ABERDEEN AS A POLITICIAN

Senate Reading Room 189[illegible]

What Liberal Loaded on the Governor-General?

HIS EXCELLENCY WAS APPREHENSIVE

That Unforeseen Injury Might Be Done Mr. Laurier and His Friends

If the Appointments Made by Sir Charles Tupper's Cabinet Prior to Stepping Out of Office Were Sanctioned—All the Cross-Firing Between Aberdeen and the Late Premier, Contained in the Official Memoranda, Laid on the Table of the House—His Excellency's Arguments Are Strictly Political, While Sir Charles Tupper Speaks by the Book of Todd and Shows That He Had Been Simply Following Precedent—He Also Lectures Sir John Campbell Hamilton Gordon, Earl of Aberdeen, on the Dangers of a Representative of Her Majesty in Canada Taking a Hand in Our Politics—But the Orders-in-Council Are Curtly Returned and Mr. George Gooderham and Others Who Ought to Have Been Made Senators Were Thrown Over to Give Sir Oliver Mowat and Other Liberals a Show.

Ottawa, Aug. 28.—(Special.)—A grave constitutional issue is raised by the correspondence which passed between Lord Aberdeen and Sir Charles Tupper a day or two previous to the retirement of the late Ministry. This correspondence was presented to Parliament this afternoon.

Aberdeen's Position.

First of all there is a memorandum to the Prime Minister for himself and colleagues from Lord Aberdeen, dated July 4. The memorandum reads: "Until July 7 as at present arranged it is not likely that we shall know whether or not you deem the results of the general election decisive against the Government, nor do I know to what extent these results may be modified by that date which you name as final in this regard.

"After taking every means in my power to inform myself it is impossible for me to ignore the possibility that in the event of your deciding to meet Parliament the present administration will fail to secure the support of the House of Commons. This hypothesis seems to me to have important bearings. In the first place, the business to be transacted by Parliament, though foreseen and not in character exceptional, is urgent. Supplies for public service are already entirely exhausted. This contingency was in view when the date of the meeting of Parliament was fixed. It is in the public interest that that Parliament should meet on as early a day as possible and be able to proceed with the business forthwith. Again, in regard to the various recommendations, which in detail or by inference we discussed on Thursday, and in regard to all business which is not urgent, and yet outside the routine administrative requirements, the assumption that the Government has failed to secure the confidence of the electorate at the polls leaves undiminished, indeed increases the stringency of the limitations of an already somewhat peculiar position. Let me explain my meaning. The circumstances are these: The previous administration (with Sir Mackenzie Bowell as Prime Minister), representing the views of the same political party and having a majority in both chambers, failed to pass its proposed legislation and on April 25 Parliament expired by effluxion of time without having granted supplies for the public service beyond June 30. Subsequently, when no Parliament was or could be under the circumstances in existence, the present administration was formed. So far, therefore, as these are dependent upon the subsequent approval of Parliament the acts of the present administration are in an unusual degree provisional, and as the powers of an administration undoubtedly full and unrestricted must surely always be used with discretion their exercise would seem to be rightly limited, under such circumstances as present to the transaction of all necessary public business, while it is further a duty to avoid all acts which may embarrass the succeeding Government.

Those Vacancies in the Senate.

"On this ground, I would ask your further consideration of some of the recommendations which we discussed incidentally on Thursday. On this ground, too, I felt obliged to withhold an expression of my acquiescence to your suggestion as to the appointment of Senators or judges (you have since laid before me certain recommendations as to Senatorships which are vacant.) These are life appointments, and with them, under such circumstances as the present, it would seem proper to leave all other life appointments and creations of all new officers and appointments for the consideration of the incoming Ministers, unless always such a course is shown to be contrary to the public interest. In the case of the Senate, which consists of 78 members, it is to be noted also that there are said to be now no more than five Senators who are Liberals. And it may well be urged that to aggravate this inequality at the present time would not only tend to embarrass probably the successors of this Government, but to increase the risk of friction between the two chambers of the legislature.

The Case of Judges.

"In the case of judges, I will only add that, bearing in mind the ordinary length of their tenure of office and also the long political predominance of one political party in the Dominion Parliament, the current deduction as to the complexion of political opinions represented upon the bench, whether baseless or well founded, is not unnatural.

