LAWS IN REFERENCE TO CRIME

CAN BE MADE BY THE FUTURE IRISH LEGISLATURE.

Mr. Morley Said That if This Power Was Reserved Friction Would Surely Result Between Ireland and Great Britain—Two Amendments to the Home Rule Bill Rejected.

LONDON, June 6.—In the House of Commons to-day Mr. J. G. Butcher, Conservative member for York, moved to amend the Irish Home Rule Bill in such manner as to prevent the Irish Legislature from enacting laws in reference to the crimes of conspiracy, combination, unlawful assembly, rioting and crimes against the person.

Chief Secretary Morley said that nothing would be surer to promote friction between Great Britain and Ireland than the adoption of such an amendment.

Mr. Butcher's amendment was rejected by a vote of 317 to 276.

To Deal With Sedition.

Sir Henry James, Liberal-Unionist, then offered a motion to the effect that among the powers reserved from the Irish Legislature should be the power of dealing with sedition.

Home Secretary Asquith opposed the motion on the ground that there might be sedition against the Irish Government, and therefore the Irish Legislature ought to have power to deal with such sedition.

The amendment was rejected by a vote of 304 to 255.

WANT THE IRISH BILL PUSHED.

Radical Members Confer to Force It Through Committee.

LONDON, June 6.—The Radical members of the House of Commons met in conference this evening to discuss the wearisome and futile protraction of the Home Rule debate in committee. Henry Labouchere, Radical leader, spoke in favor of immediate and summary action to force the bill through the committee stage.

Several other members spoke in support of Mr. Labouchere's proposition.

Samuel Storey, who presided at the conference, defended the Government's course.

Final action was delayed until Friday, when the Radicals will meet again. Meantime pressure will be exerted in private to move Mr. Gladstone to decisive steps against the Unionist filibusters.

THE BEHRING SEA COURT.

Protests Against References Into the Supplementary Report—Sir John Thompson Takes the Floor.

[Telegram Special.]

PARIS, June 6.—After he had read a statement of the peculiar reasons alleged by Norway for the non-adoption of the three-mile limit before the Behring Sea Court of Arbitration to-day, Sir Richard Webster proceeded to cite proofs of the intermingling of Russian seals at the Pribyloff Islands in order to show the absurdity of the assumption of any property right. On Sir Richard referring to the supplementary report of the British Commissioners, Mr. Phelps, for the Americans, protested.

On the suggestion of Sir John Thompson, Sir Richard agreed to reserve the use of the report until the argument on the regulations of the court.

[American Report.]

PARIS, June 6.—Sir Richard Webster continued his argument in behalf of the British case to-day before the Behring Sea tribunal of arbitration. He proceeded to quote from the British supplementary report in support of his argument.

The Hon. E. J. Phelps protested.

Thereupon Sir Richard Webster ceased to quote from the report in question and went back to the subject of the Newfoundland fishing banks. When Sir Richard Webster referred to the court which had condemned the captured sealers as prizes his utterances provoked a remark from Mr. Phelps to the effect that the validity of the seizures made, or to be made, was not submitted to the tribunal under the arbitration treaty.

EXPERT VETERINARY TESTIMONY

Being Taken in Regard to the Suspected Steer.

LONDON, June 6.—Extensive representations by expert testimony and otherwise are being set before the Board of Agriculture in regard to the suspected "critter" that came from Canada on the Lake Winnipeg.

It is said by the Canadian inspector that the animals suffered from ordinary, not contagious, pneumonia. The decision in the matter will not be known for some days.

The Scotch interests, however, in view of the report of the case, do not apprehend an adverse decision, for they are petitioning and otherwise renewing their demand for a free entry of Canadian cattle.

COLLIDED WITH ELEPHANTS.

An Extraordinary Accident on a Railroad in India.

CALCUTTA, June 6.—An extraordinary accident is reported from Hyderabad. Early in the morning of the 5th inst. the Nizam's special train when going at considerable speed ran into a troop of His Highness' elephants, which appear to have been walking along the line. There were 10 elephants in all proceeding to Manukota. How many of these were actually on the line at the time of the accident is not known. The special ran into the herd between Kasamudram and Manukota stations.

One of the finest animals was knocked over, pushed in front of the engine for a distance of fifty to one hundred yards and killed. Another fine elephant was injured and had a tusk broken. The mahout of the animal was killed and one or two other persons seriously injured. The train was being drawn by an unusually heavy engine. The scene of the accident is about 120 miles from Hyderabad, on the line to Bezwada.

Suez Canal Shareholders Meet.

