LOCAL BREVITIES.

O don't you remember sweet Alice, Ben Bolt?
Sweet Alice with hair so brown?
She puts as much calico now in her sleeves
As she used to put in a gown.

—No. 1 committee leals with the street railway problem tonight.

—Ex-Ald. Scarrow is able to be around again after his late severe illness.

—The relief committee of the Trades and Labor Council will meet on Tuesday, Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

—Miss Street, South London, is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. D. H. Browne, Toronto, and Mrs. (Judge) McGibbon, of Peel.

—A sitting of the First Division Court was held today. Many important cases were disposed of by Judge Wm. Elliot.

—Council No. 75, Canadian Order of Chosen Friends, give an "At Home" in their room, Duffield Block, on Monday night.

—The City Hall is being fitted with seats for use in the evangelistic services to be held there and for the use of the members of the Queen's Avenue Sunday school.

—Mr. R. Tooley, ex-M.P.P. for East Middlesex, broke his nose and had his face badly lacerated by his recent runaway accident near Gladstone. He is recovering.

—A hill in the vicinity of Huron College is the favorite nightly resort of a large number of tobogganers. Canadian winter sports have been generally resurrected this winter.

—The other day Mr. James Pitman, of the Hub restaurant, cut his hand slightly. He took no notice of it at the time and erysipelas and blood poisoning have resulted.

The ADVERTISER'S Ingersoll correspondent writes: "T. C. Errington, who for the past two or three years has been in the Northwest, has returned and will in future reside in London."

—The pastor of the Centennial Methodist Church says the value of that property is $15,000 and not $14,000 as published. The trustees intend to guard it for a season by additional insurance.

—Ottawa Journal: Miss Carling, Metcalfe street, secretary of the Morning Music Club, where she is of valuable assistance, is still in London, but proposes to return this week or early next.

—For the accommodation of those attending the Travelers' Ball tonight the management has made arrangements to have the street cars run every half hour, the first car leaving the hotel at 12:30 a.m.

—The Toronto World's Ottawa correspondent wires that the general elections will take place in May. It will be that month before the new voters' lists are ready.

—Rapid progress is being made on the new free library building during this nice weather. Stone for the steps were hauled today. The question as to whether or not the corner stone will be laid with public ceremony is still unsettled.

—Among those at Strathroy ball on Monday evening were Misses D. Edgecombe and A. Stone, and Messrs. H. R. Abbott, James Belcher and Charles Nichols, of London; and Capt. James Beaty, of Toronto.

—The Seventh Fusiliers have rented the building known as McCue's hotel, corner Richmond and Kent streets, and will fit it up as a club house, with reading, music, and billiard rooms, sergeant's mess room and all conveniences. It is proposed to fund the regimental pay for its support.

—The crowd of visitors at the Arscott homestead has fallen off greatly, but the young girl's friends assert that the child's power continues to increase wonderfully. The visitor is regaled now to either rapping or scratching, whichever is requested. An interested Hamiltonian visited the child recently. The "spook" says the recent church fires were of incendiary origin, and says it knows who the firebug is, but will not reveal his identity.

—As an outcome of the last meeting of the London West School Board, Squire Lacey will hold a special court tomorrow night and hear a case of abusive language preferred by one of the trustees against another. At a recent session a motion to dismiss Janitor Pudney brought a tie vote. Chairman Ludwig reserved his decision pending information on certain legal points. After a half-hour's stormy discussion, Trustee Jones alleges that Trustee John Crockett stated he was no good; that he (Jones) was a —— cur, etc., and threatened to do him harm. The case will be very interesting.

—Two young men proceeded to make a call the other night, but mistook the house, the inmates of which were so annoyed that they issued a summons against them. One of them was fined $10 today by the police magistrate. Robert Hueston was to have appeared to answer to a charge of immoderate driving. Mr. Love appeared and stated that the defendant was sick and unable to attend. The case was therefore enlarged for a week. Fred Scott, the King street east man, charged with pilfering pens from the Rectory street school, elected trial by the magistrate and pleaded not guilty. He then asked that he be remanded for a week to allow him to prove an alibi, which he says he can do. A couple of drunks went free.

—Toronto Mail and Empire: "Capt McGillivray, who for five years occupied a responsible position on the staff of the Bank of Commerce of this city, left last night for London, Ont., to join the bank there. Capt. McGillivray's absence from the city will be felt in many circles. He was a most useful working member of St. Andrew's Church and took deep interest in the welfare of the St. Andrew's Institute. He is a member of several Scottish societies, and one of the most efficient officers of the Forty-eighth Highlanders since the formation of that regiment. On the resignation of Capt. Macdonald from the adjutancy he was appointed to that post, and discharged the arduous duties of the position with marked ability and success. During his leave of absence from the staff he will be much missed."

