Walter Laurie, one of the chief exhorters in the salvation army, was in the police court on Saturday on a charge of assaulting a youth whom he was trying to convert. Laurie was full of whiskey at the time. He solemnly promised Ald. Baxter that he would not do so again and was discharged.

On Saturday the favorite clothing house of Oak Hall inaugurated a system of presenting to purchasers of their goods some exceedingly artistic cards. The principal designs are a floral easel and a very pretty marine scene on a palette. They are well worth prizing, as they are real gems in their way.

Mr. James Mackie of the American hotel and Mr. J. H. Mead were in Port Hope on Saturday, arranging for the purchase from Mr. Wm. Mackie of St. Lawrence hall, Port Hope, of his large, handsome carriage team. The bargain was closed at $500, and judges of horseflesh say that the purchaser got a great bargain. Mr. Mead bought them for Messrs. O'Keefe & Co.

A woman named Lyons has been living at 61 Emma street for the past few months in a deplorable state of destitution. She has seven small children and the police in reporting the case to the mayor were afraid the woman would become insane from her troubles if something was not done to relieve her. The mayor sent part of the family to the boys' home and part to the infants' home Saturday.

Are You Bilious?

If so, try a bottle of Devlin's Aperient Anti-Bilious Mixture. One dose will relieve you. For sale by all Druggists.

THE GAMBLING OF TO-DAY.

A Veteran on Its Eradication in New York.

From the New York Sun.

A veteran sporting man, whose face has been a familiar sight at every sporting event for the past twenty-five years, was met in the city hall park yesterday. He said that he was giving himself a sunning, and his sleek, fashionably cut clothing and blazing diamond shirt stud looked well in the sunlight.

"Law or no law," said he warmly, "the police have treed the gambling coon at last. All they have to do now is to worry it a little more and it will be theirs. The only way to rid New York of gambling is to rid it of gambling places, by raiding every place that has the reputation, however slight, of being a gambling place, and breaking and burning every stick of gambling furniture that is found. There is no other way. By this wholesale destruction even the boldest gamblers will be panic-stricken. No man wants to put $2000, $3000 or $10,000 out for furniture and fixings that he has good reason to believe may be seized and destroyed within a week, before there is any chance to recoup. Gamblers will flee from New York, like rats from a sinking ship, if this kind of thing is kept up. See how defiant and prosperous the dealers in Louisiana nad Kentucky state lottery tickets were for several years. Why, no one but themselves can tell how many hundreds of thousands of dollars they took in in their year or two of impunity. But the police raided them steadily, destroying their furniture as fast as they established new offices, and to-day if you want to buy a ticket in one of these concerns you have to send your money by mail, stealthily, to Chicago or Louisville.

"I have played, probably, in every gambling place in New York, on both sides of the table. Earlier in life I used to be a part of the game myself. But the old times of fair play are gone. A lot of hungry sharks have got into the profession, and there are only two places in New York, old-timers, where a man can find fair play. The backers of the game don't care who deals or rolls. At the worst they know that the game will win in the long run. But in nine-tenths of the other places a man is robbed by means of every device that human ingenuity can put in the hands of men as merciless as sharks. A man stands as much show of winning as he would if he had encountered a band of Italian brigands in one of their native passes. If ever there was a time when the police should be helped by the public approval in dealing with gamblers in the spirit, if not the letter, of the law, now is the time. God only knows how many homes are broken up, how many promising lives are blasted every year in the gambling places of this city."

THE WORLD AT LARGE.

When Ouida asked Charles Reade for a name for her dog he suggested "Tonic," saying: "It is sure to be a mixture of bark, steal and whine."

The Russian papers state that Prince Gortschakoff has left a large body of autobiographical papers, which are now being put in order, with a view to early publication.

The statement that John Brown left $5,000 000—a sum larger than has ever been left by any British lord chancellor—is utterly untrue. He may have left a few thousand pounds, but that is all.

One of the latest foreign inventions is that of the manufacture of bottles, etc., from cast iron, containing some 12 per cent of silicum, a compound which is said to resist the action of the strongest acids.

Beware of unworthy evangelists, temperance lecturers, reformed men of all sorts, who want to tell "the story of their lives" and give you half of the proceeds. Such is the advice of the Christian Advocate to methodist pastors.

