FREAK OF NATURE.—During a heavy shower at Gardiner, Maine, Monday afternoon, a bolt of lightning struck the roof of the ventilator on the machine room at the Copsecook paper mills. The fluid struck the extreme end of the roof and passed downward, splitting the door of the ventilator and tearing off the shingles on the roof of the building.

THE B. & A. RAILWAY.—Work at the railroad bridge of the Bangor & Aroostook at Houlton is progressing rapidly and one pier and abutment are now done. The workmen are now at work on the abutments on the Houlton side of the stream. The granite is hauled six miles from New Limerick. The grading is now completed as far as Houlton.

CANTERBURY C. T. A.—In the supreme court on Saturday in ex-parte Jacob Tompkins, Vanwart, Q. C., moved for a rule nisi to bring up three C. T. A. convictions made before Peter Girdwood, parish court commissioner of Canterbury. The rules were granted on the grounds that the summons was served by a constable for the parish of Southampton and that under the provisions of the criminal code the constable must be of the same parish.

VANDALS IN THE GRAVEYARD.—Some fiendish men or boys visited the Methodist and St. John's church burial ground in Chatham last week and overturned seven marble headstones. Two in the St. John's ground are completely destroyed, and the ornamemtal tops of two of the overturned stones in the in the Methodist enclosure are broken of. Every effort will be made to discover the perpetrators of the shameful deed. Officer Rankin says that he firmly believes that two of them were sent to jail last week for another offence.

SUNBURY COUNTY COURT.—In the Sunbury county court, held at Burton on Monday last, the only case tried was that of Prince vs. Morley which was an action for the amount of a supply bill claimed by the plaintiff against the defendant on a lumbering operation in the winter of 1892. The defence was, that the claim was discharged by the plaintiff accepting his raft in Iron Bound Cove in the following spring under an arrangement that the debt should be satisfied thereby. The jury sustained this plea of accord and satisfaction and returned a verdict for the defendant.

MONEY IN BEARS.—Gilbert Dunbar of Embden, Maine, found a bear stealing his apples, to which, owing to the scarcity of that crop, he seriously objected. He concluded that he might as well teach the maurader a lesson and make a dollar besides. So with his handy rifle he put a bullet into the neck of bruin and severed his spinal cord. His weight was about 600 pounds—270 lbs. dressed. His carcass was consigned to Boston parties and was forwarded by express. Estimated value in market: Meat and tallow, $50; pelt, $20 bounty, $5; total, $75. On the same day Mr. Dunbar shot two foxes. Aggregate of the proceeds of the day, $80.

Aroostook, the Vale of Sweetness.

That garden of big potatoes and general glorions promise, the land of the Aroostook is full of sweetnees, it appears, and T. A. Fisher, agent for a Boston firm, has been up there, and gathered a lot of the sweetness into the hives of commerce. Commencing as soon as the strawberries were ripe, he shipped to Boston all he could obtain along the line of the St. John river over the Canadian Pacific railway and Maine Central. In all he sent out, in one hundred pound tubs, eighty thousand pounds. When it is remembered that it takes about 1¼ lbs. of strawberries or raspberries to make a quart, the number of quarts shipped, 640,000, is hard to realize. Perhaps this amount will be easier of comprehension when it is borne in mind that to gather the 240,000 quarts of strawberries and 400,000 of raspberries, each picker collecting an average of fifteen quarts daily for thirty days, would require 1,42 pickers.

China Wedding.

Monday last being the twentieth anniversary of the wedding of Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Weddall, the Methodist congregation of this city, who never do things by halves, gave them a veritable surprise. The school room had been changed into a parlor so that those who are in the habit of worshiping there did not recognize the place.

At 7.30 the doors were opened and the members were welcomed at the door by Mrs. David Hatt, Mrs. Byron Coulthard and Mrs. John J. Weddall. The pastor and his wife stood to the left and shook hands with each person.

The first part of the evening was spent in social greeting and conversation. At nine o'clock Dr. Inch, chief supt. of Education, took the chair, and in an effective speech in which he referred to his long acquaintance with the pastor and his wife, and that this had been the second circuit upon which he had been privileged to sit under his spiritual oversight, and how much he appreciated it and of the success which had attended his labors during the past twenty years upon his different fields of labor, and of the numbers that have been brought into fellowship with the church through his efforts.

