A MELROSE FESTIVAL.

The person who writes from Melrose about a strawberry festival to be held in the near future is reminded that all communications to a newspaper need a signature. The writing, too, is almost invisible to the naked eye.

The happy couple left on a honeymoon trip east, and will be at home after Aug. 1.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Meta Kaiser and Miss Mary Brazier, niece of the groom. The groom was attended by Mr. Wm. Wesenberg, and Mr. Walter Zuberger, cousins of the bride, of Toledo, Ohio. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. B. Sage, B. A.

OLD BUT ACTIVE.

St. Catharines Star: "Mr. Josiah Holmes, of London, is visiting at the residence of his son, George, on Ann street, and Mr. J. T. Holmes, of Toronto, is the guest of his brother, Edmund, Lock 2. The combined ages of these three brothers is 250 years, and from all appearances they bid fair to be dwellers on this earth for some time longer. Anyone of the three can outclass a very great many of the younger generations at walking, as five miles is merely a tramp for them. They are the only surviving members of a family of twelve that came from England in 1835."

DAWSON—MANNELL.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Mannell, 109 Bond street, Toronto, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday, when their youngest daughter, Miss Margaret Pearl Mannell, was united in marriage to Mr. Erastus W. Dawson, formerly of London, and now representative in Quebec of the H. F. Sharp & Co., Toronto. The bride was charmingly attired in a costume of silk eolienne, and carried a bouquet of cream roses. She was attended by Miss Lillie Voy Fletcher, who was handsomely gowned in white silk, and carried pink roses. Rev. Dr. Sparling of the Metropolitan Methodist Church, performed the ceremony. The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Cole, Chicago; Mr. Hugh Mannell, Philadelphia; Mrs. James Mannell, Hamilton; Mr. and Mrs. Allan Moffatt, Hamilton; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mannell, of Aurora; Mr. Thomas Johnston, Mr. Norris Dawson, and Mr. Frank Millar, of London. The bride's going-away gown was brown broadcloth. The happy couple left via C. P. R. for London, Chicago, and other western points.

IF A DOG BITES YOU.

A writer in Country Life in America says: In all my experience with dogs I have not only never seen a "mad dog," but have never known a dog-owner—and by that I mean a man who has had experience in keeping dogs—who has seen one. If, then, rabies is so exceedingly scarce, hydrophobia becomes really an impossibility, and the fear of it should be dismissed without a thought. A person may get dog-bitten, but in the language of the New York tough, "Forget it." If it is a bad bite it may twitch later on, and you may begin worrying, so it is a good plan to get rid of the twitching or throbbing in order to forget. I have been bitten so often that I think no more of it than a mosquito bite, and this is what I do. If it is on the hand I put it under the faucet and wash thoroughly, with the object of cleaning the wound and preventing inflammation from any dirt or foreign substance. While doing this someone is getting the bicarbonate of soda and some clean rags or lint. With water a cream paste of the soda is made sufficient to plaster the wound well then putting some on a rag it is applied to the wound and bound up. If in the course of an hour or more the application seems to be drying, a little water is poured on the bandage to soak through to the soda, or the hand dipped in water.

CLEANING SOME, CLOSING OTHERS

Port Stanley Wells Being Put in Shape for the Summer Season.

From a message received by Mayor Campbell yesterday from Dr. R. W. Bell, of the provincial board of health, it would appear that the Port Stanley authorities are doing all in their power to reassure the public in regard to the purity of the water supply at the lakeside. The message was as follows:

"Toronto, June 29, 1905.

"Mayor Campbell, London:

"Just returned today with samples Port Stanley water for examination. Several wells abandoned and filled; others cleaned or being cleaned. Authorities there doing all possible to furnish good water. R. W. BELL."

SUDDENLY AROUSED DOG BITES WOMAN

The Wound Not Serious, and Canine Shows No Signs of Rabies.

A dog belonging to Mr. James Donnelly, of Cromwell street, bit Mrs. Allen, of Cheapside street, on the arm yesterday morning, and the matter was reported to the police, and to Dr. Stork, the Dominion Government officer. Both officers thoroughly investigated the case, but no trace of rabies was found in the dog. The animal is a beautiful setter. It was tied in its master's yard and was suddenly aroused by Mrs. Allen, who had taken a shortcut to a neighbor's house through Donnelly's premises. The wound was not a very serious one, and no bad results are anticipated by Dr. Stork.

