THE SALE OF POISONS.

Law Forbids Druggists to Sell to Strangers and Orders Them to Register Every Sale.

Local druggists are taking a good deal of interest in the rider which the jury in the Grass inquest brought in to the effect that carbolic acid should not be sold except when registered. Some druggists claim that they pay $2 every year as members of the New Brunswick Pharmaceutical Society, and the association never sends them a line in regard to its by-laws. A prominent North End druggist said he could sell to a customer any drug or article he had in stock. He said he could sell morphine as quickly as chocolates as far as the law was concerned.

A prominent member of the society, when seen this morning in regard to their position said that the North End druggist showed ignorance of the law with which he was supposed to be familiar before he could practice his profession. It was not a question of obeying the laws of the society, but rather those of the country. He called attention to chapter 74 of the Consolidated Statutes, known as the "New Brunswick Pharmacy Act."

Section 10 of this act says that "it is unlawful for any person to sell or attempt to sell or leave exposed for sale or keep open shop for retailing any of the drugs named in schedule 'A' unless such person shall be registered under this act, and unless such person shall have taken out a certificate for the purpose. No person shall sell any poison named in the first part of schedule A unless the box or bottle in which the poison is contained is distinctly labelled with the name of the article and the word "poison" and the name of the establishment in which such poison is sold; and no person shall sell any poison unknown to the seller, and on every sale, before delivery, an entry must be made in a book kept for the purpose, stating the date of the sale, the quantity sold, the purpose for which it is sold and the name and address of the purchaser.

Schedule A may be found in the Consolidated Statutes, or in a copy of the by-laws of the Pharmaceutical Society. Carbolic acid is included in the list.
