Is highly gratified with Hood's Sarsaparilla. He was badly run down, had no appetite, what he did eat caused distress and he felt tired all the time. A few bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla effected a marvellous change. The distress in the stomach is entirely gone, he feels like a new man, and can eat anything with old-time relish. For all of which he thanks and cordially recommends Hood's Sarsaparilla.

March It is very important that during the months of March April May the blood should be thoroughly purified and the system be given strength to withstand the debilitating effect of the changing season. For this purpose Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses peculiar merit and it is the Best Spring Medicine.

April The following, just received, demonstrates its wonderful blood-purifying powers:

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Gentlemen: I have had salt rheum for a number of years, and for the past year one of my legs, from the knee down, has been broken out very badly. I took blood medicine for a long time with no good results, and was at one time obliged to walk with crutches. I finally concluded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken one bottle the improvement was so marked that I continued until I had taken three bottles, and am now better than I have been in years. The inflammation has all left my leg and it is entirely healed. I have had such benefit from

ATHLETICS.

WOMEN AS WRESTLERS.

HACKENSACK, N. J., April 1.—Mamie Morgan and Sadie De Forest, two young women, formerly members of a gayety company, were the principals in a one-round collar-and-elbow wrestling match at Garfield a couple of nights ago.

The young women were rivals for the hand of a young New Yorker, whose name is unknown here, and decided to settle the question of who should be the favored one by a test of strength, agility and endurance in the harness. On the night of the encounter both of them arrived at this place and proceeded in carriages with their seconds to a barn on the farm of Dominick Robinson at Garfield. About a score of sports from New York and Paterson had preceded them, and were gathered around the ring to see the sport.

Each of the women had been in training for some time, and on arriving at the ring side retired to another apartment and doffed their street clothing. When they again appeared they were arrayed in tight-fitting costumes. Miss Morgan in red and white and Miss De Forest in blue. They stepped lightly into the ring and to their respective corners.

The wrestling harness was quickly adjusted, and the women stepped to the center and shook hands. Both looked in the pink of condition, and the favored ones present congratulated themselves in anticipation of a lively and novel "go."

The girls surprised the crowd with their knowledge and science and their strength and agility. For half an hour they pulled and tugged and hauled in the most improved collar-and-elbow style, and finally Miss Morgan succeeded in throwing her opponent. She caught one hip and two shoulders and won the decision. The girls were congratulated by the sports present, and, after rearranging themselves into their street costumes, left for New York. Whether or not the young man for whom the young women battled will accept the result as final is not known here.

THE KENNEL.

"There's money in good dogs," says an expert. "Frank Dole, the New England breeder, cleared $7,000 in this line last year. The trade is full of tricks, and unless a man knows how to wire a pug's tail, paint up a coat, etc., he had best fight shy of the business."

THE TURF.

The English Derby of 1892 will be run on June 1.

The famous old Epsom course of England is to be remodeled, and a straightaway track will be built instead of the present one.

After years of fruitless effort Toledo, O., will have a first-class driving park. Matinees will be given every two weeks, and the week of July 11 will be devoted to a summer meeting, with $50,000 in prizes.

The recent declaration for the English Derby and Oaks left 56 colts in the former and 55 fillies in the latter. The Grand National has 66 entries, the City and Suburban 76, the Great Metropolitan stakes 52 and the Brabaham plate 92 entries.

Prentiss Bros.' stock barn at Downer's Grove, near Chicago burned on Wednesday morning, creamating 50 horses, including ten thoroughbreds. Loss $30,000.

A. H. Moore, proprietor of the Cloverdale Stock Farm, Pa., has purchased from Monroe Salisbury, of Pleasanton, Cal., the stallion Director, with a record of 2:17, for $75,000. Director is the sire of Direct with a record of 2:06.

THOUGHTS THAT BREATHE.

God rights him that keeps silence.—[From the Persian.

Let us serve God in the sunshine while he makes sunshine. We shall then serve him all the better in the dark when he sends the darkness.

Every to-morrow has two handles. We can take hold of it by the handle of anxiety or the handle of faith.

When you are reading a book in a dark room, and come to a difficult part, you take it to a window and get more light, so take your Bible to Christ.—[McCheyne.

God gives to every man an opportunity, but not every man improves the opportunity that God gives him. Every man's life is a plan of God, in the sense that every man has a plan of God in his behalf set before him, for his acceptance or rejection. But it is for every man to accept or reject God's plan as he will, and upon his choice pivots his character and his destiny. It is the man who fills the place God offers him, whose life is an eternal success. It is the man who refuses to fill the place that God opens before him, whose life is an eternal failure.

