BRUCE.

Clifford Elvidge, a drug clerk of Wiarton, has been drinking to excess. Friday his wife took a dose of morphine with suicidal intent, but prompt application of remedies saved her life. On the table in the room was an ounce phial and lying beside it the following note, written in a neat and firm hand: "May God forgive you, Cliff., for what you have said and done to me, for I never can forgive you. I had no trouble till I met you, and now ——" It was evident she wrote the note in a calm and determined manner and then quietly prepared to die. She had swallowed poison enough to kill three or four people. Her husband was stupid with drink at the time of the occurrence. The unfortunate girl's mother came from Durham and took her home, the husband accompanying them.

ESSEX.

Sneak thieves are doing Essex.

A Windsor man named Leslie took a dose of carbolic acid by mistake the other night, but was rescued by a doctor just in time to save his life.

The customs officers at Windsor have relieved one man of $10 worth of cutlery and another of 800 pounds of ham which were being smuggled.

The appeal of Dr. Medcalf, Windsor, against the Record of that city, was heard at Toronto Friday and judgment given for defendants. The case was one of libel heard at the Spring Assizes.

A very pleasant event took place at the residence of Chief Windred, Sarnia, the other evening, being the marriage of his second daughter, Annie, to W. H. Crowe, superintendent of D. Bellengem's cabinet works, Peterboro. The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. R. Davis in the presence of a number of invited guests, Miss Phillips, of Detroit, and Miss T. Windred, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaids and T. H. Cook as groomsman.

MIDDLESEX.

The traveling dairy from the Guelph Experimental Farm, represented by Messrs. F. B. Linfield and James Hume, visited Dorchester Station Thursday, and in the town hall gave a practical exhibition of how butter and cheese are manufactured in that institution. Mr. Linfield thoroughly explained the essential points in the care, feed, milking and stabling of cows. He also explained the working of the Babcock legal milk tester, giving illustrations of different samples of milk, the percentage of fat, etc. Mr. Hume, who is an expert, churned with a rotary churn, and made the butter packed in neat pound rolls, a beautiful quality which elicited approval of the representative audience who were present, composed of cheese manufacturers, patrons of creameries, etc.

Two marriages took place on Wednesday in the family of Mr. and Mrs. William Fraser, Stratford, both their eldest and youngest sons entering the bonds of hymen on the same date, though at different places. Mr. James Fraser married Miss Emily Barker, daughter of Mr. John Barker, Stratford, the ceremony taking place at the latter's residence, Rev. M. L. Leitch officiating. The other wedding took place in Wolseley, Assiniboia, Mr. Joseph Fraser and Miss Farrow, sister of the Messrs. Farrow, of Stratford, becoming husband and wife. Another interesting circumstance attaching to the dual ceremony was that it was a celebration also of the birthday of the mother of the two bridegrooms, she being on Sept. 14 71 years old. The aged couple on Feb. 10 last celebrated their golden wedding.

It is understood that Mrs. Merner has continued her journey to the Windy City, and judging from the remarks dropped by her husband she will be permitted to remain there without molestation from him.

MME. LOYSON IN CHICAGO

Endeavoring to Abolish Auricular Confession and Latin Sermons.

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—She is a woman with a strong face and a commanding figure. Her raven black hair is combed smooth from over her white, broad forehead, her eyes are bright and intelligent, and she speaks English fluently, as it is her native tongue, and French with a soft, euphonous intonation that is rarely found in those who acquire that language. She reached Chicago last Monday, and is at the home of Mrs. James Hewitt, Washington avenue, Hyde Park. Her name is Mme. Hyacinthe Loyson, and she is the wife of Pere Hyacinthe, the famous French priest. In 1869 the religious world was startled by the letter of Pere Hyacinthe, which renounced the infallibility of the Pope, repudiated the compulsory celibacy of the priesthood, and called for the abolition of forced auricular confession, and services in the vernacular.

The religious world stood aghast at these demands, and seers prophesied another reformation, the disintregration of the Roman Catholic Church and a new sect supplanting it. And the surprise was increased when the Carmelite monk, the now famous Pere Hyacinthe, not only announced his renunciation of papal authority, but sealed his determination by marrying an American woman.

Since then Pere Hyacinthe and his most zealous helper, his wife, have toiled night and day for the success of their new church, the idea of which is, in fine, that the church shall be Catholic, but not Roman Catholic. It is meant by this that all the sects and churches shall be united in the universal religion of Christ.