PARIS, June 6.—A boisterous meeting of the Suez Canal shareholders was held in this city to-day. Darier, Pegboux, Wilson, Lamb, Ferdinand and Charles de Lesseps, the retiring directors, were re-elected.

M. Waddington, recently Ambassador to Great Britain, Prince Arenberg, Le Chevalier Des Brieres and Voison Bey were elected to fill the places of directors who had resigned. The main source of the trouble at the meeting was the opposition to M. Waddington, whose vote fell 600 below that of each of the other three.

Want an Extension of Time.

LONDON, June 6.—Matthews, Richards & Co., general merchants in Birmingham, have appealed to their creditors for more time. Their assets are locked up mainly in Chili and British Columbia. They say they will be able to pay in full their liabilities of £70,000.

Five Killed by an Explosion.

CALCUTTA, June 6.—An explosion occurred to-day on the steamer Houlthandelbunalda at Koti. Five persons were killed and several wounded and the vessel sunk.

THE COST OF SEPARATE SCHOOLS.

Many Items of Interest Discussed by the Board Last Night—A Vacancy in Ward No. 4.

There was a full attendance at the meeting of the Separate School Board last night in the De la Salle Institute. Vicar-General McCann presided.

The financial statement was brought down showing an expenditure of $41,918 during the year, $10,465 being for capital expenditure in St. Helen's School and other schools.

Dean Bergin of Ward No. 1 took his seat for the first time. Rev. Father McCarthy, formerly of the 4th Ward, but who is now stationed in Quebec, tendered his resignation.

A communication was received from Chairman Saunders, of the Civic Executive, inviting the members of the board to be present at the farewell to the Earl and Countess of Derby to-day. The invitation was accepted.

The Chatham Principal Gets the Post.

A lively discussion took place over the application of Principal Killacky, of the Chatham Separate School, as examiner for the board at High school entrance examinations. It was finally decided to give him the appointment.

Mr. Charles Long objected to an item of $61 for the repairing of the roof of St. Helen's school, basing his contention on the fact that Mr. Douglas, the contractor, would have repaired the roof without cost to the board if the work had not been handed to another. The item was carried.

An item of $400 for plans and specifications for the new high school was referred back.

Better Quarters for the Girls.

The attention of the board was called to the urgent necessity of providing more suitable quarters for the girls' higher classes on account of the overcrowding in the present building at Victoria and Shuter-streets. The matter was referred back to the Sites and Buildings Committee.

The election to fill the vacancy in the Fourth Ward will be held this month, nominations on the 22nd and polling on the 28th, in St. Patrick's Schoolhouse.

THE M'CARTHY ACT.

The Dominion Government Refuses to Have More to Do With It And Declines to Pay Inspectors.

OTTAWA, Ont., June 6.—The Dominion Government, it seems, have refused to interfere further in the case of the license commissioners, under the McCarthy Act, against the crown.

It will be remembered that upon the act being decided to be ultra vires of the Dominion Parliament, all the moneys collected for license fees were returned, and the license commissioners were reimbursed for their services during their employment as such.

They, however, without authority from the federal government, undertook to employ a number of license inspectors, paying their salaries upon their own responsibility.

A suit entered by the commissioners against the Government in the Exchequer Court for the recovery of these sums was decided against them, and this judgment was upheld by the Supreme Court of Canada. It is now urged that although the courts had deprived the commissioners of all legal recourse, the Government was none the less bound in equity to reimburse the commissioners the sums that they paid out in good faith to the inspectors.

The Treasury Board, however, has decided that the case having been disposed of by the courts, it was not within their province to further interfere in the matter.

ROBBERY IN WEST LORNE.

A Store Clerk Committed for Trial as the Thief.

ST. THOMAS, June 6.—L. D. Caldwell was arrested by County Constable Fairbrother yesterday, charged with robbing his employer, P. J. Lindenman of West Lorne, of a large quantity of goods, consisting of cashmere, tweeds, curtains, laces, hose, trimmings, hooks, buttons, boots, blacking, canned beef, coffee, etc., to the value of $160 or $170.

The goods were taken out of the back way Saturday night and shipped to Aylmer, where the constable, followed and secured them.

The accused was examined before Magistrates Thompson and McColl of West Lorne yesterday afternoon and committed for trial at the sessions which commence next week.

Crushed In a Dynamo.

HAMILTON, June 6.—Theodore King, an employe of W. J. Ballentine, grocer, 26 and 28 King-street west, was the victim of a serious accident yesterday afternoon. He has charge of the dynamo in the cellar, which is used in connection with the washing of bottles and to generate the electric light for the store. The belt of the dynamo worked loose, and in reaching over to adjust it he was drawn in by the machinery, which crushed the thumb of his left hand and mangled his arm badly.

