— Berry Wall, the king of the New York dudes, is a remarkable personage. His daily companions in his promenades along Fifth Avenue are two black poodles, which, like their master, are remarkable for their covering. The hair is left on their heads, necks and tails, also in a curious outline across their backs. The rest of their surface is shaven smoothly. That makes them so grotesque that the passers-by cannot help turning around to look again and of course the view takes in Berry himself. The crowning idiocy is a golden bracelet on one foreleg of each dog, matching similar ones on the owner's wrists.

— Harper's Magazine for December is certainly one of the finest numbers that has ever been issued of this first-class magazine. In engravings it is simply superb. The frontispiece, from a Dresden painting by a celebrated artist of "The Boy Jesus in the Temple," is one of the best pieces of wood engraving we have ever seen. It is almost perfect. The opening article is a very interesting one, entitled "Christmas Past," by Charles Dudley Warren, and is illustratcd by numerous engravings of Christmas festivities and superstitions in "Ye Olden Time." "The Dear Long Ago," illustrated by a full page plate, in a pretty poem. "A Few More Day's Driving," is an account of a pleasant drive through a portion of old England, with illustrations of the different places visited. An engraving of "Flora" from an original painting by Titian is also given in this number. "Nature's Serial Story," is Concluded. The January number will contain the opening chapters of "East Angles" by the same author as "Anne," and an anonymous novel called "At the Red Glove."

In addition to articles already enumerated in the present number, will be found a much larger selection of choice poems than usual entitled as follows:—"The Legend of Ogre Castle;" "Emelie;" "The Old Homestead;" "Ballade of Christmas Ghosts;" "Christmas Violets;" "Witchcraft, 1692; Witchcraft, 1884;" "Clouds Lingering Yet;" and "The Judgment of Solomon." Nearly all are illustrated. The short story department is also larger; and the "Editor's Drawer; contains its usual quota of good things, comical and otherwise. Our readers would do well to enclose 25 cents to Buckley & Allen, booksellers, stationers and newsdealers, 124 Granville St., Halifax, for a copy of this number.

—The Century for December has for its frontispiece a profile portrait of General Grant, engraved from a recently found photograph taken in 1863. It accompanies the second of the papers on the Civil War, "The Capture of Fort Donelson," which is contributed by General Lew Wallace, who commanded the Third division of Grant's army during the seige. A score of illustrations present views on the field, portraits of officers, maps, and (not the least interesting) an autograph copy recently made by General Grant of his famous "Unconditional Surrender" despatch to General Buckner. The "Recollections of a Private" are continued, with descriptions of the early "Campaigning to no Purpose" along the Potomac, with illustrations. In both papers the drawings are nearly all from photographs.

The fiction consists of "An Adventure of Huckleberry Finn," with an account of the famous Grangerford-Shepherdson Feud, by Mark Twain, being a tale of life along the Mississipi River, the first part of a novelette, in three parts, "The Knight of the Black Forest," a story of American girls in Europe, and the second part of "The Rise of Silas Lapham."

The other illustrated papers and the articles in "Topics of the Time," etc are fully up to the standard of this first-class magazine.

A Big Lake.

QUEBEC, Nov. 28th.—F. H. Bignell, of this city, who left in June last in command of the transport expedition to Lake Mistasini, has returned. He gives a few particulars of the expedition. The party with great difficulty, reached the province's northern boundary. They then crossed into Rupert's land, and at a distance of 360 miles of Lake St. John, reached the south-western extremity of the great Lake Mistassini. The general trend of the lake, so far as known, is from the south-west to the northwest, stretching away from Foam bay, and at a height of land in the southeast an unknown distance towards eastern Maine and Labrador. The waters of the lake swarms with fish of all kinds, and fur bearing animals abound The climate is agreeable and the region is suitable for agricultural purposes. It is said that the Hudson Bay company had an agency there for upwards of 100 years, but have held it secret that a lake of such dimensions ever existed in that part of the country. It is supposed to be as large as Lake Superior.

