REGATTA AT ISLAND MOST SUCCESSFUL YET

I.A.A.A. Sports Attract Large Crowd—Various Events Are Well Contested.

Never was a year in the history of the Island Aquatic Association when so much interest was evinced in the annual regatta as in those of Saturday, and the club has now fulfilled the ideals of its founder.

Fully 2000 people witnessed the events from the verandah of the club's pavilion and the shores of the lagoon. The events followed rapidly and without interruption.

Since the new club house was erected a year ago, the membership of the association has gone ahead with leaps and bounds. Already the quarters are inadequate and it was announced on Saturday that a large extension would be added before next season opens. In two years the association has cleared itself entirely from debt and there is a substantial balance in the treasury to apply towards improvements. Most of the older heads who make up the Centre Island summer community have affiliated themselves with the I.A.A. and are contemplating the establishment of a bowling green to the south of the pavilion. A very interested spectator was W. A. Finlay, business manager of The Ottawa Free Press, formerly of Toronto. For several years he was secretary of the association, which, according to his own conception, was a mere child then, as compared to now.

The chief interest centred in the club fours canoe race, as this was the feature, upon the result of which depended the greatest number of points.

The crew of Salisbury Brothers, F. Bryce and H. S. Bowes were winning easily, when George Sainsbury, reaching too far forward in his stroke, fell from the bow of his canoe. He was picked up by the launch, Waterlily, none the worse for his spill.

The crew stroked by Harold, shot into first place, while the disabled craft crossed the line second, but was disqualified.

LONGBOAT WINS FIVE MILE AT HALIFAX

Longboat Wins Five-mile Run—Skene Barely Beaten in Mile—Archibald and O'Rourke Winners.

HALIFAX, N.S., Aug. 29.—(Special.)—The greatest concourse of people ever assembled to witness a sporting event in Eastern Canada, gathered on the beautiful grounds of the Wanderers A.A.C. this afternoon to witness the 25th annual Canadian athletic championships. The weather was ideal, a cool breeze sweeping over the track, which is very fast, aiding the contestants in the different events to make good time.

One of the best races of the meet was the mile run. The crowd showed their disappointment when it was announced that Longboat would not run. After the three-quarter mark the race was between Holmer, Maritime champion, and Skene, Toronto, Holmer winning less than a yard in advance of Skene. Holmer received great ovation.

As this is the first time the championships meet ever took place in the Maritime Provinces great interest was taken in the event. Among the athletes of Dominion reputation to take part were Tom Longboat, Sellen, Skean, McDonald, Kerr, Archibald, Parkes and Seibert.

The five mile run was the event of great interest. To the disappointment of the spectators Holmer withdrew owing to a sore foot. However, when such men as Longboat and Sellen of Toronto, Wood of Montreal, runners of international reputation, faced the starters, excitement was intense, and the men got a great ovation. Longboat was favorite with the crowd. Ten men started. Longboat took the lead at the three-quarter mark with Wood of Montreal a close second, Sellen third. These positions were held for four miles. On the fifth Tom started to increase his lead and steadily drew away from Wood, winning by a good lead in 26.5¾. The other events were keenly contested. The championships were held under the auspices of the M.P.A.A., the referee, J. C. Lithgow, coming in for much praise for the satisfactory way in which the meet was managed.

Toronto Swimming Club.

From a spectator's point of view the 200 yards four style race held on Saturday is the very best yet. Eight Toronto Club swimmers faced the starter and at the word "go" dived in and swam 50 yards on the breast, continuing with 50 yards on the back, turning came back 50 yards, using the single side over arm stroke and finished the remaining 50 yards with the trugeon stroke.

A. H. Field finished first with E. Lockhart a close second, while J. Weir Anderson was third, having fought out the last 50 yards with T. I. Anderson, just beating him by a hair's breath.

This was the most killing race of the season, the swimmers being all in at the end of it, and obliged to lie out and rest. Time 3 mins. 30 secs.

New Selling Methods

The National Cash Register Company has always been regarded as in the van of progress, both in respect to the superior quality of its manufactures and high grade salesmanship. In the latter regard the National Cash Register Company is without peer or competitor.

The company has removed its salesrooms from 129 West King-street to splendid new quarters at the corner of Yonge-street and Wilton-avenue. And here this National Cash Register Company has fitted up complete model miniature stores in the leading lines of trade.

This is a new idea in expert salesmanship. For this the retail merchant, while investigating the question of purchasing a cash register, can make an actual comparison between the results obtained by his own methods and those secured by installing a National Cash Register in his store.

It is plain that these model miniature stores will make a convincing demonstration of the value to a merchant of having a National Cash Register in his own place of business. First, the surroundings are familiar, because they are practically identical with the make up of his own store. Then the National Cash Register Co.'s salesmen act as if they were his customers, buying goods from himself. He thus sees the undoubtedly great advantages of having in his own store a National Cash Register. And as seeing is believing, this method of salesmanship easily proves to be convincing.

Mr. Mutton, the Canadian manager of the National Cash Register Co., has inaugurated in the new offices a large "convention room." This room is to be used by himself and his salesmen at monthly meetings for discussing the latest improved methods of protecting and advancing the retail merchant's interests.

At this year's exhibition in Toronto, visitors to the fair will hear something absolutely original in this country, namely, the National Cash Register Co.'s world-famous factory lecture. It will be given in their own lecture hall, erected within the woman's building. The lecture is free to the public and especially to those who want to be at an instructive talk on how to benefit working people.

This lecture is illustrated by thousands of stereopticon views, showing how "the model factory of the world" (the National Cash Register Co.'s factory) was brought into existence, and its growth in the twenty years it has been operating. The lecture, which has been heard at all the famous world fairs, was originally given in Toronto by request of the Manufacturers' Association.

The exhibit of the National Cash Register Co. will be found in the manufacturers' building. As always, it will prove a great drawing card. The majority of the products in the exhibit have been made in the company's Canadian plant, 98-100 Lombard-street.

When asked by The World how long he had been with the National Cash Register Co., Manager Mutton replied, fifteen years, incidentally remarking that when he took hold of matters there were only three representatives of the company in Canada, while now there are thirty-five. The company also has splendid offices in Halifax, St. John, Quebec, Montreal, Ottawa, Hamilton, Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary, Vancouver; in fact, their agencies spread from coast to coast.

Mr. Mutton also said that the Canadian market for the National Cash Register Co.'s products is fast becoming voluminous, running closely to the million dollar mark yearly. "There is no depression," he remarked, "with the National Cash Register Co.'s business; we don't know what it means. All this talk of depression emanates only from the pessimists for which there is no room in our organization." Manager Mutton concluded his remarks by saying that a visit to the National Cash Register Co.'s new handsome premises, corner Yonge-street and Wilton-avenue, will prove beneficial to any visitor or citizen who is interested in expert salesmanship.
