ATROCIOUS BUTCHERY

Four Children Murdered in a Most Fiendish Way

IN MONTCALM CO., QUEBEC

A Tramp Supposed to Have Committed the Blood-Curdling Deed.

Two of the Little Ones Were Beheaded in the House and a Third Was Slain in the Yard—The Eldest, a Girl of 18, Was Found Dead in the Barn With Evidences of Criminal Assault—The Villain Believed to Have Killed All the Children to Hide That Crime—The Father and Mother Were Away From Home.

Montreal, Nov. 5.—(Special.)—A terrible tragedy has been enacted near the quiet village of Rawdon, located in Montcalm county and inhabited mostly by English-speaking people. A farmer named Michael Nulty mourns the loss of four children, who were butchered in cold blood day before yesterday, it is supposed, by a tramp, who entered the Nulty homestead while the father and mother were absent from home. Little of course can be told as to what passed before the fiend began his awful work, but when a neighbor named Morin entered the house three daughters of Mr. Nulty, aged respectively 14, 16 and 18 years, and a son aged 12, lay cold in death.

The bodies of two of the murdered children were found between the house and the barn, the supposition being that they were struck down with an ax while endeavoring to get away from the monster who had wrought such dire havoc in the quiet household. The feelings of the parents can be easier imagined than described when they arrived home and saw what had befallen their children, and it is difficult indeed to suppose that so horrible a crime could be perpetrated in any rural district of Canada. Such, however, are the facts, and although the officers of the law are at work on the case no arrests had taken place when the latest reports came to hand. There were rumors to the effect that a tramp had been seen in the vicinity the day before the murder, and also that the body of a man had been found dead in the woods near by, so further details of the awful deed will be anxiously awaited.

THE PRESS REPORT.

Details of the Most Awful and Revolting Character of the Crime.

Montreal, Nov. 5.—Police circles in town were astonished this morning when they heard that a brutal murder had been committed in the neighborhood of Rawdon. Public rumor gave out that the family of Michael Nulty had been murdered by a tramp, and the despatches to hand unhappily bear out this story.

The whole County of Montcalm is a seething mass of excitement, and should the foul villain be captured the authorities will have to put forth their utmost efforts to protect him from the vengeance of the incensed community. The scene of the tragedy is far removed from any other farm. There is a name mentioned in the despatches from the place which, in the interests of justice, it is thought wise to suppress, as in a matter of this importance the greatest care is necessary to protect innocent people from the license of mob law.

The Horrible Facts.

The facts of the tragedy are these: Four children have been butchered in cold blood. There is little doubt that the lives of the innocent four were sacrificed to brutal lust, as the appearance of the eldest girl, aged 18, amply testifies. Two children were actually beheaded. These were the youngest. The other two, a boy and the eldest girl, evidently ran towards the barn for safety. The boy was stabbed on the roadway; the girl reached the barn and there met her death under circumstances too horrible to mention.

Parents Almost Insane.

The butchery was first discovered by a Mr. Morin, who, coming from the village of Chertsey to visit the Nultys, found the house and farmyard a veritable slaughterhouse. The parents, Mr. Michael Nulty and his wife, are almost insane. They had left in the morning to go to St. Julienne, some 12 miles distant, leaving their children to mind the farm. As yet there is no clue to the perpetrator or perpetrators of the terrible crime.

The neighbors are out with every kind of weapon, seeking for the murderer. The ages of the murdered children are 18, 16, 14 and 10 years respectively.

The Authorities Notified.

Mr. F. O. Dugas, Crown Prosecutor of the district of Joliette, was in town to-day on business connected with the present term of the Court of Queen's Bench. Rawdon, the scene of the terrible tragedy, is in his district, and yesterday evening he received a despatch from Mr. William Jones of Rawdon. It read as follows:

"A whole family murdered here today. Send detectives."

"(Signed) William Jones."

"I sent," said Mr. Dugas, "the High Constable of Joliette, A. Levesque, and the Chief of Police, Joseph Leduc. They started last evening about 10 o'clock, and I got a despatch from the High Constable this morning. It is as follows:

"'Four persons murdered; no trace; send detectives or instructions.

"I at once telegraphed the contents of these two despatches to the Attorney-General, Quebec, asking for instructions, and I am still awaiting a reply. I will leave for the scene of the murder this afternoon.

"The family of the Nultys is one of the oldest settlers in the district. Their farm is situated nine miles outside of Rawdon, but was in the parish. They were highly respected, and the grandfather of the murdered children, Patrick Nulty, is still alive, and lives in Rawdon. The trouble is that it will be very hard to catch the murderer, as the nature of the country gives ample opportunity for him to remain in hiding. I know nothing further, and I am myself awaiting details.

