Mould Outlines 44 Reasons For Voting Labor Ticket

Dr. H. A. Stevenson Says He Can Finish Anything the Other Fellows Start About His Attitude On Gas and Street Railway Fares.

There are no less than 44 legislative reasons why the Labor candidates should be supported during the coming campaign, according to Arthur Mould, who briefly addressed members of the London Labor party in session last night.

The speaker reviewed concisely the stewardship of the Farmer-Labor administration, dealing chiefly with "social" legislation, which he pointed out had been made possible by the government now going to the country for a mandate. This should prove of vital interest to the woman voters particularly, he declared, explaining that more would be heard about it when the Labor nominee, Dr. Hugh A. Stevenson, takes the stump.

Mr. Mould warned all the workers in attendance not to anticipate much in the way of advertisement from the "old-line party press," and urged the "button-hole" method of approach. More could be done in that manner, he stressed, with the aid of handbills as an emergency, to combat side issues that would arise from time to time.

Mr. Mould cited an instance when this would be highly beneficial, in the event that Howard Ferguson came to town to engender enthusiasm among the Tories for their candidate, Sir Adam Beck. The speaker seemed to relish this probable event as a wonderful opportunity for the Labor people to score with telling emphasis, and refrred to Sir Adam Beck and Howard Ferguson as old and bitter opponents now allied in the same camp.

During the evening Dr. Stevenson dwelt briefly upon a few of the most outstanding items of legislation credited to the U. F. O.-Labor administration.

The member for London explained to The Advertiser that he would have something to say about local issues directly the fight opens in earnest. Questioned in connection with his stand in the legislature relative to the City Gas Company bill and the London Street Railway increased fares, Dr. Stevenson replied, "Let the other fellows start that going and I'll finish it."

During the evening Mrs. Bunard reported that the members of the Women's Labor Party had already commenced their campaign, and while confident of a successful outcome, were not abandoning their efforts.

SHERIFF GRAHAM TO STILL ACT AS HIGH CONSTABLE

County Council To Consider New Official At December Session.

NAME 16 CONSTABLES

Comparatively Small Force To Be Stationed At Important Points.

Sheriff D. A. Graham will act as high constable for Middlesex county for the remainder of the year. This was decided at the session of the county council yesterday.

Applications for the position of high constable to be considered at the December session of the council will be called for at once. Sixteen constables will be appointed, as soon as the resignations from the 75 constables now on the list are received. Middlesex has asked Judge Talbot Macbeth and County Clerk John Stuart to ask for these resignations. The new constables will be stationed at the following places: London, Strathroy, Parkhill, Glencoe, Wardsville, Newbury, Mount Brydges, Kerwood, Lucan, Ailsa Craig, Dorchester, Thorndale, Westminster, London township, Lobo, and Delaware.

The high constable's salary will be $1,800 a year, and he will be provided with $1,200 for a car, and will be allowed expenses and upkeep.

All the constables will be appointed O. T. A. enforcement officers so that the county may collect all fines levied.

Quite a heated debate started over a motion to cut the salaries in the treasury department. The finance committee recommended that County Treasurer T. E. Robson and Mr. Houghton be kept on until December at $3,000 a year. When the council went into committee of the whole on the question, a motion was made that the combined salaries be $2,500.

Councillor B. Pike said a man had offered to carry out the duties of the office for $2,500.

"I won't support putting Captain Robson out," declared Councillor John Morgan. "Government men who give as long service as he has are superannuated and given good pensions."

"I challenge Mr. Morgan to say I was the means of putting a cheap man into the office," declared Councillor Pike, in reply to the address Mr. Morgan gave.

"People were led to believe there was a change coming, when at the last session we appointed Captain Robson until July 1," added Mr. Pike.

Supports Captain Robson.

Warden Ross declared the East Williams treasurer had first offered to do the work of the office for $1,200, but when he received first-hand knowledge of the duties had said: "Count me out altogether." "The books have never been in better shape," said the warden.

"We have two good men there. It is not a one-man job."

Councillor Thos. Elliott of West Williams did not mince words as to how he stood on the question.

"Some time ago I undertook to reduce the salaries of county officials. I was alone," he said. "I am not in favor of reducing the treasurer. How do you expect a man to live if he doesn't get a living wage?

