A BENEFIT RATHER THAN DETERRENT TO DOMINION

Canada's Dairy Commissioner on Export of Cattle to States.

PEOPLE CONSUME MUCH MORE MILK

In Increased Consumption of Dairy Products can be Found one Reason for Advance in Cost of Living,

Special to The Standard.

Ottawa, Jan. 12.—An expert view of the effect of the new United States tariff, a view that the temporary draining from this country of its beef cattle will prove a highly beneficial rather than deterrent factor, has been expressed by Mr. J. A. Ruddick, Dominion Dairy Commissioner, who recently gave evidence before the Cost of Living Commission.

Mr. Ruddick's opinions would not make good reading for the United States cattle buyer. "The swarm of Yankee drovers," he states, "which over-ran some parts of Ontario and Quebec when the duty on cattle into the United States was removed, was not an unmixed evil from the standpoint of the dairy industry. They are welcome to the worn out and discredited cows which were picked up in rather large numbers. This is a better way for the progressive farmers to dispose of his unprofitable animals than to sell them to his own neighbors. The only regret we need to have over this export of cattle from the dairy point of view is for the young, untried heifers which unprecedented prices induced some farmers to part with, thinking perhaps it was too good a chance to lose. There need be no fear of lost opportunity in this matter. The price of cattle must rule high for some years to come if the law of supply and demand is to hold good."

Mr. Ruddick does not take a very serious view of the effect of the new United States tariff. "Milk and cream," he says, "will probably be exported as long as the present tariff remains in force, especially at convenient shipping points, but there does not seem to be any immediate prospect of a large quantity of either cheese or butter being exported. In the present condition of the Canadian market, a very small movement in that direction would boost prices to a prohibitive point. The circumstances are such that New Zealand and Australian butter is more likely to supply the demand than Canadian. Having a large surplus for export, both these countries must accept for their surplus the international value which is lower than the ruling price promises to be in Canada."

Mr. Ruddick who gave some remarkable figures of the home consumption of dairy products showing that whereas the per capita consumption of Canadians was 800 pounds of milk in 1912 it had risen to half a ton per head. On the other hand the production of milk had not risen in anything like the same ratio, being 9,871,178,103 pounds in 1910 as compared with 6,866,834,000 pounds in 1900. The per capita consumption of butter in the ten years rose from 23.49 pounds to 27.88 pounds. This increase of consumption Mr. Ruddick attributes to the great prosperity of the country and consequent increase in purchasing power and partly to the better quality of milk and its products in recent years. "In the great growth of consumption can be found one reason for the advance in the cost of living."

Cranston Avenue Fire.

Fire destroyed a barn on Cranston avenue owned by Lewis Millidge shortly after five o'clock yesterday. The barn was occupied by Mrs. Brown. The fire was discovered by Herbert Armstrong and an alarm was sounded from box 312. A quick response of the fire department extinguished the flames before much damage had been done. A still alarm was given about nine o'clock last evening when fire again broke out in the barn, but the North End chemical engine soon extinguished the blaze.

Troubled With Weak Back and Kidneys For 10 Years.

Many people fail to understand the significance of a lame, weak, sore or aching back.

When the back aches or becomes weak it is a warning that the kidneys are affected in some way.

Take notice to the warning and cure the backache on the first sign, for if you don't do this, serious complications are sure to arise and perhaps develop into Dropsy, Diabetes or Bright's Disease, the three most deadly forms of kidney trouble.

Doan's Kidney Pills will strengthen the weak back, and prevent any form of kidney trouble entering the system.

Mrs. Ed. Boyer, Nokomis, Sask., writes:—"I have been troubled with weak back and kidneys. I had terrible dizzy headaches, and could not sleep at night. In this way I suffered for ten years, until I read about Doan's Kidney Pills. I purchased two boxes, and as they helped me, I sent for two more; they put me on my feet, and I have been able to work ever since."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50 cents a box, or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

If ordering direct specify "Doan's."

STOCK CO. SCORE BIG HIT IN GOOD SHOW

"Get Rich Quick" Wallingford as Produced by Thompson - Woods Company Proves Success.

The tag of "Get Rich Quick Wallingford" supplies the underlying motive and moral of the whole production—"A man is a fool for being crooked." But before this opinion obtains the upper hand in the mind of the gentleman of the title role and his associate, four acts of most interesting comedy are unfolded. The audience that witnessed the production of "Get Rich Quick Wallingford" by the Thompson-Woods Stock Company in the Opera House last evening expressed their pleasure in long and well merited applause, and it proved one of the most entertaining performances the Stock Company has yet given to us.

Those who have read the Wallingford stories, and who pictured J. Rufus as a corpulant, heavy jowled gentleman scrupulously groomed and almost exuding solid porcine respectability, carefully avoiding any resemblance to the adventurer with the checkered career and habits not any too regular, were surprised to see the Wallingford of the play a remarkably dapper prepossissing young man. For the purpose of dramatic presentation liberties have been taken with the hero of the stories, but from the standpoint of providing a pleasant entertainment the changes are rather in the nature of an improvement. The particular story upon which the play is founded is that dealing with the formation of the covered carpet tack company and the development of the electric railway franchise. To those who are not familiar with the stories a brief synopsis of the play may be of interest.

