WOMAN'S TROUBLES.

Thin, Pale, Inactive Blood and Weak Nerves, the Underlying Cause.

Most of the suffering and sickness which fall to the lot of women to endure, are the result of deranged nerves and watery blood. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills banish all the ills and weaknesses to which women are so subject, by their action in strengthening the nerves and multiplying the number of the vital red blood corpuscles. Miss M. Skullion, 50 Turner St., Ottawa, Ont., says:—"I was greatly troubled with my heart, together with extreme nervousness for many years. These complaints brought about great weakness and feeling of tiredness. My blood was of poor quality, so much so, that I became pale and languid. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills cured me after all else failed. They built up my system, enriched my blood, strengthened my nerves and restored me to health and vigor."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills cure Palpitation, Faint Spells, Dizziness, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Weakness, Female Troubles, Anaemia, Dyspepsia, After Effects of Grippe, General Debility, or any condition arising from Disordered Nerves, Weak Heart, or Watery Blood. Suddenly Stopped

Abrupt Ending of the City Council Meeting Last Night.

Ald. Taylor Ascends the Throne and Suspends the Seance.

Half the Aldermen Join Him and the Quorum Dissolves.

A Rather Amusing Incident—Warm Words by Those Who Didn't Adjourn—A Peculiar Deal—The School Board Ask for $16,300—Fireman Pope Sacrificed.

There was a high old time at the city council last night.

Shortly before eleven o'clock, the mayor, who wished to speak on a question, called Ald. Taylor to the chair, and took the floor.

About five minutes to eleven, according to the council chamber clock, Ald. Cooper moved that the time be extended.

About seven minutes later, in the midst of the debate, Ald. Taylor sprung a surprise, by declaring that the council stood adjourned, because the time had not been extended, and it was past eleven o'clock.

"What!" said Ald. Cooper, starting up as if shot out of a gun.

"This council is adjourned," said Ald. Taylor in a firm tone.

"I appeal to this council whether the chairman has ruled according to the laws of this council," shouted Ald. Cooper. "I moved at five minutes to eleven that the time be extended."

"It wasn't seconded," replied Ald. Taylor.

"Ald. Hunt seconded it," said Ald. Cooper.

Ald. Hunt nodded acquiescence.

Ald. Taylor contended that he had not heard the motion seconded, and it was certainly not put.

"It isn't eleven o'clock yet," said another alderman. "That clock's wrong."

"That's the clock this council goes by," retorted Ald. Taylor.

Ald. McCallum—It will take a two-thirds majority to revoke the adjournment.

"Ald. McCallum is right," said Ald. Taylor.

Ald. Cooper continued to protest, but Ald. Taylor and half the aldermen left the council chamber.

Mayor Wilson mounted the throne, which Ald. Taylor had abdicated, and declared the council was not adjourned.

Ald. Taylor returned a moment later and said something to the mayor.

"This is childish," said the mayor, looking very much annoyed. "Proceed with the order of business."

"This is all monkey-shine," declared Ald. McPhillips, who was one of the nine that remained. "This is blocking legitimate business. They should have more commonsense and decency."

Ald. Cooper wanted to see the names of those who left recorded in the press. There was business standing from committees, and the aldermen did not know enough to take their places.

There was a bare quorum present, but Ald. Cooper presented his sewerage committee's report.

Ald. Hunt objected to considering it with so few present, and two or three times moved an adjournment without success. Finally, at about 11:30 p.m., he left the room, and the quorum was broken, the council standing adjourned for two weeks. A pretty lively session had been expected and an unusually large crowd was on deck.

When Ald. Taylor was called to the chair, the council was discussing the application of the school board for $16,300 for an annex to the Collegiate Institute, a new school in the north end, a janitor's cottage on the Collegiate Institute grounds, the redemption of a mortgage on the Queen's avenue kindergarten, and the payment of money due on the Colborne street school. Chairman Logan, Dr. English, and Trustees Hamilton and Ziegler of the school board, and Principal Merchant, of the institute, were present in support of the request. Dr. English and Mr. Logan presented the claims of the board. Mr. Logan said the aldermen had even more interest in school accommodation than the trustees, because they had more children. (Laughter.)