DETECTIVES ON THE WAY.

The Tramp and Criminal Assault Theory Gaining More Credence.

Rawdon, Que., Nov. 5.—Detectives are expected here to-morrow to work on the case of the murdered Nulty children.

As time passes the tramp theory gains more credence, and criminal assault is also more generally settled upon as the motive. The Nulty farm is on the 11th concession of Rawdon township, in the midst of a thickly wooded district and far removed from any other dwellings.

Elizabeth Nulty, aged 18, is supposed to have been assaulted in the barn and then murdered.

Her brother Patrick, aged 10 years, was killed midway between the barn and the house. The younger girls, Annie and Ellen, aged respectively 14 and 11 years, were slain inside the house. An ax was used as the murderous weapon.

A tramp was seen in the neighborhood that day, and suspicion rests upon him and he will be arrested on sight.

SENSATIONAL CASES.

Two of Murder Will be Tried in Ontario This Month—Charges Against Mrs. Sternaman of Allison.

Two sensational murder trials will be brought off in Ontario this month. On Nov. 16 Mrs. Sternaman will be tried at Cayuga for the murder of her husband, and on the 29th young James Alison will face a jury at Berlin on the charge of having done away with Mrs. Orr at a farmhouse near Galt.

Chief Inspector John Murray of the Provincial Detective force, who has both cases in hand, will shortly repair to Haldimand County to get the Crown's evidence in shape, and meantime he has been completing his chain of testimony against young Alison.

A Conviction Unlikely.

Mr. Murray, by the way, though he considers that he has a strong case against Alison, seems to doubt the likelihood of securing a conviction against him. Nobody has ever been hanged in Waterloo County, and the people of the riding, he says, entertain a strong feeling against breaking the record. In support of his contention, the Chief Inspector instances the trial of a man for murder five years ago. Witnesses were produced who claimed to have been eye-witnesses of the killing of the victim. The accused, however, was acquitted, and the foreman of the jury, when questioned afterwards as to the reason for bringing in such a finding, observed: "What else could we do? If we had found him guilty he would have been hanged, and we don't want any hangings in this County."

Case of Mrs. Sternaman.

At the trial of Mrs. Sternaman, which will likely last four or five days, evidence will be adduced to show that Chipman, the former husband of the accused, died of the same cause as did Sternaman—arsenical poisoning, to wit. Drs. Rich and Parmenter of Buffalo will be put in the box to swear that Chipman took ill after eating of food prepared by the prisoner, as did Sternaman. It is a curious fact that in the death certificates of both men multiple neuritis was set out as the cause of demise. There are precedents for the admission of the evidence regarding Chipman's death.

After Gotlieb Bofinger.

From the scenes of the two murder cases Mr. Murray will go to Detroit, there to endeavor to secure the extradition of Gotlieb Bofinger, on a charge of embezzling large sums from A. & J. Livingstone, the flax-mill men, of Baden. As World readers already know, the United States Government is, at the instance of Bofinger, suing the Livingstones for $50,000 damages for alleged undervaluations of importations of flax. The United States authorities are unwilling to give Bofinger up, but counsel for the Ontario Government maintains that under the treaty of extradition the criminal action must take precedence over the civil action, and that, therefore, accused must be given up to the Attorney-General's Department.

Safe Blowing Case.

Detective Murray is also preparing evidence in the case of James Stull, who is to be tried at St. Catharines on Dec. 6 for blowing open safes in Wellandport last summer. Mr. Murray says that Stull is an old partner of the man Frank Osler, recently arrested at Detroit for smuggling, and wanted at Rodney for robbing Martin Bros.' store and Misteele Bros.' drygoods shop. It is understood that the Canadian authorities are willing to hand over Osler to the Ontario officials if a strong case can be made out against him. Bofinger comes up in Detroit on Monday.

TRADE GOOD IN CANADA.

Dun's Review Gives a Glowing Account From an All-Round View—A Boom at Vancouver.