THE GALLIC CHURCH.

The Gallic Church, as it is called, claims not to be schismatic or sectarian, not a reformation even, but a restoration. For Pere Hyacinthe's church has as its chief tenet the purpose of returning to and reviving the forms practiced by the first Christians in the first centuries after Christ, which forms did not recognize the primacy of the Pope of Rome. The idea is to do away with all sects and divisions and bring back the primitive religion of the Gauls in the Catholic but non-Roman faith. In order to gain this the accessions from Rome demanded are: The abolition of auricular confession, vernacular service, and forced celibacy of the clergy, the election of the clergy, and the resumption of the privilege of offering the Bible to the people and the cup to the laity at the communion.

Since Pere Hyacinthe's excommunication he has worked ceaseleasly for the Gallican Church. Many things have conspired against the succesful termination of his ideas. The French Republic is not all that designation would imply to the American. France still holds allegiance to Rome, the French people being regularly taxed for the support of the Roman Catholic Church in that country, the Government paying bishops and priests. It is not so easy a matter for the Gallican Church to gain a footing.

HER MISSION IN AMERICA.

There are 34,000,000 people in France. Of these 2,000,000 are Roman Catholics. The remaining 32,000,000 are for the most part non-church going, but it is claimed by the followers of the Gallican creed, were its belief properly presented before them, they would espouse its cause. Pere Hyacinthe is loved by the French people. Although he is 65 years of age, his eloquence still thrills his hearers wherever he may go in France.

What the Gallic Church needs, however, is money. This is Mme. Hyacinthe's mission in America. It is her plan to ask aid for the furtherance of the Gallic creed and the evangelization of France.

THE TRUE MOTHER'S DESIRE.

The desire of every mother is health, strength and growth for her babe. All these grand conditions may be secured for the little one, if it is properly fed on nourishing food. Mothers who feed their little ones on Lactated Food are the most happy in Canada. They proudly see their darlings increasing in flesh, bone and muscle; they also note with joy that they sleep well and escape the common ailments which cause so much misery and danger.

Lactated Food is one of the grandest blessings ever given to the infants and young children of our country. Try it, mother, if your baby is not progressing well with other foods.

And Billey Is Objecting.—Bloobumper—Benny, what's all that racket at the Barlows'? Is anybody being killed? Benny—No, papa. Willie Barlow's mamma is cutting his hair.

Among the pains and aches cured with marvelous rapidity with Dr. Thomas Eclectric Oil, is ear ache. The young are especially subject to it, and the desirability of this Oil as a family remedy is enhanced by the fact that it is admirably adapted not only to the above ailment, but also to the hurts, disorders of the bowels, and affections of the throat, in which the young are specially subject.

Little girl (in the park)—Those butterflies is awful mean. Mamma—Why so? Little Girl—Quick as I goes to chase 'em they flies off the walk onto the grass, 'cause they knows I mustn't go there.

Forewarned is Forearmed.

Many of the worst attacks of cholera morbus, cramps, dysentery, colic, etc., comes suddenly in the night and speedy and prompt means must be used against them. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is the remedy. Keep it at hand for emergencies. It never fails to cure or relieve.

"From what you say I think your son must have a vaulting ambition." Mother—Oh, my, yes, he took the first prize for the standing jump when he was at college.

READ THIS LETTER

from Mr. W. T. Clay, who was several years in the Grand Lodge of Ontario Masons, and was two years District Deputy Grand Master Toronto District, G. R. O., of the same order, and is well-known in business and socially:

DEAR DR. REAR,—Have had failing health, loss of appetite (ate meal a day of late); took severe cold, settled on lungs and bronchial tubes, developed into asthma, pain in chest, faint spells, bad cough. The worst spell of tight breathing was in the Citizen's Mill, where I am millwright. The engineer thought I was dying. Reliable information said that "Histogenetic Medicine" would save after all else failed, and twenty years' knowledge of your family, and your scientific research, satisfied me that you would tell me the truth. I consulted you ONE MONTH ago. You prescribed Dr. J. Eugene Jordan's (late of Germany) Remedies. The "tight breathing" is already about gone! No pain left! Cough about well! No faint spells! Appetite splendid—could eat a man on horseback! I have to day climbed ten or twelve times to the top of Knox Church tower and only had to rest once. It is a wonderful system.
