A lady in Memphis says her husband will buy jewelry. Bought a locket for the house, and wouldn't take a silk dress as a gift. Memphis has another living contradiction, gone-and-get.

"Will the boy who threw that paper on the stove please come up here and get a present of a nice book," said a Sunday-school superintendent in Iowa; but the boy never moved. He was a far-seeing boy.

"That cloak, stranger," said a Michigan farmer, "was the best kind of a cloak up to six months ago, when my daughter began to have beaus, and now the blamed thing is always two hours too slow.

When a Hibernian priest is about to baptize an infant he utters the following beautiful sentiment: "Little baby, thou entered the world weeping, while all around thee smile; endeavor so to live that thou mayest depart in smiles, while all around thee weep.

Here is a good thing on the "water bug." There are conflicting notes: One says, "There are three bugs to every stalk." A second says, "They have cut my early crop, and are sitting on the fence waiting for my last crop to come up." "Pshaw!" said a third, "you know nothing about it." Passed a seed store the other day, and there was the bugs looking over the books to see who had purchased seed potatoes.

A policeman met a man out at night carrying a trunk along the street, and collared him. The man explained: "Do family what was boarding here has been axing for money, and my day was gone out to-night I thought I would take into some family what day requested do panic."

Ned Voss used to travel around Colorado with a performing bear, but a great change came on one day last week, and now the bear travels around alone, thinking over old times, and occasionally leaning up against a tree as a pang shoots through his bowels. Ned is inside that bear.

Well constructed church towers vibrate from the very basement when the bells are ringing. At Abington, Berks, Eng., there is a spur stone against the tower, and when the bells are ringing, the boys amuse themselves by putting their knives between the stone and the tower, to be pinched as the vibration goes on.

"Mother wants to know if you won't please to lend her your preserving kettle—'cause as how she wants to preserve!" "We would with pleasure, boy, but the fact is, the last time we lent it to your mother she preserved it so effectually that we have never seen it since." "Well, you needn't be so sassy about your old kettle, mother wouldn't have troubled you again, only we need you have a new one."

"Bob, did you ever stop to think," said a Michigan Avenue grocer recently, as he measured out half a peck of potatoes, "that these potatoes contain sugar, water and starch?" "Yes, I didn't replied the boy, "but I heard mother say that you put peas and beans in your coffee, and shook a piece of wood in your quart of milk you sold." The subject of natural philosophy was dropped right there.—Detroit Free Press.

Phenia Epps, of Hamilton, Ohio, asked her mother to take a note for her to a friend of the family living in a near street. The note when opened was found to read: "This is a little ruse of mine to get mother out of the house. Before she can get back I will be on the cars with dear Lorenzo, and before night will be married."

A one legged Yankee visitor named Jones, was pretty successful in bantering an Irishman, when the latter asked him: "How did you come to lose your leg?" ("Well," said Jones, after examining my pedigree, and finding up my descent, I found that I was more Irish in me, and having become convinced that it had settled in that left leg, I had it cut off at once." "Be the powers," said Pat, "it would have been a better thing if it had settled in your head."

A stirring incident occurred at Frascati's Bal Masque, in Paris, on a recent Saturday. It had been announced that a masked wild beast tamer would make his appearance at midnight, and on the last stroke of twelve a huge cage, seemingly full of gorillas, was dragged into the hall. The door being suddenly opened, out jumped the animals, and, to the intense terror of the assembly, began to gambol, shrieking about the room. The dancers made a frantic rush to the door, and very serious casualties might have ensued had not the gorillas removed their masks and shown themselves to be the decendants and not the primeval ancestors of man.

A strange clock belongs to a Hindoo prince. In front of the clock dies was a gong swung upon poles, and near it was a pile of artificial human limbs. The pile was made up of the same number of parts necessary to constitute twelve perfect bodies, but all lay heaped together in apparent confusion. When the hands of the clock indicate the hour of 1, out from the pile crawled just the number of parts needed to form the frame of one man, part coming to part with a quick click, and, when completed, the figure sprang, seized a mallet, and, walking up to the gong, struck one blow. This done, he returned to the pile and fell to pieces. When 2 o'clock came two men arose and did likewise; and at noon and midnight the entire heap sprang up, and, marching to the gong, struck, one after the other, his blow, making 12 in all; then returning, fell to pieces as before.

AN EXTRAORDINARY SCALE.—The 123 feet railroad track scale, built at Packerton (one mile south of Mauch Chunk), in June, 1872, by Messrs. Fairbanks, for the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company, has done more weighing for the same time than any other scale in the world. Its average weighing per day is over 20,000 tons for every day in the year, an annual tonage of over 7,000,000 tons. A single day's (24 hrs) weighing has often exceeded 60,000 tons. The scale has been subjected monthly to the severe "Goodwin test," and has always been found correct. Although over 18,000,000 tons have been weighed upon the scale, it has never yet required repairs.—Mauch Chunk Coal Gazette, March 12th, 1875.

