BROCKVILLE MADE TOO MUCH RACKET

The Dead-Head Sightseers from Mr. Comstock's Town Were Noisy

WHEN HE TOOK HIS SEAT

Their Second Attack of Applause Was a Little Too Much for Mr. Speaker Edgar,

WHO PROMPTLY CALLED THEM DOWN

John Charlton at Last Gets His Bill Read a Third Time—Members' Day in the House.

Ottawa, May 10.—(Special.)—The House was treated this afternoon to the greatest influx of "youth and beauty" which has invaded its precincts for many a long day, the reason being the introduction of Mr. W. H. Comstock, the newly-elected Liberal member for Brockville. Mr. Comstock, who is a small and not very imposing-looking little gentleman, slightly beyond middle age, seems to be of a generous disposition, as he is credited with having chartered a special train to bring "the boys and girls" from Brockville to see him take his seat, and quite a large number availed themselves of the accommodation.

The Corridors Crowded.

Long before the doors to the Commons galleries were opened, the corridors were crowded and the moment prayers were over there was quite a rush into the Speakers', senators' and other galleries, and in a few moments about 200 ladies and nearly as many gentlemen were seated, anxious, expectant of the introduction of their member. At exactly 20 minutes past 3 Mr. Comstock was conducted into the house by Honorable Mr. Mulock and Mr. D. Fraser. Mr. Mulock introduced him and made the usual announcement that he claimed his seat, in response to which Mr. Speaker made the pro forma reply: "Let the honorable gentleman take his seat."

The Gallery Applauded.

As Mr. Comstock advanced to shake hands with the Speaker and retired to his seat, the Liberal members applauded vociferously, and the galleries literally "rose at him," the ladies all standing, waving their handkerchiefs and applauding. The applause lasted for nearly a minute and when it had subsided, Mr. Foster caused some amusement by calling out very loudly, "Encore," whereupon the members applauded again and the galleries joined in for the second time. After this second round of applause had subsided, Mr. Speaker Edgar rose and with great solemnity said, strangers are admitted to the galleries only on sufferance and no demonstrations of any kind whatever can be permitted in the gallery." At this the House laughed and ordinary business was proceeded with.

Col. Domville's Case.

The usual number of questions were asked and answered, among them two by Col. Domville and Mr. Morrison, with respect to the forced retirement of Col. Domville from command of the 8th Hussars, which elicited a great deal of information, which has long ago been made public, but nothing that was new. Hon. Mr. Borden answering most of the questions by the monosyllables "Yes" and "No." The principal point in the questions was that Lieut.-Col. Domville had been "granted permanent leave of absence from his command of the 8th Hussars."

No Yukon Representation.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in answer to Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, said it was not the intention of the Government to make any proposition this session for the representation of the Yukon territory in the House of Commons.

Canadians Count.

Hon. Mr. Sifton, in answer to Mr. Rosamond, said it was the intention of the Government to give to sons of farmers or others in Ontario, who may wish to take up farms in the Northwest, the same privileges and advantages as have been given to the Doukhobors, Galicians and other aliens.

No Claim Yet Made.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said, in reply to Mr. Morrison, that no claim had been made upon the Government by or on behalf of the British Yukon Mining, Trading and Transportation Company for some $400,000, or any amount of damages.

A number of motions for papers were carried.

The Alien Labor Law.

Before the orders of the day were called, Mr. Clarke called attention to an item in last night's Toronto Star about 75 Italian laborers being engaged in Buffalo to go to Toronto and asked if the Government intended to enforce the so-called Canadian alien labor law.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said he was not aware of the Government agent at Toronto having made any report on the matter and the Government would have to receive his report before taking action.

Sir Wilfrid in the Dark Now.

Sir Charles Tupper called attention to the newspaper reports that the International Commissioners would not meet again.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said he had heard nothing of the report and so far as his information went there was no foundation for it.

The Winnipeg Bye-Election.

Mr. Clarke Wallace called attention to a statement in The Montreal Witness of last night that the bye-election in Winnipeg would be held on the old lists.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said The Witness was not as well informed as it usually was. New lists for Winnipeg were now in course of preparation.

Liquor in the Yukon.

Col. Prior called attention to the position of a man who had been granted a permit by Mr. Ogilvie to take liquor into the Yukon and was threatened with serious loss on account of the disallowance by the Dominion Government of the ordinances authorizing the permits. He wanted to know what the Government proposed to do about it.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said he would state on Friday what the Government proposed to do.

The Lobster Commission.

Mr. McInerney enquired what course the Government intended to pursue with reference to the report of the lobster commission.