—About 400 pounds of provisions were collected at the door of St. James' Church, South London, last night, representing the admission fees of charitable people for the entertainment within. It was given by the King's Daughters, and was very much enjoyed. The programme was: Recitation, Miss Inez Taylor; harmonica selections, Messrs. Bradford, Short and Kipp; songs, by Messrs. Wilson and Jutson; empire drill, by a number of young girls, under the direction of Miss Wallace, of St. George's Church, London West, as well as a chorus; two vocal trios by Messrs. McMillan, McNeff and Abey; recitation, by Miss Stanton, of London West; piano duet, by Mrs. A. W. White and Miss Lena Taylor; harp selections, by Messrs. Giers and Mercier. Rev. Archdeacon Davis gave an address. Prof. Harrison presided. The provisions will be given to the deserving poor.

—Mr. S. Williams, of London, advertising agent for J. C. Ayer & Co., struck town on Friday, and after transacting some business with the newspaper offices, set out for Cargill. He drove a span of well-matched horses, and thought a great deal of them as he had driven them for years. The day was stormy and Mr. Williams had his cap pulled down over his ears, his eyes also being partly covered. This prevented him from noticing some obstruction on the road, and the cutter struck it, causing the horses to bolt. One of the whippletrees broke, and this let the tongue fall. The striking of the tongue against their legs made the animals frantic, and they soon freed themselves from the rig altogether. Before running far, one of them broke its leg and fell. At the time they were heading straight for the race, and had they gone a rod or two further, would have run into it. After examining the leg, Mr. Williams concluded that it was a gone case, and that the animal would have to be shot, which was accordingly done.—Walkerton Telescope.

CURLING.

LONDON OUT OF IT.

Curling for the tankard at the Western Ontario bonspiel was continued in the Simcoe Street Rink this morning, when the winners of Thursday's draw—Paris and Wroxeter—entered the lists with Thamesville and London. The victorious clubs of Thursday proved to be victors again and London and Thamesville bowed down before them. Wroxeter defeated London just about as easily as they defeated Forest City Thursday, and Thamesville proved no match at all for Paris. Paris and Wroxeter will play off for the tankard this afternoon.

SHE WANTS ALIMONY.

Mrs. W. H. Copeland of Woodstock Has Has Brought Action Against Her Husband.

WOODSTOCK, Feb. 15.—Mr. W. H. Copeland is a man of means. He is well known as a real estate speculator in the Northwest, and during the last year dealt largely in horses throughout Ontario. Mr. Copeland is said to be worth $20,000.

In June, 1889, he married Miss Mary Naomi Thornton, of Woodstock, a young lady highly esteemed by a wide circle of friends. They traveled extensively for a long while, spending a year or two abroad, and finally took up their residence in Woodstock. In August, Mr. Copeland went to the Northwest. From Winnipeg he wrote his wife that he did not intend to live with her again, and in January, when Mr. Copeland was on a visit to friends in St. Thomas, he was served with a writ for interim alimony. Mrs. Copeland claimed $10 a week.

The case will be tried at the non-jury sittings held here on April 16, before Chancellor Boyd.

Mrs. Copeland, since her separation, has been living with her mother, Mrs. Pomroy, on Mary street. Mr. Copeland will defend the suit.

A MAD DRIVE FOR LIFE.

He Had Taken Enough Poison by Mistake to Kill a Dozen Men.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Feb. 14.—Dr. Charles Wesley Ensign, a physician of Rotterdam Junction, seven miles from here, yesterday took a teaspoonful of tincture of aconite in mistake for a tonic, the preparation being in a bottle similar in appearance to the one holding the poison. After unsuccessfully using all the antidotes at hand, Dr. Ensign drove in mad haste to this city, one horse falling exhausted when within two miles of town and another being immediately substituted, where he was successfully treated by Dr. George E. McDonald, who dosed the sufferer with nitro-glycerine and strychnine.

The usual quantity in which the tincture is given is three minims. A teasponful contains 90 minims, or sufficient to kill a dozen men. Dr. Ensign developed all the symptoms of aconite poisoning—lassitude, tingling of the lips, the compressed feeling of the chest, feeble pulse, paralysis of the heart and total blindness. He was laboring under great excitement when he reached the office of Dr. McDonald, and he said to-day that nothing but the latter's calmness and prompt action saved his life.

STRONG FEELING IN HONOLULU.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15.—The feeling in Honolulu against the conspirators is very strong, and it is the general desire that the executions be carried out. President Dole, who is more conservative in the matter, is said to oppose this. Martial law is still in force.

THE FORD THEATER TRAGEDY.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The committee on the Ford Theater disaster has made a favorable report to the Senate, appropriating $115,000 for the relief of heirs of those who were killed in that accident.

ANOTHER CANADIAN HONORED.

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—Dr. G. B. Foster, of McMaster College, Toronto, has accepted a call to the chair of theology in the University of Chicago Divinity School, recently made vacant by the death of Prof. B. F. Simpson.

Nothing impure or injurious contaminates the popular antidote to pain, throat and lung remedy and general corrective, Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. It may be used without the slightest apprehension of any other than salutary consequences. Coughs, rheumatism, earaches, bruises, cuts and sores succumb to its action.

Boy—Mr. Dunn called to see about that bill of his. Mr. Short—Well, if he comes in again tell him his bill is in a good state of preservation, and is likely to reach a good old age.