IMPORTANT EVENTS!

Often Recorded by the Press—Records Not Easily Forgotten.

Certain wonderful events that occur from week to week are recored by the daily papers of Canada, and often create much comment and surprise amongst all classes of our population. Many of these recorded events are soon forgotten—they pass away like a flitting cloud and are remembered no more.

Some events, especially those that are of importance to our national well-being, are treasured in the minds of the thoughtful and intelligent of our people. When noble works and grand deeds are thus borne in mind, our people know how to judge and act when certain emergencies arise.

Our people are quick to discern grand and worthy deeds and actions which show good results in the community. They feel that in some degree men and women are made better; and that notwithstanding the fact that the world is evil, there is still something worth living and working for.

The press of Canada has given to the public without stint some interesting events that have taken place in various sections. To one class in particular, these recorded events have proved a blessing and brought comfort and cheer to many despondent hearts.

The newspapers have informed us of great and mighty cures wrought through the agency of that wonderful remedy, Paine's Celery Compound. Week after week we have had proof of men and women, old and young, who were saved from the dark tomb through the power of that remedy which seems to be the popular medicine of the day with all classes.

It seems to be able to take hold of the worst cases—those for whom physicians held out no hope—who were pronounced beyond all earthly help. The weak, nervous, sleepless, despondent, morose, dyspeptic and rheumatic are given a new life, and anxious parents and relatives are filled with joy. All these things have been accomplished by Paine's Celery Compound. Truly, these are events which must sink deep into every reader's heart, and cause serious thought and reflection. Such grand and noble works benefit us as a nation, and future generations will bless the name of the great discoverer of the grandest remedy ever given to suffering humanity.

A Liberal Extension.

First three months free of charge. On account of the large number of invalids who have been unable owing to the rush to consult the staff of eminent physicians and surgeons located at No. 456 Talbot street, (near Queen's avenue), London, before May 1st will receive services for the first three months free of charge. The only favor desired is a recommendation from those whom they cure. The object in pursuing this course is to become rapidly and personally acquainted with the sick and afflicted.

The doctors treat every variety of disease and deformity and will perform all surgical operations free this month, viz: The removal of cancers, tumors, cataract, polypi, etc. All diseases of the eye, ear, throat, lungs, heart, stomach, liver, kidneys, bladder, and all female difficulties arising from whatever cause, all nervous prostrations, failing vitality, and diseases originating from impure blood, treated with the greatest success.

Catarrh in all its various forms cured by their new method, which consists in breaking up the cold-catching tendency, to which every person suffering from catarrh is susceptible.

Invalids will please not take offense if they are rejected as incurable. The physicians will examine you thoroughly, free of charge, and if incurable, they will positively tell you so. Also caution you against spending more money for useless medicine.

Hours from 9 a.m. to 5, and from 7 to 8 p.m. Sundays, from 2 to 4 p.m.

Invalids outside the city can write, and be treated by express.

Address all communications to Mr. William H. Hale, Manager, No. 456 Talbot street, London, Ont.

Mr. Job Scales, of Toronto, writes: "A short time ago I was suffering from Kidney Complaint and Dyspepsia, sour stomach and lame back; in fact, I was completely prostrated and suffering intense pain. While in this state a friend recommended me to try a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. I used one bottle, and the permanent manner in which it has cured and made a new man of me is such that I cannot withhold from the proprietors this expression of my gratitude.

JUDGING AT SHOWS.

Why Experts Are Needed to Judge Sheep and Swine.

An Important Question Under Consideration by the Western Fair Directors.

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

At the last meeting of the Western Fair Board a communication was read from me as secretary of the Dominion Sheep Breeders' Association and the Dominion Swine Breeders' Association, asking that one expert judge be appointed to pass on all classes of sheep and swine. The request was opposed by several of the directors. The authority which I had for asking the above will be learned from the following:

The Dominion Swine Breeders' Association at a very largely attended meeting in March, 1890, unanimously decided to ask, through their secretary, that all the large fair associations in Ontario appoint but one judge to pass upon each class and that he be an expert judge of the variety he is asked to pass upon. The Dominion Sheep Breeders' Association passed a similar motion at their last meeting, held Feb. 5, 1892. This association further suggested that all animals shown in the pure-bred classes be registered or eligible to register. There are now records for all varities of pure-bred sheep and swine. Why, then, should grade animals be allowed to show in pure-bred classes among sheep and swine any more than among cattle and horses? To allow grade animals to show and win prizes in pure-bred classes is a detriment to the country, because such animals are sold to farmers who are not posted in pedigrees and breeding, on the strength of their having won prizes at the Western Fair, and while they may look all right they will not transmit their good qualities as surely as pure-bred sires or dams.

