WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

Maritime—Moderate to fresh northerly winds, fair, with a little higher temperature.

Washington Forecast.

Washington, May 31.—Forecast for New England: Fair Tuesday and Wednesday; moderate southerly winds.

Tugs Reach Port.

The tugs Mikado and Bear River arrived in port last night, and docked in Market slip.

Disturbance Quelled.

Policeman Crawofrd was called into 68 Brussels street last night between 8 and 9 o'clock to quell a disturbance.

New Horse for Salvage Corps

A new horse for the fire department was tried out in No. 1 Salvage Corps wagon. The animal is a good looking one and may be purchased.

Had No License.

The following persons have been reported for doing a business in the city without a license, not being rate payers: Charles S. Cresser, Eugene Walker and Edward Robinson.

Freshet Subsiding.

The freshet has now so for receded that the steamer Champlain when she arrived down river yesterday was able to be tied up at the street-end wharf, which so far has been submerged with water at high tide.

Italians Cheered at Nickel.

That St. John loves good music was evidenced by the trip recalls the Italian Trio of instrumentalists received at the Nickel last night. It was an eye-opener to the people truly. Today at 4 p. m., 7.45, 8.45, 9.45.

Lying and Lurking.

Joseph Roberts was gathered in by Policemen Scott and Belyea last night for lying and lurking in an I. R. C. car at the foot of Dorchester street. He will have a chance of explaining matters to the magistrate this morning.

A Serious Charge.

Between eleven and twelve o'clock last evening, Officer Chas. W. Hughes arrested Harold Compbell, aged 21, who was given in charge by Bertha Cingly for assaulting her and using abusive language to her on Charlotte street.

Married Yesterday.

At the home of Mr. Stephen Foster, of Metcalf street, last night, Mr. Hugh Justin Wallace and Miss Mary Emma Fraser were united in marriage by Rev. Mr. Hutchinson. Only the immediate relatives and friends of the couple were presnt.

Home for Incurables.

The regular monthly meeting of the women's aid committee was held yesterday afternoon at the Home for Incurables. The President, Mrs. Silas Alward, presided and the visitors were appointed and services arranged for the month of June.

Driver is Reported.

I. R. C. Officer Scovil Smith has reported Morris Goldburg for driving over Mill street crossing on May 28th when asked by gateman James Brady to stop, as the Fredericton express was approaching. It appears for some reason the gates were not down, and Goldburg refused to wait.

Wandered Away From Home.

The young child of John A. Walsh, the Mill street liquor dealer, strayed away from its home yesterday afternoon. As soon as the child was missed word was sent to the North End Police Station. Later on in the evening, the child was returned to its parents.

Found Two Little Girls.

Two little girls, Pearl Spragg and Mildred Rieker who had strayed away from their homes yesterday afternoon were found on Union street by Officer Sullivan, and were later taken to their homes on City Road. The children spent the afternoon playing in the police station, and made themselves at home.

Woman Picked Flowers.

A lady who apparently did not know the law picked several flowers from their beds in the King Square last night. When Officer Hughes who was on duty told her that she could be prosecuted under the law, she expressed her ingnorance of this fact. The officer warned her and pointed out that she could be fined $8.00 for going on the grass and that to pick the flowers was a still more serious offence.

He is Mistaken.

Dr. L. A. Currey, manager of the St. John River Steamship Company, yesterday announced through the Telegraph that the report which The Standard published regarding the fire on the steamer Elaine was untrue; that he had invited The Standard to send a representative to inspect the boat on Saturday and that he had been promised by The Standard that a man would be sent. Dr. Currey made no such request from either the management, editors or reporters of The Standard and no such promise was given to Dr. Currey.

Threats of libel will not deter this paper from doing its duty in the public interests.

A Young Author.

Mr. Arthur L. Dysart, of the University of New Brunswick graduating class, made himself responsible for a small volume of "Poems and Lyrics," on the same week that he took his degree. The little book is not intended to be taken too seriously if one may judge from the reference in the opening poem. Yet it shows a considerable range of poetic interest, a genuine love of nature, and that meditative disposition which favors the cultivation of the muse. Some of these poems have appeared in the University paper, and others by their theme may be traced to pre-college days, showing that poetry had early marked the author for her own.

