Nine Municipalities To Ask For Government Aid To Alleviate Unemployment

WARNER INDORSES FRENCH IN SCHOOLS

Language Should Be Taught in Elementary Grades, Declares Trustee.

WOULD AID LAND

Trustee Rev. Quintin Warner is strongly in favor of French being taught in the public schools of London.

In the opinion of Trustee Warner if there is to be any real understanding among the people of Canada as a whole, then a knowledge and command of French language is absolutely necessary.

"I am strongly in favor of every child being taught French," declared Trustee Warner, "and not only book knowledge, but so that they will be able to carry on a conversation in the language. I think they should be taught French as soon as they begin to learn. French is spoken here in Canada by a tremendously large number of people."

Trustee Mrs. John I. A. Hunt expresses every sympathy with the plan of teaching French in the public schools. Mrs. Hunt intimated that in her travels on the continent from Norway to Manilla, she had found it just as absolutely necessary to speak French fluently as English. As a trustee, Mrs. Hunt believed that French should be taught to children while they were still in the earlier grades of the public school since they were able to get a better grasp of the language rather than waiting until they reached the collegiate where they would have to be given instruction by more expensive teachers.

E. V. Buchanan, manager of the public utilities commission, told The Advertiser that he was quite in favor of French being taught in the public schools and also that "a little would not be harmful."

Speaking as one whose education had been meant to be practical, Mr. Buchanan regretted "the tendency to neglect the cultural value of education and the stressing too much of the practical side of it.

"There is a danger," he continued, "of becoming too practical, too mechanical in our pursuit of education thus losing sight of the aesthetic side of education."

A knowledge of both Latin and French gives an insight into the English language.

"It has something," concluded Mr. Buchanan, "which is difficult to explain in words, but is purely cultural."

COST OF MUNICIPAL GOLF IS $1 A GAME

P. U. C. Manager Estimates Attendance of 8,000 and Expenses $8,000.

The total cost of golf to the citizens using the Thames valley golf course has been estimated by E. V. Buchanan, manager of the public utilities commission, as $1 per game.

Mr. Buchanan bases this estimate upon the attendance of those playing around the course as 8,000 for the season, coupled with the fact that it has cost approximately $8,000 to construct and maintain the course for the year.

Such a showing is considered by the manager to be remarkable, since privately controlled golf courses, even in this city, have necessitated the securing of capital touching as high as $150,000 for organization and construction purposes.

The estimate of 8,000 players for the season is not an exaggerated one. Since June 26, the date the course was officially opened to the public, there have been more than 6,139 people patronize the course.

The weekly attendance figures making up this total are as follows: Week ending July 5, 415; July 12, 393; July 19, 400; July 26, 460; Aug. 2, 474; Aug. 9, 530; Aug. 15, 433; Aug. 23, 579; Aug. 30, 468; Sept. 6, 567; Sept. 13, 367; Sept. 20, 395; Sept. 27, 550.

ZOO GIVEN PHEASANT BY GROSVENOR ST. MAN

The parks department of the public utilities commission acknowledges with thanks the donation of a pheasant for the zoo at Springbank Park.

W. J. Kilpatrick, 490 Grosvenor street, is the happy donator of the latest addition to the zoological gardens at the park.

Having caught the pheasant in his garage, Mr. Kilpatrick promptly and graciously presented it to the parks department.

POLICE FAIL TO LOCATE VANISHING HUSBAND

Robert H. Powers, Westminster township man, wanted by the county police on a charge of non-support of his wife, paid a flying visit to his home yesterday morning and after swallowing a cup of tea vanished once more, according to court house officials.

Powers, who receives a government pension, spends the money he receives in short order and neglects to provide for his wife and two small children, who are practically destitute.

The police are still searching for the man and expect to land him in jail shortly.

NIGHT MATRIC CLASSES INCREASE THIS YEAR

Principal Miller of Central High Pleased With Registrations.

More registrations were recorded with Principal E. A. Miller last night for the night matriculation classes at Central Collegiate than on any previous first-night registration for such classes. Such a large registration augurs well for the success of the classes.

Principal Miller commented upon the very good type of students who were registering, and stated that the classes would likely be pretty well scattered by the time the registration is completed at the end of the week.

A number of those who took their junior matriculation at the course last year are returning this year for honor matriculation work. Others are starting junior matriculation. Some girls intending to take up nursing are registering to take up some matriculation subjects. There are also a number of teachers registering for the classes in order to enable them to secure their first-class certificates.

"Ma" Ferguson Has Right to Run

Texas Judge Upholds Claim of Woman to Contest Governorship.

Associated Press Despatch.