Engineer and Fireman Killed.

CORTLAND, N.Y., June 6.—The through night express to New York on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad, due here at 11.20 o'clock, collided with a runaway engine on the iron bridge three-quarters of a mile north of this station. The engineer, Isaac Wallace, was killed instantly. Fireman Bert Sherwood was taken from the wreck in a badly bruised condition and died a few hours after. Both men lived in Syracuse. None of the passengers were injured.

Tore Off His Finger Nails.

OTTAWA, June 6.—At Eddy's sulphite mill yesterday an employe named Larose had two finger nails torn off in a painful manner. He was on the top of the tower, and in attempting to lift over the railing a pailful of stuff that was being drawn up on a pulley got his finger jammed between the building and the pail. Two of his nails were literally torn off.

Absconder Carrier Located.

QUEBEC, June 6.—Word has been received to the effect that the C.P.R. detective has succeeded in locating in Paris Mr. Leon Carrier, the hero of the recent flour and grain transactions here. Should this report prove to be correct, immediate proceedings will undoubtedly be taken for Mr. Carrier's extradition.

Try Taylor's "Special White Rose."

Pastor Reans Eloped With His Organist.

MERCED, Cal., June 6.—Rev. A. R. Reans, pastor of the M.E. Church (South), eloped yesterday with his organist, Lucy Rucker, 17 years of age, leaving a wife and five children. The young lady's mother has become insane. Her father was one of the pillars of Rean's church. He has obtained a warrant for the arrest of the couple.

A Murderer Killed.

DANNEMORE, June 6.—Martella was electrocuted at 11.55 a.m. Two contacts were necessary to cause death.

RATES MUST BE REDUCED,

PASSENGER AGENTS SAY THEY ARE NOW UNDER TWO CENTS A MILE

And That It Would Not Pay to Haul Trains At a Less Rate—A Little Anecdote Which Does Not Bear Out This Claim—Special Excursion Rates in Prospect.

"If the newspapers, instead of theorizing over the effect of low rates would call the attention of the public to the reduced rates actually prevailing between Toronto and Chicago, and encourage people to use them freely, they would be doing the proper thing," said a local passenger agent to The World yesterday. "The present rate is $19, and this for 1000 miles travel is less than two cents per mile. These rates, it will be remembered, are good for the entire season, the return portion of the ticket being available until Nov. 1. As a matter of fact, lower rates wouldn't pay. In view of the other necessary expenses connected with a visit to the World's Fair it would seem that a railway charge of $19 should cut very little figure. The reluctance of people to visit Chicago is not due so much to the railway rate as to the impression which has got abroad of extortion and illiberal treatment on the part of Chicago hotels, etc. Instead of reducing the rate special excursions will be announced from time to time with limited tickets."

A Story Which Is Apropos.

All the same the present policy of maintaining rates will not be successful, neither for the people nor the railroads, and the probability is that ere many days the railroads will see their way clear to make several thousand dollars for their stockholders and give the people a chance to get the most good out of the fair that is within their means. Here is a little borrowed story which aptly fits the situation:

A stranger travelling in Muskoka was obliged to seek shelter in a log cabin. In the morning he asked for his bill and was told $600. "No," said he, "I don't want to buy your farm, but must insist on paying you for your trouble."

"Stranger, this is no joke. If a man keeps a hotel he ought to get fair pay, oughtn't he?"

"Yes."

"Well, ought a man to keep a hotel for less than $300 a year?

"No; I should say one could hardly run a hotel for less than that."

"Well, a hotel ought to pay expenses, oughtn't it?

"Certainly."

"Well, stranger, this is a hotel and you are the only guest I have had for two years; this is the amount I expect you to pay—two years at $300 equals $600."

It Depends on the Number Carried.

So it is with the cost of carrying passengers on a railroad—it depends on the number of passengers.

Suppose it costs $50 to haul a train 100 miles, and there is only one passenger. How much does it cost in that case? Why, 50 cents per mile, of course.

It will cost but a trifle more to haul 200 passengers on that train than one passenger; then how much will it cost per mile per passenger? Why, one two-hundredth part of fifty cents or one-quarter of a cent per mile.

THE RECIPROCITY CONVENTION.

Springer of Illinois Wants Reciprocity With All the Continent.

