Analysis of the Water of the Georgian Spring.

I have made a careful quantitative analysis of a quantity of this Water sent me by the Proprietor of the Spring, Captain Kains. It is a Saline Water, containing earthy Chlorids, with portions of Bromids and Iodids, thus resembling the Plantagenet Water, from which it differs chiefly in the presence of a portion of Sulphates, which are not often met with in Waters of this class in the Province. It has a specific gravity of 1008.78, and contains in one pound avoirdupois, the affixed quantities of the following substances:—

	Grains.
Chlorid of Sodium	66.22000
Chlorid of Potassium	.72800
Chlorid of Calcium	.31003
Chlorid of Magnesium	3.45062
Bromid of Magnesium	.02916
Iodid of Magnesium	.01904
Sulphate of Lime	1.35044
Carbonate of Lime	2.02660
Carbonate of Magnesia	2.54016
Carbonate of Iron	Traces
Silica	.14350
	76.87015

T. S. HUNT,
Chemist to the Geological Commission.
Office of the Geological Survey,
Montreal, May 26, 1851.

Having compared T. S. Hunt's, Esq., analysis of the Mineral Water of the Georgian Spring with the analysis made by him of the Plantagenet Spring Water, I may mention that the Water of the Georgian Spring contains all the ingredients found in the Plantagenet, with the addition of Sulphate of Lime, differing however in some respects as to quantity.
I have delayed giving my opinion of the efficacy of the Georgian Water, in order that an opportunity might be afforded me of speaking more confidently of the advantages to be derived from its employment. I have witnessed beneficial results from its use, as an aperient, antacid and diuretic, and also in allaying the distressing gastric derangement attendant upon the early months of pregnancy. I have no doubt that the Georgian Spring Water will be found equally beneficial in the cure of Rheumatism, Scrofula, and Dyspeptic Ailments, as any other Mineral Water met with in the vicinity of this city.

S.
