CONGRESSMAN'S WIFE ASKS HIGHER ALIMONY

Mrs. J. Scott of Alpena Returns to Detroit in Search of Work.

Associated Press Despatch.

Alpena, Mich., Aug. 14.—Mrs. J. Scott returned to Detroit today to continue her quest for a livelihood, while Judge Frank Emerick took under consideration the bill of her congressman husband, Frank J. Scott, for an absolute divorce.

Despite pleas yesterday that the $50 a month from her husband allowed by the court pending final settlement of the case is insufficient to provide her with necessities of life, Judge Emerick refused to increase the amount.

Ward H. Peck told the court that the publicity that has arisen from hearing of the divorce action has prevented Mrs. Scott's gaining employment as a nurse or in any capacity for which she is filled.

Judge Emerick, however, said he would not change his original order for temporary alimony. The single ray of hope extended to Mrs. Scott was Judge Emerick's assertion that he would make an early decision, which would make some permanent provision one way or another, for Mrs. Scott's upkeep.

Extravagance and "serious legal and moral indiscretions" on the part of Mrs. Scott were charged by the congressman as reasons why he should be granted a decree. Mrs. Scott made a flat denial of all these charges, and in her cross bill alleged gambling and drinking.

CANADA NOT AFFECTED BY NEW GAS DECLINE

Drop of Cent a Gallon in U.S. But Step Towards Normalcy, Official Explains.

A further drop of one cent a gallon in the price of gasoline egistered in the United States by the Standard Oil Company, will mean nothing to the pocketbooks of Canadian motorists, local oil company officials stated this afternoon.

"They had several raises in the United States in the spring, while we didn't have any here," explained one local manager. "They are just getting back to normal now. Unless something unforeseen occurs, there won't be any changes in prices here as far as I can see at the present time."

EXPLORER'S SHIP WINS FREE FROM ARCTIC ICE

Amundsen Pleased When Told Ship Returning From Long Imprisonment.

Associated Press Despatch.

Oslo, Aug. 13.—Pleasure was expressed today by Roald Amundsen, the Arctic explorer, when he learned that his Arctic expedition ship, Maude, had freed herself from the ice in the Arctic ocean, and was making her way to Nome, Alaska.

Amundsen will meet the members of the Maude expedition about Christmas time, while he is on a lecture tour in the United States.

The vessel now belongs to Amundsen's creditors.

CONTINUE INJUNCTION IN CHURCH DISPUTE

Court Will Decide Thursday To Which Faction Building Belongs.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, Aug. 13.—Mr. Justice Masten at Osgoode Hall this afternoon continued until next Thursday the injunction which restrains Rev. W. N. Fee and the continuing Presbyterian church from holding or for attempting to hold or interfering with services at St. John's church, Pittsburgh, near Kingston.

The hearing was unexpectedly advanced one day, and next Thursday it will proceed before Mr. Justice Logie.

NO DAMAGE CAUSED.

Associated Press Despatch.

Helena, Mont., Aug. 13.—Helena and vicinity was shaken up at 3:30 this morning by a slight earthquake of about the same intensity as the one last night at 7:50. No damage is reported.

WOMAN AGAIN CHARGED WITH OPERATING A STILL

Mrs. Clara Stokes, 37, Arrested Soon After Serving Six Months' Term.

GIVEN REMAND

Perfume Was Excuse Before, Now It Is Manufacture of Shoe Blacking.

Two months after being freed from the Mercer reformatory where she had served a six-month term for illegal manufacture of liquor, Mrs. Clara Stokes, 37 years old, was taken into custody yesterday after police again found a still and quantities of liquor at her home, 147 King street.

Mrs. Stokes appeared in court this morning charged under the inland revenue act, but her counsel, F. W. Gladman asked for a remand which was granted upon the consent of J. G. Gillanders, who is prosecuting the case. Mrs. Stokes will meanwhile undergo medical examination.

High Constable Wharton and Inspector Cecil Webbe made the raid yesterday afternoon. They found at Mrs. Stokes' home a complete distillery, 50 gallons of mash and quantities of moonshine liquor.

Several months ago when Mrs. Stokes faced a charge of illegally manufacturing alcohol, she declared that she was a licensed manufacturer of perfume. She had been carrying on the business for some time, she said, and it was a profitable one. Her excuse for the still and alcohol yesterday was that she was now a maker of shoe blacking of a new variety which required alcohol as an ingredient.

In court this morning Mrs. Stokes decl d the treatment she had undergone at the hands of the police would be investigated. She showed little concern over her plight, however, and requested the magistrate to swear out a warrant for the arrest of her husband on a charge of wife desertion. He could be found in Mexico, she stated.

