First Amateur—What on earth are you going to do with those shears?

Second Amateur—The captain told me to trim the jib sheet.

Where the Bile is Needed.

Biliousness—too much bile in the blood. Constipation—too little bile in the intestines. When the liver is awakened to action by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills it filters bile from the blood and pours it into the intestines. The result is a cleansing of the system, purer blood, better appetite, improved digestion, new vigor and good health.

Pope, who was small and deformed, sneering at the ignorance of a young man, asked if he knew what an interrogation was. 'Yes, sir,' said he, 'tis a little crooked thing that asks questions.'

Two Kinds of Headache.

Bilious or sick headache results from sluggish liver action and constipation and is quickly overcome by use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Nervous headache is usually accompanied by weakness, sleeplessness and exhaustion and is due to a run-down nervous system. Thorough cure is obtained by building up the system with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Ruggles—What horse power is your new automobile?

Ramage—Two, I guess. That's the horse-power it took to haul it to the repair shop when it broke down on a country road the other day.

You and I must not complain when our plans break down—if we have done our part. That probably means that the plans of One who knows more than we do have succeeded.—Edward Everett Hale.

On the wall of an old temple was found this picture: A king forging for his crown a chain, and nearby a slave making of his chain a crown, and underneath was written: Life is what one makes it, no matter of what it is made.'

Don't be afraid to give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to your children. It contains no opium or other harmful drug. It always cures. For sale by Rand's Drug Store.

A good lady of indefinite education but ample purse went into a bookseller's to buy a gift for her husband. She hovered round and manifested the usual indecision, whereupon an assistant, to help her out of the difficulty, suggested a set of Shakespeare.

'Oh,' replied the lady very promptly, 'he read that when it first came out.'

A clever, popular Candy Cold Cure Tablet—called Preventics—is being dispensed by druggists everywhere. In a few hours, Preventics are said to break any cold completely. And Preventics, being so safe and toothsome, are very fine for children. No Quinine, no laxative, nothing harsh nor sickening. Box of 48—25c. Sold by A. V. Rand.

I want to tell you of an inquiry of my little five-year-old Helen. She attends Sunday school regularly. Returning home on Sunday she said: 'Mamma, every Sunday the man reads how much money each class gives, and then he tells how much Total gives, and Total gives more than any one. He must be a rich man. Who is Total, mamma?'

Piles To prove to you that Dr. Chase's Ointment is a certain and absolute cure for each and every form of itching, bleeding and protruding piles, the manufacturers have guaranteed it. See testimonials in the daily press and ask your neighbors what they think of it. You can use it and get your money back if not cured. 60c a box, at all dealers or EDMANSON, BATES & CO., Toronto.

Dr. Chase's Ointment

Last summer a gentleman who was separated from one of his boys for some days wrote to the boy every day, and enclosed a dime in each letter. No letter came in reply for several days, and then the boy wrote the following letter:

Dear Papa;—Every time you have written to me you have put a dime in the letter. Please write oftener to your loving son.

'Oh, John,' whimpered the wife, as she seized the morning paper, 'see what that editor has done with the account of our musicale. He has placed it alongside the column of death notices. It's a shame. And we had such prominent people as guests, too.'

'I suppose,' said the husband, wearily, 'that the editor wishes to call attention to the fact that some people are more fortunate than others.'

MINARD'S LINIMENT CO., LIMITED.

GENTLEMEN,—I was badly kicked by my horse on May and after using several preparations on my leg nothing would do. My leg was black as jet. I was laid up in bed for a fortnight and could not walk. After using three bottles of your MINARD'S LINIMENT I was perfectly cured, so that I could start on the road.

JOS. DUBES,
Commercial Traveler.

Not all young matrons are so unsophisticated as is the customary 'Mrs. Newly-wed, of the newspaper funny man. One striking exception resides in Harlem.

Entering a butcher shop on the eve of a large house party to be given at her home, she saw displayed a dozen chickens.

'Please pick me out a half dozen chickens that are tough,' she said. 'I have a special reason.'

The butcher put aside seven.

'Are these all?, she added.

'Yes, ma'am,' was the reply. 'These are all tough ones.'

'Then send the other five to my house at once,' said the young matron.

The butcher is still guessing.

Wonderful Knitting Machine.

One of the mechanical wonders of the Halifax Exhibition is the exhibit of the Knitting Machinery of the Hewson Woollen Mills, Amherst, in charge of Mr. D R. Bond, one of the Company's American expert knitters. The marvelous delicacy and accurate movements of the machinery are interesting large numbers of sightseers. It is estimated that one of these maneschi is capable of knitting as much in one day as 1475 women knitters by the old fashioned method. In fact, there are few, if any, machines in Canada capable of turning out the same quantity of heavy ribbed wool underwear in a given time. It is adjusted so finely that the breaking of a thread or an over-sized knot stops the entire machine. The Hewson's have a number these machines turning out their famous Unshrinkable Wool Underwear, samples of which may be seen at the Machinery Exhibit. The knitting Mill is running overtime to supply the demand which is expanding so widely that already Hewson Knit Goods have a place alongside Hewson's Tweeds in nearly every merchant's stock from Cape Breton to Yukon.

