SEVENTEENTH YEAR — SIX PAGES—MONDAY MORNING MAY 11 1896—SIX PAGES — ONE CENT

TO BE A KEEN FIGHT

Sir Charles Pleased with His Visit to Winnipeg.

HE LEFT FOR OTTAWA YESTERDAY

Even Chances Between Messrs. Macdonald and Martin.

The Premier's Pertinent Query: "How Much Better Off Will the National School Cause Be if You Turn Me Out and Put in a Frenchman and a Catholic?" Has Set Many Manitobans Thinking—The Greenway Organ Says Many are Aroused at Hugh John's Audacity in Asking Winnipeggers to Stand Up and Take Their Remedial Medicine.

Winnipeg, Man., May 10.—(Special)—Sir Charles Tupper, who appears to be greatly pleased with the results of his visit to Winnipeg and the reception accorded him, left at noon to-day for Ottawa, a large number of prominent Conservatives seeing him off at the depot and wishing him success in his campaign.

That Sir Charles' visit has infused a great deal of life into the Conservative cause in the west there can be no doubt, though it is extremely doubtful if the promises of the Hudson Bay Railway and other public works, so much desired, will offset the plainly pronounced policy of Remedial legislation. The query of Sir Charles', "How much better off will the National school cause be if you turn me out and put in a Frenchman and a Catholic?" has set many people thinking, but still Sir Charles' policy is so directly in opposition to the views of the vast majority that the Liberal manipulators have but to cry "Coercion" to keep scores of erstwhile Conservatives straight in line for Mr. Martin.

Hugh John Macdonald as Hugh John could carry Winnipeg hands down, but Hugh John carrying the ponderous handicap of Remedial legislation is crippled and robbed of all the great advantage his personal popularity would otherwise give him. However, the success of the recent demonstrations has materially strengthened Mr. Macdonald's forces and as he is well organized and equipped for the big fight, many shrewd betting men are playing him for the winner. As it stands to-day in Winnipeg the chances are pretty nearly even and the contest is one of the sharpest and closest of the Dominion campaign.

If Mr. Martin succeeds in maintaining the school question as the chief issue for the next seven weeks he may come out ahead, but if the people begin to turn their attention to tariff or other issues his chances will be slim. The Conservative organ, The Nor'Wester, declares that the recent big demonstration and Sir Charles' speech have won back all the weak-kneed Conservatives and assured Hugh John's return, while the Liberal organ, The Tribune, says: "The personal popularity of Hugh John will not count for five votes against the tide of popular anger that has been aroused at his audacity in asking Winnipeggers to stand up and take their medicine. He will be engulfed on the 23rd."

Mr. Macdonald will remain here a week conducting the canvass and will then go east to lend his leader a hand in Ontario.

Before going east Sir Charles Tupper was presented with a life-size oil painting of himself by his Manitoba admirers.

D'Alton McCarthy will arrive here on May 25 and address a mass-meeting. He will then proceed to Brandon to open his campaign there.

MR. ANGERS WILL RUN.

Will Try to Capture Mr. Vaillancourt's Seat in Dorchester—Sir Hector to be Called to the Senate.

Montreal, May 10.—(Special)—It seems about settled that the Hon. Mr. Angers will resign his seat in the Senate and run for Dorchester, where the party managers hope to capture the seat from Mr. Vaillancourt.

Sir Hector Langevin will be called to the Senate in place of the Hon. Mr. Angers.

The Hon. Thomas Chase Casgrain will either run in Montmorency against Charles Langelier or in Quebec Centre against F. Langelier.

The Hon. L. O. Taillon returned from Quebec to-day and appears confident as to the result in that district.

WHO WILL OPPOSE M'SHANE?

Macdonald Club Endorses the Candidature of Messrs. Wilson-Smith and Ruddick.

