THE St. John Business College
S. KERR, Principal

J. King Kelley, county secretary, returned Tuesday from Little River, where there was a meeting of the assessors to hear several complaints. In the afternoon the councillors inspected the municipal home and were greatly pleased with conditions there. They questioned many of the 205 inmates and found all well satisfied. Mr. Kelley said last night that he thought great credit was due Superintendent Wood and Mrs. Wood for the way in which they are conducting the home.

CONDITION OF LUMBER MARKET ON OTHER SIDE

Information Furnished by Duncan, Ewing & Co., and by Farnworth & Jardine — Import Has Not Been Successive.

Duncan, Ewing & Co.'s timber circular dated Liverpool, Nov. 1, says of the state of the spruce market:

N. B. and N. S. Spruce Deals.—The import has not been excessive, amounting in Liverpool and Manchester to 8,460 standards, whereas the deliveries amount to 11,750 standards, leaving a stock at both ports of 28,230 standards against 23,670 standards at the corresponding period last year; and 25,940 standards in 1908. Owing to the increased cost of import in consequence of advanced freight and insurance rates, the import for the remainder of the year will be very small, and prices are not likely to suffer any relapse, although sellers find it difficult to obtain any increase in values.

The prices quoted for St. John, Miramichi spruce are from £8 5s. to £8 10s.

Farnworth & Jardine's circular of the same date, gives the same figures of the import and quotes the prices for St. John deals at from £7 17s. 16d. to £8 5s. c.i.f., according to specification.

Knitted chenille rugs can be made out of old chenille portieres, no matter how worn they are. An old golden-brown one, much stained and dilapidated, was quickly raveled and wound into balls, then knit on large wooden needles to the desired size. The edge was finished with a coarse shell-stitch in loose crochet. No stains are visible, and the rug is much admired.

IN THE COURTS

Probate Court.

Tuesday, Nov. 15.

In the probate court today before Judge Armstrong the matter of the estate of the late Charles A. Stockton, barrister, came up. By his will he left a life interest in his estate to his wife, Jacobina Stockton, and died intestate as to the remainder and appointed his wife executrix. She died without having fully administered her husband's estate. Application was made on a previous day for administration of the unadministered estate of Charles A. Stockton with the will annexed to the executors of the widow, on the ground that administration of the unadministered estate should go to the executor of a deceased executor. This was refused, the court holding that, notwithstanding the clause in the probate court act which permits administration to be given to an executor of an executor, that administration should follow the interest in the estate and not pass to those who have no interest therein; and that administration should therefore go to the next of kin of Charles A. Stockton.

Today the petition of Margaret Taylor was presented, for administration in favor of R. O. Stockton and he was sworn in as such administrator cum testamento annexo de bonis non. The unadministered estate, none of which is disposed of by the will, amounts to $825. Dr. Silas Alward, K. C., proctor.

In the estate of Count R. V. DeBury, there was an adjourned hearing on passing the accounts of E. T. C. Knowles and T. P. Regan, the executors and trustees. At 1 o'clock the further hearing was adjourned till December 14 next at 11 o'clock. Daniel Mullin K. C., and J. Roy Campbell, are advocates for some of the next of kin. C. F. Sanford is advocate for the executor of one of the next of kin.

In the estate of Katherine Murdock, widow, the petition of Robert Keltie Jones, the executor was presented with his accounts as such asking that the same be passed upon and allowed and order for distribution made. A citation was ordered to be published and served on the residuary legatees, returnable on December 12 next. Barnhill, Ewing & Sanford, are proctors.

In the estate of Mary B. Gilbert, widow, Rev. William C. Gaynor, the executor and trustee, presented his accounts with a petition to pass the same and for order for distribution. A citation was issued returnable on December 30, at 11 a. m. Stephen B. Bustin is proctor.

In re Bessie B. B. Parker, an infant the petition of the infant and her mother, the widow of Rev. Isaac N. Parker, was presented, asking for the appointment of the latter as guardian of the estate of the daughter, in order to obtain $700, being the amount of a policy of insurance upon the life of the late Mr. Parker in the Independent Order of Foresters payable to the daughter. The appointment was made, H. H. Pickett is proctor.

