LEGAL QUERIES.

DORCHESTER.—Some twelve years ago A indorsed a note for B. The holder of note never notified A touching his security. Is A responsible for note? ANS.—Not upon the facts stated. The indorser of a note is not liable unless duly notified of its non-payment when payable.

PLOVER MILLS.—A orders from an agent, B, a book, which was to be delivered on or soon after June 2; it is not delivered yet. Can B force A to take the book now, and if so, when is the latest date that he can compel him to take it? ANS.—A is bound to take the book now, or within any reasonable time, having regard to the particular facts of the case to be determined by the court should the parties disagree and the question have to be settled. The law does not fix the exact date; that is a question of fact. A year would be an unreasonable time, but a few months might not be unreasonable.

WARDSVILLE.—The council of our township made an appropriation for a gravel road, which has been kept up by the council, exclusive of the annual ward appropriation. The money was spent by their commissioner as directed, and now after the lapse of a year, a majority of the present council want to charge the said grant to one of the wards. Can they do so? 2. It was moved that the said grant should be charged to the said ward, when the reeve ruled the motion out of order, on account of said grant having been made and duly expended for a special purpose named in the resolution. Was he right or wrong? ANS.—The resolution appropriating money having been acted upon cannot be now altered, and the reeve was in our opinion right in ruling the motion out of order, although it would appear from your statement that charging it to the ward is a mere matter of discretionary management by the council, and the object of the majority might be effected in arranging for any subsequent expenditure. There is no authority for charging expenditure to any particular ward or part of the municipality, unless the money is raised by special or frontage tax upon the property against which it is charged.

CONSTANT READER.—A owns a farm and B owned adjoining farm, B had a road allowance of two rods extending along the east side of A's farm, which is distinctly mentioned in all the deeds for the last 30 years, but the road had not been used for about twenty years, and A had full use of it for that time, and plowed and sowed the same as he liked. About six years ago the executors of B opened the road for use, but it was used very little, and was never fenced, only gates put on, and A was allowed the grass that grew on it by the executors. Four years ago C bought the farm from the executors, and A used the grass for pasture and hay. C did not forbid A to take it until now. Can C claim the grass or A? Could the executors open the road by law after the lapse of all that time, and can C compel A to put up half the fence along the road allowance? ANS.—Upon the facts stated the executors had no legal right to open the road after its non-use for twenty years, and A had acquired a title (by possession) to the road allowance. He is therefore entitled to the grass and to treat it as his own property. C cannot compel him to fence along the road, but he may compel him to maintain half the line fence between their respective occupied lands. A had better consult a lawyer upon a full statement of facts.

Forty-Five Years Practice.

ELIZABETHTON, Tenn., U. S. A., Jan. 30, 1889.—"I have been practicing medicine and surgery for 45 years, and have had my prejudices against so-called patent medicines. But being troubled with indigestion and constipation, I tried your Diamond Vera-Cura. It has done me a great deal of good, and I will try it further. I persuaded a distinguished gentleman to use it, and he says he has not felt so well and free from indigestion in ten years as he now feels." A. JONE, M.D. At druggists or sent on receipt of price, 25 cents. Address E. A. Wilson, Toronto.

Not Too Young.

"I have just gained your mother's consent, Clara dear."

"But, Mr Swift, I am so young, I—really—"

"I don't think it will make any difference, as I am to be your stepfather.

An Indiana paper found it necessary to publish the following correction: "For 'Burglar Meeting' in the heading of the article in our last issue relating to the proceedings of the town council, read 'Regular Meeting.'"

We have no hesitation in saying that Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial is without doubt the best medicine ever introduced for dysentery, diarrhœa, cholera and all summer complaints, sea sickness, etc. It promptly gives relief and never fails to effect a positive cure. Mothers should never be without a bottle when their children are teething.

The seasons nominally and according to the calendar begin as follows: Spring, March 20, at 3 a.m.; summer, June 20, 11 p.m.; autumn, September 22, 2 p.m.; winter, December 21, 8 a.m.

Mr. J. R. Allen, upholsterer, Toronto, sends us the following: "For six or seven years my wife suffered with Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Inward Piles and Kidney Complaint. We tried two physicians and any number of medicines without getting any relief, until we got a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. This was the first relief she got, and before one bottle was used the benefit she derived from it was beyond our expectation."

Mrs. Potter Palmer and Miss Frances E. Willard have been elected trustees of the Northwestern University at Evanston, Ill.

Among the pains and aches cured with marvelous rapidity with Dr. Thomas Eclectric Oil, is ear ache. The young are especially subject to it, and the desirability of this Oil as a family remedy is enhanced by the fact that it is admirably adapted not only to the above ailment, but also to the hurts, disorders of the bowels, and affections of the throat, in which the young are specially subject.

A Child Saved.

My little boy was taken very bad with diarrhœa, he was very delicate and got so low we had no hope of his life, but a lady friend recommended Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and although he could only bear a few drops at a time he got well. It saved my child.