The Moribund Government's Rights.

"As to the remaining recommendations which are before me, and generally as to other business of similar nature, all seem to me to be subject to the same governing consideration. Whatever business can wait without detriment to public interest may properly do so. There is a recommendation of a refund of money which requires the sanction of Parliament. Such recommendations will have to be placed before Parliament by the Ministers of the day, and you may perhaps consider that they may be left to be dealt with by these Ministers. In Mr. Payne's case my special concern is indicated in the latter part of the memorandum of the Governor-General's secretary of June 10, where the question is asked whether this appointment is in accordance with the statutes and regulations which govern such cases; i.e., whether it infringes upon an existing law, under which circumstances it, with all other cases of a similar kind, if there be any such, cannot properly receive sanction. I mention another case, viz.: The recommendation of an officer to the post of assistant superintendent of the cartridge factory at Quebec. This position has been vacant for two years. It seems, therefore, desirable to reserve it, with any similar recommendations as to vacancies of long duration, for the consideration of the incoming Government unless this course can be shown to be detrimental to the public interest.

Council Papers Confidential.

"One other matter remains to which you asked my attention yesterday and which it may be convenient that I should mention here. I refer to your remarks on the memoranda which I have from time to time forwarded for the consideration of council. I have carefully considered these remarks, and my conclusions and observations are as follows: On reference to the books of the Governor-General's office, I find that memoranda sent by my predecessor are similar in form to those which I have caused to be sent. As to the recording of such communications, this has evidently been done in the past. My own experience certainly makes me think that this is proper and desirable, and contributes to the continuity of the Government. As to the accessibility of such papers to successive Cabinets, it must be borne in mind that, whether specifically so considered or not, all such papers are essentially confidential. Their contents are made known only to those who are bound by oath of secrecy, and they cannot be laid before Parliament except with the consent of the Governor-General. I fail, therefore, to see that there has lately been any departure from the precedent or from the practice in this matter. These observations would indicate to you in the meatime the result of such consideration as I have so far been able to give to the business now before me.
"(Signed) Aberdeen."

Sir Charles' Reply.

Next comes the memorandum of Sir Charles Tupper to the Governor-General, dated July 6, which reads as follows: "I have carefully considered Your Excellency's memorandum, dated July 4, received at 1 p.m. to-day, which I must frankly say has caused my colleagues and myself much surprise and regret. So soon as Your Excellency returned to the Capital (the 2nd inst.) I had the honor of waiting upon you and discussing the present condition of affairs caused by the general election which took place on the 23rd June. At that time I submitted a memorandum of precedence, indicating the practice followed in England and Canada on the defeat of a government. I explained that the division of parties was very close and might be materially affected by the re-counts, which were to take place within a few days, as there were a large number of elections in which the parties had been declared elected by a very small majority. I suggested that the discussion of the course to be pursued by the Government should be deferred until after the re-counts had taken place, to which Your Excellency assented. As Your Excellency had not returned, a large number of the minutes of the council, which had been sent for your approval, both before and since the elections were held, I submitted for your consideration a memorandum of appointments made by the Hon. Mr. Mackenzie between the date of his defeat of the 17th or Sept., 1878, and his resignation on the 16th October, following. Your Excellency intimated the intention of asking me further to confer with you on the following day, after you had had an opportunity of perusing the papers to which I have referred. Your Excellency subsequently postponed that interview until the morning of Saturday, the 4th inst., and to-day favored me with the memorandum, to which I have the honor to reply.

Regarding Those Supplies.

"Your Excellency says that the supplies for the public service being exhausted, it is in the public interest that Parliament should meet as early as possible. You say that 'The previous Administration (with Sir Mackenzie Bowell as Prime Minister), representing the views of the same political party, and having a majority in both chambers, failed to pass its proposed legislation and on the 25th of April Parliament expired by effluxion of time, without having granted the supplies for the public service beyond the 30th June.

"Subsequently, when no Parliament was, or could be, under the circumstances, in existence, the present Administration was formed. So far, therefore, as these are dependent upon the subsequent approval of Parliament, the acts of this Administration are in an unusual degree provisional.' Your Excellency is aware that the failure to pass the supplies in the usual manner for the now current year was due to the fact that the life of Parliament terminated on the 25th of April, and that the Opposition took advantage of that circumstance to pursue a course

OUR SPECIAL FROM ROSSLAND.