Montreal, May 10.—(Special)—Last evening the Sir John A. Macdonald Club met and endorsed Mayor Wilson Smith as the Conservative nominee in St. Lawrence and Dr. Ruddick in St. Antoine. The party nomination has not yet been made in Montreal Centre, where Mr. James McShane is the Liberal candidate. In the French divisions Mr. Lepine, ex-M.P., is being opposed in St. Mary's by Ald. Dupre in the Liberal interest, while in St. James' ex-Ald. Cresse runs as the Conservative and Ald. Brunet as Liberal standard bearer. In Maisonneuve Ald. Prefontaine, ex-M.P., Liberal, and Dr. Bearle, Conservative, will be the nominees of the respective parties, while in Hochelaga Mr. Moore, Liberal, will contest the seat with Dr. S. Lachapelle, ex-M.P., Conservative. The other division on the Island of Montreal is Jacques Cartier, where the candidates are Messrs. T. D. Monk, Q.C., Conservative, and Arthur Boyer, Liberal.

The Hon. W. B. Ives was in the city yesterday and left last evening for Sherbrooke. The Minister of Trade and Commerce will take part to-day at the Brome convention.

The Hon. L. O. Taillon arrived in the city to-day and will be at Louiseville to-morrow, where the Conservative convention for Maskinonge will be held.

Dr. Geo. C. Lorimer, Boston, lecture, French Revolution, Massey Hall, May 14.

GENERAL OTTAWA GOSSIP.

Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper Brings Good News From the Maritime Provinces—Judge Fournier Dead.

Ottawa, May 10.—(Special.)—Sir C. H. Tupper returned from the Maritime Provinces yesterday. As usual he is full of fight and hope, and judging from his estimate of the political situation in the Atlantic Provinces, June 23 will bring cold comfort to the Liberals. He says the outlook in Nova Scotia was never better since 1878. His party would hold every seat they had in the last Parliament, and possibly win three or four more. In Yarmouth the prospects for the Liberal-Conservatives' candidate were most gratifying; in Digby the Liberal nominee was sure of defeat, while in Guysboro Mr. Fraser would have to make way for Mr. Gregory. The Liberals are making desperate efforts in Annapolis, but he would not be surprised if Mr. Longley withdrew from the contest there, so strongly is Mr. Mills entrenched. In Halifax the only danger to the Liberal Conservative candidates would arise from over confidence. So far as New Brunswick was concerned it was confidently believed that the Government would make a clean sweep in that province. Sir Charles Hibbert was sworn in as Solicitor-General yesterday.

Oil in the Northwest.

Mr. Fraser, the oil expert, who has had charge of boring operations at Athabaska Landing, has gone again to that point to resume the work. When boring ceased last year a depth of 1730 feet had been reached. The intention is to go a little deeper in that hole with the object of seeing whether the oil could actually be struck. The experience gained will be of service in the event of boring operations being commenced on another site along the Saskatchewan.

Sale of Liquor to the Indians.

The Department of Indian Affairs has been active recently in prosecuting a number of hotelkeepers in Ontario and Quebec for selling liquor to Indians contrary to law. Several convictions have been secured recently at Pierreville, in Quebec, and at Wiarton in Ontario.

Who Will be Adjutant?

It is expected that a decision will be reached very shortly in the matter of the adjutancy of the Dominion Artillery team to Shoeburyness. The question is one which will be settled by vote of the council of the association, and the ballot papers have already gone out to the members.

Death of Justice Fournier.

Hon. T. Fournier died at the Convalescent Home in this city this morning. He had been ailing for some months. Deceased held different portfolios in the Mackenzie Ministry, and in 1875 was appointed one of the first members of the Supreme Court bench, from which he only retired last year.

MURDER AND CANNIBALISM.

The Natives of the Islands of Manning Straits and the Solomons Going Back to Their Original Conditions.

San Francsco, May 10.—The steamer Monowai brings news of the wholesale massacre of traders and missionaries by natives of the Islands of Manning Straits and the Solomons. Malayti savages butchered a whole boat crew of men from the brig Rio Loge at Pubiana, two French and one American traders being slaughtered. The mission on the island had been attacked and the missionaries escaped with difficulty, going back to Sydney by the first ship. The murders on the Island of Manning Straits were followed by acts of cannibalism. A small trading schooner owned by a French trader was attacked and the owner and his American assistant and eight peaceful natives were lured ashore and beaten to death and the trading station was sacked. Two English missionaries are missing, and it is supposed they were also murdered. The mission on Tounan Island has been abandoned as the result of the atrocities of the natives.

SIX IN A BATCH.

Mrs. Fries Heinsnit Presents a Half a Dozen Brand New and Bouncing Babies to Her Husband.