The gifts consisted of an elegant china dinner service, with tablecloth napkins, silver knives and forks and solid silver spoons, porridge set, fruit dish and salid set. Several members of the congregation sent in single pieces of china.

Rev. Mr. Weddall in reply said that this expression of love from the congregation for himself and wife was unexpected, but none the less appreciated by them, showing as it did that their labors on behalf of the Methodist people of this city were appreciated; and that wherever in the future his lot should be cast, he could never forget the kind people of this congregation.

Coffee, cake and fruit were passed around, and all voted that it was the pleasantest evening they had spent in a long time.

It has fallen to the lot of few ministers to be as universally beloved and respected as rev. Mr. Weddall, not only by his own congregation, but by the people of the city generally.

Tea Meeting at Gibson.

The Baptist congregation of Gibson have been passing through a fiery ordeal the past few months. Very few congregations, for so small a village can display the pluck and courage they have shown by their work, which will surely bespeak for them prosperity in the future. After losing their cozy church, which had been recently completed, in the flames of the Gibson fire, they went to work with a will and determination to erect a church to replace the one lost, and their efforts have been rewarded as can be seen by their work. After the Gibson fire the congregation held their meeting at St. Marys, and during this time they were erecting their new church which is nearly completed. They were again burned out in the St. Marys fire. In this connection, we might add that the ladies of this church intend holding a tea meeting in their new church at Gibson, on Thursday evening next, tea on the table at 5 o'clock. As, no doubt is the case, their object is to raise funds toward completing their new edifice, everyone should be present, and lend a helping hand to those who deserve success. A good time can be had and the committee will spare no pains, as in the past, to see everyone enjoy themselves. To-morrow the Rev. F. D. Davidson will preach in the vestry of the new church, morning and evening,

Races at the Park.

The races at the Fredericton trotting park on Thursday afternoon were not very largely attended. The sport was good and were of a purely local nature. Harry M., which has not been driven a mile since he won his race on this track in 1891, making a record of 2:34, showed by his performance Thursday that he still retains his speed, doing his first half mile heat in 1:15 and repeating in 1:15¼. Sir Wilkie, a son of Harry Wilkes, won his second half mile heat in 1:16 and showed speed that will put him easily in the list next year. Lady M. won her race in straight heats and is a very promising mare, being by Rampart and Mambrino Charter. The following is the summary, half mile heats:

Rev J H McDonald, of Amherst, occupied the pulpit of the Baptist church on Sunday last. He also spoke at the gospel temperance meeting last Sunday night and was listened to marked attention throughout.

Application Discharged.

The application of Miss Hooper to be paid certain expenses incurred by her in prosecuting a number of Scott act convictions was argued before the supreme court on Saturday last. J. A. Vanwart, Q. C., opposed the motion and argued that the C. T. act fines were in the nature of a gift to the city, and cited a similar case decided by the Ontario court of appeal. After hearing J. W. McCready in support of the application, the court decided that although these fines were paid into the city treasury, "for the good of the act," the fund was to be applied for that purpose in the discretion of the city and therefore a mandamus would not lie to compel the city to pay over any part of the fund. The court also said that while they could not grant the mandamus, they thought the account was a very reasonable and just one, and that the city council should order it paid.

Excitement in the Equity Court.

At the equity court, in St. John, on Wednesday, the two cases of habeas corpus, both arising out of Scott act convictions in Kings county, came up, but were postponed owing to the sudden illness of R. LeB. Tweedie, who appeared for the defendants. While arguing his case, Mr. Tweedie was suddenly seized with an apopletic fit and fell back very heavily on Dr. Walker, who was sitting directly behind him. Dr. Walker's leg was badly injured and he was considerably shaken up. Dr. Berryman was telephoned for and attended to both legal gentleman. Mr. Tweedie soon recovered, but Dr. Walker's injuries were more serious, and he had to be conveyed home in a coach. The cases were postponed until Saturday.

Invitations are out for an interesting event at Oromocto next Wednesday, when a young insurance agent and a very popular young lady of that place, will play an important part.

THE ST. MARYS FIRE.

The Business Portion Entirely Swept Away.

But a short time ago Gibson was almost wiped out of existence by the fire fiend. Ill luck seems to haunt that side of the river for now the village of St. Marys is a heavy sufferer. The fire began on the morning of Tuesday last in a woodshed in the rear of Thomas Biden's dwelling and spread rapidly.