THE HORSE.—"Of the great number of animals under the control of man, the horse is unquestionably the most serviceable;" but is it not strange that so many who own horses, and who are dependent on their labour for a living, should neglect to give them that care and attention which their own interest no less than the safety and comfort of the horse demands. The best remedy for horses is "Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy;" of this there can be no doubt—it is safe and easily given. PARLIAMENTARY.

Ottawa, April 5.

In the Senate, the Bill to protect life and property on railways, providing that one man should operate switches as well as levers, was rejected by a vote of 30 to 15. Hon. Mr. Scott moved that the order be discharged, thus shelving the Bill.

The Senate then went into Committee of the Whole on the Insolvency Bill, and after concurring in several amendments, the Bill was reported.

An hour and a half was spent in the Senate on the second reading of the Bill to amend the Supreme Court Bill.

At midnight the Senate adjourned.

In the House the only business of importance transacted was the consideration in committee of Mr. Young's amendments to extend the Naturalization Act of 1870 so that German citizens naturalized in [illegible] shall, after a residence of three years in Canada, become entitled to all the rights, privileges, and immunities of British subjects of Great Britain by birth. The resolutions were carried and reported, and an address founded upon them was adopted.

The Supply Bill was read a third time and passed, and the House adjourned at 4.30 p. m.

Ottawa, April 6.

In the Senate the Bill to remove the export duty on sawn bolts and cut logs was read a third time. The Supreme Court Bill was considered in committee, and reported with amendments. On the motion for the third reading, Mr. Dickey moved the three months hoist. This was lost—yeas, 27; nays, 31.

Mr. Allan moved, seconded by Mr. Campbell, "That the 17th clause, abolishing appeal to the Privy Council, be struck out." The vote stood 29 to 29, and the Speaker declared the motion lost.

The motion for the third reading was carried on a division. The Bill was read a third time and passed.

The Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway Bill was rejected by a vote of 23 to 21.

The House business was confined to answering questions and the reception of several returns previously asked for.

The Insolvency Bill was reported from the Senate with several amendments.

Mr. Fournier moved that the amendment made to the Bill by the Senate by leaving out certain words on page 36, commencing at the word "liable" on the 41st line to the word "but" on the 48th line, and inserting instead thereof the words "said creditor shall be entitled to rank on the estate with all obligants to the full amount," etc., be disagreed to as being contrary to the spirit of the Act in other parts, and that a message be sent to the Senate informing their honors of the disagreement, and the reason therefor. Carried.

Mr. Fournier then moved that the amendment of the Senate on page 40 by adding the following words after the word "disqualified" on the second line—"The judge or the assignee as the case may be shall also be disqualified by relationship, by blood or marriage, within the degree of cousin german to any litigant before him, and such disqualification may be enforced, and the matter in dispute tried as provided in this section, be not agreed to. He disagreed to it as being wholly unnecessary, as the assignee has no duties to perform which required such restriction, and the rule as to judge is sufficiently established by existing laws. Carried.

The amendment to the clause referring to the sale of estate, and providing that no assignee or inspector of an insolvent estate, should purchase, directly or indirectly, any part thereof, was concurred in.

The remaining amendments, which were of a comparatively unimportant nature, were also concurred in.

The House adjourned at 10:15.

French and English Manners.