School Meeting.

At an adjournd school meeting, held on Monday evening, Nov. 24th, 1884, at the School house, in Bridgetown. L. S. Morse, Esq., Inspector of Schools, presided. The minutes of the annual and adjourned meetings were read, and the secretary was directed to place the name of Thomas Shaw, (elected trustee vice Rev. W. H. Warren, resigned, and to act as such for the remaining period of Mr. Warren's trusteeship,) at the head of the list of trustees. The ratepayers present having inspected plans and estimates of cost of the proposed alteration and addition to the school house, in this Section, No. 29, it was moved by D. Palfrey, seconded by F. Nicholson, that the school house building be cut in two, and a two-story, cross section be put in, as per plan submitted by Mr. Shaw, subject to the approval of the trustees. Passed unanimously.

It was distinctly understood that the proposed addition to the school house should be built during the mid-summer vacation.

It was then moved by Edmund Bent, seconded by Jas. DeWitt, that the trustees be authorized and empowered to hire on the security of the section, the sum of one thousand dollars, to be repaid in ten equal annual instalments, with interest. Section to be assessed accordingly. Passed unanimously.

The chairman called the attention of of the meeting to the "Act to secure better attendance at Public Schools," and put the following resolution prescribed by the statute, which is as follows:—Resolved, that the provisions of Chap. 17. of the Acts of 1883, entitled An Act to Secure Better Attendance at Public Schools, shall be made operative in this section.

The resolution was adopted by the meeting, and passed nem. con.

The Trustees requested that the Act itself be published with this report, in order that rate-payers of the section might be made aware of its provisions.

Meeting adjourned sine die.

A. MORSE, Sec. pro tem.

Bridgetown, Nov. 29th, 1884.

Below is the Act:—

AN ACT TO SECURE BETTER ATTENDANCE AT PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

(Passed the 19th day of April, A. D., 1883.)

Be it enacted by the Governor, Council and Assembly, as follows:

1. It shall be the duty of the chairman of each annual school meeting held under the provisions of Chapter 32 Revised Statutes, 4th Series, to call upon the qualified voters present at such meeting to vote yea or nay on the resolution embraced in schedule "A."

2. Whenever two-thirds of the qualified voters present shall have voted in favor of the resolution embraced in schedule aforesaid, it shall be the duty of the trustees of schools to ascertain through their Secretary or other persons appointed for that purpose before the first day of November following the school meeting, the names and ages of seven and twelve years inclusive, and the names of their parents or guardians, and to preserve carefully prepared lists of the same.

3. To ascertain as soon as possible after the first of June next ensuing how many of the children embraced in the foregoing list have not been at school for eighty full days during the current "school year," and to notify the parents or guardians of such children of the exact number of days' attendance made by their children from the first of November until the first of June.

4. To ascertain as soon as possible after the close of the school year how many of the children of the section have not been at school during the school year a period of eighty (80) full days, and to impose upon the parents or guardians of such children a fine of two dollars for each child who has attended school no portion of the year, and pro rata in the case of each child who has attended school but has not reached the period of eighty full days.

5. Such fines shall be collected in connection with the sectional school rates of the following year, and as a part thereof.

6. The rate payers present at the annual school meeting are empowered by this Act to make provision to compensate the Trustees for the discharge of the duties imposed by this Chapter.

7. In imposing fines for failure to attend the required eighty (80) full days, trustees shall exempt such parents or guardians as can show that their children are being properly educated otherwise than in the public schools, or whose children are by reason of delicate health, or being distant over two miles from a school, or other sufficient causes, prevented from attendance.

8. Parents or guardians fined under the provisions of this Chapter can appeal within ten days from the imposing of said fine to any Police Magistrate or Stipendary Magistrate residing in the section, or in absence of such officer to any acting Justice of the Peace, who may remit or modify the fine after hearing evidence in such case.

11. It shall be the duty of the Warden or Presiding Officer of each town in the Province having special municipal incorporation to submit annually on or before the first day of October to the Town Council the resolution embraced in Schedule A, with the substitution of the word "Town" for "Section" as found in said Schedule.