At one time it was thought that every building in the place would be swept away, but by the strenuous exertions of the firemen from Fredericton assisted by large numbers of citizens, and the people of Gibson as well, and those of St. Marys working like Trojans the fire was at last got under control but not until some twenty three buildings were completely destroyed. The whole block on the upper side of the ferry road out to the main road has been burned completely down and of the lower side of the ferry road only Winslow Tiley's store remains standing on the corner, and burned down as far as the soap factory which still remains. Biden's bakery was the first to go, then S. Dayton's house and shop, and in three hours from the start of the fire, the street was in ruins, the flames had gone up the main road, burning everything to Alfred Haines's residence, and down Jefferey street to the river licking up almost everything in its way. Considerable furniture and other effects were saved, but a number lost all they had. Mr. Dayton's family lost even their clothes. The St. Marys firemen did well with their hand engine, and a detachment from the Fredericton brigade, in charge of chief engineer Lipsett with the steamer "Alexandra" went promptly over to the assistance of the afflicted village and did excellent work. It was ten o'clock before the "Alexandria" was called off. It required strong efforts to save Walter McFarlane's hame factory, E. Vanwat's store and residence, the soap factory, S. Dayton's new warehouse, Alfred Haines' residence and Mr. Tilley's drug store. The latter was severely scorched, and all the goods had to be removed. Mr. Vanwart's effects were also moved out.

The buildings destroyed included the following:

MAIN STREET.

Lower side—St. Marys hotel, owned by Larry Nason of Hainsville, and occupied by John Billings, loss $1,500.

Samuel Dayton's lime shed and stock loss, $300.

James Hayes' hotel kept by Doohan, loss $2,000.

Rev. W. D. Manzer's residence, loss $2,500.

Dr. J. H. Bridges' house, occupied by Lewis and Wallace, loss $1,000.

C. L. Estabrooks' residence and barn, loss $2,000.

C. L. Estabrooks' store, also containing post office, loss $1,000.

Upper Side—Thos. Biden's house and bakery, loss $1,000.

Samuel Dayton's house and store, loss $4,000.

Whitman Haines' large building, containing King's barber shop, Foresters Orange, and Free Masons hall, Ran Staples' dry goods store and Spencer Inchs' sausage factory, loss on building $2,000. Nearly all the contents were destroyed. The societies lose their furniture, regalia, etc., and the Baptists who have worshiped in the hall since the Gibson fire, lose $70 in chairs, hymn books, etc.

Jos. A. Keirstead's house, loss $1,000.

Michael Bowlan's house, loss $1,000.

John McCoy's skating rink and horse academy, loss $500.

Jos. A. Keirstead's blacksmith shop, loss $300.

John McCoy's hotel, occupied by Hugh Edgar, loss $1,000.

John Staples' shoe shop, loss $500.

Spencer Inch's meat store and horse, loss $2,000.

ON JEFFREY STREET.

Whitman Haines' tenement, occhpied by Jos. Bailey, loss $200.

Whitman Haines' residence, loss $2,000.

Whitman Haines' tenement, occupied by Isaac Starkey, loss $300.

Rev. Wm. Jeffrey's residence and barns, loss $2,000.

Miss Allen's dwelling, loss $1,000.

James Cook's tenement.

Mrs. B. Manzer's house.

Richard Polly's tenement.

Mrs. Leonard Macpherson's tenement.

Alfred Haines' tenement, partially destroyed.

On the main highway road Jos. E. Smith's residence and harness shop, totally destroyed, loss $1,500.

The total loss is stated at $45,000, and insurance about half that amount.

THE INSURANCE.

Of the insurance, John Black held the greater part in the several companies which he represents, viz.: $21,450, divided among the Imperial, the United Fire, the Albion, the Hartford, the Ætna and the London and Lancashire. Mr. Black held the following risks:

C L Estabrooks, $3,800.

Joseph Smith, $2,050.

Whitman Haines, $2,800.

Hugh Edgar, $1,000.

Joseph E. Kierstead, $1,700.

Mrs Martha Haines, $300.

Michael Bowlin, $1,000.

James Hayes, sr, $1,000.

Jas P Hayes, $700.

Spencer Inch, $1,000.

Rainsford Staples, $1,800.

Mrs Sarah Manzer, $600.

Winslow Tilley, $2,600.

Frank I Morrison held the following risks:

Rainsford Staples, $800.

