CREAMERY BUTTER IS COMMANDEERED

Manufactures in Prairie and Central Provinces to Go to England.

PROVISIONS OF ORDER

Canadian Households Limited to Two Pounds Per Person Per Month.

Ottawa, Sept. 30.—All creamery butter made in the provinces of Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, between 30th day of September and the 9th day of November, 1918, both days inclusive, will be commandeered under the authority of an order-in-council passed Monday, the 30th September, 1918.

The reason for this action is that Great Britain and her allies need Canadian creamery butter. British ministry of food urgently asks Canada to increase her shipments of creamery butter.

One half pound of butter or oleomargarine per month, per person, is the allowance in Great Britain today. The order-in-council puts Canadian consumers on a creamery butter allowance of two pounds of butter per person per month, as compared with the half pound allowance in Great Britain. For months Great Britain and her allies have been short of butter and this condition bids fair to continue, as Atlantic tonnage is needed for transporting troops and supplies. Food stuffs in Canada for export must be assembled at ocean points to take advantage of space whenever offered.

The principle of the common table for all forces fighting the Huns is the basis of the order-in-council limiting the consumption of creamery butter, Canadians will not have to go without butter, but they are now asked to eat less of it.

Provisions of the Order.

The provisions of the order-in-council are as follows:

Manufacturers of creamery butter shall deliver all such butter made in the provinces of Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec between the 30th September and 9th November, 1918, both days inclusive, to a cold storage warehouse at Montreal designated by the dairy produce commission at the following prices: Grade No. 1, 46½ cents per pound; grade No. 2, 46 cents per pound; grade No. 3, 45 cents per pound, delivered at warehouse, Montreal, freight and cartage paid.

No person shall sell to the dairy produce commission any creamery butter manufactured before the 30th September, 1918, at a price in excess of the following: Grade No. 1, 43½ cents per pound; grade No. 2, 43 cents per pound, delivered at warehouse, Montreal, freight and carriage paid.

Every manufacturer of creamery butter in the provinces above mentioned shall make weekly returns to the Canada Food Board, showing the quantity of butter manufactured by them, the names of persons to whom sold, and the quantities and prices of each sale during the week, and the quantity on hand at the end of the week.

No person, except a dealer licensed by the Canada Food Board to deal in butter, shall hold or have in his possession or under his control at any one time creamery butter more than is sufficient for his ordinary requirements for a period not exceeding thirty days.

No person shall sell to any person, except to a dealer licensed by the Canada Food Board to deal in creamery butter, more than is sufficient for his ordinary requirements for a period not exceeding thirty days.

In this and the last preceding section, "thirty day" requirements shall not exceed two pounds of butter for each member of the household.

LIVE STOCK MARKET

With heavy shipments of cattle reported on practically all the large centres of live stock trading in the United States and Canada, and with more than 7000 head on the Union Stock Yards yesterday the buyers for the large packing houses showed a tendency to buy at considerably lower prices, with the result that the market fell off from 25c to 50c on practically all grades [illegible] very liberal receipts, fully 7000 head of cattle, with the best demand for steers, weighing 1000 lbs. and up, choice butcher heifers and the best butcher cows.

For the stockers and feeders there was a good demand for breedy steers, with quality, but the medium grades of stockers and feeders sold slow and lower and the canners and cutters sold at satisfactory prices.

Medium cows sold considerably lower and bologna bulls were wanted at lower prices. There was a strong demand for good milkers and springers, and altogether we would say a fairly satisfactory market, considering the supply, the quality generally of the cattle and the season of the year.

This is The World's summary in brief of yesterday's market at the Union Stock Yards, in point of numbers one of the big days in the history of the local market. There were some well known commission men and drovers who placed the decline at from 40c to 60c, and in many cases this was probably well within the mark. There was considerable disappointment over the action of some of the packing houses in their refusal to buy heavy steers after inviting shipments, but the buyers declare that the prices asked were much too high. The result is a good many are left over.

The hog market, with 2465 on sale, was steady at 19½c lb., fed and watered, last week's prices, but for the balance of the week the packers are quoting 19¼c lb., fed and watered, and 18½c lb., f.o.b.

With nearly 3000 sheep and lambs—2868, according to the official board—the market for some reason was very weak and sold off from 75c to $1 from last week's prices. An odd bunch sold at 17c lb., but the bulk of the sales were at from 16c to 16½c lb. More than 1000 sheep and lambs are said to have been unsold at the close. Sheep held fairly steady.

There was a fair trade for good, light veal calves, but the rough and heavy calves were hard to sell.