J. Rufus Wallingford, known as "Get Rich Quick," a confidence man and his partner Blackie Daw, arrive in the town of Battlesburg for the purpose of separating some of the citizens from their money. Their original intention is to float worthless cheques and make a quick get-away, but as the residents appear even easier than had been hoped, they decide to float a bogus company and unload the stock. After being duly hailed as men who were to put Battlesburg on the industrial map they are in a quandary as to the branch of manufacturing industry to promote. Wallingford evolves the idea of a covered carpet tack, the head being covered to match the carpet on which the tack is used. They interest local capital, almost too easily, in their venture and proceed with the intention of swindling everyone in sight.

Wallingford, however, falls in love with a stenographer in the hotel and she afterwards becomes his private secretary. Daw meets a similar fate with a society girl of the town. This has the effect of changing their plans and they decide to remain in Battlesburg and work the "industries" they have planted. Fortune steps in to assist them at this juncture, for it turns out that the invention that Wallingford thought was worthless, really has much merit, and when manufactured proves a commercial success, paying dividends as large as was promised. The trolly line also proves a reality and the town of Battlesburg becomes a large manufacturing city. Wallingford and Daw marry the girls of their choice and settle down as prominent citizens.

The piece affords opportunity for elaborate staging, clever scenic mountings and good electrical effects. All these were up to the standard set by the Thompson-Woods Company, and reflect credit upon Scenic Artist Valero and his assistant Joseph Vera, upon Jos. Stackhouse, who built the scenery used, especially an elaborate hotel effect in the first act, showing the lights of the city of Battlesburg, then at the height of its prosperity, was very fine.

In the title role Sam Meharry overcame the defect of not looking like the Wallingford of the stories, but presenting instead a very likeable, very smooth proposition. Mr. Meharry is at his best in breezy nonchalant roles and his work last evening was up to the very best he has hitherto done here in similar roles.

Mr. Drummond as Blackie Daw was also excellent. Mr. Fleming as the reporter, who later became the local theatrical magnate. Mr. St. John as Dempsey the hotel proprietor. Mr. Fager as G. W. Battles. Mr. Weyler as Abe Gunther. Mr. Hodge as Lamb, Mr. Roth who doubled the parts of Quigg, and E. B. Lott. Mr. McCafferty as Richard Welles. Harold McGuire as the judge. Arthur McClosky as Timothy Battles. Russel Cortright as Willie the office boy. Edmund Murray as Yosi and Barry Adams as the bartender, all made the most of the opportunities afforded them.

Of the ladies Miss Brandt as Bessie Jasper, Miss Davis as Gertie Dempsey; Miss Delmore as Dorothy; Miss Derby as Bessie Meers and Miss Bridges as Mrs. Dempsey, were equal to all the tasks entrusted to them, and contributed in a great degree to the success of the evening. The rube band also came in for much applause. "Get Rich Quick Wallingford" is an ambitious production for a company requiring, as it does, a big cast and great attention to troublesome detail. Last evening's performance, however, went without a hitch and proved highly successful. It will be repeated every evening this week and at Wednesday and Saturday matinees. The prediction is that long before the end of the week it will be playing to capacity business.

KILLED FIRST WIFE, TRIED TO POISON HER TWO SUCCESSORS

Protests Drug Used on His Wives Was to Improve their Looks — Also Used Fever Germ.

Frankfort-on-Main, Jan. 12.—The plea of "not guilty" was entered today by Carl Hopf, the local druggist and former fencing master, when brought up for trial charged with killing his two children, his father, and his first wife by administering poison and with attempting to commit similar crimes on his second and third wives and another person.

The accused admitted today that he had given a poisonous drug to his three successive wives, ostensibly as a means of improving their looks. To his third wife he had also given fever germs, but she escaped death owing to the vigilance of the doctor.

The three women had been insured by the prisoner for $5,000, $7,500 and $20,000, respectively, and each of them fell seriously ill within a year after her marriage to the accused.

Hopf gave various explanations for the presence of the poison in the bodies of his victims. His wives, he said had taken it as an ingredient in a beauty compound, and he had injected the drug into the bodies of his children in order partially to embalm them before burial.

Among the germs found in possession of the prisoner were those of typhoid, cholera and tuberculosis.

7 FREE BOX — ZAM-BUK would have saved this baby $28

To enable you to test Zam-Buk at our expense we will send free trial box if you will cut out this advt., and mail it with 1c stamp and name of this paper to the ZAM-BUK CO. Toronto

Mrs. F. Gervais, of 126 Bleury Street, Montreal, writes:—"My baby girl developed a bad rash on her body and it made her very fretful and ill. She would not take food, and seemed very sick indeed. From fifteen pounds, her weight fell away to nine and a half pounds.

