BOSTON STARES AT HUSKY COLORED LAD

Charles Henry Foster, of Chicago, Walking to Exeter to Get Education - Odd Looking Vehicle.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 10.—There appeared in the streets of Boston late yesterday afternoon a tall, husky, athletically built young negro, who dragged behind him a peculiar vehicular contrivance. People upon the streets stood and gazed in wonderment upon the wonderfully well-developed colored lad and his odd contraption and wondered what his mission in life could be.

The identity of the visitor—he is not a stranger to Boston—was not long in doubt, for he was headed directly for the Globe to make known his arrival here.

The young colored man, travel-stained but in high spirits, was Charles Henry Foster, of Chicago, the "student pedestrian." Foster reached Boston about 4 in the afternoon on his way from his home in Chicago to Exeter, N. H., where he hopes to be admitted to student life.

Foster left Chicago at 9 a. m. on Sept. 16, on his long tramp to Exeter, where he hopes to be enrolled as a student at Phillips Exeter Academy. It is his aim to acquire an education, and a slight obstacle like a 1500 mile jaunt was not allowed to hinder him in his purpose.

But just how Charles Henry Foster, long-distance pedestrian, Marathon runner and all-round athlete, expects to matriculate at the New Hampshire preparatory school not even he himself knows. He has unbounded hope and determination, but he is absolutely without friends or funds.

Foster, who is 22 years old, was here a year ago. During August and September he walked from Chicago to Portland, Me., and return just for an outing. He completed the long arduous trip in exactly 60 walking days, but he says he could have done much better if he had not been obliged to stop between times to work for his food.

Again last April, Foster decided that he would like nothing better than to compete in the B. A. A. Marathon on Patriots' day. He had already competed in three Marathon races in Chicago and acquitted himself with honor and he had confidence in his ability to dispose of the best of the country's long distance amateur runners. He was penniless, but he started after securing the large sum of $1.

On that occasion he did not travel first class, nor did he condition himself by plodding over the roads. He simply stowed himself on the bumpers between the blind baggage and the locomotive tender of one of the fastest trains out of Chicago and husbanded his "fortune."

He reached Boston a day before the race, tired, sleepy and hungry and immediately went to bed. When he awoke he was stiff and sore in every bone and muscle and running a Marathon race was out of the question, but he nevertheless viewed the finish of the run.

Foster and his outfit presented an odd spectacle. He wore a suit of dark clothes, a sweater, heavy shoes and a large sombrero. His outfit consisted of a home made wagon, an oldtime prairie schooner in miniature. The running gear comprises the remnants of an old fashioned tricycle, with the front wheel removed and a pair of baby carriage wheels substituted. To the front wheels is attached a long stick.

When Foster started on his long walk on Sept. 16 he wore pinned to his back, a large piece of waterproof cloth on which was painted:

City Hall, Chicago.
9 a. m. Saturday, Sept. 16, 1911.
I'm off for that New Hampshire town
Where there's a school of far renown—
It's Exeter Academy.
The place of My Dreams Constantly
When I finish this pleasant stroll
At that great school I shall enroll
To finish preparing, you see,
For Harvard Universitee.

From Chicago, Ill., to Exeter N. H. in 21 days, Charles Henry Foster, Student Pedestrian.

Armed with a letter of introduction from Mayor Chester H. Harrison of Chicago to the "Mayor of Exeter, N. H." and with a capital of $1.11, Foster sauntered forth, and that he was not able to make the walk of 1451 miles on schedule time he attributes to the ever-present "Mr. Jonah."

Printed across both sides of his small "prairie schooner" are the inscriptions T. P. and W. Express—Take Pains and Walk. Going from Chicago to Exeter.

Twice he has been the victim of unthinking crowds. In Rochester, N. Y. Oct 25, he was attacked by a crowd of students of Syracuse University and rudely handled and his wagon nearly demolished.

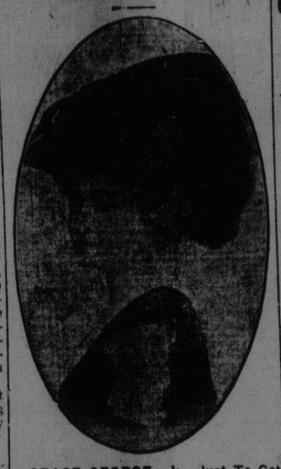
Today Foster begins the last lap of the journey and hopes to reach Exeter some time Friday afternoon or early Saturday morning. There he hopes to impress some of the alumni who will be in Exeter to attend the annual Andover-Exeter football game. He is somewhat of a football and baseball player, he says, he has had some experience in the weight events and he has proved that he is more than an ordinary distance runner.