Coal Discovered Which Does Away With a Great Difficulty—Strike in Le Roi—To Prevent Operating in Wildcats.

Rossland, B. C., Aug. 28.—(Special to The World, via Spokane, Wash.)—The difficulty of a coal supply for mining purposes in this district has been solved by the discovery of immense deposits of coal midway between Rossland and the coast. The location has been kept a secret by the discoverers pending the result of their application for a grant. The coal is said to be of the very best quality.

Tacoma capitalists have just bought the Lord Rosebery mining group on Red Mountain. For three claims they have paid $18,000.

Owing to the establishment of an efficient fire organization in Rossland the fire insurance companies are now accepting risks on buildings.

The contract has been let for the development of Deer Park mine, which has an immense body of ore.

Big strikes have been reported from the Young America and Rainy Day claims.

In Le Roi they have struck quartz which assays $700 in gold to the ton. In this mine they are down 500 feet and the deeper they go the richer it is found. The new shaft will soon have an output of 250 tons a day.

All stocks in bona fide mines are reported good.

There is a strong feeling here in favor of the establishment in Toronto of a mining exchange to prevent the handling of wildcats and protect legitimate mining.

MISLEADING THE PUBLIC.

Mr. Laurier Said He Was Prepared to Pass a Remedial Bill; Mr. Scott Says Parliament Cannot.

Ottawa, Aug. 28.—(Special.)—In the Senate the debate on the address is still in progress. To-day's discussion was noteworthy for the admission made by the Secretary of State on the school question. Referring to the hope entertained by the Government of an early settlement of the question, Mr. Scott admitted it was not likely the minority would get all that it asked, but he felt that a conciliatory course of give and take was the only way of arriving at a satisfactory settlement of the difficulty. It was quite evident to him that the Dominion Parliament had not the power to pass a remedial bill.

Mr. Masson: Do you mean that this Parliament is powerless to pass remedial legislation?

Mr. Scott: No, this Parliament cannot.

Mr. Masson: It would be well for the Secretary of State to place himself en rapport with the opinions of his leader, who said that if conciliation failed he was prepared to pass a remedial bill himself. He could not believe in giving this assurance that the Premier was so completely misleading the people of Lower Canada as the remarks of the Secretary of State would indicate.

TO CHANGE ITS NAME.

A Movement Among Residents to Get Some Other Name Than East Toronto.

A movement looking to the change of name, and apparently strong enough to carry all before it, has come to the front this week in East Toronto. From time to time individuals have been outspoken in the matter, but at this juncture business men, residents and the representatives of the municipality are in common so interested that action will likely be taken without delay. The basis of this feeling is the delay in receiving mail and freightage through confusion of the name with that of the east end of the city and the difficulty experienced by strangers in finding their way out to the place.

Extension of Wine Vaults.

Now that the summer season is drawing to a close and families are all returning to their homes in the city, they would do well before refilling their wine cellars to call and inspect the stock of wines and spirits at the undermentioned address. They will find all the finest brands of port, sherry, clarets, champagne and a full line of Canadian, Scotch and Irish whiskies, brandy, rum and in fact everything you would expect to find in a well-stocked wine and spirit warehouse. THAT CENSUS OF MANITOBA

The Prairie Province Found to Hold Just 193,425 People.

ABOUT THE POPULATION OF TORONTO

These Figures Show an Increase of 78.04 Per Cent. in Ten Years

And the Province Will Receive an Increased Subsidy of $32,735 Per Annum—French Translators Summoned Before the Debates Committee, Charged With Working at Elections—Mr. Berry of P. E. I. Gets a Job—Sealing Vessels Seized.

Ottawa, Aug. 28.—(Special.)—Complete returns of the Manitoba census taken last spring have been received. The total population of the province is now 193,425, or an increase of 84,785 in population in ten years. The increase for the first five years, from 1886 to 1891, was 43,866, and for the second five years, from 1891 to 1896, it was 40,919. The increase in ten years was 78.04 per cent. The census was taken so as to ascertain the proper subsidy due to the province. At 80c per head the increase in the subsidy to the province on 40,919 population, which was the increase in the last five years, will be about $32,735. By constituencies the population is as follows: Macdonald 30,404, Provencher 17,751, Brandon 32,668, Selkirk 24,840, Marquette 17,923, Lisgar 38,190, Winnipeg 31,649, making a total of 193,425.