As many readers are not acquainted with either the Dominion Sheep Breeders' or Swine Breeders' Associations, allow me to explain. The membership is large and constantly growing; nearly every breeder and all exhibitors are members, with very few exceptions. Each of these associations is recognized by the Ontario Government, and each is given a grant. Hon. John Dryden, Minister of Agriculture, is an active member of each association. Each stands on precisely the same footing as the Western Dairymen's Association or the Creamery Association. If one or both of these associations were to ask the Western Fair Board to appoint Professor Robertson as expert judge of dairy goods at the coming fair, would it not be reasonable to expect that he would be appointed to judge the goods sent by these dairymen? It certainly would be just and proper that he should be appointed. The sheep and swine add much to the attraction of the fair. Breeders individually go to much expense in preparing their stock and in bringing them to the exhibition. How very disappointing and disgusting it is to exhibitors after having spent a whole year preparing animals to have them judged by the veriest novices, or by men not experts. The arguments pro and con have been carefully threshed out by each of the associations, and both have unanimously asked for one judge to act for each class or grade. We have a number of expert judges in Canada capable of doing the work and doing it well. A number of such men are named each year by each of these associations, and their names and addresses are sent to the secretaries of each of the fair boards, or can be obtained by any interested party from myself. No one will object to an expert judge but a person who has had no general or large experiences as an exhibitor. Objections are raised to the one judge plan by men who have little or no knowledge, but who are always anxious to act as judge—for the honor of the thing and the free passes, etc., which a judgeship brings. Another class who object to expert judges are directors who wish to appoint their friends to posts of honor, for reasons best known to themselves. The last time the Provincial Show was held here, I was appointed to meet the Board and request that expert judges be appointed. Mr. Charles Rykert objected on the ground that there was not a man named as an expert from his constituency. The truth was there were no men recognized as expert judges of sheep or swine in his section. Though such was the case Mr. R. insisted that he had a right to nominate a proportion of the judges. The time is now at hand when exhibitors as a class will not put up with this sort of thing. Why should our fair managers object to judges who have been accepted by the exhibitors? The plan adopted in nominating these men is as follows: Take as an example the Sheep Breeders' Association. A director is elected to represent each breed of sheep. He is chairman of the division for that breed. At the annual meeting each director calls together all the breeders of the sheep he represents and they select a number of expert judges for that particular breed. Each breed of sheep is treated similarly. When this work has been completed the chairman of each division hands in his report. These reports are then taken up singly and each name thereon is read to the entire meeting. If one member of the association objects to any gentleman acting as an expert judge his name is at once struck from the list. It is the duty of a breeder to speak then or not at all. If our fair associations accept and act upon the requests of the Sheep and Swine Breeders' Associations they will remove from the boards any responsibilities in these particulars. All responsibilities will then rest with the breeders themselves.

T. W. HODSON.

The reason why "Myrtle Navy" tobacco has taken so strong a hold upon the smoking community is because it is the genuine article. No man has a desire to smoke anything else than tobacco. Even opium is not smoked for the pleasure of smoking it, but for its soporific effects. The desire for tobacco is, of course, best satisfied by getting the pure article, and when to this is added the finest quality the satisfaction is complete. These two things are combined in the "Myrtle Navy."

GLAD TIDINGS.

Alaska. A writer in the Presbyterian Journal says: "The church at Sitka, with its 300 communicants won from heathenism, shines like the pole star amid surrounding darkness, and proves what can be done to uplift and purify and bless the most hopeless of our race. This mission is under the care of the Home Board of the Presbyterian Church, and its flourishing schools are supported by the Woman's Executive Committee, its auxiliary, having their headquarters at No. 53 Fifth avenue, New York. In the prosecution of this missionary work homes have been brightened, hearts have been won, deathbeds made triumphant; but there remaineth yet much land to be possessed, awaiting for adequate means and workers. One gives the following instances of children rescued and sheltered by the Sitka Industrial School: A few years ago a little girl was accused of witchcraft. The tribe bound her with a rope, a stalwart chief, holding one end of the rope, walking in advance and dragging the child after him, while another came behind holding the other end of the rope. These men were the admiration of the tribe, in holding between them a puny, starved girl of 10 years. She was rescued by Professor Austin, who was in charge of the school, and given a home. A bright boy had been sold twice as a slave before he was brought to the school. Another had been shot as a slave and a bullet sent crushing through his shoulder. Another had been tied up as a witch and kept four days without food, when he was rescued."