Miss Allen, $800.

Dr Bridges, $500.

Mr. Morrison's companies held risks on McFarlane's factory, Vanwart's house, the soap factory and several other buildings which narrowly escaped destruction.

The Central hold the following:

The old Myles property, $1,000.

Rev Mr Jaffrey, $1,000.

John Richards had $400 on Thos. Biden's stock in the British America.

The Manchester held its only risk on Mr Biden also, $500.

It is a most unfortunate thing for the village that the fire did not get across Douglas street, and the men who fought and saved Vanwart's building practically saved the town. Had this building burned, the handsome new residence and outbuildings of Walter McFarlane must also have gone. Mr. McFarlane was burnt out about a year ago, and had his building gone again, it is very doubtful if he would have re-built, and his removal from the village would have taken the greater part of the energy and business life of the place with it.

The sufferers are rapidly locating themselves, and in a short time, it is to be hoped, the village will begin to be re-built in the same enterprising spirit that has been manifested in the case of Gibson. Possibly when the village is re-built a good system of fire protection will be inaugurated.

Sunday School Conventions.

The secretary of the New Brunswick Sunday school association, rev. A. Lucas, has arranged parish conventions in the county as follows: November 7th, Smith's Corner; 8th, Millville; 10th, Canterbury; 13th, Harvey; 14th, Prince William; 15th, Queensbury; 16th, Kingsclear; 17th, St. Marys; 20th, Stanley. The exact place of these conventions will be announced later.

The series of conventions will conclude with a county convention at the Mouth of Keswick on Wednesday and Thurday, Nov. 22nd and 23rd. All the Sunday school teachers who can possibly do so, should try to attend the sessions of this convention on Thanksgiving day, if not on the 22nd. The afternoon session, the last of the convention will close in time for visitors to take the afternoon train for Fredericton.

Those Who we Remember.

The remains of Benj. Drew, carpenter, of Massachusetts, were brought to Fredericton, Tuesday, and were interred, yesterday afternoon, from the residence of Stanley Chase, whose wife is a niece of the deceased. Drew came by his death from a fall from a building on which he was working at Hyde Park, Mass. He was buried by the Salvation army, ensign Matthews officiating. He was a half brother of Robert Belyea of this city.

It is with regret that the inhabitants of the city learned of the death of Mrs Edward Moore at the residence of her son, Edward Moore, George street. Death came at 3.30 o'clock on Wednesday morning. The deceased lady was a native of Londonderry, Ireland, and was eighty-two years of age. She came to New Brunswick with her husband, the late Edward Moore, when a young married woman. They settled in Burton, Sunbury county, and subsequently removed to Fredericton Junction. For the past year deceased had lived with her son in this city. A few years ago Mrs Moore was left an immense fortune by a deceased brother in Ireland, and was without doubt one of the richest women in Canada. She leaves three sons, Edward Moore of this city, and two residing in Massachusetts, one of her sons from the states was present at the funeral; the other was sick at the time but has since died. The deceased also leaves three daughters: Mrs Hubbard Niles, of Gibson; Mrs Joseph Moore, and Mrs Geo Fraser, of Fredericton. The funeral services took place on Thursday afternoon from St Ann's chapel and her remains were conveyed by train to Gladstone, Sunbury county.

Edward Moore, of this city, received a telegram from Lowell Friday morning, informing him of the death of his brother, Robert Moore. The deceased was fifty-eight years of age, and a resident of Lowell, Mass., for the last ten years. He leaves a widow and three daughters, one of whom is married there. The remains will be brought to Fredericton Junction for burial, and will probably arrive there on Monday. The cause of Mr. Moore's death was Bright's disease, from which he had suffered for some time.

The Kingsclear Fair.