New York, Nov. 5.—Dun's Review of Canadian trade to-morrow will say: Canadian business has been somewhat improved by more seasonable weather in retail trade at Quebec, though less active at Vancouver, and collections are fair at Halifax and Victoria; good at Toronto, Winnipeg and Vancouver; somewhat improved at Quebec and Montreal. Without especial features business continues fair at St. John, and there is the usual fall activity in shipping of apples and other produce at Halifax, though the fish market has not gained. Montreal reports trade satisfactory, with heavy goods moving quite briskly, as winter rates go into effect on the 15th. At Toronto wholesale business is very satisfactory in groceries, hardware and leather, with fair sorting up orders in fancy goods and hosiery. At Winnipeg wholesale orders from the country are steady for staple goods, and clearings indicate a larger volume of business than any previous week. Retail trade at Victoria, except in boots and shoes, is less active and wholesale trade is quiet in groceries, drygoods and hardware, but October business on the whole exceeds last year's. Trade in all lines is generally good at Vancouver, with most encouraging prospects.

Bradstreet's on Canadian Trade.

New York, Nov. 5.—Bradstreet's will say to-morrow of Canadian trade: There is greater activity in agricultural operations in Ontario, owing to mild weather, which has interfered somewhat with the distribution of general merchandise. Less activity is also noticed in the Province of Quebec. Jobbers at Halifax report only a moderate business, due in part to mild weather. Trade is dull in New Brunswick, where the fish catch is reported disappointingly small and prices low. Bank clearings at Winnipeg, Hamilton, Toronto, Montreal, Halifax and St. John, N.B., amount to $28,318,000 this week, an increase of 10 per cent. over last week, and 11 per cent. over the corresponding total one year ago.

Dineen's Trade Demands Style.

The ambition of a great store to keep apace with the highest expectations of its patrons is the motive force which gives Dineens the leadership of the hat and fur trade in the Dominion. There is not another store of its kind in Canada just like it—none other so large, none other, like it, designed from the ground up for its own special purpose, none other whose aim to merit the trade of people who value quality and appreciate style is so clearly expressed in every detail of the business and in all the appointments of the establishment. Dineens' immense displays of hats and fur garments indicate the cosmopolitan character of Dineens' great trade. The very lowest priced hats and the most inexpensive furwear all bear the impress of a style usually associated with high-class goods. A cheap price, at Dineens', never means a cheap style, and the costliest qualities, at Dineens', are not equalled at Dineens' prices anywhere. Some of these advantages are apparent to the visitor immediately on entering the new store at 140 Yonge-street, cor. Temperance, and that is why the first visit to Dineens' awakens an interest which inclines to a better acquaintance afterward. The great trade has grown in that way. The store remains open till 10 o'clock tonight—and the brilliant Saturday night spectacle at Dineens' is something worth seeing.

A MIDNIGHT RAID.

Police Constables Enter a Chinese Laundry in Which Two Young Women Were Found Locked In.

Three big policemen raided the wash foundry of Chen Yu, the Celestial occupant of 337 Bathurst-street, last night shortly before 12 o'clock, but they found nothing on the premises besides the ordinary furniture, excepting two rather fine-looking young women, who appeared frightened, but had a good excuse that was accepted under rather peculiar circumstances.

The entrance of a policeman through the fanlight is calculated to unnerve ladies in any place, particularly at midnight, in a Chinese laundry, but these ladies explained that they were just waiting for Chen Yu to return and fix up a dispute regarding some washing for which the check was missing. They did not explain why the doors at front and back were locked, but the poor things were so excited, you know.

Chen Yu was not at home when the policemen started rapping upon the door of his mansion, and scaring the fair inmates, who were so frightened that they did not think to answer the knockings, but Chen got off a street car in front of his place at an opportune moment and looked regretfully at the vanishing car as it carried away a companion of his who had been more observant.

The policeman asked Chen for the key, but Chen said "No gottee any kley," and it was then the officer got through the fanlight. Another policeman helped Chen through the same way and affairs were so quiet and orderly inside that no arrests were made.

There is some mystery regarding the raid, and the police of No. 3 division look upon it as the result of jealousy on the part of a Celestial whose place is at 41 Queen west. So said Inspector Johnston this morning. This Chinaman accosted an officer on duty on Queen-street at about 11 o'clock and in a very indignant manner stated that Chen Yu of 337 Bathurst-street was on a spree and that he had three or four girls about 14 years of age in his shop. This was reported to No. 3 division and Policeman Mulrhead was sent up to rescue the misguided children. The girls he found were too old for him and his comrades to "rescue" legally. They said their names were Johnston and Tracy, and that they both lived on Cherry-street together. The police think one of the girls is named Clark and not Johnston. They are 19 and 21 years of age respectively and after the visit of the police they left the laundry.

Chen Yu is said by his neighbors to be a good fellow and do good work, but they say Chen knows a thing or two all right.