Austin, Texas, Sept. 30.—Brushing aside all the old common law barriers against the right of women to hold office, Judge George C. Calhoun, in fifty-third district court here yesterday ruled that Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson is legally qualified to be governor of Texas. In an opinion which Mrs. Ferguson's lawyers said was a thorough exposition of the law and a complete vindication of the position of the first woman nominee for governor, Judge Calhoun declared that neither the constitution of the state nor the statutes of the legislature bar women from office. He refused to grant a temporary injunction to restrain election officials from placing her name on the ballot.

POTATOES FROM GEORGIA OFFERED ON MARKET

Sweet potatoes from the sunny south—Georgia to be exact—appeared on the local market this morning in comparatively large quantities.

They were offered by a local produce merchant, who said that the crop this year was much superior to last year's and that these were the first to be offered on the London market.

Although considerably smaller than in former years, the merchant stated that this was because of the fact that the specimens were of the early variety.

New potatoes have always been offered in the first or second week in October in former years, and this incident is decidedly novel.

FEW PERSONS REFUSED NAMES ON VOTE LIST

Ward Four Names Will Be Accepted Until Nine Tonight.

Four or five applicants to have names added to voters' lists were refused by the court of revision this morning. They were found to be other than British subjects, and, therefore, are not entitled to cast their ballot in the provincial plebiscite.

Figures at noon today showed that 50 applications had been granted to ward two citizens. Yesterday 400 appeals passed through the hands of the court and were approved. Appeals are being handled in good order and few complaints regarding awkward halts are heard.

While court is going on there is still opportunity for a few citizens to have names entered on the list of appeals. Through error The Advertiser stated last night that Monday was the last day for appeals to be entered from ward four. This is not the case, as ward four lists are being kept open until 9 o'clock this evening.

FARMERS TOO BUSY TO ATTEND TO ROADS

Heavy Crops Leave Little Time in Middlesex For Other Work.

Farmers are so behind with their work in Middlesex county this fall that county and township roads are not likely to receive their full quota of gravel, County Engineer Charles Talbot stated today.

"The roads are in pretty good shape at the present time," Mr. Talbot declared "but crops have been so heavy and weather so backward that the farmers who usually spend a week or so hauling gravel simply cannot spare the time.

"They are busy right now with threshing and silo-filling, and there is considerable fall plowing to do. I don't think that the roads are suffering right now, but it will mean that in the spring they will not be in as good shape as if the gravel were placed on them next month."

TEN HIGH SCHOOLS ENTER BIG RIFLE SHOOT HERE

Ten high schools and collegiate institutes have entered teams for the King George V challenge trophy competition to take place at the Cove ranges on October 24. There will be a one-day shoot open to cadets under 18 years of age.

The date of the Lobo school fair and bacon hog show has been changed from October 9 to October 14, it was announced at the office of the Middlesex branch of the department of agriculture today. WORKERS' SAVINGS GROW UNDER O.T.A.

Col. W. M. Gartshore Lauds Benefits at Meeting of Welfare Association.

SUCCESSFUL YEAR

The annual meeting of the McClary welfare association was held recently, and from the reports of the various activities the association is in a flourishing condition.

Convener C. A. Lumb showed that the space set apart by the employees in their dining halls for advertisements of local stores, is used to good advantage. The money derived from this source is expended on fruit, flowers and delicacies for the sick or relief to a less fortunate brother employee, in the way of fuel or eatables.

Convener W. H. Hayden of the gardening committee, detailed the year's work, which was particularly interesting, showing the great interest of employees in horticulture especially. The tulip show in June and the gladioli show were a decided success, the able judges being W. T. Lawrence and Thomas Hill. W. Calver won the highest number of points at the gladioli show and W. Hayden at the tulip show.

First Aid Lectures.

Convener F. H. Westbury, of the safety, sanitation and first aid committee, proved that this committee is performing good results, and that McClary employees are benefitting from first aid and safety lectures, as evidenced by the fact that there has been no serious accidents at the York street plant for the last two months.

Miss Malloch, nurse, had visited during the year 457 employees' homes (from the Adelaide street plant), and 453 homes (from the York street plant).

Convener W. G. Delaney, of the sports committee, expressed his satisfaction in all lines of outside sport, good rivalry being shown in hockey, baseball, softball, lawn bowling, pin bowling, etc. McClary's baseball this year had their own league, games being played between the York street and foundry plants.

A beautiful trophy was presented to the association, donated jointly by F. J. Delaney and W. G. Delaney.

Finances Stable.

All financial sheets, as presented by the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. R. Bowyer, proved the welfare association to have passed through the last year successfully, having a good cash balance upon which to begin the new year's work.

Praise for this creditable standing is due to the purchasing committee, under the convenership of J. M. Gunn, the welfare cafes and stores showing a good financial statement.

Chairman W. M. Gartshore complimented all members for their able work during the last year, and hoped for the usual co-operation and enthusiasm displayed on all sides, which will give bigger and better things for the coming year.

He also stated his stand in the forthcoming plebiscite, drawing attention to the benefits derived from the Ontario temperance act in so far as it applied to the employees saving which have increased very materially since the war.