Ald. Carrothers said he understood from Ald. O'Meara, who was one of the inner circle, that the Normal School would take five or six hundred pupils, so that more school accommodation would not be required. He moved that the matter lay over until the estimates were brought in.

Ald. O'Meara said he had been informed that five or six hundred pupils would be required at the school, and it would be well to go slow. Mr. Logan had said that the aldermen had more children than the school trustees, but the aldermen were not so good at kissing. (Laughter.)

Mr. Logan said they had heard about the Normal School for 20 years, and were they going to wait for 20 years more? It was all wind, and gas, and would be for the next ten years.

Mr. Merchant was asked whether the Normal School would require the attendance of children. He said the Normal Schools of Ottawa and Toronto had each two branches—the normal, for the training of teachers, and the model, which was attended by pupils from the city for the practice of teaching. He could not say positively what the intention of the government was, but he thought it was simply to build a Normal School, and not a Model School in connection with it. In that event, the public schools of the city would be utilized as practice schools. Even if the Model School were built, it would not affect the attendance of the Collegiate Institute; only that of the public schools.

Ald. O'Meara asked if it would be treating London as well as the other cities if the Model School were not built.

"Better," said Mr. Merchant, "because it would show that they were satisfied to take London public school pupils as the standard, and not those of Ottawa and Toronto."

In reply to further questions, Mr. Merchant said that at present about 60 pupils had to be accommodated in the basement of the Collegiate Institute for want of room.

Ald. Greenlees favored all the requests of the school board, excepting that for the north end school, which he did not think was necessary. He moved that $13,300 be granted.

Ald. O'Meara spoke vigorously for the north end school, and said some children had to walk one and a quarter miles to the Waterloo street school.

Ald. Hunt objected only to the north end school. The other requirements of the school board he considered should be granted.

Ald. Graham moved that the full amount be paid. The school board knew what it was asking, and the aldermen should consider its requests and not leave the room, as some had done.

Mayor Wilson advocated the north end school, as little tots of 2 or 3 had to walk a mile and a quarter. The aldermen were not capable of saying what the school board wanted, because they did not take the interest in it.

Ald. Winnett said that if the school trustees had to face the electors and bear the brunt of the taxation, they would be more economical. Unless they pared down they would have an appalling tax rate next year.

The matter was finally sent back to No. 1 committee.

A PECULIAR DEAL.

In connection with the board of works' report, the majority of the council approved a contract that will entail a loss to the ratepayers. The first clause of the report recommended the acceptance of A. Graham's tender to lay artificial stone walks, sand finish, at 11¾ cents per square foot, and granolithic finish at 15¾ cents per square foot.

Ald. McCallum at once took objection and sent for the city engineer. In reply to Ald. McCallum's question, the engineer said that sand finished granolithic sidewalks would be used in the city. People wanted them because they were cheaper.

Ald. McCallum pointed out that Mr. Wm. Marden had tendered for sand finished walks at 10½ cents per square foot, while Mr. Graham's price was 11¾ cents. This was very much in favor of Mr. Marden.

Ald. Douglass said that taking Mr. Graham's prices for sand finished and granolithic finished walks together, his average was cheaper than Mr. Marden's.

Ald. McCallum—What kind of walk do you purpose laying?

Ald. Douglass—We are going to give the people just what they want, but we will recommend the sand finish.

"Why not recommend Mr. Marden's tender, then?" said Ald. McCallum. "His price is 10½ cents per square foot, while the other man's is 11¾ cents."

Ald. Douglass—We averaged them.

Ald. McCallum—Why average them, when you recommend the sand finish? Is it a job to give it to a certain tenderer? I will move that the clause be sent back to the committee, and that tenders be asked for separately.

Ald. Greenlees said he would try to untie the knot, by moving that the lower tender for sand finish (Mr. Marden's) be accepted, and the lower tender for granolithic finish (Mr. Graham's) be also accepted.