Fowler, Ind., May 10.—Fries Heinsnit, a farmer, had, last night a family consisting of a wife and three children. This morning he has nine children, six of them being less than a day old.

About midnight he was sent after the doctor in a hurry, and, as he went, he reflected upon the fact that, less than two years ago, his wife presented him with two bouncing girls and a boy.

The doctor drove hastily to the Heinsnit home, and when there took charge of six brand new babies—three boys and three girls—all bright and well developed and able to cry lustily. The mother is doing well.

She was born in Germany 27 years ago, was the youngest of a family of 14 and is the only surviving member. She came here when 8 years old, with an aunt, who died three years ago at the age of 103 years. Mr. and Mrs. Heinsnit were married in Pennsylvania in 1890 and have been living in this State since 1893.

One of the Five Dead.

Mayfield, Ky., May 10.—John Lyons, one of the five boys born last week to Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Lyons, of this city, is dead. The four living are enjoying fine health. The mother is grief-stricken over the child's death.

SLAPPED WEYLER'S FACE.

General Bernal Offered a Most Humiliating Insult to the Spanish Commander in Caba—Called Him a Liar.

New York, May 10.—A special from Havana to The Journal says: When Captain-General Weyler returns to Spain he will be forced to meet General Bernal on the field of honor. Last Wednesday evening Bernal inflicted upon General Weyler the most humiliating insult that can be offered to a Spanish officer. With the flat of his hand he struck Weyler a blow in the face and called him a liar and poltroon, and accused him of being a traitor to Spain. This took place in the Captain-General's room in the Palace, and was witnessed by two of the Captain-General's military staff. It was the most exciting scene ever enacted in the palace.

THE COMPANY MUST PAY THE COST

Of Premeditated Conspiracy to Raid the Transvaal.

Ultimate Doom of the British South Africa Company Said to be Certain—How Sir John Tenniel Treats the South Africa Situation in Punch—Is Lord Salisbury About to Retire, Owing to Ill-Health?—Britain Has More Difficulties to Face Owing to the Assassination of the Shah.

New York, May 10.—Mr. Harold Frederic cables from London to The Times: Rumors of Lord Salisbury's ill health are about again, and I have even heard a circumstantial story that the Duke of Devonshire is going to take over the Foreign Office, but I am quite unable to say what likelihood there is that the report is true. For the moment, the new situation in Persia is occupying the attention of Downing-street, and of Asiatic experts generally, to the exclusion of other aspects of the international outlook. The new Shah is known to be in Russian hands, and it is assumed that Persia, under him, will become a sort of Russian Afghanistan, while England's practical supremacy in the Persian Gulf will be called in question by France. It is whispered about that very disquieting reports have come from the British political resident at Bushire, on this gulf, not only as to the general situation, but as to the actual safety of himself and his suite, for they are again menaced with personal violence. There is no way of verifying these reports, but all the old Indians I know say the position there is critical. Unhappily, British relations abroad are critical at so many points that one added cause for alarm hardly counts.

Britain and the Transvaal.

Mr. Isaac N. Ford cables from London to The Tribune: Sir John Tenniel portrays the main political situation with unerring accuracy in this week's Punch. The subject of his cartoon is the fencing bout between President Kruger and Mr. Chamberlain, with the latter disarmed and looking sheepish. In the background stands Lord Salisbury as a veteran maitre d'armes with a critical eye, and exclaims: "Hum! Joe's style's a trifle too open. There's something to be said for the old school, after all." The Colonial Secretary's style has been too open; the Transvaal blue-book shows that President Kruger has been merely playing with the Colonial Office. Assuming that England had no right to interfere in the internal affairs of the Transvaal, he has demanded the abrogation of Article 4 of the London Convention, and has proposed a new treaty of peace and commerce with England. He was willing to attend a round table conference at which the control of the foreign alliances of the Transvaal should be surrendered, and the absolute charter of Boer independence signed; otherwise he had nothing to gain and would stay away. Mr. Chamberlain naturally did not want him to accept the invitation on those terms, so diplomacy is suspended. Sir Hercules Robinson is coming to England without Kruger, and Sir Jacobus de Wet will soon be pensioned off.

Jameson Not Popular Now.