Sir Louis Davies said that it was intend-

SAM PILLOW DIED IN A HACK

Was Stricken Suddenly While Eating in a Restaurant on Jarvis Street.

COMPANIONS SENT FOR A CAB

Could Not Find His Home and the Man Was Dead When Dr. Nevitt Got to Him.

Samuel Pillow, a well-known character around St. Lawrence Market, died suddenly in a hack last midnight. About half an hour before his death he was overcome while eating a meal in the Star Restaurant, 55-57 Jarvis-street. He was assisted into the open air by three companions—Michael Collins, Thomas Brophy and James Eagen. Here the quartet was met by Constable Griffiths, who enquired as to the man's condition. His friends promised to care for him, and they sent for a hack to Mitchell's livery at 16 Duke-street. Driver Ed. Jenkinson was sent out on the call, and Pillow was helped into the carriage.

Could Not Find His Home.

One of the men thought Pillow lived on Victoria-street, and accordingly he was driven to that locality. His home could not be found there, and they returned to the stable. Proprietor Mitchell agreed to allow Pillow to sleep in a carriage the remainder of the night. In a short time Mitchell noticed his precarious condition, and Constables Griffiths and Gibbons were sent for. In the meantime Dr. Nevitt was called, and he pronounced the man dead.

The body was taken to the morgue.

Pillow was 51 years of age, and boarded at 218 West Richmond-street.

A GOLDEN WEDDING DAY

Was Celebrated Yesterday by Dr. Gregg and His Wife Amid Hosts of Friends' Congratulations.

A hundred friends and relatives gathered at the home of Rev. Dr. Gregg, 3 Washington-avenue, yesterday afternoon, to wish him and his wife all the compliments of life upon the occasion of the celebration of their fiftieth year of married life. About 30 of the direct relatives of the respected couple were present. A large number of presents, beautiful and costly, were received.

Mrs. Gregg before her marriage was Miss Phoebe Holden of Cobourg. She was married to Dr. Gregg on May 10, 1849, in Belleville, by the late Dr. Burns of Halifax. The Doctor is now 82 years of age, and his wife 67, but neither looks it.

Dr. Gregg was born at Kilyneen, in the North of Ireland, and received his education at the Glasgow and Edinburgh Universities. He was ordained minister of St. John's Church, Belleville, in 1847, and during the 10 years of his ministry there he built up a large congregation. In 1857 he received a call from Cooke's Church, Toronto, which position he occupied for 15 years.

He became professor of apologetics and church history in Knox College in 1872, from which position he retired about three years ago. During the 40 years of his work in Canada he published quite a large number of pamphlets. His greatest work however is his "History of the Presbyterian Church in Canada." As general convener of the Committee on the Hymnal, he had the honor of sending a beautifully-bound copy to the Queen, in acknowledgment of her Majesty's permission to the compilers to use certain tunes of the late Prince Albert, which gift was acknowledged by her secretary.

PROVINCIAL PROHIBITION.

Mr. Flint Gives Notice of the Dominion Alliance Resolution to Be Moved in the House.

Ottawa, May 10.—(Special.)—Mr. Flint has given notice of the Dominion Alliance provincial prohibition resolution, which he will move in the House. It asserts the desirability of uniform prohibition legislation in the provinces and territories and declares that the sale of intoxicating liquors should be prohibited in such provinces as by a majority vote declare in favor of it, and remain in force therein for four years, and thereafter until repealed by vote by majority of the electors. The vote is to take place at a general election. It further provides that in provinces wherein the law is in force liquor shall only be sold for medicinal purposes and no brewer or distiller shall produce, except for export out of the province.

This week at Dineens' a new importation of two specially fine qualities of hats is shown, to sell for $2 and $2.50. Nothing like them in quality can be had in all Canada for less than $2.50 and $3, because they are really the regular $2.50 and $3 qualities, which one of the best manufacturers in the world has just succeeded in producing to sell at a closer price—and they are to be had only at Dineens'.

MAY BE SERIOUS FOR CAHILL

St. Catharines Man Dragged Off to St. Thomas in Connection With the Bye-Election.

DID HE MUTILATE POLL BOOKS?

It is Claimed He Acted as a Deputy Returning Officer Under a Name Not His Own.