RICHMOND ROUTE IS AGAIN NORMAL

Paving Holds Up Street Car Service For Some Days.

Yesterday the Richmond line on the London street railway was again opened up for complete service after having been closed for some days because of paving on Wellington street. Cars were sent out across the bridge to the Tecumseh avenue turn at High street, and are now running in good order.

Street railway work on the tracks over the area now being paved has been kept up as speedily as pavement operations permit. Works department officials speak highly of the co-operation being received from the street railway staff.

TRADITION AGAIN BECKONS TO THE DONNYBROOK FAIR

If all the people who say that they are going to Donnybrook fair at Dorchester tomorrow, really attend the exhibition, half of London's population will be found at the most popular fall fair in the district.

Almost the entire city council will be present, while medical school students who have always considered Donnybrook their own particular show will be there in force.

In days gone by Donnybrook was not considered a success unless there were a dozen or more good fights, but times have changed, and the exhibition has been quite orderly the last few years.

THREE MONTHS DOG TOLL IS 350, INSPECTOR SAYS

LONDONERS WILL JOIN DELEGATION

Representatives From Nine Municipalities To Wait on Hon. Dr. Godfrey.

WILL SEEK HELP

Representatives of nine Ontario municipalities, together with Mayor Wenige, Ald. Ed. Hayden and Ald. Frank McKay of London, are expected to wait on Hon. Dr. Godfrey, minister of health and labor, at his Toronto office tomorrow morning. Unemployment will be discussed at the request of the London and other councils.

Some time ago London got in touch with other centers asking for co-operation in getting provincial assistance in matters aileviating unemployment stress during the coming winter. Wires were sent out yesterday to Ottawa, Galt, Belleville, Hamilton, Kitchener, Windsor, Peterboro, St. Catharines and Sarnia, to have representatives at Toronto tomorrow. These are the cities which replied to London's communications.

"I hope we can get somewhere with this," Ald. McKay said today. "A number of suggestions have been made regarding government assistance in municipal relief work. I think the best of these is that the city pay 50 per cent, the Ottawa government pay 25 per cent, and the province pay 25 per cent of relief work undertaken by the municipalities."

"That was one of the best suggestions brought up at the Ottawa conference on unemployment. Even if the two governments shared only in helping pay for the excess cost of winter work over summer work it would help a good deal."

The municipalities are meeting Dr. Godfrey at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Sixty-four residents of the Indian reserves in Middlesex county were placed on the voters' list for the plebiscite by B. F. Watterworth, enumerator, who held court at the Chippawa council house on the Muncey reserve yesterday afternoon.

The names of fifteen white people residing on the reserve were put on the list, the rest being Indians who through overseas service in the war are now entitled to vote at elections.

Judge Talbot Macbeth will journey to the Chippawa council house on Oct. 11 to hear any appeals that may be entered by Indians or other, who think they have a right to vote and who were not placed on the list by Mr. Watterworth.

REGISTRATION BIDS FAIR TO BEAT 1923 RECORD

H. B. Beal, principal of the technical high school, reports that the first night registration for the night classes was a particularly heavy one last evening, in fact the number registering last night would indicate that the classes will have a record attendance over last year's figures of 1,025 students.

Principal Beal intimated that the registrations were about equally divided between the fifty courses in which instruction is given.

Registration for the classes may be made afternoon or evening at the principal's office throughout the remainder of the week.

FAVORS CLASSES.

W. F. Sherwin, the genial secretary who greets the swimmers as they parade before the desk at the Y. M. C. A. and hands out one cake of soap or two according to his own good judgment, is enthusiastic about the public speaking classes which are being formed at the Y. M. C. A. again this fall. He will take the names of those who are anxious to get in to the course that proved a boon to many of the members last winter.

BETTER MARKET PLANS PROGRESS

Building Inspector Prepares a Sketch of Improvements For Mayor.

Improvements for the Covent Garden market were today outlined in a sketch prepared by Building Inspector A. M. Piper for Mayor Wenige. These include the possible placing of two new overhead shelters for gardeners and other purveyors of produce.

Plans are to remove the present market building, doing away with this structure altogether. Two new sheds, built from King street to the other side of the market, are proposed. These would consist of wooden uprights and sheet metal roofs, of the nature of the small shelter which is now in operation at the northeast corner of the market square.

The new shelters would provide for 52 concessions east. Plenty of space is left on the west side of the market for open concessions or further building of shelters.

The mayor's plan also includes shifting of the weigh scales to the southwest corner of the market.

Here it is proposed to take up only a small amount of space for weighing produce, making the weigh scales operate something after the fashion of the gasoline stations.

Paving of the thoroughfare at the east end of the market is planned for this autumn. Other passageways through the market may be surfaced with concrete later on, according to plans now being considered.