UNREQUITED LOVE WAS MOTIVE TO KILL MAN

While the police were scouring the district for the car driven by Janisse, information having been sent out to all border points to watch for the automobile in which the Janisses drove away from the scene of the slaying, Mrs. Janisse was on the operating table at Grace hospital, where she was taken by her husband.

Staff Captain McCaulley, matron at the hospital, notified the police that a woman suffering from a bullet wound in the right leg had been admitted to the institution. Motorcycle Officer Reginald O'Neil was assigned to make the investigation and he met Janisse just as the husband of the alleged slayer was leaving the office of the hospital.

"Put up your hands, and hand over the gun!" demanded the officer, sticking the muzzle of his automatic into the ribs of Janisse.

The order was obeyed, and Janisse produced a pearl-handled 32-calibre revolver, which, he told Officer O'Neil, he wrested from his wife when she turned the gun on herself.

Janisse at headquarters made no attempt to shield his wife.

LABORER IS MISSING AFTER POKER RIOT

Charge of Cheating Leads To Fight and Sudden Flight.

"You're cheating. No honest man can play with you," declared Alex. Brown in the course of a poker game with Tony Kopek at the Johnston construction camp, Delaware, last night.

Tony replied with a wallop to Brown's jaw and the fight was on. The burly Russian crashed his smaller opponent to the floor with further blows and left the camp a short time later, after drawing his pay.

Phone calls were sent for Dr. Woods, Mt. Brydges, and High Constable Wharton at London. The latter searched the neighborhood until 1 o'clock this morning, but Tony had made good his escape.

Dr. Woods stated this afternoon that Brown was suffering from several scalp wounds which would take some time to heal.

JAMES M. LYNCH,
of Syracuse, New York, president of the international typographical union, will be a candidate for re-election if he accepts the nomination offered by the administration campaign committee.

KU KLUX ORGANIZER SUING FOR SALARY

Dr. Hawkins, Who Spoke in London, Issues Writ at Toronto.

Dr. J. R. Hawkins, organizer of the Ku Klux Klan of the British Empire, who spoke from a truck on the federal square Sunday, Aug. 2, has taken legal action in Toronto against the Ku Klux Klan of Canada and has issued a writ demanding $2,836 as balance of salary and expenses due while acting as organizer of that klan.

Dr. Hawkins was not popular with Canadian Klan members when he addressed the London gathering, and he was heckled by both men and women at the conclusion of his speech.

Dr. Hawkins names as defendants in the action, C. Lewis Fowler, J. M. Wilson, R. L. Cowan, O. Elliott, composing the kloncilium, and the invisible empire knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Canada.

The organizer presents an itemized bill as follows: For cash advanced, $180; cash paid for expenses, $190; one-third of expenses amounting to $650; allowed C. Lewis Fowler as per minutes of meeting of March 13, 1925, $216; salary from March 1 to June 24, Kloncilium minutes, $3,750; a total of $4,336; received by cash $1,500, leaving a balance of $2,836 as claimed.

HIGHWAY COST FIGURES CHECKED AT TORONTO

City Engineer Near returned from Toronto last night where he spent yesterday checking over with officials of the department of highways the accounts rendered to the city in connection with paving of highway approaches to London in the surburban area surrounding it. He reports being shown every courtesy and facility by the Toronto department as a result of which he was able to check over accounts for all work since the completion of the Wharncliffe road pavement. With one or two very minor changes he found them all in order. The total amount involved aggregates about $200,000.

MILLION A YEAR FROM UNIVERSITY

Col. Brown Gives Figures To Kiwanians—De Marky a Guest.

Paul de Marky, well known London pianist, was the guest of the Kiwanis club today and delighted the members by his superb playing.

Col. W. J. Brown, executive secretary, of the University of Western Ontario, gave a brief, but illuminating address on The Worth of the University to London.

J. J. McHale, president of the club, reported that the executive had made a careful inquqiry into the Lynch Construction Co. hotel proposition and as a result recommended that the Kiwanis club get solidly, firmly and actively behind the plan in assisting to get out a favorable vote on the bylaws on Sept. 5 and later in assisting in the campaign for local stock to the extent of 25 per cent of the total investment. The club accorded its unanimous support to the recommendation of the executive committee in backing the hotel scheme.