The volume of 83 pages bears the imprint of William M. Clarke, of Fredericton, and Mr. Dysart is to be congratulated on the pleasing form in which his lyrics are presented to the world.

Don't hesitate to inspect Pidgeon's spring line of clothes and furnishings if you value money. You may also be particular as to the style. We can please your fancy and your purse. C. B. Pidgeon.

ALD. VANWART INSPECTED PAVEMENTS AND HOSE NOZZLES; HE RESENTS INSINUATIONS

Ald. Vanwart returned yesterday at noon from a trip to New England, where he had been the guest of the Hassam Paving Company of Worcester, Mass. Ald. Elkin, who was one of the St. John delegation which took this trip reached the city on Saturday. Ald. McGoldrick and Engineer Murdoch who were also on the delegation, will arrive today.

Ald. Vanwart Indignant.

Ald. Vanwart is indignant at the suggestions made by certain newspapers that the Hassam Paving Company took the aldermen on this trip for the purpose of influencing them to give the company city business.

"Mr. Low, who accompanied us," said Ald. Vanwart, "did not show us merely pavements laid by his company, but we looked over every kind of pavement. We're not bound to try to get St. John to buy the Hassam Company's or any other company's pavement. For my part I don't know that I am in favor of St. John doing any street paving at the present time. Paved streets are very nice things to have, but St. John is not in a position to pay for them. Perhaps when the Dominion Government decides to take over the harbor and relieve the city of a few millions of debt, St. John can talk about paved streets."

Pavement Suitable.

The delegation visited Boston, Worcester and Lowell. Ald. Vanwart took a side trip to New Haven. He saw practically all kinds of pavement but that which struck him as best suited to St. John's needs, was of broken stone, and concrete rolled down by a steam roller. Ald. Vanwart saw such a pavement in course of construction and also in use some time after completion.

All Right for Hills.

He was asked if such a pavement were suited for hills such as St. John has and replied that he thought it was.

"In Boston I saw hills every bit as steep as King street," said the alderman. "Heavily loaded wagons were going up on a rainy day without a slip."

Ald. McGoldrick and Engineer Murdoch received an invitation from the Warren Paving Company to inspect some of their work and had accepted the invitation. Ald. Vanwart's time was too limited to enable him to do do the same.

Fire Fighting Appliances.

As chairman of the Board of Public Safety, Ald. Vanwart felt a keen interest in fire fighting apparatus and inspected some special nozzles. He met the chief of the fire department of Boston and received a pressing invitation to go on board one of the fireboats in Boston harbor and witness a demonstration of the use of the patent nozzle.

The nozzle in question is of the Eastman New Nozzle System and is manufactured by Samuel Eastman and Co., of Concord, N. H. By the Eastman system a child can direct the most powerful stream and one man can control and direct four streams. Its use means a great saving of labor in a fire department.

When asked if this type of nozzle would be introduced into the St. John department Ald. Vanwart said that depended upon the Council. He himself, however, is strongly impressed with the value of the Eastman nozzle.

WILL THE SUN AND TELEGRAPH AMALGAMATE?

There is a revival of the report of the amalgamation of the Telegraph and Sun. It is now understood that the Telegraph people are in a better position to take up the proposition than they have been hitherto. The paper has practically passed into the possession of two persons, Mr. John E. Moore and Mr. George McAvity. Other interests, except that of Mr. Pugsley, are said to have been eliminated or acquired, so that both stock and bonds are now held by these two or three owners.

It is now said that they will offer Mr. Pearson a certain amount of stock or bonds, or both, if he will allow the Sun and Star to be added to the Telegraph's establishment. If he will not consent to such arrangements, it will be explained that the Telegraph is quite able to take care of the St. John share of Intercolonial printing and that farming out is not necessary.

EXPECT MR. LITHGOW HERE THIS WEEK

That Mr. James Lithgow, president of the M. P. A. A. A., will be in the city this week, and that they can place matters in a light before him which will work toward the altering of the recent decisions of that body, is the hope of the local baseball clubs, whose amateur standing has been going down in leaps before the M. P. A. A. A. grape shot during the last few days.