Great Danger in Headache.

Its often dangerous to consider headaches a trifling ailment. If the head aches, the stomach is out of order and some serious disease may be impending. To tone up the stomach, to give healthy action, nothing in modern medicines is so successful as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. The concentrated vegetable extracts in Dr. Hamilton's Pills have a quieting healthful effect on the stomach and remove all disorders. Your headache will be cured and they won't return if you use Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Sold everywhere.

Robert J. Burdette.

The Boston Herald says:—'Having completed his tour of the eastern states and a brief sojourn abroad, the Rev. Robert J. Burdette is returning to his flock in Los Angeles. It is five years since he had settled over the First Baptist church there. It was then a poor congregation, badly split up by internal strife. Now it is a large and flourishing congregation, a $650,000 church with seating accommodations for 70,000 people and popular preacher who fills the auditorium. Not so bad for a retired newspaper humorist.'

A pleasing, good, high grade, truly flavored, amber colored cup of caffee can be had—and without the real Coffee danger, or damage to health—by simply using Dr. Shoop's new substitute, called 'Health Coffee.' Much Honored.

'I'm doing the business of a king,' said the Scotch [illegible] stopped in a small town to make a purchase. The storekeeper could not make the correct change for the bill which was presented, so the traveller started in search of some one who could. Sitting beside the door, whittling, was an old colored man, to whom he said: 'Uncle, can change a $10 bill?' The old fellow looked up in surprise; then he touched his cap, and replied: 'Deed, an' Ah can't boss, but Ah 'preciate de honor just de same.'

A Strange Test of Manhood.

The ancient clan Macleod used to exercise a strange test to prove the manhood of their chieftains. At Dunvegen castle, island of Skye, there is preserved the large horn known as 'Rory More's horn.' This capacious vessel holds rather more than a bottle and a half of liquor. According to the old custom, every laird of Macleod was obliged on his coming of age to fill this horn with claret and without once laying it down to drain it to the dregs. This was taken as a proof of his manhood, and he was then deemed a worthy successor to the lairds of the past.—Dundee Advertiser.

A Traveling Man's Experience.

'I must tell you my experience on an East bound O. R. & N. R. R. train from Pendleton to Le Grande, Ore.,' writes Sam A. Garber, a well known traveling man. 'I was in the smoking department with some other traveling men when one of them went out into the coach and came back and said, 'There is a woman sick unto death in the car.' I at once got up and went out, found her very ill with cramp colic, her hands and arms were drawn up so you could not straighten them, and with a deathly look on her face. Two or three [illegible] working with her and [illegible] to my suit case and got my bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy (I never travel without it), ran to the water tank, put a double dose of the medicine in the glass, poured some water into it and stirred it with a pencil; then I had quite a time to get the ladies to let me give it to her, but I succeeded. I could at once see the effect and I worked with her, rubbing her hands, and in twenty minutes I gave her another dose. By this time we were almost into Le Grande, where I was to leave the train. I gave the bottle to the husband to be used in case another dose should be needed, but by the time the train ran into Le Grande she was all right, and I received the thanks of every passenger in the car.' This woman says that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved her life.

Mme. Emma Chatel, Valley Bellerivier, Quebec, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I want to tell you that when Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I would not be alive about months I suffered with pain, irregular periods and inflammation of the feminine organs. Doctors could do nothing for me, and said I must submit to an operation as I had a tumor. One of my cousins advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as it had cured her.

"I did so and now I have no pain and am entirely cured. Your medicine is deserving of great praise."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Temperance Story.

(Rev. Frank A. Hardin, D. D., in the 'N. C. Advocate.')