French Translators in Trouble.

At the Debates Committee this morning charges were preferred against Messrs. La Salle (Montreal), McLeod (Three Rivers), and Vanasse (Sorel), the three French translators, of having taken part in the late election contest. Wednesday next was appointed as the day on which the translators will appear before the committee and make an explanation of their alleged conduct. The circumstances of complaint recall similar charges preferred against R. Tremblay, E. Trembley and A. E. Poirier, whose services were dispensed with at the instance of Hon. J. A. Chapleau in 1891.

No More "Turpentine" or "Tignish."

Mr. Hackett, M.P., was inspector of fisheries in Prince Edward Island, but resigned the seat for Parliament in opposition to Mr Perry. He succeeded and now Mr. Hackett sits in the Commons and Mr. Perry has been appointed fishery inspector in his place. The old gentleman left for home to-day with the appointment in his pocket.

Sealers Under Seizure.

The Department of Fisheries has been notified of the first sealing seizure in Behring Sea this season. The American schooner Jessie, which arrived at Victoria, B. C., to-day from Alaska, brought word that the sealer Beatrice of Vancouver and also the sealer Beatrice of Victoria (two of the same name) had been seized in Behring Sea and ordered home. No particulars are given.

THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

The Liberals are Discharging Civil Employes Who Worked in the Last Election—May Prove a Boomerang.

Ottawa, Aug. 28.—(Special.)—Mr. Speaker notified the House of Commons to-day that he had issued his warrant for a writ for a bye-election in Saskatchewan.

Among the petitions presented was one from Toronto, asking Parliament to make a grant towards the proposed International Exposition of 1897, as foreshadowed. The Speaker ruled it out of order, inasmuch as it asks an expenditure of public money and ought not to be received. The petition accordingly went into the waste-basket.

Mr. Laurier presented the correspondence between the Governor-General and Sir Charles Tupper, touching the appointments by the late Government.

Sir C. H. Tupper introduced a bill to amend the Dominion Elections Act. The object is to incorporate a clause from the English act, which provides that any one who, during an election, makes or publishes attacks on the personal character of a candidate is guilty of a corrupt practice.

To Take Thursdays Only.

On the suggestion to take Wednesday evenings and the whole of Thursdays for Government business, after some discussion, Mr. Laurier compromised by taking Thursdays only.

In reply to a suggestion by Mr. Foster, the Finance Minister explained that the estimates brought down were the same as those prepared by the late Government last session, except where there had been a cutting down. The Government would ask the House to vote these moneys, and reserve to itself the right only to spend so much of it as might be needed.

Political Dismissals.

On motion to go into supply, a discussion arose on the subject of official dismissals for political reasons.

Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper brought up the question by referring to the dismissal of two fishery officers in Nova Scotia without trial or investigation.

Mr. Davies replied that he needed no investigation, as the facts of these officers' partisanship at the last election had been proven to him by persons of credibility. He laid down the principle that the price of active political partisanship should be dismissal in the case of the defeat of their party.

Mr. Lister wanted all the secret service officers of Inland Revenue dismissed, also Captain Boyd of the Soo Canal and other officers.

Mr. Clancy is Right.

Mr. Clancy, in an excellent speech, pointed out that hordes of provincial officials constituted the election machine in Ontario.

The debate was continued by Messrs. Sutherland, McDougall, Devlin and Britton.

Mr. E. F. Clarke, in a vigorous speech, called attention to the action of the Ontario Government in allowing its officials to take active part in Federal politics. He cited the case of Ald. Preston of Toronto, who had contested West Toronto in the Liberal interest and after his defeat had been reappointed Provincial Librarian. If the new Government intend to make wholesale dismissals from the public service, he believed such action would recoil on their own heads. (Hear, hear.)

The debate was continued by Messrs. Ingram, Yeo, Borden, Davin, Bennett and Domville.

Mr. Bell moved the adjournment of the debate at 11.30.

A CARGO OF FUN.

The Toronto Will Open With the New Comedy "A Happy Little Home."