London, Nov. 6.—The Madrid correspondent of The Daily Mail, commenting on the difficulties that confront the Spanish Government, says:

"General Weyler has a large enough following among officers of the army, owing to promotion or for other reasons in sympathy with him to make both the Republican and Carlist parties endeavor to compromise with him in order to obtain his support. The Government would be glad to give liberty of action to demonstrations in his favor, with a view of gauging the extent of his popularity, but it fears disturbances of the public peace.

"There is much discontent also among officers at home owing to the marked official favoritism displayed towards officers who have returned from Cuba and the Philippines. A hundred or more officers met secretly here the other day at the Military Club to discuss the subject.

General Correa, the Minister of War, hearing of the meeting, threatened to court martial the participants if that should be necessary to enforce discipline, and instructed the colonels to warn them personally. The officers remained to report the offence, but it is believed they will continue to hold secret meetings.

"Similar meetings have been held at Toledo, Barcelona, Vittoria, Saragossa and Logrono. The correspondent of Miliana published the facts and advised the officers to mutiny if their grievances were not redressed. The editors of three newspapers, which printed the news of the meetings, have been arrested and will be courtmartialled. The Madrid papers got warning and remained silent." z

MORTALITY INCREASES.

Ten Deaths in New Orleans Yesterday From Yellow Fever.

New Orleans, Nov. 5.—The warm weather, which was experienced here to-day—80 in the shade—has not helped the fever situation. Thirty-five new cases and ten deaths were reported today.

Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 5.—The official yellow fever report for to-day is one new case and one death. Selma reports a clean bill of health and the churches will resume services next Sunday.

PUPILS KILL THEIR TEACHER.

He Kept Them in After Hours and Was Waylaid and Beaten to Death.

Sedalia, Mo., Nov. 5.—James Allen, teacher in a school at Wheatland, Hickory County, was beaten to death yesterday by his pupils. As a punishment for misconduct, Mr. Allen kept several boys after school was dismissed last night. When released, the youths went away angry, and later, as the school master was on his way home, they waylaid him, pelting him with stones and clubs. Mr. Allen was knocked down and his skull crushed. He did not regain consciousness and died this morning. The youths have been arrested.

A MURDEROUS SOLDIER

He Wanted to Kill President Moraes of Brazil.

THE ATTEMPT FRUSTRATED

But the Minister of War Was Fatally Stabbed by the Desperate Man.

Great Agitation Throughout the City of Rio Janeiro—Afridi Tribesmen Said to Have Made a Final Appeal to the Afghan Ameer Before Submitting to the British—The Sultan Will Allow no Lights in the Dardanelles Until the Peace Treaty is Signed.

London, Nov. 6.—A despatch to The Times from Rio Janeiro, says: "At 1 o'clock this morning (Friday), a soldier of the 10th Battalion, which constitutes a part of the local garrison, attempted to shoot President Moraes with a pistol. The President was just landing at the Marine Arsenal after visiting the steamer, on which General Barbosa, Minister of Marine, had returned from Bahia.

"The bystanders frustrated the attempt, but Col. Moraes, the President's nephew, was slightly wounded in disarming the soldier. General Bittencourt, Minister of War, then interfered and was himself stabbed. The wound was so serious that he died soon afterwards. The attack has caused the greatest agitation throughout the city."

The Last Resort.

London, Nov. 6.—According to a despatch to The Times from Maidan, in the Maidan Valley, where Sir William Lockhart's column is now encamped, it is rumored there that the Afridis have made a fresh appeal to the Ameer of Afghanistan for assistance before making submission to the British.

The Sultan is Obdurate.

London, Nov. 6.—The Constantinople correspondent of The Times says: "The Sultan peremptorily refuses to permit lights in the Dardanelles or the Gulf of Salonica until the peace treaty between Turkey and Greece has been signed.

"The order of the palace to the Porte regarding the Bulgarian debats is to temporize, and the Bulgarian agent here threatens to demand his passports."

COULDN'T GET NEAR HELL-GATE.

So Says a London Editor About the British Navy, But Does He Know?

London, Nov. 6.—The Daily Chronicle, in an editorial this morning, based upon the resolution of the New York Chamber of Commerce, urging the President and Congress of the United States to increase the sea coast defences, says:

"No doubt if the whole British navy were recalled from the ends of the earth, it might put a few shells into Wall-street, into Brooklyn and even into Jersey City, but it would not pass through Long Island Sound, and it never could get anywhere near Hell Gate.

"Great Britain, however, has something else to do than to clear the world of her ships in order to inflict a fine on New York. But when the Wall-street bear wants a pretext for a scare anything comes handy."

All the morning papers comment upon "such alarmist rumors" as a "Wall-street dodge to send prices down." None of them believe that they should be taken seriously.