Mr. de Marky's abbriviated concert program included the following selections: Marche Militaire, Schubert; Campanella, List; Blue Danube Waltz, Strauss. When Major Albert Murphy, acting chairman for the day, conveyed the request for the Blue Danube waltz Mr. de Marky smiled deprecatingly, remarking, "That is not a piece for the summer, "but nevertheless he graciously acceeded to the request. Mr. de Marky was accorded an enthusiastic reception by the club for his admirable technique, his wonderful touch and his masterful playing, which was indeed a genuine treat for the club.

"The University of Western Ontario is spending a million in cold cash in London each year," declared Col. Brown, "while the indirect expenditure is a great deal more than that. Fifty per cent of the students attending the university here would never have received university training had not the University of Western Ontario been located in London. In other words every parent who is sending his son or daughter to the London university is receiving a gift of $500 per annum for the four-year course because the university is so centrally located and because the fees are so reasonable.

Col. Brown cited the two chief purposes of the university as the training of leaders and the carrying of the sweetness of light and knowledge to the general community, both of which are done in th regualr classes and by extension work carried on by the university instructors. The speaker referred to the fact that the University of Western Ontario now has five colleges affiliated with it, as follows: Huron college, Anglican; Assumption and Ursuline colleges, Roman Catholic; Waterloo college, Lutheran; and Alma college, St. Thomas, Methodist.

"The fact that the University of Western Ontario is in London means not only increasing wealth and opportunities," concluded Col. Brown, "it means better preachers in our pulpits, better books in our libraries, better plays in our theatres and happier, more cultured and more delightful homes."

Wolf Mara, Mara's drygoods, was the booster for the day. A spelling match resulted too successfully and too perfectly to be genuine and thus the half dozen participants were deprived of drawing for the booster's prizes.

ROADS TO WEST SPLENDID, WALTER KELLY WRITES

Roads to Winnipeg are in splendid condition, Walter Kelly, inspector of the children's aid society, who is touring the west, writes to friends here. On a 1,550-mile journey, the travelling was good for 1,450 miles, he says. Optimism prevails over crop prospects. Mr. Kelly declares and western farmers are preparing to buy more goods than ever from manufacturers in the east.

PLACE 15 ON FARMS.

John Farrell of the Ontario immigration department has placed 15 men on district farms this week. Mr. Farrell reports that the demand for farm help is just as keen at the present time as it was in the spring and states that he can place good men in farm positions at any time.

GOVERNMENT SUPPORTS POULTRY DEVELOPMENT

Hon. John S. Martin Addresses Annual Convention of American Poultry Association.

Associated Press Despatch.

Des Moines, Iowa, Aug. 14.—"The Ontario government realizes that poultry keeping is one of the most profitable branches of farming and is capable of great development," was the statement of Hon. John S. Martin, minister of agriculture for Ontario and well known for his success in poultry breeding, to the annual convention of the American poultry association here. Mr. Martin is Canadian director of the association. "Any plans for the improvements of poultry conditions have always received and always will receive the sympathetic consideration of both dominion and provincial governments," Mr. Martin said.

Mr. Martin spoke of the poultry breeding situation in the dominion and of the support given the industry by the government. In particular, he enumerated the progress made in this branch of agriculture in the dominion under the considerate encouragement of the legislative bodies.

Institution of egg standards in Canada was dealt with in detail by Mr. Martin who said this movement commenced 13 years ago.

Head of Turks Grants Self Divorce From Modern Wife

Associated Press Despatch.

London, Aug. 13.—Surprise was caused in the European capitals today by the news from Constantinople that Mustapha Kemal Pasha, president of the Turkish Republic, had divorced by degree his wife, Latife Hancum, a young heiress with a western education and a modern outlook in matters regarding feminism. Mustapha Kemal Pasha met her in Smyrna under romantic circumstances during the wave of enthusiasm in Turkey for modernism and the emancipation of women.

In the recent changes in the regime of Turkey the power of the Sheik-Ul-Islam, the head of Mohammedan religion in Turkey, to grant divorces became vested in the president, who thus was able to decree his own divorce. No reason for the divorcement is given in the official statement issued in Turkey today, nor has there been any indication whether Mustapha Kemal's ideals for the advancement of women have undergone any change during the past two years.

According to gossip that has been prevalent for some time in the European capitals, it was Mme. Latife herself who desired a divorce. Some of the rumors even went so far as to say that she had declined to live longer with Mustapha Kemal.

Latife speaks English and French fluently. She had an English governess when she was a child, and spent some years at school in France and one year at study in Chislehurst, England.

After her marriage she accompanied her husband everywhere and frequently discarded her skirts for riding breeches, and also wore topboots while astride her horse.