"I took her to a doctor who gave me a kind of lotion to use and I used it regularly, but the baby got no relief. The skin disease seemed to get worse and worse all the time we were doctoring for it, so we took the child to a second doctor. He told me to stop nursing the baby, and gave me other advice which I followed, but the skin disease got worse and worse.

"At this time a friend of mine visited us and, having seen the sad plight the baby was in, she said I did not know how to go about things. She took my baby to her home and applied Zam-Buk to its little body. This seemed to give the baby ease right from the first. It cured the sores and began to reduce the inflammation. I went on with the Zam-Buk treatment, and to my delight, within one week from first starting with Zam-Buk the child looked like a different baby altogether! Within a month the skin disease was cured completely, the baby's appetite had returned, and she was almost back at her normal weight. She now looks like the very picture of health.

"There is another feature of the case. One of the doctors has just sent me in a bill for $30! The treatment I got for that money left the child no better than before it was started. The cost of Zam-Buk treatment, which restored my child to health, was $2!"

WHY ZAM-BUK IS SO SUPERIOR

Zam-Buk is now recognized as the leading salve, because in general practice it has been found to do more real good in a greater number of cases than any other salve. There are many reasons for this. Most salves contain rancid animal fats. Zam-Buk is purely herbal. Most salves contain mineral coloring matter. Zam-Buk does not. Put any ordinary salves into a warm room and leave them untouched for a length of time. Then take a whiff of them! Do the same with Zam-Buk and you will find it pure, fresh, wholesome. Zam-Buk is healing, soothing and antiseptic all at the same time. Try it. Mothers especially should have it handy for the children's sores, etc.

Zam-Buk is a "short cut" to skin healing. Use it for all skin injuries and diseases, eczema, ulcers, blood poison, chapped hands, cold sores, ringworm, scalp sores, old wounds, and for Piles. All druggists and stores, 50c. box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Refuse harmful imitations and substitutes.

THE GREAT HERBAL HEALER

FEDERAL REFUGEES WILL BE INTERNED AT FORT BLISS

U. S. Secretary of War Gives Permission for Women and Children to Accompany Soldiers if they Wish.

Washington, Jan. 12—All the Mexican federal soldiers now in the custody of the United States border patrol forces at Presidio, Texas, will be transferred to Fort Bliss and interned ther indefinitely. Secretary Garrison ordered the transfer late today, with permission for the refugee women and children to accompany the soldiers if they desire.

There are about three thousand of the Mexican officers and men who fled across the Rio Grande when the victorious constitutionalists entered Ojinaga and with them, besides many women and children, are fifteen hundred civilian refugees. The latter are not prisoners and will be allowed to do as they please by the military authorities, though those desiring to remain in American territory will have to satisfy the immigration officials.

The secretary decided that the women and children who accompanied the soldiers into Texas should be allowed to remain with them in the detention camp if they care to do so, and that in any case their immediate wants in the matter of food and shelter should be provided for by the army.

At present the United States will pay for the keep of these Mexican soldiers, and their adherents, but later on the Mexican government will be called upon for reimbursement.

Tom O'Rourke, who is supervising Flynn's training preparations, says that his man will win by a knockout—a bold assertion. WANT PROVINCIAL HOME FOR DELINQUENT WOMEN

The Local Council of Women and Social Workers Present Request to Hon. Mr. Doherty

Montreal, Jan. 12—An influential deputation from the Local Council of Women, accompanied by representatives of other bodies, waited upon Hon. C. J. Doherty, minister of justice, this afternoon, to ask for amendments to the Criminal Code which will permit of the establishment of a provincial reformative instiution for delinquent women upon the most modern lines of prison reform ideals.

Members of the deputation stated afterwards that not only had Hon. Mr. Doherty received them most courteously, showed deep interest in the subject laid before him, but that he had in effect promised all they asked, provided the provincial governments did its part. As Sir Lomer Gouin had previously shown his entire sympathy with their aims, on condition that the enabling legislation be secured from the Dominion government, there is now every prospect that the project of the council will come to fruition.

Starving Amidst Plenty.

(Winnipeg Telegram.)

With the greatest crop in her history, with her granaries ful to bursting, her bins jammed with the fruits of the soil and the orchard, with more money than ever in her coffers, as the result of her labors, the people of the United States are still faced with a era of high cost of living that is a puzzle alike to economists and legislators. Starving amidst plenty! in want, despite the fact that she has "free food!" It looks as if it were up to Sir Wilfrid Laurier to make another guess at the high cost of living.

Had Narrow Escape.

As the Fredericton train was leaving the Union depot yesterday afternoon a serious accident was narrowly adverted, when an elderly lady carrying a baby in her arms and accompanied by two boys attempted to get aboard just as the train was starting. In the excitement of the moment, and owing to the fact that a big crowd was in the station at the time, one of the lads slipped and nearly fell under the wheels. A shout from the crowd attracted the attention of the engineer who immediately stopped the train. A young lady seeing the affair fainted and was carried to the baggage room where she did not recover for fully half an hour.