This was lost on the mayor's casting vote, as follows:

Yeas—Ald. Belton, O'Meara, Stevely, Hunt, Wilkey, Nutkins, Gerry, McCallum, Greenlees—9.

Nays—Ald. Taylor, McPhillips, Douglass, Jolly, Carrothers, Winnett, Graham, Cooper, Dreaney and Mayor Wilson—10.

APPOINTING A FIREMAN.

The chief clause in No. 3 committee's report, presented by Ald. Taylor, recommended the appointment of Mr. Jas. H. Pope, as fireman at No. 3 fire hall. Mr. Pope has been substituting before Fireman Taylor ever since the latter was hurt, a year ago.

Ald. McCallum, in moving the adoption of the clause, said that Mr. Taylor understood from the first that when he was able to resume work his position would be open, and that Mr. Pope would step aside. Mr. Taylor had received another appointment, and it was only fair that Mr. Pope should receive the position he had been filling for a year.

Ald. O'Meara moved that the names of the applicants be balloted on. Carried.

The applicants were: James H. Pope, W. J. Parkinson, James Herrick, Frank Robertson, Archie Moore, J. C. Park, John Prodger, James Campbell, A. Wilcox, Thomas H. Storey, Richard Thompson, M. Tierney, T. Richardson, John A. Pinnell, John Wesley Reeder, T. H. Routledge.

Fifteen ballots were taken. On the twelfth ballot there was a tie between James H. Pope and Archie Moore—9 to 9. The mayor voted for Moore.

The final vote was between Roberton and Prodger, the former winning, 10 to 8.

The eighth clause recommended the acceptance of George McNeil's tender to supply relief wood for 1898.

The mayor declared it carried. Ald. Hunt rose to say something, but was too late.

Ald. Taylor, Jolly, Stevely and Hunt were deputed to visit Woodstock, Galt and Guelph, and inspect the markets.

The committee's estimates of $54,820, were submitted.

The purchase of twelve Gamewell fire alarm boxes was decided upon, the Bell Telephone Company having withdrawn their tender.

Ald. Stevely asked something about the street watering inspectors, but Ald. Taylor said that would come up later.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

The recommendation of the board of health that for sanitary reasons tile sewers be constructed on portions of Central avenue and Oxford, Richmond, Ann and George streets, were sent to No. 2 committee.

THE BOARD OF WORKS.

Ald. Douglass reported for the board of works. The sidewalk clause has been dealt with above.

On clause 8, recommending the acceptance of S. H. Craig's tender to supply curbing stone, Ald. Nutkins moved that W. H. Gould's tender be accepted, as it was the lowest. Ald. Douglass said the engineer had decided that Mr. Craig's was the lowest. The clause carried on a division.

The other clauses were adopted.

The chief item in the finance committee's report was that submitting the school board's request for $16,300.

Diamond Dyes Make Old Things Look As Well As New.

This is the great spring month for using Diamond Dyes. Old, faded and dingy-looking dresses, costumes, skirts, blouses, jackets, capes, shawls, and suits for men and boys are usually looked over with a view of fitting them for another season's wear.

The dyeing operation is an important one and demands care. The great point is to get the right dyes—colors that are pure, bright, and warranted fast to washing and sunlight.

The Diamond Dyes, the only guaranteed dyes in the world—possess all the important virtues for the production of perfect colors. The popular and tested Diamond Dyes have such an immense demand all over the world that unscrupulous dealers, for the sake of large profits, sell vile imitations. If you would have your garments and goods colored richly and permanently, avoid all such imitations.

Refuse all dyes that your dealer tells you are JUST AS GOOD as the "Diamond."

FAGGED OUT.—None but those who have become fagged out know what a depressed, miserable feeling it is. All strength has gone, and despondency has taken hold of the sufferers. They feel as though there was nothing to live for. There, however, is a cure — one box of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will do wonders in restoring health and strength. Mandrake and Dandelion are two of the articles entering into the composition of Parmelee's Pills.
