Very Serious Accident.

Patrick Daly, drayman, of 602 Waterloo street, was riding on a load of furniture this morning along Richmond street north, when he came in contact with a load of hay which knocked from under him a part of the furniture that he was using as a seat. He fell, striking his head on the hard road, inflicting a deep cut. He was taken to Dr. W. J. Mitchell's office, where the wound was dressed and he was then removed to his home. His wounds are of a very serious nature the use of his lower limbs being completely gone, but hopes are entertained of his recovery.

Juvenile Thieves.

Last month information was laid at the police station that a silver watch had been stolen from one of the workmen's pockets at Turner's carriage shop, Richmond street, on April 12. The detectives took the matter in hand, but as the watch did not turn up at any of the pawn shops, they gave up hope of catching the culprit. On Saturday last, however, the missing chronometer was offered for sale by Fred Stone, a youth of tender years, at one of the second-hand shops, but the keeper refused to purchase it unless he received a note from the lad's parents. The boy went away and returned in a short time with a note supposed to have been written by his father, and the sale was effected. The police got wind of the sale, and last evening placed a trio behind the bars. They were: Valentine Fenton, Fred Stone and Thomas May, all of whom had a hand in the theft. A number of other articles were found on the boys, which are thought to have been obtained in a like manner.

First Lords, Sisters, Cousins and Aunts.

Such was the cast of characters at the Grand Opera House last evening, when under the auspices of the Young Men's Liberal Conservative Association, the opera "H. M. S. Pinafore" was presented under the musical directorship of Mr. J. W. Fetherston with Mr. A. D. Holman as stage director. The affair drew an audience which filled the lower floor and balcony and quite a section of the gallery. It was looked upon as a success and that it was the first performance of this troupe would make it invidious to criticise, although all did fairly well, reflecting credit on themselves and their conductor. The following ladies consented to allow their names to be used as patronesses: Lady Macdonald, Mesdames John Carling, W. R. Meredith, J. H. Marshall, R. Bayly, T. Beattie, T. H. Carling, W. J. Reid, F. A. Fitzgerald, A. W. Porte, J. Priddis, I. F. Heilmuth, P. Mulkern, J. H. Fraser, E. Meredith, J. R. Minhinnick, C. B. Hunt, T. G. Meredith, John Labatt, T. H. Marsh, T. D. Hodgins, W. Cleghorn, Dr. W. F. Roome. The performance is to be repeated at an early date.

Funeral of the Late Mr. F. E. Chapman.

The remains of the late Mr. Fred. E. Chapman were conveyed to their last resting place at Woodland Cemetery yesterday, the funeral service being previously held at St. Paul's Cathedral, where he had been a valued member of the choir. The service was a choral one rendered by the full choir under the leadership of Dr. Sippi, the lessons being read by the Dean of Huron, assisted by the Rev. J. B. Hicks. The pulpit and chancel were draped in black, which, coupled with the beautiful rendering of the service, made the occasion impressive. The coffin was covered with floral tributes, among them being those from the London Cricket Club, the Young Men's Liberal Conservative Association, the choir of St. Paul's Cathedral, two from the ADVERTISER—one from the company and the other from the newsroom employes, and a large number from various friends. The pallbearers were Messrs. Cameron Brown, W. Eardley, W. Pope, E. C. Complin, Cecil Howell, Harry Howell, Walter Smith, E. Macomb. Several hundred friends of the deceased gathered in the cathedral to show their respect for Mr. Chapman's many good qualities. Among them were eleven members of the city police force (with whom the deceased was well acquainted in his professional capacity), a number of fellow employes and several of the city aldermen. At the conclusion of the service the body was conveyed to Woodland Cemetery and there laid in the burying plot next to the late Mr. Whitehead, with whose widow and daughter Mr. Chapman had lived for nearly seven years. Mr. Arthur J. Horan, nephew of the deceased, who had been in London attending to the funeral arrangements, left this city in the afternoon for Ottawa.

Sing Their Own Praises.

There are few, if any, in the great army of smokers who have not been, by experience, placed in a position to judge as to the merits of the "Norma" 10-cent cigar manufactured by H. McKay & Co., of London. In almost every cigar store and hotel in Canada this pet of all lovers of 10-cent goods has found its way, and is finding rapid and constantly increased sale. Unlike other similar goods, its fame is not of a transient nature. The "Norma" contains all the merits of the imported cigar, and has in many cases supplanted its more expensive rivals, and each successive season but adds to its host of admiring consumers. The large establishment of H. McKay & Co. is kept continually engaged in supplying the demands made upon them for the "Norma."

DIVORCE.

Both the press and the public of our Province to day realize the great necessity for the establishment of courts for the special purpose of trying divorce cases. The Maritime Provinces have long had these tribunals, and the people of Ontario are awaking to the fact that if divorce is right and constitutional the means of obtaining it should not be, as at present, through the long and tedious routine of Parliamentary discussion, but through a court with regular sessions, where all grievances of a marital nature could be ventilated and justice administered without partiality. The time has come when we as a body should with one loud, resistless voice demand legislation to this effect, and recognize the one great and important fact that Cottam's Washing Compound is the safest and most reliable means of divorcing dirt of every description from clothes and all articles of domestic use, and for utterly destroying all germs of infectious diseases. The sale of this compound is increasing daily, and wherever introduced it has never failed to give the greatest satisfaction. When ordering your groceries be sure and include a packet of the above compound, as it can be obtained from all grocers, and when once used it will become essential.