Before H. H. Pickett, judge pro hac vice, in the estate of Hugh S. Normansell, the judge of probate being the sole executor and trustee and being desirous of passing his accounts, application was made to the government for the appointment of a judge pro hac vice. The government named Mr. Pickett and the petition of the executor and trustee was presented with his accounts, praying that the same be passed. A citation was issued returnable December 13 at 11 a. m. Beverley R. Armstrong is proctor.

Chancery Division.

Wednesday, Nov. 16.

The Chancery Division, November term, opened yesterday morning at 11 o'clock with His Honor Chief Justice Barker presiding. D. K. Hazen presented the petition of the committee of the estate and person of Wallace D. Plummer, a lunatic, for an order to sell his interval land in the parish of Canaan, Queens county. The court considers.

As the defenrant's pleadings were not ready in the case of Lodge vs. Calhoun, the case was adjourned until the next court. M. G. Teed, K. C., is for the plaintiff, and F. R. Taylor for the defendant.

On application of T. P. Regan, the case of the Attorney General vs. the St. John Lumber Co., goes over until the next court.

The case of McGaffigan vs. Willett Fruit Co. goes over owing to the absence of the defendant's counsel, Mr. Wilson, from the city. M. G. Teed, K. C., appears for the plaintiff, and A. A. Wilson, K. C., and J. King Kelley for the defendant.

The court then adjourned sine die.

In Chambers.

Before Mr. Justice McKeown in chambers yesterday morning an order for directions was made in the case of Campbell vs. Donaldson Bros. Recorder Baxter, K.C., appeared for the plaintiff and F. R. Taylor for the defendant. The same in McIntosh & Co. vs Sumner, C. F. Sanford for the plaintiff and H. A. Powell, K. C., for the defendant.

Probate Court.

In the probate court yesterday the will of Dr. Allan O. Earle, K.C., barrister-at-law, was proved. He gives all his estate, real and personal, to his sisters, Eliza C., and Maria Earle, and the survivor of them as joint tenants, and he nominates them as executrices. They were sworn in as such. Real estate in Kings and St. John counties is $800; personal estate $23,000. J. A. Belyea, K. C., and J. Roy Campbell, proctors.

The court took up the matter of George A. Smith, late of Concord, Mass, teamster. He died in Concord on May 3, last intestate. His brother, John D. Smith, of Concord, farm superintendent, was appointed administrator of the estate there and now, on the petition of the mother of deceased and his other brother and sister, ancillary letters of administration were issued to John D. Smith on the estate of the deceased, in the province. It consists of a one-half interest in farm lands in St. Martins, such half-interest being valued at $2,500. Personal property is $200. S. A. M. Skinner is proctor.

The family bottle of glue generally becomes a great nuisance and if little use after it has been opened for a few days. It becomes hardened and impossible to use. It may be softened by heat or by adding a teaspoonful or more of vinegar to the bottle, and allowing it to stand for a few minutes. If the bottle can be kept in a warm place all of the time it will stay soft as long as there is any left.

Which is Your Choice?

Sloppy, leaky wooden troughs, or clean, durable Concrete?

Wooden drinking troughs are about as reliable as the weather.

They are short-lived and require replacing every few years—not to mention continual patching to keep them in repair.

The best of wood cannot withstand, for long, constant dampness and soaking. Its tendency to rapid decay soon shows itself in leaks and stagnant pools of water around trough.

Contrast with this the durability, cleanliness and well-ordered appearance of Concrete.

Which?

The dampness which destroys lumber only intensifies the strength and hardness of Concrete.

You can impair a wooden trough with comparatively little use; but it takes a powerful explosive to put a Concrete water tank out of business.

Which

is your choice—expense-producing Wood, or money-saving Concrete?