ST. PAUL, June 6.—It was 10.30 o'clock before Chairman Eustis called the International Reciprocity Convention to order this morning. The Committee on Permanent Organization reported James Fisher, M.P., of Winnipeg for chairman; P. H. Kelly, St. Paul, vice-chairman; Dr. J. Maginnis of Grand Forks, secretary, and J. H. Beck of St. Paul, S. A. Thompson of Duluth, and C. N. Bell of Winnipeg as associate secretaries.

E. V. Smalley, chairman of Committee on Resolutions, read the report of that committee and spoke briefly in its support. The resolutions cover only the subjects of reciprocity, deep water ways and transportation.

Hon. William M. Springer of Illinois, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the National House of Representatives, was introduced and expressed himself in favor of reciprocity with all the states on the American continent.

The platform was adopted after some discussion.

A mass meeting was held this evening which was addressed by Hon. William M. Springer. He favored conferring upon the President of the United States the authority to appoint an international commission on the part of the United States to treat with any like commission appointed by the Dominion of Canada for the purpose of submitting to the respective Governments a treaty of reciprocity embodying, as far as possible, the following provisions:

First, a free exchange of the products of the soil, the forest and the mines of the two countries, and of the fisheries of the Atlantic and on the inland waters;

Second, the free exchange of manufactured articles, the component parts of which have been produced in either country are admitted free of duty in both countries.

One exception should be noted, however, that where articles are subject to internal taxes, each country should impose a tariff equal to the internal tax.

There might be some exceptions to these general rules which it is safe to submit to the judgment of an international commission.

The necessities for revenue might require important modifications, both as to substance and as to the time each provision should take effect. It might be important that a portion of the reduction contemplated should go into effect at the end of each year for a few years until all the restrictions or taxes will be removed. Such a treaty should continue until both parties to it should agree to abrogate it.

ERASTUS WIMAN'S AFFAIRS.

A Statement Filed of His Assets and Liabilities.

NEW YORK, June 6.—The direct liabilities of Erastus Wiman as scheduled in the office of the clerk of Richmond County, Staten Island, yesterday were stated at $591,000.

The contingent liabilities are $315,000, which with other contingent liabilities, practically represent the assets.

The assets included in the schedule are nominally worth $900,000, but the actual amount transferred only represents about $25,000.

Battle With Bank Robbers.

BENTONVILLE, Ark., June 6.—At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon a band of six robbers rushed into town with drawn Winchesters and robbed the People's Bank of all its gold and currency, amounting to $10,000.

A special from Rogers says a skirmish between the sheriff's posse and the bank robbers took place about four miles west of Bentonville, but it gives no particulars.

THE QUEBEC MURDER.

The Theory That Mr. Edy Murdered His Wife and Daughter and Then Committed Suicide Disproved.

NUTTS CORNERS, Que., June 6.—The mystery regarding the death of Mr. and Mrs. Edy and their daughter is as deep as ever, and judging by the work being done will never be solved. The question which is being discussed on all sides is

Was It Suicide?

The relatives and other residents of their neighborhood are extremely distressed over the publicity given to the suicide theory. It is the opinion of the doctors here that it was absolutely impossible for Mr. Edy to have inflicted the two wounds on himself. Had he shot himself in the chest first he could never have held the revolver and fired another shot into his forehead. Again, had he first shot himself through the brain could he have fired into his head? It was also pointed out at the autopsy that the revolver must have been held so that it would shoot in a downward direction, the bullet in the back of the skull proving this.

Mr. Edy was a strictly sober man, not the least eccentric, never troubled with any brain disease, and a man worth at least $20,000. Considering these things is it at all likely that he so brutally murdered his wife, with whom he had lived for 43 years, and his youngest daughter, who was the pride of his old age?

Medical evidence at the inquest was antagonistic to the suicide theory.

Dr. Struthers said: "I think it very improbable that he inflicted both wounds upon himself. In fact, I think it almost impossible."

Here the coroner said that he "wanted that point brought out strongly."

Dr. Struthers: "I will make it stronger."

A juror: "The stronger the better."

Dr. Struthers: "Well, I deem it impossible that he could have inflicted those wounds."

Murdered For Vengeance.

Mr. Edy's tin cash box was evidently not stolen. Portions of the box were found in the ruins at an early hour this morning, and near these were the remains of the gold watches of Mr. and Mrs. Edy. The finding of these things adds much strength to the opinion that the murder was committed by a man who had vengeance in his mind, or who must benefit by the death of the old gentleman, or perhaps by the death of all three. Certain it now is that there was no robbery, unless it might be the currency, but the son, Mr. Edy, says that rarely did his father have much money in the house.

