FROM
Saturday's Edition:
British and Foreign.

[By Telegraph to Associated Press.]

LONDON, April 12.

In the Commons this evening Rathbone asked whether the Government had sent a Counter case respecting Alabama claims to Geneva.

Gladstone replied affirmatively, also that there was nothing relative to claims for indirect damages in the document.

A note accompanied the case containing a declaration of the Government for the purpose of reserving all rights appertaining to Queen in Arbitration, so that in the future, Government would not be fettered by any implied compromise.

Schenck has been duly informed of the course taken and notified Granville no objection on his part.

The American counter case would be presented to the Geneva Tribunal without prejudice to the rights of either party.

Schenck had since informed Granville that the United States concurred in the view that the presentation of other's counter case would not affect the position assumed by Great Britain on the question of indirect claims.

In answer to Disraeli, he said Cockburn would resume his duties at the Geneva Board, and that the British counter case would be laid before Parliament at an early day.

Disraeli said he wanted to impress upon the Government that the country was desirous of clearly understanding the conditions under which the Government sent its counter case to Geneva. This very act admitted on the surface the justice of the American claim for indirect damages.

Gladstone replied that the documents would be speedily forthcoming.

In the Lords, Granville replied substantially as Gladstone.

The subject was discussed by Earl Russell, the Duke of Richmond, Lord Westbury, Marquis of Salisbury, Duke of Somerset, Lords Penzance, Denmore and Colonsay.

In the Commons, later in the evening, Lawson moved an address for the withdrawal of Great Britain from any Treaty binding her not to interfere with other nations by war.

After debate, it was defeated, 126 to 21. Senators Trumbull and Schurz, and Greeley, spoke at a mass meeting in New York last night favoring the Cincinnati Convention.

Dominion Parliament.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE EVENING PAPERS.)
OTTAWA, April 13.

After recess Macdougall resumed debate. He said he would not discuss question of constitutionality at the present time. Parliament was assembled to enact laws necessary in the interests of the people. He was well satisfied with the address and believed the important measures not referred to in the speech would be brought down during the Session.

The first seven paragraphs then passed.

On the eighth, relative to canals, Street of Niagara expressed his satisfaction at the policy indicated in Speech and hoped improvement of navigation would be prosecuted vigorously.

The paragraph then passed.

On reading the section relating to Manitoba affairs, Mr. Masson, of Terrebonne, rose to defend Riel from the attack of the member from Lambton. Riel was undoubtedly wrong in the course he had followed, but he was no leader of banditti. He was the chosen leader of the French people of Manitoba, and for this should be spoken of in the same respectful terms applied to other citizens of the Dominion.

All the paragraphs of the address having passed, Mr. Holton asked the Premier to mention to the House something respecting his action in signing the Treaty of Washington, and especially as to the constitutional question of responsibility of himself and his colleagues in the matter.

Sir John said it would be highly inexpedient to enter into the matter before the Government brought the papers down, when the question would be fairly before the House. He would then be ready to discuss the matter to the fullest extent, and it would be due to the House and the country that it should be so discussed.

The address in reply then passed to a second reading, and was ordered to be engrossed.

The House then adjourned until Tuesday.

Mackenzie gave notice of moving for copies of correspondence &c. relating to the disposition of Crown Lands in Manitoba; also for correspondence &c. respecting the Fenian Invasion of Manitoba, and the intercourse of Governor Archibald with Riel; also copies of tenders, proposals &c. relating to the construction of the Pacific