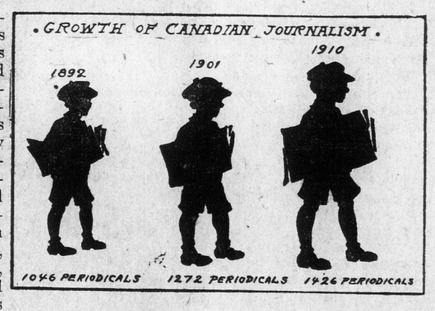
FIGURES THAT TELL STORIES

"OF MAKING MANY BOOKS."



THE newsdealers of Canada have a larger assortment by about 400, of Canadian publications to handle now than was the case twenty years ago. In 1892 there were 101 daily papers published in Canada; this year there are 135; in 1902, the number of weeklies was 691; to-day there are 1,015 weekly publications. Of monthly, semi-monthly, or less frequent publications, there were 254 in 1892; to-day these exceed 276. The number of daily papers is sufficient to provide one for every 50,000 of our population, and the weekly and other periodicals would average one in every 5,000 Canadians. These publications cover a variety of languages, among which may be mentioned, besides English, French, German, Swedish, Norwegian, Danish, Icelandic, Hungarian, Italian, Hebrew, Chinese, Japanese, Galician, and Micmac Indian. They cater as well to many classes of readers. There are news journals and sporting magazines, religious periodicals, and professional magazines. Commercial and trade papers are numerous, and the mechanical arts are represented, as well as several labor journals. The paper with the largest daily circulation is a French newspaper in Montreal. Ontario has 55 dailies, and Quebec has 16, about equally divided between French and English. British Columbia follows Quebec closely with 13 dailies.

SAYS ST. PIERRE FISHERMEN HAVE FOUND SCARCITY

Gentleman from There Says Conditions, Due to Lack of Fish, Are Serious.

The fishermen of Canada and Newfoundland are not the only ones who are suffering as a result of the fish scarcity this year. The latest report comes from St. Pierre (Miq.) Mr. Deschamps-Vivement, who arrived here yesterday from that place en route for the West Indies, describes conditions there as most serious.

"The depletion of the fish industry, which was the one source of income for the French fishermen," he said, "is causing them all to migrate from the country. Every day sees large numbers of the St. Pierre habitants leaving their native colony for Canada and the United States. The people of St. Pierre are at a loss to account for the scarcity."

Social conditions in St. Pierre at present, he remarked, were of the best. The school question, which aroused so much ill feeling against the mother country a few years ago, has been amicably settled. All the concessions asked for were granted.

Mr. Deschamps-Vivement, accompanied by his wife, will leave this morning for New York en route for the West Indies. There he will make an inspection of the submarine cables.

Speaking of St. John, he said there seemed to be a great business stir here. "Probably," he added, "after living for some time in St. Pierre where everything is so slow I notice this all the more." They are registered at the Dufferin.

AMERICAN HUNGER FOR ALBERTA LANDS CONTINUES

Calgary, Nov. 16—That the hunger for farm land on the part of Americans is, if anything, on the increase is shown by the fact that when a large area of non-irrigated land situated in the central section of the irrigation block was yesterday thrown on the market, fifty-six sections, over 35,000 acres, were purchased during the day.

J. A. Weaver and associates, from Des Moines, Iowa, purchased 5,000 acres; J. H. Wheeler and associates, from Illinois, purchased 6,000 acres. A New York syndicate purchased 20,000 acres and individuals increased this by 4,000.

All the parties will develop this land in the spring. The syndicates will farm on a large scale with the aid of modern steam machinery.

REFUGEE JESUITS FROM PORTUGAL REACH MONTREAL

Montreal, Nov. 16—The first of the Jesuit refugees from the new republic of Portugal arrived in Montreal today, with four members of that order, headed by Father Diaz, and they are now at the Seminary of the Immaculate Conception here.

Father Diaz said that the new Portuguese government was furious at the Jesuit Order, and that the expulsion of the order had been carried out so explicitly that the only Jesuit left in the country was a sick one. Father Diaz, however, said that his order had taken a hand in public affairs, which had called down upon them the government's wrath, but the Franciscans and Dominicans were allowed to remain.

The Catholic leaders, he said, had become convinced that the republic had come to stay and the watchword amongst the Portuguese Catholics was to support the new order of things and aid it in every way.
