DYNAMITED THE HOUSE

The Building Destroyed—Six Lives in Deadly Peril.

Detroit, Aug. 8.—The residence of John Holtz, an old and prosperous farmer, who lives half a mile north of Redford Center, was blown up by dynamite at 9 o'clock Thursday night. Frank Holtz, his 20-year-old son, is under arrest, on suspicion of being the culprit. Holtz, sen., his wife and four children were in the house at the time. Although the place was almost totally demolished, they escaped serious injury, but were painfully bruised.

The dynamite was placed under the center of the house, and when it exploded the shock caused the structure to collapse. Holtz and wife were in their bedroom, and were knocked down by the explosion. The four children, who are small, and occupied a bedroom upstairs, were found in the ruins, bruised and crying, but not seriously hurt.

The neighbors say that if young Holtz is guilty of the outrage, it is the culmination of a feud, which has existed between father and son for several years.

A later report from Bedford states that one of the children was seriously injured.

To attain the zenith of wisdom it is necessary to neither eat, sleep, nor speak too much.

Mrs. Seleste Coon, Syracuse, N. Y., writes: "For years I could not eat many kinds of food without producing a burning, excruciating pain in my stomach. I took Parmelee's Pills according to directions under the head of 'Dyspepsia or Indigestion.' One box entirely cured me. I can now eat anything I choose without distressing me in the least." These pills do not cause pain or griping, and should be used when a cathartic is required.