Dr. Jameson would not now be able to command a cheer anywhere in London. The opinion is generally expressed that, with the cipher despatches available as evidence of deliberate and premeditated conspiracy, he will plead guilty on the issue of fact. Whatever indemnity is demanded by the Transvaal will have to be paid by the Chartered Company from finncial responsibility for the raid. This makes it inconvenient for the directors to accept resignations. Mr. Chamberlain, moreover, having failed completely in his negotiations with Kruger, naturally does not want to shift the burden of indemnity from the treasury of the Chartered Company to the British taxpayers. He insists upon having Rhodes and the stock-jobbing millionaires pay the bills and does not wish to take away the charter prematurely or commit himself recklessly to summary processes of investigation. The ultimate doom of the Chartered Company is certain. The system of enlarging the British Empire and multiplying Imperial responsibilities by powerful corporations, officered at home by titled figureheads and controlled abroad by ambitious colonial statesmen who have made fortunes in the London Stock Exchange, affronts the moral instincts of Englishmen. It is well described by The Economist to-day as "Chartered Libertinism."

GRAVE FEARS OF CHOLERA

An Outbreak in Epidemic Form Seems to be Certain in Alexandria—Impossible to Stamp Out the Disease.

Cairo, May 10.—The sanitary authorities and medical specialists here regard the increase in cholera, after the unsuccessful efforts made last winter to stamp out the disease, as indicating an approaching epidemic. The chance of an outbreak is increased by the present heat and the falling of the Nile.

An official bulletin reports 19 new cases in Alexandria, and grave fears are entertained respecting many others. Of 20 deaths reported to-day, 13 were discovered by officials when inspecting dwelling houses, as the natives superstitiously conceal the cases that occur and thus render the suppression of contagion impossible.

Additional police are being sent to Alexandria. Rogers Pacha, director-general of the Sanitary Department, left here yesterday with assistants for Alexandria. Further army enlistments there have been suspended and it is feared that the Mahmudiyeh Canal, from which is drawn Alexandria's water supply, has been infected. There have been two doubtful cases in Cairo.

WHO'S THIS WOMAN?

The New York Police are Trying to Find the Identity of "Mrs. Everett of Boston," a Suicide.

New York, May 10.—Who is "Mrs. Everett of Boston"? is a question that the police and press of the city are trying to solve. Her corpse is lying in the Morgue, an unknown suicide.

Wednesday afternoon last a pretty young woman registered at the Colonnade Hotel.

She was a little brunette, who might be 23 years of age, and who might be 30 years. She had laughing black eyes of rare lustre, wavy hair, that was black as jet, a white transparent skin and lips that were curved in an almost continuous smile, revealing small, even teeth.

Her dress was a short waist of maroon velvet, with an Antoinette collar, trimmed with rich white lace, fastened at the neck with a brooch of gold and black enamel in which nine small diamonds were set. Two small diamond rings sparkled on her little finger. Her skirt was of turquoise silk and she wore a hat that was evidently an Easter creation. It was of mixed straw, trimmed with tulle in pink and green effects, and with a scarlet peony. She wore a very gauzy black dotted veil.

Friday morning the chambermaid went to Mrs. Everett's room a couple of times, found the door locked, and concluded the occupant was sleeping. In the afternoon she tried the door again and found it locked. She walked around on a balcony, found the window open and entered the room. Mrs. Everett was lying dead, with a bullet wound in her head.

A coroner was summoned, who made an investigation. All her clothing throughout was of the finest and richest material, but on nothing that she wore or had in her trunk could be found the slightest mark of identification. The name of the maker of her hat, boots, gloves, etc., had been carefully scratched out with a knife. The only marks that may lead to identification were the letters J. B. She had two small diamond rings on her little finger. An envelope containing a note and $89 was found on the mantel. The note read: "Hereditary insanity. Please cremate and pay landlord for damages, etc. Have no family, so beg my wishes to be observed."

Did She Come From Toronto?

New York, May 10.—The body of the woman who shot herself at the Colonnade Hotel Thursday night is still unidentified at the Morgue. A young man, who looked like an actor, told the Morgue keeper that one day last week he made the acquaintance of a woman. He believes that woman and the suicide were identical. He says she was training for the operatic stage, and that she had been a pupil of the Boston Conservatory of Music. She told him also that she had just arrived from Toronto, Can.