"If he is cut I'll lock up the township of West Williams. The county won't get the appropriation, and it will have to be fought out in the courts."

The council decided on the finance committee's recommendation that each official get $1,500.

The Strathroy Hospital was granted $10,000 towards building a new wing. The grant will be made in four equal instalments, the first to be made in 1924.

The council lined up as follows on the question:

Yeas—Councillors Fuller, Hodgins, Winter, Henry, Ross, Vining, Calvert, Harrison, Morgan, Pike, Lewis, McDougall, Collins, Cousins, Gordon, Laidlaw, Boler, McPherson, Sullivan, James and Warden Ross. Nays—Councillors Reycraft, D. Lewis, McGuire, Holman, Elliott, McGuigan, Turnbull and Stinson. Councillor Turnbull declared it was not fair to place such a burden on next year's council.

The usual grant of $800 was made to the Strathroy Hospital.

No action was taken on a motion to ask the government to place a tax of two cents a gallon on gasoline, instead of raising the auto license fees to obtain money for highway maintenance.

The warden and treasurer were authorized to borrow $360,000 in 90 four thousand dollar notes to meet current expenses. A bylaw confirming this will be prepared.

Will Administer Insulin.

It was decided that insulin should be administered county patients needing it, at the county expense, when necessary.

After a debate on assessment equalization, the council decided to reduce Westminster township from $68 to $5 an acre. This will mean a loss next year to the county of $1,745 in taxes, but it is expected it will be restored by a higher mill rate.

Councillor C. B. Vining, the reeve of Dorchester, the chairman of highway improvement committee, and the engineer, were empowered to issue debentures for $14,000 for bridge work at Dorchester.

On account of the disastrous fire which swept the business section of the village, the council decided to remit $300 taxes to Ailsa Craig.

The special grants to county high schools will be the same as last year, the council decided.

Councillor Fuller, Councillor Cousins and the county clerk were appointed a committee to arrange for the patrolling by county constables of the various townships.

Delegations from Mount Brydges, Nissouri and Coldstream sought relief from their Continuation School troubles in pleas to the council.

Mount Brydges has included four other public school sections in its Continuation section. Mount Brydges started the school, and Mount Brydges has had to pay for it. The delegation asked to be allowed to keep the four outside sections in the one big section to maintain the community spirit, but to be allowed to consider pupils from the four sections outsiders.

Several speakers requested that, in order to maintain continuation schools, all pupils who reside outside the public school section in which continuation school is built, be placed in the category of county pupils.

County Clerk John Stuart, asked for an opinion, advised the continuation school districts be dissolved. He advised the delegation to petition the legislature for an amendment to the school act to allow the dissolution.

Mr. Stuart declared the resident ratepayers should pay more for the schools than those who send pupils from a distance.

Peter Hocke billed the county for $20, claiming damages when his horse and buggy tumbled into a ditch in East Williams, in attempting to pass on a narrow strip of road. The matter was referred to the highway improvement committee.

Accounts from the Children's Aid Society for $72.50, and from the Sisters of St. Joseph for $95, for the maintenance of county children, were referred to the finance committee.

NEW CITY HALL PLAN NOT BEEN ABANDONED

Question Believed Laid Over Until Next Council Meeting.

Notwithstanding the opinion of Ald. William A. Wilson, the new city hall proposal has not been filed for reference.

At the last regular session of the city council, Ald. Leonard Douglass possessed the right to move for a reconsideration of the project. The councillors extended him the favor, however, of "laying over" the question until the next meeting.

Ald. Douglass asserted that he was securing information that would be valuable to the council in its further consideration of the undertaking and did not want it to be concluded that he was seeking the adjournment because he was the only alderman present who was opposed to the commencement of a new city hall in 1923.

In the meanwhile a special committee, appointed a couple of weeks ago to assist Building Inspector A. M. Piper to bring in an estimate of the required floor space in the new building, is still active.

Ald. Wilson, another of the outstanding opponents of a hall in 1923 or on the McCormick site, was not in attendance at the last meeting of the council, but he promises to be present when the issue comes up for final review.

Ald. Colbert has voiced the belief that some of the opposing councillors have "changed their coats" and will not now oppose the project.