Another Suspect.

There is a growing feeling here that a resident in the neighborhood of the tragedy should be placed under surveillance. While there is at present no positive evidence against him, certain facts point towards a grave possibility that he may have committed the crime. At present it is not advisable to mention any name in this connection.

Spiritualists Assemble.

In the neighborhood there are quite a number of spiritualists, and these were called together this morning. I saw one of them soon after the seance was over, and, while he would say nothing as to names, he agreed that "the table rocked (meaning yes) when a certain man's name was mentioned." "Did John commit the crime?" No movement of the table. "Did so-and-so?" Still no movement. And, at last, when a certain man's name was spoken it is claimed the table fairly danced.

What may be the truth of this story, it has certainly made a great deal of talk in the community, and many are the anxious enquiries as to who is the man for whom the table rocked. The meeting was held in the house of a resident named Simlon.

CONNOLLY'S CASE ADJOURNED.

Laid Over By the Exchequer Court Until September.

OTTAWA, June 6.—The civil suit for $507,068 in connection with the Quebec harbor works, which was taken against the firm of Larkin, Connolly & Co. by the Government after the Parliamentary investigation of two sessions ago, has been once more disposed of for the present. It came up in chambers before Justice Burbidge in the Exchequer Court on an application of the Crown to fix a day for the trial. The defence pointed out that as it would be necessary to have the same witnesses in attendance at the criminal case against N. K. Connolly and Hon. Thomas McGreevy, which comes up again next September at the assizes here, it would be a great saving of money and trouble to have both cases come on about the same time. This opinion was concurred in and the case was adjourned sine die.

CUT HIS THROAT.

But Failed to Inflict a Wound That Was Mortal.

HAMILTON, June 6.—Ebenezer Hamilton to-day tried to end his troubles and his life together by cutting his throat with a razor. Kneeling on the floor near the bed, he drew the razor across his throat, inflicting a gash three inches long, but not deep enough to sever either the windpipe or the jugular vein. He bled profusely and was removed to the hospital.

Holidaying Hats.

Great is the holiday-maker. Where is the spot, however remote, that the pleasure-seeking tourist does not reach? To the Sunny South and the Far North, to the east and to the west, the tourists go on their annual pleasure trips.

None love recreation more than Toronto's citizens, and during the summer months they are to be seen wherever pleasure is to be found. One distinctive feature, by which Torontonians abroad may be easily recognized, is the correctness of their headgear. When holidaying they wear appropriate hats and caps, and all who are in the swim buy their hats from W. & D. Dineen, corner King and Yonge-streets.

Dineens' great June sale is now on, and his enormous stock of straw hats is being sold at astonishing prices. The new styles in straws are the most graceful that have appeared for some time. Call at King and Yonge-streets and see them while all the designs are in stock.

Too Many Headache Powders.

WINDSOR, June 6.—Mrs. Girard, the wife of a River Canard farmer, had a violent headache Sunday, and took a headache powder. This did not seem to give her any ease, and she kept on taking them until 13 were gone. Then the powders took her, and after an hour's hard work Dr. Casgrain pulled her through.

TROUBLE IN THE FLOCK.

Eglinton Presbyterians And Their Pastor—Both Sides of the Story—Doings at the Presbytary.

The Toronto Presbytery was in session yesterday at St. Andrew's Church. Rev. Mr. Grant was moderator. The greater part of the day was occupied with small matters. Rev. R. A. McGregor of Aberdeen, Scotland, will receive the call for St. James-square Church. A pastor for the Streetsville congregation will be chosen from 60 applicants. The East Toronto church will be allowed to raise $3500 by mortgage. The following candidates were licensed as ministers: Messrs. J. H. Barnet, George Logie, A. E. Vert, W. D. Kerswell, James H. Mackay, H. F. Thomas, J. H. Courtenay, W. S. Heron, R. W. Ross and J. Bell.

Rev. R. M. Hamilton, pastor of the flocks of Eglinton and Bethesda, had tendered his resignation to the presbytery because of certain disturbances that have taken place in his congregation. The disaffection is all at Eglinton, and a petition was presented by the Bethesda flock, asking that the resignation be not accepted, while a testimonial was also read, signed by the majority of the Eglinton congregation expressing the utmost good-will. Mr. J. R. Miller, who has held almost every responsible office in the church, made a long speech, in which he stated that from the very first Mr. Hamilton showed bad judgment, that consequently the congregation made no progress, that the people were generally disaffected toward him and that one or two wealthy families had left the church on his account.