Not Known at Toronto Conservatory.

At the Toronto Conservatory of Music many neophytes are given preliminary training for the operatic stage, and Mr. Edward Fisher, musical director of that institution, was interviewed this morning. Although aroused from sleep at 2 a.m. he lost none of his affability. He was shown the portrait and description of "Mrs. Everett," but had no recollection of any Toronto girl who would correspond with them. A number of young women, he said, had recently gone from Toronto to study in New York.

TROUBLE IN SAMOA

Because King Malietoa Repealed the Poll Tax on Native Women and Children—Warships on the Way.

San Francisco, May 10.—Advices from Apia, Samoa, dated April 22, say the authorities there talk of two warships arriving there shortly to remain indefinitely. King Malietoa last Monday repealed the poll tax on native women and children. Trouble is expected to arise from this action, as the Berlin Treaty is still in force. It is believed that further British annexation in the western Pacific is being contemplated. The natives are still very restless and are buying firearms. There has been an apparently well founded rumor current that an English company is being formed for the purpose of acquiring German plantations in Samoa and Tonga, Sir John Thurston's and Lord Santmore's names being mentioned in connection with this project.

ALMOST A DUEL.

Desperate Encounter at Collingwood—One Man's Jaw Broken—The Other May Die From a Knife Wound.

Collingwood, May 10.—James Woolner, a young man about 18 years, is lying in the General and Marine Hospital, hovering between life and death, the result of a stab he received in a row late last night.

His assailant, James McPherson, is a laborer, a strong, active man and about 30 years old.

The row is said to have started in an hotel on Hurontario-street, where McPherson and Woolner commenced quarreling. The former struck the latter on the face with his hand, after which they went out on the street. McPherson started south, and Woolner followed. When in front of the Greaves property Woolner pulled a picket from the fence, with which he struck McPherson a terrible blow in the face breaking his jaw and inflicting a number of other injuries. A tussle ensued, in which Woolner received his wound. McPherson immediately walked to Dr. McKay's office to have his injuries attended to. Woolner was found lying in a pool of blood near the Salvation Army barracks, and was removed to the hospital, where Dr. McKay made an examination.

The cut, which was made in the back betwen the shoulder blades, severed an artery in the lung. He bled profusely and remained unconscious for some hours. His recovery is uncertain.

BAD NEWS FOR ONE WIFE.

Mrs. Alexander Mackenzie's Husband Was Poisoned by Lottie Hayman at Cleveland Yesterday.

This message was received at Police Headquarters at 1 o'clock this morning:

Chief of Police, Toronto.—Notify Mrs. Alex. Mackenzie, Bartha-avenue, that her husband is dead. He was poisoned here to-day by a woman named Lottie Mackenzie, whose right name is Lottie Hayman. His life is said to be insured for $2000. What is to be done with the body?

DR. ARBUCKLE, Coroner, Cleveland.

There is no Bartha-avenue in Toronto and the police were unable to deliver the message or identify the man mentioned in the foregoing despatch.

The Woman Charged With Murder.

Cleveland, O., May 10.—Alexander Mackenzie, a clerk in the offices of the Pennsylvania Railroad, was found dead in bed this morning and Mrs. James Everingham, the woman with whom he was living, was drunk in the same bed. The man had died from a dose of sulphate of zinc which the woman had given him. She was placed under arrest charged with murder. The woman was pardoned from the penitentiary four weeks ago. She was serving a term for bigamy. She came here four weeks ago and was living with Mackenzie, leading the neighbors to suppose they were man and wife. The reason for the crime is thought to be an insurance policy in her favor.

SAT UP IN HIS COFFIN

Just as People Were Arriving to Attend His Funeral—Supposed Drowned Boy's Strange Recovery.

Logansport, Ind., May 10.—While the 8-year-old son of Wesley Hurd was playing about a deep ditch by the roadside, some distance from the house, he fell into the water, and was thought to have been drowned. The body was recovered shortly after and prepared for burial. The funeral was to have occurred yesterday.

Just before the friends began to arrive a member of the family who happened to enter the room where the services were to be held was surprised to see the supposed corpse sitting upright in his coffin. Needless to say that the scene was changed from the extreme of sorrow to the extreme of joy, and instead of attending a funeral the friends lingered long to rejoice with the parents whose child had awakened from what seemed an endless sleep.