An entertainment, judging from the announcements, that will please theatre-goers who are fond of mirth and merriment, is "A Happy Little Home," in which will be presented at the Toronto Opera House next week. The star of this new musical comedy is George W. Munroe, who will be remembered here for his funny creation of the title role in the play "My Aunt Bridget." "A Happy Little Home" is loaded with new music, the latest songs, graceful dances, novel specialties and many new features which were introduced in the roof garden in New York during the summer. Munroe will be seen in three different characters, all of which are as funny as "Aunt Bridget." Seats can be reserved to-day for any performance.

Saxony's Textile Industries.

Dresden, the beautiful capital of Saxony, with its art treasures, palaces and historic churches, is also a great manufacturing centre. One of its most important industries, that of silk, is carried on with a refinement and nicety of taste elsewhere unknown. With the most skilfully devised machinery and highly trained expert weavers it is no wonder that Dresden silks are obtaining such universal favor. The Dresden club and bow ties that Quinn is now selling at 25c each are among the most exquisite creations of 1896.

THE TRAINS WERE CROWDED.

Sir Charles and Lady Tupper Spent Yesterday in Toronto and Returned to the Capital.

Sir Charles Tupper, Lady Tupper and Miss Tupper spent yesterday in Toronto. They registered at the Queen's and left for Ottawa by the 9 o'clock C.P.R. express last evening. Sir Charles told The World just before he left that his visit was purely on private business and intimated what that business was. Some of the local politicians saw the baronet while in town, and just before the train pulled out Postmaster T. C. Patteson spent 15 minutes in close conversation with him.

The train which carried Sir Charles out was a very heavy one, having three or four extra sleepers attached for the accommodation of riflemen bound for the D.R.A. matches, and the Tecumseh Lacrosse team on their way to play the Capitals at Ottawa to-day. Others who went East on the C.P.R. were Capt. Kirkpatrick of Government House, Crown Attorney Curry and Mr. A. P. Rutter.

The Grand Trunk express for Montreal left in two sections, so heavy was the traffic of people taking advantage of the reduced rates to the East.

Just before the first section pulled out Mayor Fleming entered the depot in a hurry and jumped aboard. He was evidently going East on important business, but would not tell a reporter what his errand was.

John Loughrin, M.L.A., Mattawa, and W. J. McKee, M.L.A., Windsor, left for home last evening.

AN AWFUL TRAGEDY.

Mrs. Charles W. Green Kills Her Three Babes and Then Shoots Herself—She Was Insane.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 28.—At noon today the family of Charles W. Green, traveling passenger agent of the Big Four Railway, consisting of Mrs. Green and three children, were found dead in their home. All the little ones were in their beds and the mother lay dead in a doorway with a revolver by her side. The murder or suicide is supposed to have occurred Wednesday morning about 2 o'clock, at that hour neighbors heard pistol shots near the Green home, but no investigation was made until the non-appearance of the Green family led to an enquiry. Mrs. Green had not undressed for bed, and it was evident that she had put the children to bed, waiting until they were asleep and then sent them into eternity. The only explanation of the terrible crime is that Mrs. Green was crazy. Mr. Green is now on his way from Salt Lake. His friends say his home life was especially happy.

POINTERS FOR THE PUBLIC

And Some Facts Which are of General Interest to the Community.

No matter how poorly a man may be dressed, if he has clean linen, clean shoes and a good hat he will look a gentleman. If you have not observed this fact yourself ask one of those analytical observant people you know. It is an easy matter to look after your own cleanliness and neatness, but when a hat begins to throw out suggestions that it has seen better days that hat's usefulness has gone. If it was a cheap hat it didn't take long to show signs suggestive of superannuation, and even if it is a good hat it is only a matter of time before wear and tear begins to leave its mark.

Now the Fair is almost here. The clothes you have worn during the summer are not sufficiently worked out yet, but the hat wants to be replaced and if you to present a neat appearance before visitors to the city you have got to get a new hat; an old hat is suggestive of hard luck, and it is not right that Toronto people should lead visitors to the city to believe that they are in tight trouble, and when the chances are they are individually prosperous.

