EXHIBITION BOOMING.

THE ART GALLERY.

One of the most interesting and instructive places at the exhibition is the art room as it is commonly called. It is situated on the second floor directly over the main entrance, and is well worthy of a visit by every visitor to the fair. Here is art in many lines, painting, needle work and wood carving. The walls are hung with pictures, and the fancy work is displayed on stands or counters forming a large square. Most of the pictures shown are owned by C. Flood & Sons, and are for sale, the paintings, in oils and water colors, entered for prizes being very few. It is to be noticed that, with the exception of a single map, there is not a drawing in pen and ink, pencil or otherwise, in the exhibit, and that is not to be wondered at when no prize is given.

But in embroidering and all that work that women delight to do the display is excellent. Miss Martha Corker of Fredericton shows some samples of her painting. The work is done on velvet, satin, felt and card board, and they are being highly praised.

Another interesting exhibit is that of Mrs. Wilson, a lady over eighty years of age. She exhibits a photo frame on which are embroidered two Union Jacks. A fine table cover is also shown. A crochet in cotton by Mrs. Beck is displayed on the wall. It is the British coat of arms, and is nicely done. The exhibitors of truly beautiful work are quite numerous.

The X ray photograph taken by Geo. N. Babbit of the Fredericton X Ray club shows a human foot embedded in which is a portion of a needle. Dr. Atherton was unable to tell the exact location of the needle till the X ray photograph showed its position. This is not the first time the machine has been used for such purposes, and no doubt it will be used much more when doctors and the public generally understand its great value.

REPORT OF JUDGES IN GRAIN, ROOTS AND VEGETABLES.

To the International Exhibition Committee, St. John:

Sirs—Your judges in classes 54, 55, 56, 57 and 61, comprising grains, field roots and garden products, beg leave to report that we have completed the work assigned to us, and that we have, with a few exceptions, found the exhibits in our department satisfactorily arranged. In cereals we found this exhibit of a very high class. Some of the samples of wheat and oats could hardly be excelled at any show on the continent. Potatoes were of an uniform excellent quality. Many of the samples, considering the lateness of the season, were surprisingly large. The field roots were a strong class considering the early date at which they were gathered. Small entry of corn, but some samples well matured. Garden produce was of an excellent quality, and a large exhibit.

Our duties, though onerous, have been pleasant, having received every courtesy from the officials in charge. Especially would we mention the valuable assistance rendered us in the discharge of our duty by our assistant, F. A. Pickett, who performed his work in a most satisfactory manner.

(Signed) W. M. BLAIR,
WALTER SIMPSON.

Sept. 13th, 1900.

CONCERNING FRUIT.

Report of D. H. Knowlton, the Judge of Fruit.

Judge Knowlton has presented the following report to Manager Everett:

Having examined and passed judgment on the fruit shown at your exhibition, I wish to express my pleasure with the uniform courtesy and assistance the exhibition officers and employes have everywhere given me. It will be a pleasure to recall the exhibition in the years to come.

I wish to commend to your consideration the efficiency of Mr. Peters in arranging and caring for the exhibits. The general effect this year is the best in my experience as judge of your previous exhibits.

In quality, the fruits are not as good as in some previous years, due probably to the long continued dry weather. The quality of the New Brunswick fruit is steadily improving, and the excellence of the fruit shown from your province must be a great help in stimulating fruit growing among your people.

I know you will pardon me for offering a suggestion or two in connection with your schedule of premiums. They are not intended as criticisms of your present list, but rather from a conviction on my part that you would be able to accomplish more in making up a first class exhibition and prove of greater service in an educational way to many people who enjoy studying the fruits others are growing among them.

Class 58, sec. 22 (seedling apples)—That the conditions be either modified so as to have it call out New Brunswick seedlings with a written statement of merits, habits of the tree, origin, etc., or discontinue the premium entirely. In the absence of definite conditions, exhibitors bring in anything they may happen to have not included in the list elsewhere, so that, as it now stands, the purpose of offering the premium is not carried out.

In the same class, sections 32 and 33 (fall and winter pears), oftentimes put a judge in a perplexing situation, in that he is usually called upon to judge of varieties. No two judges would be likely to agree and the same judge quite likely would not judge the second time the same as the first, and through no fault of the judge, either. To take the place of these two prizes on pears, I would recommend offering premiums on 5 Clapp's Favorite, 5 Bartletts, 5 Sheldon, 5 Beurre Clairgean. This list might be extended to advantage, as it would increase the size of the exhibit. This would make the premiums after the same style as in the single plate of apples.

In the plum department, class 59, the size of the exhibit would be largely increased by the addition of premiums on a few single varieties like the Bradshaw, Washington, McLaughlin, Lombard, Abundance, Burbank, and possibly some others.

THE FLOUR AWARDS.

Wm. Shaw and E. A. Smith reported last night on the merits of the various samples of flour milled in the province from New Brunswick grown wheat. They say:

"We have carefully tested the flours in respect of color, dress, texture and strength, and taking all into consideration have awarded as follows:

"1st prize—J. W. Hall Milling Co., Edmundston.

"2nd prize—J. M. Fripp, Woodstock.

"3rd prize—M. McLaughlin, Buctouche.

"Entitled to honorable mention—Wm. Richards Co., Bolestown, and W. W. Doherty, Campbellton.

"All the flours shown, with hardly an exception, were nicely ground and of good color, and would make light, wholesome bread, comparing favorably in most respects with Ontario flours.

"Samples of patent flour made from imported Manitoba wheat by the J. W. Hall Milling Co., Edmundston, and M. E. Riley & Co., St. John, are deserving of notice, ranking well with the best imported Manitoba patents. These flours, however, being of a different class and character, are not entitled to compete against the flours made from domestic wheat."