Rev. Mr. Hamilton, in reply, said that he was not anxious that his resignation should be accepted; he believed that he could do better work than ever. Eglinton was in a state of financial depression. The vast majority of his congregation were poor, and he did not care whether the sums due him were paid or not. He had done his best and had the good-will of almost everyone, as was shown by the petitions. "If you want to know what has been the trouble, the cause of whatever disaffection there has been, it is there (pointing to Mr. Miller). He is the man who holding a vast number of offices in the church, has thwarted me in every possible way. Either I must go, or Mr. Miller must go, and I believe that with the present disturbances removed I can do good work in Eglinton."

The Presbytery decided not to accept Mr. Hamilton's resignation.

STRUCK BY THE TROLLEY.

Wagon Overturned in Tannery Hollow and Two Men Seriously Hurt—How the Accident Occurred.

At 6.45 o'clock motor car 348, going south in Yonge-street, struck a wagon in Tannery Hollow. The wagon contained William Ewing of 66 Arthur-street, George Crompton, 16 Little Nelson-street; D. McMillan, 100 Gladstone-avenue; John Swan, 58 Sheridan-avenue. Motorman Spears had rung his bell and put on brakes, but the car could not be stopped on the steep incline. At the alarm, McMillan, who was driving, turned east, and had got his wagon clear by a but four inches when the trap was struck and overturned. Ewing was gashed in the head, bruised, and had his shoulder dislocated, while Crompton was badly cut. Both the injured men were taken to their homes.

Another Accident.

Benjamin Filstien, a boy aged 14, living at 121 Edward-street, received several severe scalp wounds last night by coming into violent contact with an eastbound trolley in Queen-street west. The lad was running behind a milk wagon along the roadway when a comrade gave chase and Filstien, dodging out suddenly, was struck by the car and hurled to the sidewalk before he could retrace his steps. Dr. Garrett is in attendance.

TRURO SCORCHED.

Many Firms Sustain Heavy Losses With Small Insurance.

TRURO, N.S., June 6.—Fire broke out at 7 o'clock this morning in the building known as the Converserum in English-street and burned it to the ground. The adjoining premises of J. E. Bigelow & Co. in Havelock-street and Gunn & Stack in English-street are all destroyed.

Victoria Hall, containing Salvation Army barracks, and Colchester block, occupied by A. T. Dalrymple, clothing store, are also badly damaged.

The Boston Comedy Company, which began an engagement in the Converserum last night, lost all their effects, valued by Mr. Webber, the manager, at $15,000.

Five firms are burned out. The loss is very heavy and the insurance comparatively small.

HIS FATHER-IN-LAW ELOPED

And the Law Was Too Slow to Prevent Him.

HAMILTON, June 6.—There was great excitement at the Stuart-street station at 1.55 this morning, when James Weeden tried to prevent an elopement. The train was held for three minutes in order to enable him to get a warrant, but the process of the law was too slow and the absconders got away.

The fickle man in the case is George Evans, a motorman, who lives at 200 Wellington-street north. He is a middle-aged man and has been married for about 20 years, being the father of two married daughters and two young children. Lena Bradley is the young woman who is reported to have skipped with the trolley man. Weeden is Evans' son-in-law.

Her Head Cut Off By the Elevator.

PHILADELPHIA, June 6.—Sarah Vecht, 17 years old, rang for the elevator in Kerschbaum's establishment, No. 726 Market-street, to-day. She was on the eighth floor and leaned over the guard-rail to see if the elevator were coming. Her head was cut off by the descending car and fell into the cellar.

Cooked to Death.

OMAHA, Neb., June 6.—Annie Brown and Belinda Arnold quarreled yesterday morning and Brown struck Arnold over the head with a lighted lamp. The lamp burst and blazing oil flowed over the woman, literally cooking her. The Brown woman is in jail. Arnold died at the hospital in awful agony.

Canada's Schoolboy Soldiers.

Nature never smiled more graciously than upon Arbor Day, with the spring-tide at its full. It was a fitting day for the decoration of the monument erected to the memory of Canada's heroic dead. Toronto is justly proud of its schoolboy soldiers, and as they put their best foot forward Friday they were admired unstintedly. After the procession passed down King-street the onlookers naturally turned to quinn's window to take a look at those famous one-fifty shirts with colored bosoms and cuffs.

THE TRIAL OF LIZZIE BORDEN

THE JURY LEAVE TO VISIT THE SCENE OF THE TRAGEDY.

