Le Card. O'Connell et la prospérité matérielle chez les Catholiques

Boston, 19.—(P.)C.—Le cardinal O'Connell a déclaré hier à une conférence de la Société St.-Vincent-de-Paul qu'il avait cessé l'espérer la prospérité matérielle pour les Catholiques, parce que trop souvent ils n'étaient pas prêts à la recevoir.

"J'entretenais l'opinion, dit-il, qu'il serait beau de voir les Catholiques devenis très à l'aise, prospère, Je ne pense plus ainsi. On les perd quand ils s'enrichissent. Je ne dis pas que cela soit vrai de chaque cas en particulier. Il y a, chez les Catholiques, de nobles exemples d'hommes et de femmes énormément enrichies qui vivent simplement et bellement. La règle générale est loin d'être aussi encourageante cependant.

"Je voudrais bien n'avoir pas le dire, mais c'est l'opinion commune de tous ceux parmi nous qui sont renseignés qu'il eût mieux valu pour plusieurs Catholiques rester pauvres que d'acquérir une grande fortune. Cela eût valu mieux pour leur propre existence, pour leurs chances de salut, pour leur caractère. Si souvent nous voyons une richesse subite se manifester par l'étalage de la vanité et de l'orgueil les plus sots....

"Nos gens, soudainement enrichis, perdent la tête et le coeur. Les Protestants de nos jours, s'ils ne se livrent guère aux manifestations extérieures de religion, sont, par contre, merveilleusement charitables. S'ils ne fréquentent pas les églises, ils donent à pleines mains pour tout ce qui vaut la peine d'être encouragé.

"Maintenant, une chose est certaine: Ces non-catholiques qui donnent des milions pour toutes les grandes causes recevront les bénédictions de Dieu. Il ne saurait y avoir de doute là-dessus Dieu leur tiendra compte de la charité active dont il est le centre de leur coeur."

Le cardinal n'a eu que des paroles d'éloge pour la classe moyenne et la classe pauvre chez les Catholiques. Ces deux classes, dit-il font preuve d'une générosité jamais lassée.

A MARI USQUE AD MARE

Nous accusons réception d'une très intéressante brochurette que vient de publier M. l'abbé Olivier Maurault sous le titre de "A Mari Usque Ad Mare". C'est un ouvrage d'une soixantaine de pages, abondamment illustré, dans lequel l'auteur raconte avec tout le talent littéraire dont il est coutumier, le magnifique voyage qu'il fit l'été dernier à la Côte du Pacifique, sur le train spécial de l'Université de Montréal.

En un style dont il nous a habitué, à apprécier la souplesse et la limpidité, M. l'abbé Maurault promène son lecteur de Montréal jusqu'à Victoria, lui décrivant les splendeurs scéniques aperçues en cours de route et racontant les menus incidents qui agrémentèrent cette mémorable randonnée

Le voyage à travers les solitudes boisées et couvertes de lacs du nord de l'Ontario, la traversée des imenses prairies de l'Ouest au moment de la moisson, celle des Montagnes Rocheuse à l'époque de l'année où elles apparaissent dans tout l'état de leur majestueuse grandeur, les visites et réceptions dans les principaux centres du pays, les séjours dans ses villégiatures les plus pittoresques, toutes ces choses font le sujet d'autant de jolies descriptions dont la lecture est a la fois agréable et instructive.

M. l'abbé Maurault, qui s'est inspiré pour le titre de son ouvrage de la devise que portent les nouvelles armes du Canada, "A Mari Usque Ad Mare", y a mis comme sous-titre, "Voyage de l'Université de Montréal à Travers le Canada sous la Conduite du Pacifique Canadien". On ne saurait en effet trouver relation plus fidèle et plus complète de cette excursion qui, grâce à l'intelligent esprit d'initiative dont fit preuve notre université montréalaise, permit l'été dernier à un groupe considérable de nos concitoyens de visiter le Canada dans des circonstances vraiment favorables. Ceux qui étaient de ce voyage liront sûrement avec le plus vif intérêt le récit qu'en a fait l'abbé Maurault, tandis que les autres ne pourront que désirer prendre part à leur tour à la deuxième édition de cette excursion aux Montagnes Rocheuses et à la Côte du Pacifique. Les journaux ont en effet annoncé récemment que l'Université préparait actuellement un deuxième voyage dans l'Ouest Canadien. Le train spécial, qui cette anée encore sera fourni par la Cie du Pacifique Canadien, quittera Montraél le 3 juillet pour y revenir le 24 suivant, après avoir parcouru à peu près le même trajet que l'an dernier. Ce voyage se fera, parait-il, sous la direction personnelle de M. le chanoine Chartier, vice-recteur de l'Université de Montréal. Nul doute que nombreux seront ceux qui voudront profiter de l'excellente occasion qui leur sera ainsi offerte de visiter le Canada dans les meilleures conditions possibles.