Foster was born in Weathersford, Tex., Nov. 16, 1889, one of a family of 12 children. His father was a ranger along the Mexican border and is at present located on a Texas ranch.

Foster's mother died in 1897 and the family was broken up. Charles went to work on the cattle trains in Texas, New Mexico and Arizona, and up to that time the only learning he was able to get was what he picked up by studying with the ranchmen's children. In 1900 he went to Chicago to get work and to continue his education. At that time he could not read or write, but he made steady progress and eventually reached the second year in the Wendell Phillips high school of that city.

During all this time he has earned his own living doing odd jobs. "Although I could not read or write 11 years ago," he said yesterday, "I am now trying to work my way through Exeter and eventually through Harvard that I may amount to something in this world."

AMUSEMENTS.



GRACE GEORGE,—In Just To Get Married," Thurs., Oct. 5th.

Grace George and the New York Playhouse Company will appear for two nights at the Opera House on Tuesday and Wednesday, of this week. Miss George's play here will be Cecily Hamilton's comedy, Just to Get Married, one of the most successful of the lighter English plays, and concerns the numerous family of Grayles, a Canadian woodsman and a poor relation, Cousin Emmy, as they call her. Her environments are not any too comfortable as she feels that to a certain extent she is in the way and a burden to the family, and their many plans and schemes to get her to accept Adam Lankster, who has fallen heir a short time before to a snug little fortune, makes the comedy one that is full of clever situations and scenes, admitting of bright and witty lines of the sparkling kind. Miss George in the part of Cousin Emmy is delicious as she always is. The company includes Lyn Harding, the famous English actor and several others who are known through the high standard of plays that they have previously been associated with.

"THE COLLEEN BAWN" AT NICKEL

Commencing this afternoon at 2 o'clock the Nickel will present exclusively for this city the remarkably fine Irish drama by Dion Boucicault, "The Colleen Bawn," a picture in three reels, consuming fifty minutes of the programme and musically embellished by special orchestrations. The great beauty of this filmed story aside from its excellent action and appropriate costuming, is the scenic setting given it. The Kalem Co. took their best players directly to Ireland for the photographing of the play upon the native soil of the Emerald Isle, amid the very and exact spots laid down in the story. Thus will Nickel patrons be treated to a long and complete story of great fame, made living by superb acting and on the grounds and waters introduced in the book. No lover of clean standard drama should miss this. The Keith central management forwarded recently a folio of specially arranged music with which the picture will be "cued." This will bring out all the beauty of the action and the wealth of national scenery. There will be complete performances from 2 to 3, 3.15 to 4.15, 4.30 to 5.30. In the evening the doors will be open at 6.30 to commence the picture at 6.45 sharp. It will be well for parents to send their children in the afternoons, as the evening shows will be crowded. Miss Margaret Breck will sing Chaminade's blithesome writing "Summer," and Mr. Adler has a picture song.

CHATHAM PROPERTY MAY CHANGE HANDS

The Visit of Messrs. Riordon and Reid May Mean Big Things to that Town.

Chatham, Nov. 10.—The visit of Messrs. Riordon and Read here this week may have effects of very far-reaching importance to Chatham.

Besides coming to inspect the pulp mill for Sir John Milbanke and his associates across the water, they had in view a proposition much more extensive than this alone. Mr. Riordon is an expert paper and pulp man, but Mr. Read is an authority on saw mills. While here they were working on a proposition to buy out the Miramichi Pulp and Paper Co., and the J. B. Snowball Co., one of the largest lumbering concerns in the Maritime Provinces.

The representatives were to report on the physical condition of each property as it stands today; the advantages of running them in conjunction and under one head; and the present earning power of each plant separately.

Messrs. Riordon and Read have made their inspection and will report to England, but of what nature their report is could not be gleaned.

Mr. Snowball said that no question of price was mentioned, simply an inspection of the properties was made with the end in view already mentioned. He could give no idea of the outcome.