However, in order to be on the safe side, he ordered the animal placed in quarantine—that is, it is tied in the yard and muzzled. It will be visited from day to day by Drs. Stork and Tennent, and if it should develop any bad symptoms it will be destroyed. It is felt, that as a man's home is his castle, and as Mrs. Allen was in Donnelly's yard the dog should not be destroyed, unless unmistakable symptoms of rabies are shown.

The wound made by the dog was cauterized and every other precaution will be taken to insure her safety.

Dr. Stork states that so far he has been unable to locate a single case in the city which could be construed into a symptom of rabies, but the Government does not feel like taking any chances, and if it were necessary half a dozen other officers would be sent to London inside of a few hours.

A FASHIONABLE WEDDING

Nuptials of Mr. Richard Russell and Miss Alice M. Wilson.

A fashionable church wedding took place in the Boston Methodist Church, Greenway, on Wednesday, June 21, at 2:30 p.m., when Mr. W. J. Wilson's eldest daughter, Alice M., became the bride of Mr. Richard Russell, of Yorkton, Assa., son of Mr. J. W. Russell, of Parkhill. Rev. R. L. Wilson, of Staffa, uncle of the bride, performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. J. F. Sutliffe. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion, the color scheme being green and white. At the end of each aisle was an arch, through which the bride passed. Over the arch through which the bride entered was the letter W., and over the other the letter R. As the bride entered the church leaning on her father's arm, Mr. W. Norman Humphries, of London, played Lohengrin's Wedding March. At the altar, which was banked with ferns and daisies, the bride was met by the groom, Master Douglas Russell, brother of the groom, was ring bearer, and looked very cute in a suit of white. Little Gladys Wilkinson, of Ripley, gowned in white Bedford cord, carrying pink roses, was flower girl. The bride was prettily attired in cream silk eolienne over white silk, trimmed with chiffon lace and chiffon velvet, and she wore the customary bridal veil. The only ornament she wore was the gift of the groom—a diamond and pearl sunburst. Miss Carrie Wilson, sister of the bride, acted as maid of honor, and her cousin, Miss Myrtle Wilson, was bridesmaid. Each was gowned in cream silk, with chiffon trimmings. The maid of honor carried pink roses, and the bridesmaid red roses. The groom was assisted by Mr. T. Grieve, of Parkhill, and the ushers were Mr. A. C. Wilson, of Aurora, Ill., and W. A. Wilson, brothers of the bride. Just before the bridal party entered the church, Miss Mabel Mountjoy, of London, sang in excellent voice, "Oh, Perfect Love." After the ceremony, to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, the bridal party marched to the home of the bride, next door, where a reception was held, they receiving the congratulations of the two hundred guests, after which all sat down to the wedding dinner provided. The bride received many beautiful gifts, showing the esteem in which she is held by her many friends. The happy couple left on a trip to Toronto, Hamilton and Niagara before leaving for their new home, Yorkton, Assa. The bride's going-away gown was castor color, with toque to match, with touches of "Alice" blue velvet. There were out-of-town guests from Boston, Mass., Chicago, Ripley, London, Clinton, Ailsa Craig and Bayfield. Among the invited guests from London were Mr. W. Norman Humphries, Mr. Richard Mountjoy, Miss Mabel Mountjoy, Miss Lillian Bell, Miss Ella and Mildred Switzer, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Althouse, and Dr. Jack Althouse.

THE MUZZLING OF DOGS

Police Receive Their Instructions in Matter From Chief Williams.

According to a statement issued by Chief of Police William, the police will act as follows in the enforcement of the bylaw with regard to the muzzling of dogs:

"Until further orders, should a constable be informed there is a dog in any part of the city suspected to be infected with rabies, he will at once proceed to the spot, and if it appears to him the dog is acting suspiciously, he will request some one to telephone for the officer or detective in charge at the station, he himself not losing sight of the dog. The officer or detective will at once proceed to the spot, and if the dog seems to him to be infected, they will, if possible, capture it, and bring it to the station, and send for Dr. Tennent, V. S. If it cannot be captured with safety, it should be destroyed, and the matter at once reported to Dr. Tennent. Should Dr. Tennent be absent, then to Dr. Hutchinson, M. H. O."

Special attention paid to wedding orders. Hueston's livery.
