negligence renders the fact too apparent to their friends and associates.

Another cause of the rapid decay of Teeth, which is remarkable on the whole continent of North America, is a peculiarity in the climate—the rapid and sudden changes from one extreme to another which are of almost daily occurrence.

This source of decay, as well as the scurvy, is annihilated by using

which makes the Teeth beautifully white, eradicates the scurvy, preserves and restores the enamel where injured, sweetens the breath, preserves the Teeth sound and handsome until the most advanced age, and by constantly using will prevent the toothache. It was used and most highly approved of by his late Majesty George the Fourth, (the most perfect gentleman of the age he lived in,) and by the principal nobility of his Court; and has never failed to give the most unqualified satisfaction. In several instances the inventor has received considerable presents from parties, as a mark of gratitude for the benefit their Teeth had received from the use of it. Mothers may rest assured, that if their children have sound Teeth at present, they will by using the DENTIFRICE never have occasion to employ a Dentist—as their teeth will remain sound and beautiful until the most mature age.

☞ Observe that G. RILEY'S name is signed, in his own hand-writing on the label of each box.