First Strong Point For the Defence Is Lizzie Herself—Her Living Presence Causes a Reaction in Her Favor—Graphic Pen Picture of the Prisoner.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., June 6.—Ever since Aug. 4 last, when Andrew J. Borden, the wealthy banker of Fall River, and his wife, Abbie D. Borden, were found dead and mangled with a ferocity of which it showed only a maniac could have been capable, the world has been divided on the question of the guilt or innocence of Lizzie Borden, the tendency being to regard her as guilty.

A Reaction in Her Favor.

One thing may be put down right here, that Lizzie Borden's living presence in the eyes of those who saw her for the first time yesterday caused a reaction in her favor. The first strong point made for the defence of the prisoner is Lizzie Borden herself.

Lizzie Borden's Awful Ordeal.

Imagine that the young woman who was brought up to face that solemn tribunal this morning, with her life or death depending upon its deliberations; imagine that this young woman who 11 months ago bore a spotless reputation and moved in the society of people who were respected in a large and wealthy New England community; imagine that she is absolutely innocent of the demoniacal atrocity of which she is accused, with all that she knows of it being the hideous horrors spread before her eyes as she came into the house, after a few minutes' absence on that bright midsummer morning.

Imagine all this and try to think how hard it would be for the strongest nerved man to keep from going stark-staring mad under the agonizing strain and the unspeakable cruelty of it all.

Lizzie Borden has not gone mad, whatever plea may be set up in her defence. No jury will believe that woman, with her firm face and steady, intelligent eyes, ever did any important thing that she had not subjected to the unobscured light of a reason uncommonly clear.

If she be guilty or if she be innocent she is bearing out the part she has to play in this awful ordeal by sheer force of an iron resolution or by a hopeless resignation to a malign fate, which has entangled her as no other woman was ever entangled before.

Confinement and bitter affliction seem to have wrought a refining effect on her appearance, and on the whole she is more attractive than she used to be. During the early hours she evidently labored under intense nervousness, her eyes scarcely wandered from the floor, save when she cast a glance at the bench or at her counsel, but as the day wore on her nervousness vanished.

Her faithful friends and spiritual advisers, the Rev. W. Walker Jubb and the Rev. E. A. Buck, sitting in front of the dock, occasionally turned to speak to her, and then her face was lighted for a moment with a weary smile.

Were These Hands Stained With Blood?

Her hands, by the way, are small and well formed, the last hands in the world to grasp an axe with which to hack to pieces the heads of two old people, one of them, her father, for whom, for all that is known to the contrary, she had at least a reasonable amount of affection.

The session of the court to-day was a short one. Almost immediately after the formality of opening an adjournment took place to allow the jury to visit the scene of the tragedy.

HELD FOR BERTHA'S MURDER.

Jose Correiro Formally Charged With Killing Miss Manchester.

FALL RIVER, Mass., June 6.—Jose Correiro, the Portuguese who is believed to have murdered Bertha M. Manchester, was arraigned this morning before Judge John J. McDonough in the Second District Court.

Through the interpreter he entered a plea of not guilty and announced himself ready for trial. Assistant Marshal Fleet asked for a continuance on the part of the Government, as many important witnesses were in New Bedford attending the Borden trial. The case was continued until Thursday, June 15.

The courtroom was crowded with spectators, all anxious to obtain a glimpse of the prisoner. He was pale and haggard and evidently fully realized his position. His case was the first called, and an interpreter translated to the prisoner the long charge. He listened attentively throughout its reading and at its conclusion smiled faintly and pleaded not guilty. Upon the Government's request for a continuance the prisoner was committed without bail to await his trial. Manuel Souci, the principal witness for the Government, was held in $2000 bonds.

A Fashionable Resort.

The summer season at Niagara-on-the-Lake begins next Saturday with the opening of the Queen's Royal Hotel. This fashionable resort has been leased for the season by Mr. Henry Winnett of the Queen's, Toronto, of which it will still continue to be a branch. Workmen have been busy during the past few weeks in giving the Queen's Royal an overhauling and renovation. During the past spring a new elevator has been added with other conveniences. The season at Niagara-on-the-Lake this summer promises to be exceptionally gay, and in addition to the many fashionable people who have taken houses for the summer a number have secured rooms for the season at the Queen's Royal. One of the adjuncts of the hotel will be a Tally-Ho coach and four-in-hand. An additional fact in Niagara's popularity with Toronto people will be the six trips each way made by the fast boats of Niagara Navigation Company as soon as the Chippewa is finished. Information and prospectus will be furnished on application to H. Winnett, Queen's Royal Hotel, Niagara-on-the-Lake.

Take It Pure.