A gang of tramps found an unoccupied house in Minnesota with comfortable beds, cooking utensils, and a stove. They took lawless possession, and it was not until the end of a week that they learned that they were in a smallpox pesthouse.

The patriarch of Constantinople is particularly bitter in his "Protestant missionaries of the east," against those missionaries "who have come from America, which was only discovered 1500 years after the gospel was preached among the orthodox."

When the clergyman asked at a church wedding in Henry county, Iowa, if anybody had aught to say why the pair should not be united, a girl arose and said, "I have—he is engaged to me." There was some confusion, but the ceremony was completed.

A spiritual medium delivered what he said was a message from a girl who had lately died at Michigan City, Ind, and which declared that her death was the result of wrong doctoring. The wrathful physician who had attended her horsewhipped the medium.

Western contempt for ginger ale is expressed by the St. Louis Republican in its comments on President Arthur's illness. "As a quick and all-pervading stimulant," it says, "the ginger ale beverage is held, west of the Mississippi river, in only moderate request."

A Wisconsin schoolma'm wished to corporally punish a big boy, but doubted her own ability to whip him. In this dilemma she gave the bully of the school permission to satisfy an old grudge against him, and the thrashing was quite as severe as she could have wished. But the trustees do not approve.

Statistics show an increase in civil or non-religious funerals in Paris. In April, 1881, the proportion of such funerals to the total number was 16 per cent.; in April, 1882, this proportion had risen to 21 per cent.; and in February of this year to 24 per cent. In a single arrondissement—the Tenth—the proportion was as high as 44 per cent.

The Spaniard who came to Keokuk six years ago was apparently wealthy and certainly eccentric. He had a daughter, who, he said, was his only relative, and now that he is dead it is found that his will makes a negro her guardian. The property is represented in the document to amount to $300,000, and the trustee is to have $60,000 for his services.

Annie Grandter, 15, began several years ago to help her father, a switch tender on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, and for some time has had charge at $40 a month of several important switches. She and her father live a sort of Box and Cox life, she working from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m., when he relieves her. She is believed to be the sole railroad switchtress in the country.

Coyote Bill got drunk and disorderly in a Dakota town, and, dreading punishment at the hands of the law, concluded that his only safety lay in disabling the only justice in the place. Therefore he broke into the magistrate's residence and kicked and pounded him until he was insensible. But he was conscious in court next morning, though much disfigured, and Coyote Bill received a sentence of a year in prison.

Six Algerian engineers, who have been consulted by M. de Lesseps on the inland sea scheme, report that the cutting could be made within five years, at a cost of $30,000,000. An average width of 80 or 100 feet would be sufficient, as the current would widen the canal; and since it would be nearly in a straight line the navigation would be devoid of difficulty. A vast tract of country, lacking only moisture to become very productive, would thus be brought under cultivation.

The direct descendant of Sir John Robinson, baronet, lord mayor of London and lieutenant of the tower, before whom William Penn was brought when arrested, and brutally bullied, is flourishing on the ancestral acres in Northamptonshire, which the lord mayor baronet bought. He was a nephew maternally of Archbishop Laud, and an out-and-out royalist. He was made a baronet at the restoration, in 1660. His family threatens to long survive the Penns, now some time extinct.

Leadville now has a population of 25,000—some twenty men to one woman. The streets night and day are kept quite free from improper persons, and ladies can walk about without fear of annoyance. The tax from gambling houses realizes $800 a month, and that from dance halls $600. Chinamen have been kept outside entirely. Two wandered unawarned into the town three years ago. There was a double funeral immediately afterward, and those Chinamen have never been seen since. A correspondent recalls Talmage's visit, and says that the eminent divine did not escape from his visit to the dives without much unwelcome osculation. Leadville, he says, has never been more prosperous than today, and is good for five years yet.

To Consumptives.

Reader, can you believe that the creator afflicts one-third of mankind with a disease for which there is no remedy? Dr. R. V. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" has cured hundreds of cases of consumption, and men are living to-day—healthy, robust men—whom physicians pronounced incurable, because one lung was almost gone. Send two stamps for Dr. Pierce's pamphlet on Consumption and Kindred Affections. Address World's Dispensary Medical association, Buffalo, N.Y.

