LAWYERS IN WORDY WAR

H. H. Picket and J. King Kelly Exchange Some Compliments in the Police Court.

In the police court this morning Allan Holliday was fined $4 for drunkenness.

Benjamin Bourne was arrested this morning about two o'clock for wandering about the street and not giving a satisfactory account of himself. Bourne, who pleaded guilty to the charge preferred against him, informed the court that he boarded at Harry Lewis', 29 Pitt street, and last night there was quite a time there. About midnight he wandered away from his boarding house for reasons best known to himself. It is said that the prisoner acted strangely. He was remanded.

James Boyle was arrested shortly after nine o'clock last night for assaulting, following and accosting two ladies on St James street. One of the women was in court this morning and identified Bed Boyle as the offender. She said that she and her daughter were walking along St. James street, and when passing the corner of Charlotte and St. James streets she noticed the defendant, who was smoking at the time. Boyle caught her by the shoulder and she went out into the middle of the street, he following her. The police were telephoned for and Sergeant Campbell responded, and after a search captured Boyle. The latter said this morning that he was a sailor and had been a seaman for the past seventeen years and it was the first time he was ever in court. He denied the charge, but was fined $20 or two month in jail.

Joseph Marquis and Samuel K. Cohen, two Hebrews, were in court this morning owing to the fact that Marquis stated that Cohen used abusive language to him. It appears that A. Lapinsky and Cohen went into Marquis' store on Dock street on business about certain bank notes. Marquis and Cohen were talking and Cohen called Marquis a liar and another undignified name. Marquis sought the police. A. Lapinsky corroborated the complainant's testimony, but the defendant, when he went on the stand, stated that the complainant called him some choice names and admitted that he used bad language. He said, however, that he was called names first by Marquis, and wanted Max Ross, who was present at the time, to corroborate his testimony. While Ross was being gotten by Marquis, who was represented by J. King Kelly, Cohen telephoned for his lawyer, H. H. Pickett. When the witness arrived he said he did not wish to come to court for he had never been in one before and would not be connected with the affair for $100. Ross said that Cohen used the language stated by the complainant, and during his testimony the opposing lawyers exchanged some fiery remarks. Mr. Kelly was evidently examining the witness too fast and Mr. Pickett requested time to take the evidence down, whereupon the opposing lawyer offered to send for a stenographer, and the answer, "Thank you," came from Mr. Pickett. Subsequently Mr. Pickett asked Mr. Ross if he did not think Cohen to be a good character, and immediately Mr. Kelly advised him not to enter into that question or he would cross-examine on that point. Mr. Pickett replied, "I'm not taking your advice this morning." Cohen was fined $8 for the offence.

WHO IS THE VICTIM?

Opinion That Body Found Near Likely's Timber Pond May Be That of Chatham Man.

The body of the unknown man drowned recently near Likely's timber pond may be that of Joseph White of Chatham. Coroner W. F. Roberts received a letter from Mrs. Joseph Jimmo, also of Chatham, yesterday afternoon, in which she expresses the opinion that from the description of the body the victim might be her brother, Joseph White, who she says left Chatham on Friday. She enclosed a photo of her brother, which bears a striking resemblance to the dead man. The letter also contains a detailed description of Joseph White, which corresponds pretty closely with that of the body now lying in Chamberlain's undertaking rooms, the only points of difference being in the clothing and the absence of a gold filling in a tooth.

Mrs. Costigan of North street says that a man whose description tallies closely with the body came to her house Wednesday night and applied for lodging. The following morning he came down stairs and asked if "Nellie" was there; and on being told there was nobody of that name in the house, said: "She must be next door." He left Costigan's that morning, taking his top coat with him, and Mrs. Costigan has seen nothing of him since then.

The police are still working on the case, but up to midday had reached no definite conclusion. It is not known just when the body will be interred, as that matter is still in the hands of the coroner pending investigation.

Drs. Roberts and Scammell went over the body last night, but found nothing to indicate foul play.

DERAILED AT HAMPTON

I. C. R. Freight Train in an Accident This Morning---Some Delay But Little Damage.

I. C. R. freight train No. 6, which left here this morning at 7.30 o'clock, met with an accident at Hampton about 9.30, which caused the derailment of the engine, tender and one freight car. Word was sent to the city, and an auxiliary train sent out at 11.45 o'clock. So far as could be learned no damage was done, but the noon train going east was delayed at Rothesay for a short time, the trouble at Hampton being straightened out shortly after one o'clock.

NEWS FROM FREDERICTON

FREDERICTON, N. B., Dec. 6.—(Special).—The annual meeting of the senate of the University was held in the education office this morning. Those present were: Dr. Loch, Chancellor Harrison, Premier Tweedie, Judge Barker, Judge McLeod, Hon G. F. Hill, W. A. Park, Inspector Bridges and Registrar Coy.

Chancellor Harrison submitted his annual report on the university, which was adopted and ordered to be sent to the legislature.

The financial statement of Registrar Coy, duly audited, was also presented and adopted.

The gymnasium committee made a report and recommended among other things that a dressing room be fitted up in the gymnasium building. No action was taken. The annual conference between the senate and faculty of the university is being held this afternoon.

The local government held a short session this morning with all the members present and transacted a lot of routine business. A meeting of the Board of Education is being held this afternoon.

Commissioner Thomas Lawson is here today continuing the investigation of the contractors' claims in connection with the Buctouche and Kingston bridges.

A. B. Copp, M. P. P., is counsel for the government and J. H. Barry, K. C., represents the contractors.

The commissioner will submit a report to the government at an early date.

Burton Tucker, an employe of Gibson's mill, died at Marysville last night, after a week's illness from pneumonia, aged thirty-one. He was a member of Pickard Lodge, L. A. A., and the funeral will be under the auspices of that organization.

Hon. L. P. Farris, who has been attending the Amherst Fat Stock Show, returned to the city this morning. In conversation with the Times, he stated that the show was easily the most successful ever held in Amherst. The stock and poultry exhibits are very creditable and the fruit display from New Brunswick orchards pleased him greatly.

AMALGAMATION OF THE CHURCHES

Tonight the members of Brussels, Waterloo and Leinster street Baptist churches will meet in their respective schoolrooms to consider the question of reorganization and amalgamating the three churches in one.

The scheme as reported on by a joint committee of the three churches is to use the Leinster street building. It is understood, however, that many of the members of the Waterloo street and Brussels street churches do not favor the idea. The Leinster street people, it is said, have no objection to the scheme as they consider more effective work could be done if the three churches were united, and they contend that their building is the most modern and more centrally located of the three.

While the other two churches recognize and agree that more effective work could be done if the amalgamation scheme was carried out, many of the members do not approve of the Leinster street edifice. A large number of Brussels street members contend that their building as the central one of the three, is the most suitable and that Leinster street is too near to Germain street church. They feel that there should be a church in their section and claim that in view of the repairs put on the church a few years ago, it is the more suitable of the three.

In the congregation of Waterloo street church there is reported some feeling that as the debt on their building is small and as hitherto they have had no difficulty in getting along it would be undesirable to make any change.

It would not be at all surprising to many if the meetings tonight were not productive of any definite decision, and in some quarters it is learned that it is quite probable that the scheme will fall through, at least in its present form.