"A number of years ago, two Scotch ladies paid a visit to Paris, accompanied by their brother, whose business led him to go thither every year. The two Misses D——, on their arrival expected their brother's acquaintances would call on them, as they had been made aware of their arrival; but not a soul came near them. They did not know that in France the etiquette is for the stranger to call first. One day, walking with their brother in the Champ Elysees, he introduced them to a lady they chanced to meet. Taking pity on their isolation, she invited them to dine with her on the following day. Next day, they took care to be in good time, equipped in their best, in low pink silk dresses, short sleeves and white satin shoes, to the great astonishment of the hostess, who took it for granted that they were going to a ball afterward. They were equally surprised to find her in the same high dark silk which she had worn when out walking. Dinner was served, and commenced with the national pot au feu (soup) and bouilli (the beef from which the soup is made), and which the lady carved in shapeless lumps, not in thin slices, as in England; stewed beef with macaroni, cut au vent, fricandeau, and roast-turkey followed in quick succession. The lady carved small pieces of each dish, and put them on a plate with a fork, which was handed round to each guest to help themselves. The Scotch ladies, accustomed to eat potatoes with every dish, were puzzled to find none forthcoming. After the meat, came a dish of green peas, and the salad. The French use the same knife and fork for every dish, and keep them when the plates are changed; and the Misses D—— were horrified to see that the servant who took their plates coolly put their knife and fork on to the cloth beside them, and did not give them a clean one until the dessert was served. They were greatly perplexed by the variety of dishes served, the absence of potatoes, and the arrival of green peas after the meat had been taken away! The dinner was good, but the oddity of the arrangement was incomprehensible. It was a violation of all ordinary conceptions. After dinner, the gentlemen led the ladies back to the drawingroom, and cafe noir was served. Strong black coffee, without milk or cream, was not very palatable to the Scotch ladies, though they found the liqueurs which succeeded it—creme de moka and creme de [vanille—excellent. After sitting chatting for half an hour, the hostess astonished the Misses D.——by announcing her intention of going for a walk, it being summer, and the days long; and, said she, looking hesitatingly at the evening costumes of her visitors: 'As I presume you are going to a soiree, I am sorry I cannot have the pleasure of your company.' The Scotch ladies were too shy, and too little accustomed to converse in French, to ask for explanations, but they thought the lady very rude to turn them out of her house in this cool way; they had not ordered their carriage until half-past ten, so they begged her to allow her servant to fetch one for them; and returned to their hotel, marvelling at the unmannerly impudence of French ladies. They did not know that a casual invitation to dinner does not necessarily imply spending the evening; and no French lady would wear a low dress for even a very ceremonious dinner-party. Full-dress is only de rigueur for a ball or a very large soiree, and then only for young girls.—Chambers' Journal.

The Female Suffrage Bill was defeated in the English House of Commons by a vote of 187 to 152. The Premier voting with the minority.

THE GOOD TIMES HAVE COME AT LAST.—And so has that which has hitherto been looked for in vain, namely, a medicine that could be relied upon for curing rheumatism, colds, coughs, neuralgia, tic douloureux, burns and frostbites, bowel complaints, &c. It is called the "Canadian Pain Destrayer," and everyone should really possess a bottle of it without delay. It gives relief the moment you apply it, and will effectually cure your disease; in fact it is the most wonderful medicine ever brought before the public.—Sold by all medicine dealers.

A LARGE AND ENCOURAGING ORDER.—We understand that the Canada Sugar Refine Company have received an order from Kingston, Jamaica, for 2,000 barrels of their celebrated butter, to be delivered as speedily as possible, at 20c. per pound. This certainly speaks well for the Company, who have invested their capital in our midst, and the remarkably clever manner in which the manufacturing operations of the Company have been prosecuted, as well as the perfection already attained. This staple (this fair to rival the cheese interest of our country, and it is only a question of time for its manufacture to be as general a branch of industry as that of cheese. It is now an established fact, we believe, that all of experience in culinary operations prefer to use this article owing to its excellent shortening and other beneficial properties, and housekeepers generally who have tried it invariably pronounce in its favour. In the minds of many in this city the idea has been prevalent that fine butter could not be procured here, but we are in a position to state that this is not the case, but, on the contrary, it can be obtained in both small and large quantities.—Hamilton Times.

"Why, Ichabod, I thought you got married more'n a year ago." "Well, Aunt Jerush, it was talked of, but I found out that the girl and all her folks were opposed to it, and so I just gave her all the mitten and let the thing drop."

BEARINE.—It is not only well prepared and in every way a perfect hair dressing; but it is well that it is prepared, as the public have long suffered for the want of a healthful hair invigorating and pleasant hair dressing article. Sold by Druggists.

☞Is your throat sore, or are you annoyed by a constant cough! If so, use promptly "Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers." They will give you instant relief. They relieve the air passages of phlegm or mucous, and allay inflammation, and no safer remedy can be had for coughs, colds, or any complaint of the throat or lungs, and if taken in time their efficacy will soon be proved. Sold by all Druggists and country dealers. Price 25 cents per box.

ELECTRICITY.

THOMAS'

Excelsior Eclectric Oil.

Worth Ten Times its Weight in Gold!

Pain cannot stay where it is used. It is the chosen of Medicine ever made. One dose convinces Bone Tumour. One bottle has cured an Old Scrofulous Ulcer. It positively cures Catarrh, Asthma and Croup. Fifty cents worth has cured an Old Lame Back of eight years standing. The following are extracts from a few of the many letters that have been received from different parts of Canada which, we think, should be sufficient to satisfy the most sceptical. J. Collard, of Sparta, Ont., writes: "Send me 6 doz. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, have sold all I had from you and want more; its cures are truly wonderful." Wm. Maguire, of Franklin, writes, "I have sold all the agent left, it gets like a charm—it was slow at first but takes splendidly now." H. Cole, of Iona, writes, "please forward 6 dozen Thomas' Eclectric Oil, I am nearly out; nothing equals it. It is highly recommended by those who have used it." J. Bedford, Thamesville, writes—"Send at once a further supply. Send us one gross Eclectric Oil, we find it to take well."