Whenever the resolution aforesaid shall have received the assent of a majority of the Members of the Town Council voting thereon, the Town Council shall and are hereby required to perform in respect to the Municipality thd duties assigned by the sections 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7, to Trustees of Schools in regard to their respective Sections.

13 Section 6 and 7 of this Act shall be taken as applicable to the City of Halifax and incorporated towns as well as to ordinary School Sections."

14. This Act may be cited as the "Act to secure Better Attendance at Public Schools"

SCHEDULE "A."

Resolved that the provisions of Chapter——, entitled; "An Act to secure better attendance at Public Schools" shall be made operative in this Section.

SAWS FOR THE UNITED STATES.—We understand that Messrs. Shurly & Dietrich, saw manufacturers, Galt, Ont., are making large shipments of saws to the United States. In view of the fact that these saws cost the Americans about double the price of the best goods made by their best makers, it speaks volumes for the Maple Leaf Saw Works, and shows that quality will tell even in the face of a high American tariff. We understand this firm contemplate establishing branch works across the border to accommodate their American customers.—Montreal Witness.

—At a recent meeting of the creditors of Thomas P. Connolly, bookseller and stationer, of Halifax, he stated that the cause of his failure was the recent payment of $1,300 city taxes. He had been for years an alderman and a few months ago was prominently talked of for mayor. It appears that one of the privileges of Halifax alderman for the past has been to escape prompt payment of taxes. Connolly ran behind eight years. The new mayor, Mackintosh, is running the civic machine on business principles and Connolly was forced to pay up like other people; hence his failure.

—An interesting experiment was tried last Friday at the Dominion telegraph Co., office in Montreal. Seven of the employees took hands and telephone messages were sent through their bodies. The men were in the act of talking and laughing when the electric shock was sent through them; it completely deprived them of the power of speech, and it was amusing to notice the amazed expression on their countenances as the shock suspended articulation, which was involuntarily resumed when it passed.

MR. EDITOR,—

Is it possible that so many of our farmers are rogues as well as rogues? A great many of the apples that have come to this market this season have been frauds. Only put up, have been branded No. 1, when the barrels contained but one or two layers of that quality on top, while the remainder were poor, wormy, windfalls. Men who put up fruit in that way deserve to be expelled, and you may depend on this, that when I put in my winter supply, I will find out the name of the packer before purchasing, and then if one barrel should turn out like some that have been purchased by a neighbor of mine, I will publish in the City papers the name of the party by whom the apples were put up. I intend to do this as a warning to others to follow. I believe that such a course is due to the public. I believe that it is the duty of every honest man who has been cheated to expose the rascal who perpetrated the fraud, in order that the public may be on their guard. Nova Scotia fruit growers are getting a very bad name both at home and abroad, and it is strange to me that they cannot see that systematic cheating in packing and branding apples must in the end completely spoil our markets. If our farmers are not naturaly honest I hope a law will be passed at the next session of the Legislature to compel them to be so. I hope a man will be allowed to sell a barrel of apples next year without placing his name and the quality of the fruit on it, and that a heavy penalty will be imposed on the man who cheats in the packing. I should think the honest farmers "and there are some in Annapolis county" would petition the Legislature to enact the most stringent legislation possible in regard to this matter. Something must be done to prevent a general condemnation of our fruit in the markets to which they are sent. The greatest boon that could be conferred on the dishonest fruit packer himself would be to compel him by legislative enactment, to be honest.

SINGULAR ESCAPE TRUE.—The Maggie Dalling, of this port, lately got ashore on the Bahamas, and still later met with another accident before she reached her destination in the West India Islands. The captain could not account for the vessel's running ashore, until the secret was explained by some captains who had carried similar cargoes to that on board the Dalling. It appears she had oil in cans, and the captains said the oil contained in the cans was sufficient to seriously affect the compass. This is said to be a fact not generally known by ship masters.—Portland Press.
