Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring to Gray Hair its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. It soon restores faded or gray hair to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, fallen hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed; but such as remain can be saved by this application, and stimulated into activity, so that a new growth of hair is produced. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning grey or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. The restoration of vitality it gives to the scalp arrests and prevents the formation of dandruff, which is often so uncleanly and offensive. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich, glossy lustre, and a grateful perfume.

JIM BOGBEAN.

Jim Bogbean, on a summer's morn,
Rose from his *bunk, haggard and worn.
Beneath his straw hat there peered an eye,
And his empty stomach growled loud and dry.

He whistled a tune with a vague unrest,
And a tear coursed down his yellow-tailed vest.

He †sallied out on the open street,
And he sought in vain for a man to treat.

Some one came, but his pallid cheek
Told the playful story he couldn't †repeat.

He leaned his frame ‡gainst a friendly porch,
And his §claret-bin shone like a well-lit torch.

Oft hath he stood ¶neath the moon's bright glow,
And watched the Policeman come and go.

For of all sad words e'er writ in a book,
The saddest are, "by a ‖speeler took."

With a shambling gait Jim sauntered along,
Humming a bar of a popular song.

His ballad grew faint and his breath got shorter,
When he halted in front of a pestle and mortar.

And his lips turned white, and he shivered with chills,
As he modestly asked for a couple of pills.

He looked as wild as an egg hard boiled,
And he thought of his garments seedy and soiled.

Then he threw his pipe and his cup away,
And ††went on a keg" for a year and a day.

The sun shot down in a golden beam,
For Jim Bogbean drinks only ‡‡SODA AND CREAM.

WHITTIER.

NOTES.