Talking about hats, the place to go to get the new one is at Dineens', King and Yonge-streets. This is Saturday, but they will be open till 10 o'clock to accommodate their customers who want to get that new bonnet for the Exhibition. There are thousands of hats in Dineens' store now specially made for the firm from the most famous blocks in the world. All of the celebrated makers have their goods in Dineens', who guarantee their xxx quality. To-day is the first for exhibition of fall hat styles. See the English hats from Christy, English silk hats, English tweed caps, children's fall caps and hats in every variety. There are some pretty novelties from China and Japan, in hats for little children. These are great for the youngsters. Ladies' bicycle and walking hats of every variety are among the immense stock, and, in fact, everyone can be suited at Dineens'.

It is a little early to talk about furs, but Dineens have now got their winter stock in and their showrooms are now ready for those who care to come and see the stock of the largest retail hat and fur establishment on the American Continent. Dineens' furs this year include the very latest novelties in neckwear, ruffs, collarettes, short capes, Victorines, storm collars, capes all lengths, with full wide sweep Jackets in the newest shapes from Paris and New York patterns. Fur trimmings, fur tails, etc., in abundance. Visitors to the Exhibition would do well to call at Dineens' and see this stock. Intending purchasers will thus have the pick of the best, but all are of the highest quality and are the best skins that it is possible to secure, made into shapes by the most skilful workmen.

Dineen extends a hearty invitation to all visitors to the Fair to take a look in at his big establishment, corner King and Yonge-streets.

IT MAY CAUSE A SPLIT

Manitoba Liberals, in Their Endeavor to Aid the Laurier Government,

MAY BRING THEIR OWN PARTY RUIN.

Joseph Martin's Followers Will Kick If He is Turned Down

And Sifton is Given That Vacant Portfolio Because of His Efforts to Settle the Manitoba School Question—Is the Proposed Settlement on a Basis of Giving Away to the Call of the Province of Quebec?—There May Be Another Conference at Ottawa—Trouble Brewing in the Government Camp.

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 28.—(Special.)—Success has not made the Liberals a happy family in Winnipeg. Indeed, there are very serious differences in their ranks. The Greenway-Sifton section of the party has never had any great love for the Martin section, and Mr. Martin's friends just now are very sore over the prospect of "Fighting Joe" being turned down in his application for the vacant Laurier portfolio. They think, whether rightly or not, that Mr. Sifton has stolen the plum from Joseph. But there is now a greater cause for disruption, this latest cause being the Sifton proposition for the school question settlement. There are indications here to-day that Mr. Sifton in his deep anxiety to help Mr. Laurier will wreck the Liberal party in the West.

Under the headline of "Something in the Air," The Free Press to-night says: "There is quite a little stir in Government circles in this city since the announcement from Ottawa that a basis of settlement of the school question has been agreed upon. Some of the Government supporters think that this basis, so far as it is understood, here, is in the nature of a giveaway by Messrs. Cameron and Sifton. The concessions are characterized as promising greater privileges in some respects to Catholics than they enjoyed before the act of 1890; and may account for Mr. Laurier's confidence in the settlement proving satisfactory to his Quebec followers of the Local Government."

The Tribune to-night has the significant statement that it seems likely that another conference between the two Governments will be necessary before the school question is settled. If Mr Sifton takes the Interior portfolio, as now seems likely, it is rumored that H. M. Howell, the barrister, of Winnipeg, will become Mr. Greenway's Attorney-General. Mr. Howell, by the way, is a relative of D'Alton McCarthy.

IT WAS JANE HAMILTON

Who Left the Dead Infant in the Lavatory at Hanlan's Point—Story Told by the Woman.

The woman who left the child in the lavatory at Hanlan's Point has been found by Detective Davis. She is Jane Hamilton, 29 years of age, domestic, who has been rooming at 5 Mutual-street, where she was arrested yesterday.

Her story is, that the father of the child is a man named Fitzgerald, who deserted her when she got into trouble, and went to Ireland. The child was born in the hospital a month ago. Since she left the hospital she had been caring for the infant herself. At midnight Sunday she nursed it. When she woke up Monday morning it was dead. She had no money for funeral expenses. At first she thought of leaving it on the door of some undertaker, but was afraid it might be mutilated by dogs. She finally concluded to take it over to the Island and leave it there. She claims she knew the lavatories were flushed out every day. On Monday about 10 a.m. she wrapped the child in a basket and placed it where it was found.

The woman is not charged with anything, but is held as a material witness.