The Kingsclear agricultural society held their annual fair at the agricultural hall at Kingsclear on Wednesday the 18th. The weather was all that could be desired. The attendance, though not quite up to former years, was very good, a large number from both sides of the river and from this city being present. The exhibits were good both in quality and quantity, especially in roots, horticulture, dairy produce and domestic and fancy work, etc. The show of live stock was somewhat ahead of previous years, a number of the animals shown having been prize winners at the recent provincial exhibition. The judges got through with their work about four o'clock and the prizes were awarded in the main building. The judges in the different departments were as follows: Flowers and fancy work, Robert Gray, Mrs. Hubbard, and Mrs Lepage; horticulture and dairy produce, Edward Dunphy, Jas Merithew and Geo W Currie; domestic manufacture, W T Whitehead, Mrs J McKeen and Miss Annie Gilman; grain and pulse, W Guiou, J Hawkins, Alex McGibbon; horses, Thos H Colter, A Merithew, Wm Colter; roots, etc., W H McKnight, Jas Tennant, W Shaw; cattle and sheep, W W Hubbard, John McKeen, J W Jewett. The principal exhibitors were Sloat Bros, John A Campbell, Mrs Straton, John W Camber, Gordon Currie, R Murray, A T Macpherson, Percy Powys, Wm Leek, Joseph McKay, John C Murray, W K Allen, John McIntosh, Allen McKay, Havelock Wheeler, Wm Graham, A E Cliff, Brunswick Fox, Judson Dunphy, Joseph Currie, Tabor Everett, Jas B Campbell, Spafford Barker, Edgar Slipp, Henry Payne, Miss Annie Gilman and Joseph S Holyoke. At the conclusion of the fair the annual meeting of the society was held at the residence of the secretary, John A Campbell.

Those Happy Events.

The gossip from Sheffield tells us that Tuesday next is to witness an important and interesting ceremony to take place in that neighborhood. The ceremony is of that kind which results in a change of name and abode of one of the young ladies of the place.

John A. Humble, of Stanley, was married at Centreville, Carleton county, to Miss Carrie White, daughter of hon. Mr. White, on Thursday, at 1 p.m. A large congregation assembled to witness the ceremony, and the church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with flowers and potted plants. The bride, who was most becomingly attired in a travelling suit of brown hopsacking, with fur trimming and hat to match, and carried a bouquet of white roses, carnations and smilax, entered the church leaning on the arm of her father, and proceeded to the altar while the choir sang the hymn, The Voice that Breathed o'er Eden. The ceremony was performed by rev. J. E. Flewelling, assisted by rev. H. H. Parlee, brother-in-law of the bride. After the nuptial knot was tied the wedding party, consisting only of the relatives of the bride and groom, proceeded to the residence of the bride's father, where a sumptuous luncheon was served, after which the bridal party, accompanied by a number of friends, drove to the station, where, amid showers of rice, they took the evening train for Boston, intending to visit Montreal and Toronto before returning to Stanley, where they will be at home to their friends after Oct. 30th. Numerous and costly presents testified to the esteem in which the bride was held by her many friends.

The Ellis Case.

The supreme court on Saturday last passed sentence upon John V. Ellis, editor of the St. John Globe. The cause in which the sentence has been given has been before the courts now for nearly six years, and people have almost forgotten why and when it started. The cause had its origin in 1887. At that time Judge Steadman proposed holding a recount of the votes cast in the famous Baird-King election. Judge Tuck granted an order prohibiting the holding of the proposed recount.

A severe comment made in the St. John Globe on this action of Judge Tuck is the alleged contempt of court of which Mr. Ellis is guilty. After various postponements and after an unsuccessful appeal on the part of the defendant to the supreme court of Canada, sentence has at last been passed, and is in effect that Mr. Ellis pay a fine of $200 and be imprisoned in the county jail of York county for thirty days and pay the costs of the proceedings to be taxed as between attorney and client. Mr. Weldon, counsel for Mr. Ellis, applied that the sentence be stayed to give the defendant time to appeal to the privy council; but the court refused the application and Mr. Ellis is now confined in jail.

It is understood that Mr. Weldon is going right on with the appeal, and so the end is not yet. In the meantime Mr. Ellis, although in jail, is very comfortably fixed and receives many callers, who on account of political or friendly feelings have sympathy for him.

Putty! Putty!

5 Casks Bulk, and 3 Casks Bladder Putty.

PUTTY that is bad, is dear at any price and is one of the meanest things a painter or glazier can be tormented with. Not only is it a wear and tear on the morality, but occasions Great Loss of Time and Money. Bad Putty will creep, run, curl up after the knife, and has to be "Coaxed On." It will cost in time wasted 10 to 15 cents per pound, and then will not make a good lasting job. We have FIRST CLASS PUTTY, Fresh, Clean and Bright, no grit, no sand. We guarantee it to give Entire Satisfaction if it does not, it need not be paid for. We can afford to offer this because it is made of the Very Best material.