As the big Snowball mill adjoins the Miramichi pulp mill and owns very valuable shore rights in front of the latter, the great increase in the value of the pulp property to have both concerns under one control is apparent. Moreover there is a great deal of waste material about a saw mill which could be profitably employed in a pulp mill. For instance, deal ends and slabs which are now burned up for want of any chance to be made use of can in many instances be used in the manufacture of pulp. The pulp mill which has to operate a train of its own to bring logs to its mill or pay freight to the I.C.R. for doing so, with the extra cost of double handling, could in the event of the conjunction of the two big mills, bring up its logs by means of a haul-up direct from the river into the sawing and barking rooms. This it is claimed will save about $2 per thousand on logs.

While the joining of the two plants will, perhaps, not in any way enhance the value of the Snowball mill as an industrial factor in the community, for it is already under its present progressive management in the highest state of development and the most modernly equipped mill in the province, still if the amalgamation places the pulp mill in such a position as to make no doubt of its profitable and continuous operation, the transaction is one that will be generally hoped for by citizens. Moreover there are reasonable grounds of hope for a paper mill if a million or so of money is once invested here by the paper people of England.

A paper mill to handle the output of the pulp mill would mean employment to hundreds more hands and would in a few years lead to the doubling of the town in population.

GRAY'S MILLS NEWS.

Gray's Mills, Nov. 9.—R. C. Williams of the road board of Kingston, has a crew of men building a new bridge across the Big Brook, in Bradley's hollow here, and doing some other necessary repairs to the road through the hollow. The roads in this parish have been very greatly improved under the present local government.

Mrs. W. W. Patterson has been spending a few days in St. John.

W. W. Cronk, our local mason, is plastering a new house at Long Reach for Thomas Bissit.

Miss Vera Williams is away for a few days, visiting her sister, Mrs. M. Reed, of Holdenville.

Mr. Crosby has a crew of men in this place getting Christmas trees for the Boston market.

School Inspector Steves visited Gray's Mills school on the eighth.

Miss Lucy Bradley is visiting friends in St. John this week.

Jas. A. White is building a shop and intends carrying on a general store business.

CAUGHT A BAD COLD.

DEVELOPED BRONCHITIS. SHE COULD HARDLY SPEAK.

Bronchitis begins with a tightness across the chest, difficulty of breathing, hoarseness, and there is a dry, harsh, croupy cough.

After a few days mucous begins to be raised. This is at first white, but later of a greenish or yellow color and is occasionally streaked with blood.

Cure the first symptoms of bronchitis by the use of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup and thus prevent it becoming chronic and perhaps turning to consumption.

Mrs. Edward Travers, Campbellton, N.B., writes:—"I thought it my duty to write and let you know what your wonderful medicine has done for me. I caught a very bad cold which developed into bronchitis. I was so choked up I could hardly breathe. I tried many medicines but they did me no good, and I had almost given up in despair. A friend advised me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, so I got a bottle and felt much better, and by the time I had taken four I was completely cured, and I can assure you I cannot say too much in its praise, as it is all you claim for it, and more."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; price 25 cents.

"Nerviline" Cures Rheumatism

And Here is the Proof - A Solemn Statement From a Four-years' Cripple, Who Says "Nerviline" Did It.

"If I had lived through my sufferings another year it would have been a miracle." This is the opening sentence of the declaration made by Mr. J. Eccles Squires, member of one of the best-known families for twenty miles round Sydney. "My hands were drawn out of shape, even my fingers were gnarled and crooked—my lameness, stiffness and inability to get about all showed the havoc Rheumatism made with my health. The blessing of it all is that I have heard of Nerviline, and now I am able to tell and advise others how they may get well, too. My system was so weakened that I had to build up with a good tonic, so I took Ferrozone at meals. But I never stopped rubbing on Nerviline—it had a magic influence on my stiff, painful joints, and bottle after bottle was rubbed on the painful parts. Nerviline cured me. I am well today—have been well for 4 1-2 years."

CURED 4 1-2 YEARS

You also can cure rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, neuralgia or any pain or stiffness in the muscles or joints—to do so use Nerviline. Don't let your druggist substitute. Get Nerviline only: large size bottle 50c, or sample size 25c; sold everywhere, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.