St. Catharines, May 10.—Detective Flynn has been here for several days working on the West Elgin bye-election case. He enlisted the services of local constables, and also had a St. Thomas officer in touch. This morning a sensation was caused here by the arrest of Martin Cahill, who was working at Thorold. Cahill was taken to St. Thomas this evening to stand trial on the following charges:

That on the 12th day of January, 1899, he did commit the crime of forgery, for the said Martin Cahill did there and then make a false document, to wit, a certain written statement of the poll after counting the ballot papers at polling sub-division No. 11 in St. Thomas, relating to the Provincial election held in West Elgin, Jan. 12, 1899, purporting to be signed by A. E. Montgomery, deputy-returning officer of the said polling sub-division, knowing said document to be false, with the intention it should be used and acted upon as genuine, to the prejudice of the electors of West Elgin, etc.

The other charge is that he did, unlawfully and wilfully, without legal justification or excuse, injure and cause to be injured, and make and cause to be made erasure and addition of names in a certain poll book, prepared and drawn out according to the Ontario Election Act, etc.

The Star says: "There have been rumors current for some days that a gang of impersonators was likely to be rounded up. The defeated Conservative candidate in West Elgin, Mr. McDiarmid, employed Detective Flynn to get evidence against the parties suspected of frauds. Witnesses were brought here to identify Cahill, and the arrest followed. It is quite probable that more arrests will follow in a few days.'"

JOHN BULL'S PREPAREDNESS

Was What Made the Arbitration of the Venezuelan Dispute a Possibility.

EXPENDITURE HAS BEEN HEAVY

But Anything Less Would Have Lessened Chances of Amicable Foreign Relations.

London, May 10.—The Duke of Devonshire, Lord President of the Council of Ministers, speaking this afternoon, at the annual banquet of the Central Association of Bankers, said that Great Britain's expenditures had been enormous; any less financial preparedness would have lessened her chances of amicable agreement with the United States, France and Russia.

England's armaments, he declared, had made arbitration over the Venezuela controversy possible, and had preserved the amicable relations with the great republic. It would be asking too much to expect that all these treaties would lead to universal, permanent peace, but what had been done showed that Great Britain recognized the responsibilities resting upon her, and was willing to use her power and wealth rightfully.

MOTHER COUNTRY OWNS IT

Dead Man's Island Belongs Neither to the Dominion Nor to British Columbia.

WAS NOT TRANSFERRED IN 1871

When the Province Joined the Confederation—A New Phase of the Vexed Question.

Vancouver, B.C., May 10.—There is still another phase to the never-ending Dead Man's Island question. A special from Ottawa says: "The question as to Deadman's Island and Stanley Park, raised by the claim of the Provincial Government, is likely to lead to further complications. The matter has been closely examined since the province stepped into the arena, and it now appears that neither the Dominion nor the Province is owner, but the Imperial Government. British Columbia was a crown colony up to 1863, and when given responsible government, so far as the authorities at Ottawa can find, there was no transfer of naval reserves to the Province nor to the Dominion in 1871, when British Columbia entered confederation. Thus it is fixed that Stanley Park and Dead Man's Island are precisely in the same position as Esquimalt Reserve to-day, absolute property of Imperial Government.

AND TORONTO GETS IT ALL.

The Furnishings of the New Yale Hotel at Grand Forks, B.C., Bought in This City.

The boom in British Columbia is a bigger thing for Toronto than one would suspect. A case in point came to the notice of The World's young man yesterday, which proves this fact beyond a doubt. Mr. John A. Manly is the respected Mayor of Grand Forks, B.C. Mr. Manly is one of the big men of the new town, which, in spite of what the C.P.R. can do to the country, threatens to become a big mining and trade centre in British Columbia. Mayor Manly is one of the chief pushers of the big Yale Hotel, which is now being erected there at a cost of $45,000 for the building alone. The World's big item comes in just here. The furnishings of the Yale will cost about $20,000, and Toronto supplies this $20,000 worth of goods. This is the object of Mayor Manly's visit here. The Yale will be formally opened on June 1.

Join the Happy Throng.

In his writing, J. M. Barrie idealized the pipe and Westminster smoking mixture. "My Lady Nicotine" is a happy exposition of a smoker's devotion to a good tobacco. Rudyard Kipling, on the other hand, is fond of a perfect Havana cigar, and in his bright ditty, "The Betrothed," he has pictured the solace and peace in the soft blue veil of vapor, the delicious aroma of a box of Henry Clays or Upmanns. You can appreciate Kipling if you join the throng that go to Muller's.

FROM WINNIPEG TO DULUTH.

Where the Proposed New Line of the Northern Pacific Railway is Said to Lie.

WORK ON ST. ANDREW'S RAPIDS

Dudinski, the Russian Embezzler, Released—Radcliffe to Look After the Double Execution.