It is expected that word will be received from Mr. Lithgow this morning as to whether he can come to St. John during the next day or two.

The local clubs do not dispute that the troublesome Tommy Howe was at one time, several years ago, a professional but they feel that his claim to that distinction is past.

GIRL WANTED BY FATHER ESCAPED POLICE

Mr. John Collins, a Milford man, applied to the North End police on Sunday to bring his daughter out of a house on the Strait Shore Road. The girl is about eighteen years of age, had run away from home, and her father said that he had located her there.

Two policemen were despatched to the house from the North End Station but when they were seen coming over the hills back of the house, the dwelling was immediately vacated by a number of men and women.

The girl made good her escape and up to last night had not returned to her home.

West End Christian Endeavor.

The senior and junior Christian Endeavor societies of Ludlow Street United Baptist Church held their annual union meeting last night. The meeting was highly successful in every way.

Mr. R. H. Parsons, president of the senior section, opened the meeting an address, which was replied to by Miss H. M. Thompson, superintendent of the junior section. Curtis Wills, president of the junior section followed with scripture reading. There was then prayer by the pastor, Rev. W. R. Robinson.

A programme was then rendered by the members of the junior section. Much credit is due Miss H. M. Thompson and Miss Jessie L. Crossley for the way in which they trained the juniors.

SECOND BAND CONCERT IN THE SQUARE

The second open-air concert in King Square by the City Cornet band will be given tonight if the weather is at all favorable. 6.—Valse—Santiago—A. Corbin.
7.—Selection—Chimes of Normandy—Planquitte.
8.—March—Red Moon—C. Mumfield.
God Save The King.

CARLETON CO. ELECTION PETITION

The Carleton Co. election case was again before Mr. Justice McLeod in Chambers yesterday afternoon. At the conclusion of argument of counsel, His Honor extended the time for fixing the day of trial until December 1st next, and himself fixed August 17th next at 10 a. m., at the Court House, Woodstock, as the time and place for trial. His Honor will preside at the trial.

On Friday Mr. A. B. Connell, K. C., counsel for Mr. William J. Owens, the petitioner, took out a summons calling upon Mr. George W. Upham, M. P. P., the respondent, to show cause why the time for fixing a day for trial should not be extended. The summons was made returnable yesterday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, when it was argued.

Mr. W. P. Jones, K. C., appeared for Mr. Geo. W. Upham, M. P. P., the respondent, to oppose the extension. His Honor, however, extended the time as noted above and fixed the day for trial. Evidently the case will be appealed as it is understood that Mr. Jones, at the session of the Supreme Court en banc which opens today at Fredericton will move for a rule nisi to quash the orders of Mr. Justice McLeod in this case. If the court grants the motion the matter will probably be argued the second Friday in term.

ORDINATION AT ST. ANDREW'S TOMORROW

Tomorrow morning, Rev. David Hutchinson, pastor of Main Street Baptist Church, Rev. M. E. Fletcher, pastor of Charlotte Street Baptist Church, West End, and Rev. F. S. Bishop, of the Fairville Baptist Church will leave for St. Andrews on an interesting mission. They will assist at the ordination there of Mr. Arthur S. Evans, lately of England, who will be in charge of the St. Andrews church. Ministers will be present from St. Stephen, St. George and other places nearby, and the ceremony will be conducted Wednesday afternoon and evening. Mr. Evans came out from England about a month ago and has since been located at St. Andrews. He is a graduate of Harley College, London.

Mr. W. Willett, of Annapolis, was in the city Monday.

Exhibition and Sale of ENGLISH FOOTWEAR KING STREET STORE
THIS (Tuesday) MORNING
As announced in this space on Saturday, we have imported from eight of the best makers in Great Britain, samples of their footwear. We want our customers to see just what they do make on the other side. We have often heard of the excellent goods produced there—goods renowned for correct tannage, conservative English style, and long-wearing qualities. Now we want our customers to call at our King street store and carefully examine them. Take your time and compare them with the Canadian and American goods carried in stock, and if our friends agree that there is a field here for English goods we shall be happy to provide a generous supply of them.