☞Sold by all medicine dealers. Price 25 cents.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.

The advertiser, a retired physician, having providentially discovered, while a Medical Missionary in Southern Asia, a very simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh, and all throat and lung affections,—also a positive and radical specific for Nervous Debility, Premature Decay, and all Nervous Complaints, feels it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, he will cheerfully send (free of charge) to all who desire it, the recipe for preparing, and full directions for successfully using, this providentially desired remedy. Those who wish to avail themselves of the benefits of this discovery without cost, can do so by return mail, by addressing

A PUBLIC CAUTION.

Holloway's Pills and Ointment are neither manufactured nor sold in any part of the United States, although they may be obtained in the B. N. American Provinces.

Each Pot and Box bears the British Government Stamp, with the words, "Holloway's Pills and Ointment, London," engraved thereon.

It has become necessary to make this announcement, because the New York Chemical Company (who pay nobody), finding at last that their name has been so exposed, have assumed the title of "Holloway and Co.;" but, even now, no one will buy their medicines direct from them, so that they have made arrangements to supply exclusively the firm of Messrs. Henry and Co., of New York, with their so-called "Holloway's Pills and Ointment."

It is presumed that, from the large connexion Messrs. Henry and Co. have in the British Provinces and elsewhere, the public is very likely to be imposed upon by unscrupulous vendors and others unless they exercise great caution to prevent their being misled, by finding these medicines bearing a stamp with the name of "Holloway and Co., New York," printed thereon.

Many respectable Firms in the British Provinces, who obtain my medicines direct from here, have very properly suggested that I should, for the benefit of themselves and the public, insert their names in the papers, that it may be known that my medicines can be had genuine from them.

The following is a list of the Firms alluded to; and I particularly recommend those who desire to get my medicines to apply to some of the Houses named:—

Messrs. Avery, Brown & Co., Halifax, N. S.
Messrs. Forsyth & Co., Halifax, N. S.
Messrs. T. B. Barker & Sons, St. John, N. B.
Mr. T. Des Brisay, Charlotte Town, P. E. I.
Messrs. Langley & Co., Victoria, B. C.
Messrs. Moore & Co., Victoria, B. C.
Dr. John Fallen, Chatham, N. B.
Messrs. Munro & Co., Montreal.
Messrs. J. Winer & Co., Hamilton, Ont.
Mr. H. J. Rose, Toronto.
Mr. A. Chipman Smith, St. John, N. B.
Mr. John Bond, Goderich, Ont.
Messrs. Elliot & Co., Toronto.
Mr. J. Chaloner, St. John, N. B.
Messrs. Hanington Bros., St. John, N. B.
Mr. R. S. Priddy, Windsor, Ont.
Mrs. Orpen, Morden, N. S.
Mr. George C. Hunt, Jun., Fredericton, N. B.
Mr. W. H. Thompson, Harbor Grace, N. F.
Mr. J. M. Wiley, Fredericton, N. B.
Messrs. W. & D. Yuile, Montreal.

The medicines are sold at the lowest wholesale prices, in quantities of not less less than £20 worth—viz., 8s. 6d., 22s., and 34s per dozen boxes of Pills or pots of Ointment, for which remittances must be sent in advance.

Chemists and other vendors of Holloway's genuine Pills and Ointment may have their names inserted in the local papers if they will please apply here—

A few evidences of the ability we give below. A few of the testimonials of some of our best citizens of cures he performed when he was with us before, which is, in our opinion, sufficient proof to keep him long as long as he chooses to remain in the city, which will be until he cures every case he undertakes.

I desire that the citizens of Toronto and vicinity (to whom I am well known) should know of the wonderful cure when Dr. Ballou performed upon my son, William J. Spears, in this city, on January 16th, 1874. He had a very severe attack of Inflammation of the Lungs, and was brought home from school at Clarence in a helpless condition, and was confined to his bed, on which we carried him to the Albion Hotel, suffering bodily pain beyond the power of pen to describe. Dr. Ballou, having little hope that he could ever be cured, after most of so many afflicted cases had given up in despair, that most glad surprised us. After one single treatment his pain entirely left him, followed on by ease and sickness become more and more, and in three days he was able to take day, so well as he ever was. I know of no other man's cure which did so much, and almost a miracle. Anyone who doubts faith, I proof let them come and see.

ACHIBALD SPEARS,
No. 402 Queen street West, Toronto.

I would cheerfully recommend Dr. Ballou to all my acquaintances, as his services to me were beyond all price, and I had tested the skill of the so-called best physician