Winnipeg, May 10.—(Special.)—The Northern Pacific Railway Company contemplate building a line of railway from Portage la Prairie to Morris and thence southeast to International boundary and then on to Duluth, utilizing the Mesaba road, which is now constructed about one hundred miles north of Duluth. This proposed line will not, it is said, interfere with Winnipeg as a passenger centre of the road, as it is contemplated in the near future to have a direct Northern Pacific Railway line from Winnipeg to Brandon about the same length as the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway to Brandon.

The carpenters' strike is nearly at an end.

St. Andrew's Rapids.

At the meeting of the Joint Committee of the Board of Trade and the City Council on the proposed St. Andrew's Rapids improvements it was decided to ask the Mayor to call a public meeting to be held at an early date to discuss matters. Messrs. Drewry, Bell and Hesperler were appointed to arrange for the principal speakers. A letter was received from Col. Scobie of the Lake Winnipeg and Nelson River Navigation Company, offering to undertake the work of improvement of the rapids on condition that Winnipeg would guarantee to take the horse-power promised in a previous offer to the Government, and also in consideration of the Government permitting his company to collect certain tolls. It was decided to leave the matter over for future consideration.

Dudinski Released.

Dudinski, the alleged Russian embezzler, was released to-day. The evidence is not yet to hand from Russia. He is a pleasant, gentlemanly fellow, and the public are not displeased that he has been released.

MONTREAL NOTARY IN TROUBLE

Charged With Appropriating $800 Left With Him for Investment by a Client.

Montreal, May 10.—(Special.)—La Patrie appears to be discouraged over the Drummond deal. "Whether the Senate rejects the bill or approves of it, matters little, as far as our party is concerned. We have done our duty towards the country, and if the Senate wants to again block a measure of such national necessity, the only thing that can be done at present is to submit to its will," it says.

A Notary in Trouble.

Mr. Henry Lemaire, LL.B., notary, having his office at 1556½ Notre Dame-street, was arrested on a warrant this morning by the High Constable, charged with theft. The complainant is Delphine Riendeau, wife of Edward Panneton, of the parish of L'Annunciation, Ottawa District, who claims that the notary has robbed her of $800. In 1891 it is alleged the sum of $800 of her money was placed in the hands of Mr. Lemaire, by a Mr. Leon Mathieu, for the purpose of investment. Instead, she alleges he neglected to give an account of the money, and has appropriated it to his own use. Mr. Lemaire this morning said he had received no money belonging to the woman for investment. He denied the theft before the Police Magistrate, and was remanded to procure bail.

Action by Ontario Authorities Regarding the Exportation of Sawlogs to the States

BEING BACKED UP AT OTTAWA

Stirs Up the Officials of the U. S. State and Treasury Departments at Washington.

Montreal, May 10.—(Special.)—The following significant special appears in The Herald:

"Washington, D.C., May 10.—The gravest apprehension is felt for the continuance of the negotiations of the Anglo-American Joint High Commission, appointed to frame a treaty between the United States and Canada. This feeling is so strong that a report was circulated yesterday that the deliberations of the Commission would not be continued. There is no authority, however, for saying that the Commission will not re-assemble at Ottawa in August according to the plan arranged at the time of the adjournment in Washington last February. It is apparent that the State Department expects no successful result from this meeting. A good deal of irritation is felt on account of the failure of the Dominion Government to agree to the establishment of a modus vivendi on the Alaskan boundary question, and the feeling is that if Canada is unwilling to consent to a modus vivendi, the fact does not augur well for the success of continued negotiations for a permanent settlement of the Alaskan dispute. The State and Treasury Departments have been a good deal stirred up, too, on account of the recent action of the Ontario Provincial Legislature in prohibiting the exportation of logs to the United States and especially as the legislation was made retroactive. The Dominion Government having the power to disapprove this legislation within a certain limit of time did not do it and as the lumber dispute was, next to the boundary question, the greatest obstacle to the success of the Joint Commission negotiations, the Washington officials are not encouraged by the unfriendly act of Ontario, which they regard as having received the virtual approval of the Ottawa Administration."

CHILD BORN WITH TWO HEADS.

Montreal Monstrosity Will Now Be Buried, as There Was No Market for It.

Montreal, May 10.—(Special.)—A peculiar case was brought to the notice of the authorities to-day. The story goes that a child was born to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ouellett towards the end of April. The child had two heads, two arms and four legs, and was dead when it came into the world, so the parents, with an eye to business, sought to sell the little monster as a curiosity, but not meeting with the success expected, they to-day brought the matter before Coroner McMahon, with the result that a burial permit was granted.
