CANADA
TODAY / D'AUJOURD'HUI
QUEBEC

Quebec City is one of the oldest cities in the Western Hemisphere. In 1842 Charles Dickens wrote that it was "not to be forgotten or mixed up in the mind with other places." In recent years the old city has been greatly restored. New commercial and government complexes have been built outside its walls, but streets such as rain-spattered Rue St. Louis are still the heart of the town.

The photographer was Denis Trudel.

May 1981 Mai

S D	M L	T M	W M	T J	F V	S S
					1	2
3	4	5	6	7	8	9
10	11	12	13	14	15	16
17	18 Victoria Day / Fête de Victoria	19	20	21	22	23
24/31	25 Memorial Day	26	27	28	29	30