An English manufacturer was lately fined $250 for an infringement of the factory act. The inspector had found forty-five women in the mill seven minutes after the hour for closing.

EUROPEAN ECHOES.

Personal hostages were given as late as the peace of Aix la Chapelle, when the Earl of Sussex and La Cathcart were sent to Paris as hostages for the restitution of Cape Breton.

In Breslau, a chimney shaft fifty feet high is composed entirely of paper pulp, which has been chemically impregnated so as to resist combustion. Paper has been put to some extraordinary uses, but this is perhaps the most astonishing violation of preconceived ideas yet attempted. The next thing in order now will be gun-cotton crucibles.

John Brown has left a diary which, if published, will require considerable editing. It is not probable it will ever appear. Greville and Wilberforce have proved enough for one generation. It is a fact that many attempts were made by one of the London society journals to prevail on J. B. to become a contributor of gossip, after the fashion of the countess of Stradbroke, but the sturdy Scotchman refused to listen to the voice of the golden tempter.

The Gazette des Hopiteaux, in proof of the difficulty in discerning the difference between real hydrophobia and that brought on by apprehension, cites the case of a woman who had her wound cauterized at the hospital. She continued quite well until a hospital student, recognizing her, called out: 'Hullo, not dead yet? Why, that dog proved downright mad." The woman was at once seized with pharyngeal spasm, and died with all indications of hydrophobia.

Dr. Herzog, the Swiss old catholic bishop, confirmed, a few days since, six young girls at the American Episcopal church of St. Paul's, in Rome, having come from Berne for the purpose. It is the first time than an old catholic bishop has visited Rome in an official capacity. No bishop of England or the United States happened to be then in Italy. Sir Augustus Paget and Mr. Astor, with their families, were present, and the church was crowded with English and Americans.

The Norwegians are restoring the cathedral of Trondhjem, the most northern town of its size in Europe. A recent visitor writes: "It will certainly be the finest church in the country when completed, and one worthy to rank with other great Gothic edifices; it is distinctly the church of Norway, and merits prolonged study, both by architect and antiquarian. In this cathedral was the shrine of St. Olaf, the patron saint; and it is the place where the coronation of the Swedish sovereign as king of Norway must be performed."

MEDICAL.

FOR THE

Kidneys, Liver and Urinary Organs

THE BEST BLOOD PURIFIER.

There is only one way by which any disease can be cured, and that is by removing the cause—whatever it may be. The great medical autho ities of the day declare that nearly every disease is caused by deranged kidneys or liver. To restore these therefore is the only way by which health can be secured. Here is where WARNER'S SAFE CURE has achieved its great reputation. It acts directly upon the kidneys and liver and by placing them in a healthy condition drives disease and pain from the system. For all kidney, liver and urinary troubles; for the distressing disorders of women; for malaria, and physical troubles generally, this great remedy has no equal. Beware of impostors, imitations and concoctions said to be just as go d. For diabetes ask for WARNER'S SAFE DIABETES CURE.

ALBION HOTEL—GREAT ALTERATIONS have taken place at this hotel for the reception of travellers and agricultural people in general. It has long been felt that there was not sufficient room to accommodate the increasing trade of the hotel, and to meet this demand the proprietor has, at an expense of over $18,000, purchased the late premises occupied by the St. Lawrence coffee house association adjoining the Albion, and has now 125 bedrooms, accommodation for 250 guests. The house has been re-modelled and re-furnished throughout at an outlay of $5000—gas in every room, new dining-room 40x60, capable of seating 200 people at one time. The house is the best $1 house in the Dominion.

WEST TORONTO JUNCTION—REMEMBER this place is within two miles of the present city limits—not 3000 miles distant from Toronto—where, but a few months since, many invested in paper town lots somewhere on the great Northwest praries. You cannot lose anything by purchasing here, but are certain to make a profit. Toronto is extending westward, must go ahead, and no place offers a safer field for investment. LAKE & CLARKE.

WEST TORONTO JUNCTION—OUR OFFICE will continue open until 10 o'clock to-night (Monday), to allow those who cannot call during the day to come and secure a cheap lot. LAKE & CLARKE.