Physicians say the case is one of suspended animation. Under such conditions the respiratory muscles are contracted and the epiglottis closed, making it impossible for water to enter the lungs. There are several cases recorded in medical literature in which it is stated that bodies which have been in water for longer periods than in this case were revived, or appeared to return to life, without treatment.

THREE LIVES LOST

And Half a Million Dollars Damage by a Great Conflagration at Ashland, Wis.—How Engedman Perished.

Ashland, Wis., May 10.—One of the most destructive fires in the history of Northern Wisconsin occurred here this morning. Special trains brought the departments from near-by towns to render assistance. At least three persons lost their lives, and the property loss is nearly $500,000.

The dead are: Peter Engedman, John Nolander, Ole Olesen.

Nearly 20,000,000 feet of lumber was burned. The mill in which the fire started was surrounded by water, wooden tramways leading to the store. When the flames burst out in great volume and enveloped the mill and the dock, all the men but four succeeded in reaching the tramways. The origin of the fire is still a mystery, but it is presumed that a spark from some employe's pipe started the lumber pile on W. R. Durfee's dock. The distance between Durfee's and the Shores Lumber Co.'s docks is only 50 feet. The fire jumped across the short stretch of water in 15 minutes after it had started. The Keystone Lumber Co.'s mill and other mills were shut down soon after the fire started, and all the employes flocked to the Shores Company's plant to fight the flames.

At 11.08 o'clock heavy rains checked the flames. Ole Olesen died from the effects of heat in fighting the fire.

At 5 o'clock the body of one of the unfortunates was recovered and identified as that of Peter Engedman, an employe of the Shores Lumber Co. He jumped into the bay while enveloped in flames and sank immediately.

A thousand people saw him perish, but there was no way to render him assistance.

The loss in detail is as follows: Shores Lumber Co., plant and docks, $250,000; Shores Lumber Co., lumber, $140,000; lumber and docks of other parties, $88,000; total $478,000; insurance, $350,000.

Another Lumber Conflagration.

Marquette, Mich, May 9.—The village of L'Anse, Mich., on Keewana Bay, nine miles west of Marquette, is threatened with total destruction by fire, which started at 5 o'clock this afternoon in the mill of the L'Anse Lumber Company. For several days the mill hands have been on strike, and it is alleged the strikers applied the torch to the mill. The mill was destroyed, and the high wind carried the flames into the business centre, and they now have full sway. The loss will approximate $500,000.

The Sentencing of U.S. Citizens to Death Will Make Trouble With Spain.

Washington, May 9.—The passage of the death sentence on the men caught on the filibuster Competitor, it is stated, is liable to bring about a crisis in the relations between Spain and the United States. It is understood that this Government will not allow the executions to take place without an earnest and vigorous protest against the summary manner in which the trial was conducted. Of the five men convicted and sentenced, two are native born American citizens, and a third, William Kinlea, described as an Englishman. He is understood to be a naturalized citizen of this country.

Too Good to be True.

Olean, N.Y., May 9.—Three sisters named Crawford, living on First-street, have been notified that they, with two cousins living elsewhere, have fallen heir to a fortune of $500,000. The young women have been living at Lakewood until a few months ago, when they removed to this city. One of the sisters is teaching school and another is studying music at the conservatory. They are very worthy young women and deserve their good fortune. A member of their family has gone to Maine to investigate the matter.

DRUGGIST SUICIDES IN A BOAT.

Street Car Conductor Died from Morphine Poisoning.

O. F. Botsford, a Queen Street Chemist, Found at the Foot of Leslie Street, with a Bullet Wound in the Head—The Body was in Watchman Hilts' Boat, Moored Near the Paint Factory—Since Friday Botsford, who Carried a Loaded Revolver, Had Acted Strangely—John Sedgwick, a Street Car Conductor, Succumbs to Morphine Obtained from Osgoode Pharmacy—Coroners and Their Warrants.

The body of O. F. Botsford, druggist, 1094 Queen-street west, is lying in the Morgue with a bullet wound in the head, the effects of a revolver fired by himself.