An African Training-School. On July 21, 1841, the training institution at Lovedale, South Africa, was established, beginning with twenty pupils. At last accounts the number in actual attendance was 660. The institution has accomplished so much, and has been so favorably regarded by all intelligent observers, that the British East Africa Company has determined to open an institution in the interior, not far from Mombasa, on the same plan. Four years ago the presses of Lovedale printed a list of all the young people who had gone forth from this institution. They then numbered about 2,600 former pupils still living, most of them natives, and occupying honorable positions, some of them distinguished men. But that is not the whole of it, as said a colonial journal of that time, "these thousands of young people, to-day useful men, paying taxes, consuming and producing all kinds of commodities, would be, except for Lovedale, naked barbarians, daubing themselves with red ochre."

Mexico. The American Board says of Mexico and its work in that country: "The masses are intensely ignorant and bigoted, and though other forms of religion than the Roman Catholic are tolerated by law, they can hardly be said to be tolerated by the people. Yet light is breaking in upon the darkness. British and American companies have built railways, so that there are nearly 6,000 miles of railroad in operation. Owing to the facilities of intercourse, the two missions of the American Board in Mexico have now been consolidated. The one mission has now sixteen missionaries, seven of whom are ordained. There are ten churches, with a membership of 456. A training-school for evangelists has recently been established on the northern border, which will be located just across the river at El Paso, in Texas, where Spanish-speaking young men from Mexico and the southwestern section of the United States will be trained for effective service."

Japanese Christian Converts. Out of the 300 members of the House of Representatives in Japan thirteen are baptized Christians. Of these seven are classed as radical and two as independent. If this average were preserved throughout Japan it would signify that Christianity had gained over 1,500,000 converts. But aside from any such computation the figures are interesting as showing the success that Christian preaching has met with among the upper orders of the Japanese as well as among the lower, notwithstanding the contrary claim of some persons. Assuming the total number of Christians of all denominations in Japan to be 100,000, or 27 in every 10,000, the percentage in the class from which members of the House of Representatives are drawn is 433.

Items of Interest. It is remarked in the Church of Scotland Record that the attendance at all the English churches of Calcutta has fallen off. Increasing secularization of the Lord's Day is one reason.

The missionaries of Shanghai have decided to invite the Y.M.C.A. of the United States to establish a society there, primarily for work among the Chinese young men of the city and settlements.

"Certain languages are mighty conquerers. They almost divide the world between them, while others are fast dying out. The whole Bible has been provided in all the great conquering tongues."—[Church Missionary Intelligencer.

Mrs. A. J. P. Newcombe, who is making an appeal in New Zealand for missions in India, says most pertinently in the New Zealand Baptist: "Let us remember that home missions trace their descent from foreign, and not foreign from the home." She opens to us in her letter an interesting glimpse of the Australian missions working in India.

The proceedings of the Synod of the Presbyterian Church of Otago and Southland contain a letter from the Governor of New Zealand, in which his Excellency says: "I was much interested to see the manner in which the religious spirit of our forefathers continues to live and flourish in their descendants, and how great an agent in the peopling of the earth."

RHEUMATISM.

It is certainly not pleasant to be compelled to refer to the indisputable fact that medical science has utterly failed to afford relief in rheumatic cases. We venture the assertion that although electricity has only been in use as a remedial agent for a few years, it has cured more cases of Rheumatism than all other means combined. Some of our leading physicians, recognizing this fact, are availing themselves of this most potent of nature's forces,

To Restore Manhood and Womanhood

As man has not yet discovered all of Nature's laws for right living, it follows that everyone has committed more or less errors which have left visible blemishes. To erase these evidences of past errors, there is nothing to equal Electricity as applied by the Owen Electric Body Battery and Suspensory. Rest assured any doctor who would try to accomplish this by any kind of drugs is practising a most dangerous form of charlatanism.

We Challenge the World to show an Electric Belt where the current is under the control of the patient as completely as this. We can use the same belt on an infant that we would on a giant, by simply reducing the current. Other belts have been in the market for five or ten years longer, but to-day there are more Owen Belts manufactured than all other makes combined.

Electric Insoles.—Dr. Owen's Electric Insoles will prevent Rheumatism and cure Chilblains and Cramps in the feet and legs. Price $1, by mail.

Beware of Imitations and Cheap Belts.

Our attention having been attracted to an imitation of the Genuine Owen Electric Belt, that is being peddled through the country from town to town, we desire to warn the public against such.