I was but six years old when I received my first temperance lesson, which made me a teetotaler and a Prohibitionist for the rest of my life. It was an object lesson in the person of my first school teacher. He was a man of comely figure and commanding presence, erect, and had an eye of surpassing brightness and intelligence, such a person as would draw childhood to him. While he maintained the strictest discipline, I never knew him to punish one of the children. We applied ourselves to study, not from fear, but for love's sake, and made rapid progress, so he became popular with the patrons of the school. As I remember, he had but one fault. I cannot say whether it was fastened upon him by heredity or the force of example. Be that as it may, that one fault made his life a tragedy. He had an appetite for strong drink, but he had so many excellent qualities that no one thought of displacing him. He was what men call a periodical drinker, and he would go on an occasional spree. I never knew him, however, to attempt to hear recitations when under the influence of liquor. We came to know when his spasm of drink was on by his peculiar garb. He had served in the War of 1812, and held the rank of major. I do not know whether in his contract with the patrons of the school he reserved the right to take a day off or not, but the children became familiar with his habits and knew about when to expect a holiday. As he appeared a little late for school to begin, clothed in his regimentals, [illegible] martial spirit took hold of us and we lined up for a drill after the form and manner of our fathers. We had both a drummer and a fifer in two of the older scholars and the school was provided with a flag. As the old man appeared with true military bearing he would order the long roll beaten and, with the air of a commander, order us to rally to the colors; and for a longer or shorter time, according to his caprice, we would march and countermarch around the public square, greatly to the amusement of the bystanders, of whom we usually had a large number. If at times he saw weariness among the smaller children he would allow them to drop out of the ranks. He always brought us out on the parade ground in order, and bidding us stand at parade rest, would call the roll and was careful that each should have his credit marks. This being done with the precision characteristic of him in the schoolroom he would order us to fire a volley, at which signal every mouth, big and little, would explode, and we would then break ranks and scatter to our homes returning the next morning so as to be ready when our commander returned to take up the line of study where we left off before adjournment. This state of things continued without protest as far as I can remember, until we were shocked by the news of the old man's death. It happened on that day I was earlier than usual. Seeing a group of men standing over a prostrate form, I hastened to the spot and was horrified. There lay my first schoolmaster, dead. Late in the night he had started for his home and having fallen face forward, had smothered in a little pool of water. For a time all were silent. Just at that moment the man who sold him the liquor came up to inquire the cause. One of the company spoke and said: 'You are the cause of this man's death.' The liquor seller turned away without a word and left the crowd. At that moment I purposed in my heart to lead a life of total abstinence from all intoxicants, and that I would for all future time wage war against the traffic in intoxicants. Now, after seventy years, I am proud to remain both a teetotaler and a Prohibitionist.

A Keg or a Car, Which?

(By the Rev. H. Penn Lyman.)

'It makes me laugh,' said Dave Sinclair,
'To hear the fellows shout
That liquor sales will be increased
When license is knocked out.

'They say they'll introduce 'blind pigs,'
And sell it on the sly,
And any one can get the stuff
That has the cash to buy.

'I used to run a railroad train
In prohibition days;
We'd sometimes haul a keg or two,
Which 'niggers, sneaked away.

'But when the license introduced
The self-respecting bar,
Instead of hauling by the keg,
We hauled it by the car.'

The above witty poem, by Brother Lyman, is based upon actual fact. Mr. Sinclair was a conductor upon the Milwaukee line, and his testimony furnished the basis for this little poem. The occasion for it is the oft-repeated, though foolish, declaration that more liquor is sold without saloons than with.—South Dakota Anti-Saloon Issue.

The increasing interest in temperance work by Roman Catholic Bishops and Priests is a notable sign of the times. Great things are being done in Quebec under the leadership of Archbishop Bruchesi.

Kidney Troubles
FROM THE LIVER

In his study of kidney disease, Dr. Chase, the famous Receipt Book author, found that 90 per cent. of the cases arose as a direct result of liver and bowel disorders, and working on this idea led to the discovery of his celebrated Kidney-Liver Pills, the only Kidney medicine having a combined action on liver and bowels as well.

Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills

By this unique action, cure the most complicated diseases of the kidneys when ordinary medicines fail. They also prevent kidney disease by curing liver complaint, biliousness and constipation. Try them when the back aches, or there are rheumatic pains, or deposits in the urine. One pill a dose, 25 cts. a box, all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Mr. J. H. Gibbard, Mission City, B. C., writes:

'My wife was so bad with torpid liver and kidney complaint that she had to go to bed for three weeks at a time, and suffered dreadfully. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills thoroughly cured her. I have also used these pills with good results.'

The above witty poem, by Brother Lyman, is based upon actual fact. Mr. Sinclair was a conductor upon the Milwaukee line, and his testimony furnished the basis for this little poem. Tickling or dry Coughs will quickly loosen when using Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. And it is so thoroughly harmless, that Dr. Shoop tells mothers to use nothing else, even for very young babies. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lung healing mountainous shrub give the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. It calms the cough and heals the sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Demand Dr. Shoop's. Accept no other. Sold by A V. Rand.

Behold Kentucky, the traditional cradle of all good whiskey. In less than two years the liquor traffic has been practically obliterated, and yet this state has $160,000,000 invested in distilleries. Only four counties are wet at this writing, and the Jailers' State Association has petitioned the Legislature for regular salaries because under prohibition conditions the empty jails do not bring them fees enough to live on.—Carrington A. Phelps, in [illegible]

It's a pity when sick ones drug the stomach or stimulate the Heart and Kidneys. That is all wrong! A weak Stomach, means weak Stomach nerves, always. And this is also true of the Heart and Kidneys. The weak nerves are instead crying out for help. This explains why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is promptly helping Stomach, Heart and Kidney ailments. The Restorative reaches out for the actual cause of these ailments—the failing 'inside nerves.' Anyway test the Restorative 48 hours. It won't cure so soon as that, but you will surely know that help is coming. Sold by A. V. Rand.