On Friday night the deceased attended a social gathering in the west end, and acted so strangely as to draw considerable attention to himself. Since then little was seen of him until yesterday morning, when J. H. Hilts, watchman at the Canada Paint Works, foot of Leslie-street, saw him wandering around. About 3.30 in the afternoon, when Hilts went down to use his boat, which he keeps moored near the factory, he found the body of a man lying in the bottom of the boat, with the head resting on the seat, and a revolver grasped in the right hand. The ball had entered the head just above the right ear and come out at the left side.

The deceased was addicted to the use of cocaine, and for some time kept a loaded revolver in the store, much to the discomfort of his clerk and customers.

Botsford was a nephew of C. S. Botsford, the dry goods man, and has a brother, N. F., who is a traveler. Besides these he leaves two, sisters, a wife and child.

Coroner Greig will hold an inquest Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

A CONDUCTOR'S DEATH

From Too Big a Dose of Morphine Administered by Himself.

John W. Sedgwick, a conductor employed by the Street Railway Company, and residing at 2 Spadina-avenue, died in the General Hospital shortly before noon yesterday as a result of an overdose of medicine administered by himself. Deceased was 25 years of age and has not been enjoying good health lately. He was a typhoid patient in the General Hospital for nearly three months at the latter part of last year and has not since he thoroughly well. He went out on Saturday night and on his return at 11 complained of pains in his stomach. He went to bed and when his mother went in to awaken him at about 9.30 yesterday morning, he was unconscious.

Prompt Medical Aid.

Dr. J. C. Ray and Dr. H. McFaul were immediately summoned and found that Sedgwick showed symptoms of morphine poisoning. After working upon him for some time the medical men decided that it was best that he should be removed to the General Hospital.

Beside the bed in which Sedgwick lay, an empty druggist's envelope was found. It came from the Osgoode Pharmacy and had contained eight powders. Part of the ingredients of the powders was morphine, one quarter of a grain of which was in each powder—in all two grains. Whether deceased had taken all of the powders is not known.

R. F. Sedgwick, a brother, who is also a conductor on the T.R.R., accompanied him in the police ambulance to the hospital, but notwithstanding the strenuous efforts of the hospital doctors the unfortunate fellow succumbed an hour after being admitted to the institution.

Coroners' Queer Ways.

Coroner Spencer was notified and after investigating the case hardly thought an inquest was necessary and was undecided as to whether he would issue a warrant for an inquest this morning.

Coroner Young, however, had a warrant issued as soon as possible after the clock had struck midnight.

When a World reporter called up Dr. Spencer by telephone shortly before 12 o'clock to find out if he had come to a decision regarding his warrant, the doctor was not at home, but Mrs. Spencer said that he had not yet decided.

Knowing the ways of coroners the World man suggested that perhaps some one else might issue a warrant before Dr. Spencer did, but Mrs. Spencer replied that there was no danger of that as this was a hospital case and "it was Dr. Spencer's turn."

FOR THE WARM WEATHER.

An Announcement of Interest to Heated Humanity—Featherweight Hats and Caps.

An important incident of Dineens' rebuilding sale is the clearing out of 175 dozen tweed outing caps, manufactured this season, and sold to W. & D. Dineen by an overloaded manufacturer at $2.50 a dozen cash. They are now being sold at King and Yonge for 25 cents apiece, and needless to say, for cash also. These caps are in wool tweed, the latest shades and mixtures. There is nothing more fashionable and nothing more suitable for golf, bicycling, boating, excursions, or general wear, while felts are too heavy and straws unseasonable.

As usual there is an immense assortment of warm weather headgear at Dineens'. Outing caps at 50c, 75c and $1, are all splendid value. Yachting caps, regulation pattern, at lower prices than ever; white flannel caps for cricketing, etc.; tennis caps and hats and caps of all sorts for children, including straw hats in various colors and shades, in this season's "Middy" shapes, at 25c to $1.25.

The high temperature of Friday and Saturday made high hats most desirable, and there was a consequent rush for the feather weight felts advertised by Dineen. These are the lightest felt hats ever sold in Toronto. They are in the newest blocks and most approved shades, in variety sufficient to suit the most fastidious purchaser, and at prices that cannot be equalled by any other firm. They are only at Dineens', King and Yonge.