Some may doubt the possibility of having a good, clear, pure, cool and refreshing drink of city water in its natural state. Let those doubting ones take no risks—there is a way to purify. Experts have been looking about and have given testimony of certain artificial means of purifying, and testimony is at hand that the "Climax Natural Stone Germ-proof Filter" is really a reliable article. Six dollars for one at R. Walker & Sons', King-street east, will be a satisfactory investment. "Before and after taking" is clearly exemplified in two large glass jars seen as one enters the eastern door.

Bicyclists use Adams' Tutti Frutti. It keeps the mouth moist and allays thirst. Take no worthless substitute.

The World on the Island.

The World is now delivered on the Island. New subscribers or changes of address left at The World Office, 88 Yonge-street, will be attended to.

You can't be happy if continually tired without appetite and imperfect digestion therefore use Microbe Killer.

Leaves Creighton for McCarthy.

Mr. W. G. Fee, late confidential canvasser for Mr. Creighton of The Empire, has taken the post of organizer of the McCarthy party.

OBJECT TO THE REDUCTION.

Motion Carried to Ask the Council to Re-Insert the $8000 the Committee Docked.

At a meeting of the Collegiate Institute Board last night Miss Sipence was granted leave of absence to attend the World's Fair and Mr. Manley was relieved from his duties for the remainder of the term on account of ill-health, Mr. Odell taking his place. Miss Thomas will be retransferred to the Jarvis-street School after the summer vacation.

The Guarantee Company wrote asking if a quarterly audit of the Board's books had taken place as agreed in the bonds. On the suggestion of Mr. Walter S. Lee the company will be written to to the effect that the Board wishes the clause requiring a quarterly audit struck out of the agreement. Unless the request is acceded to, another company will be found to assume the obligations.

The Recent Arbitration.

The Finance Committee reported that the arbitrators had given their award in connection with the Harbord-street site at $45 per foot, and the committee had asked for and obtained from the city the amount at the credit of the board, and paid over to the solicitor of this board the sum of $4792.50, the lots having each 53 feet 6 inches frontage. The sum of $277.32 had previously been paid out for the purpose of taking up the award, but in accordance with its terms this sum will have to be returned by the North American Land Company. The expenses of the board for witness fees and costs in connection with the arbitration will be $98.50 and $151.39 respectively, and the committee recommended that these sums be paid.

The report was adopted.

Mr. Roaf moved that the Executive Committee of the City Council be asked to reinsert the $8000 taken out of the board's estimates.

Mr. R. L. Patterson suggested borrowing $8000 from the bank and placing that sum in next year's estimates as a deficit, as he thought the council would be opposed to granting the request.

Mr. Roaf's resolution, however, was carried.

DIED FROM HIS INJURIES.

Young Burke, Who Was Thrown From His Bicycle in Jarvis-street, Never Recovered Consciousness.

Edmund Burke, the 12-year-old son of Mr. Edmund Burke, architect, 3 Sultan-street, who was seriously injured on Monday whilst riding his bicycle in Jarvis-street, near Maitland, succumbed to his injuries yesterday.

The circumstances are very sad. The boy was behind time in going to school, and he put on an extra spurt. He noticed a wagon on the wrong side of the road, and turned out of the way to avoid it. His head struck a projecting board and he was thrown to the ground. He sustained a fracture of the skull and his nose was broken. He never rallied.

EXPENSE OF THE BRIGGS CASE.

The Cost to the General Assembly Placed at $50,000.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—It is generally agreed among Presbyterians prominently connected with the Briggs case that the expenses incurred during the entire progress of the case from its introductory stage until the General Assembly disposed of it last week amounted to a very large sum, but it is almost impossible to make an estimate of the total amount with accuracy.

Some light is thrown on this subject, however, by Rev. Dr. Bartlett, who was chairman of the local Committee of Arrangements for the General Assembly. Dr. Bartlett says that the board bill alone of 200 commissioners to the assembly, the number the local committee promised to provide for, amounted to $900 per day, and that therefore the trial of Dr. Briggs in this city cost the local committee $1800.

There were, however, more than 600 delegates to the assembly, and, while the trial consumed, properly speaking, only two days, the case really extended over more than double that period, so that $13,000 is nearer the mark than $1800. This in itself is a very low estimate.

Dr. Bartlett is of the opinion that the estimate made by some of the commissioners that the Briggs case from beginning to end cost the general assembly about $50,000 is nearly correct.

Col. McCook of the prosecuting committee, a wealthy man, spent out of his own pocket, according to Dr. Bartlett's opinion, at least $20,000. Of $10,000 contributed by
