LABORERS STRIKE.

The first trouble of any kind between the railway company and its laborers since the commencement of the Springbank line, occurred yesterday, when 23 of the men becoming dissatisfied, struck. They had been paid $1 a day so far but demanded an increase of 25 cents. This was refused and the dissatisfied ones left work together. There were plenty of idle men standing by however, and 25 were put on in less than five minutes. The strikers were very orderly.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT.

Mrs. Cersley, a young widow, was nicely caught in Whiskard's drygoods store about 10:30 o'clock last night. For some days past Mr. Whiskard had missed articles from the rear portion of the third story of the building. A pane of glass in a window had been broken very mysteriously, and it was decided to watch the place. Detective Nickle had not long to wait until the window was forced up and a woman climbed in. It was Mrs. Cersley, and when confronted by the detective she was greatly surprised. She wanted to withdraw the way she came, and persisted so stubbornly in doing so that it was necessary to half carry her down stairs, where the proprietor was waiting. Mrs. Cersley was taken to the station. She has been in the city only a short time, and rented a room over the store adjoining Whiskard's, where a quantity of the missing goods was afterwards found.

MISS MORFORD MARRIED.

The wedding was a quiet affair, only the immediate friends of the bride and groom being present, while the usual offices of bridesmaid and groomsman were not filled. Rev. Canon Hill, of Trinity Church officiated. After the wedding breakfast, Mr. and Mrs. Corey left in Mr. Morford's special car for Toronto, Montreal and Quebec, expecting to be away about three weeks. Mr. Morford accompanies the bridal party as far as Toronto. Among the numerous wedding presents were two checks for $1,000, given by the parents of the bride and groom; a piano, and other valuable articles.

WOMEN'S MORNING MUSIC CLUB.

A very delightful extra concert was given by the above club yesterday morning to introduce Mons. Le Simple, an excellent violincellist. M. All his numbers were of great artistic excellence and were enthusiastically received. Mr. Bleuthner played the accompaniments for M. Le Simple very efficiently. Miss Roblyn sang with her usual finish and excellence, and the Misses Holmes and Morphy gave an excellent rendering of Grieg's "Peer Gynt Suite." Following is the programme:

SUPREME COURT OF CANADA.

Latest Decisions Delivered by the Judges.

Ottawa, June 26.—The Supreme Court of Canada met this morning to deliver judgments. Present: Sir Justice Sir Henry Strong, and Justices Taschereau, Groyune and Sedgwick. The following judgments were announced: Young vs. McNider, dismissed; McLean vs. McNider, dismissede: McLean vs. Stewart, allowed, Chief Justice and Taschereau dissenting; Archibald vs. Delisle, dismissed; Baker vs. Delisle, allowed; Moat vs. Delisle, dismissed; Robertson vs. Grand Trunk Railway, dismissed; Town of Colchester vs. Valad, dismissed, Groyune disenting; Bell vs. Wright, allowed; Northwest Transportation Company vs. McKenzie, dismissed, Taschereau dissenting; Toronto Railway Company vs. the Queen, dismissed, Chief Justice and Justice King dissenting; Lundy vs. Lundy, allowed, Taschereau dissenting; Donohue vs. Hill, allowed; Belanger vs. Belanger, allowed; Leggett vs. Hamilton, dismissed; Banqueville Marie vs. Morrison, dismissed, Taschereau dissenting.

In the case of Odell vs. Gregory, Odell entered suit against his wife for separation on the ground of her misconduct with two men, and obtained a judgment. The Court of Appeal set it aside on the ground of condonation: he had taken her back subsequent to the alleged offense. Odell then appealed to the Supreme Court, but was met by a motion to quash his appeal on the ground of want of jurisdiction. The court was unanimous in quashing the appeal. Odell has a bill of divorce in the Senate, where it was rejected by a narrow majority, on the ground that the case was pending before the court. Whether it can now be proceeded with this session is a question. Mrs. Odell is charged with criminal conduct with a Quebec civil servant named Hamel, and a Montreal commercial traveler as her associates.
