DOES IT MEAN A CONTEST. — An assistant post office inspector paid a visit to Millville on Thursday and the people expect a daily mail. There are some, however, who say that his last visit was followed by an election and the daily mail was a fizzle. There may be better luck this time.

HEAD CUT.— Roy Jennings, son of the late William Jennings, of Westmorland street, received an ugly cut on the head on Monday last at the Charlotte street school. During recess a playmate threw a stone which accidentally struck Roy, leaving a wound nearly two inches long.

SERIOUSLY HURT.— Mrs. Dunlap, of Upper Haynesville, an old lady of seventy-seven, fell from a carriage in which she was driving on Saturday last, breaking her collar bone and two ribs. She was the mother of Andrew Dunlap, of that settlement. It is thought that she cannot recover.

DANGEROUSLY ILL.— Evangelist Chubbuck, who a few years ago visited and labored in this city, is lying at death's door at his home in the United States. Mrs. Chubbuck's mother, Mrs. McCully, of Amherst, N. S., was telegraphed for and has gone to his bedside. Bright's disease is the cause.

ADJOURNED.— Quite a number attended the county court on Tuesday morning, expecting to hear the Atkinson-Manzer trial, but owing to the non-arrival of judge Stevens the court was adjourned till half-past two. Judge Stevens not arriving by the afternoon train, the court was further adjourned till Tuesday, December 15th.

THE ECLIPSE.— Nearly everyone in the city watched the progress of the moon's eclipse on Sunday evening. Slowly but surely the earth's shadow passed over the bright face of the moon until about eight o'clock it was totally blotted out, when the bright edge of the moon began to appear, and by nine was out in its full splendor.

SCOTT ACT ELECTION.— The ladies of the W. C. T. U., held a protracted prayer meeting on Tuesday in their hall. Prayers were offered from 10 o'clock till the closing of the polls, for the success of the temperance party in the Charlotte county Scott act election. The act was sustained by a majority of nine hundred. There were 2.500 votes cast.

BOOM WORK.— The rafting at Mitchell boom has been finished for the year and Mr. Crawford, the foreman, has seen 70,000,000 feet of lumber put under the brackets. It has been a very successful summer's work. Everything is now put in shape for the winter, and the usual busy life of the boom has given place to winter solitude.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.— Charles Fleiger, of Chatham, accidentally shot himself in the face while out at Bartibogue partidge shooting on the 12th. He was in a wagon with two others, when, it is supposed, the jolting of the vehicle discharged the gun. The charge entered the cheek and passed upwards to the top of the head. It is thought he will recover.

Williams of Marysville, and Miss Hatt of Fredericton, sisters of Mrs. Colter.

WOODSTOCK'S BRIDGE.—David Brown, C.E., reported, respecting the proposed site for the Woodstock bridge, at Saturday's meeting of the government. His report was accepted and will be acted upon; the bridge to be built at the King street site. This will be a little more expensive, but a much better location than the previous one. It is thought that the new structure will be of stone and iron.

OUR RICH HEIRS.

More About the Jans Boguardus Estate in New York.

Among other communications that have reached this city respecting the estate of Jans Boguardus in New York city is the following. For obvious reasons all names are suppressed.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5th, 1891

Dear Sir,— Your favor received, will say that there can be no doubt as to the value of the Boguardus property, and as to congress granting it to the real heirs, if they can make a straight claim. It has only lately transpired that there was any question as to whom the title was vested in, but owing to a desire to renew the lease for Trinity church, the ownership of the land was enquired into. The result was that the property was altogether unclaimed and was in the hands of the government. The trustees of the church will work with the heirs to have a settlement made, so that their rights to the leasehold may be undisputed. The question of ownership has now been thoroughly opened up and must be settled during the winter or in early spring. Those interested should at once take steps to prove their descent and there can be no difficulty in securing their share. The estate is valued at hundreds of millions. Being attorney for the trustees, will willingly do all that I can to bring the matter to a satisfactory solution. Yours, Etc.——

Several other letters have been received which corroborate the above in the fact of the value of the property and as to its being unclaimed. Some of these will appear in these columns. A prominent lawyer of the north shore has been engaged and is already making a good plea for his clients. It has been thought that on account of the fact of many of the heirs being loyalists, the property had been confiscated, but such is not the case, as there were heirs in Washington's army who held the title good and through these the descendents of the loyalists have their claim. The property has not been confiscated but since the war of 76 has been vested in congress there being no one to look after it.

St. Martin's Seminary.

Rev. A. K. deBlois writes to the Messenger and Visitor that the life of the St. Martin's seminary depends upon the raising of a few hundred dollars. "Some months ago it was announced that $15,000 must be raised to enable the school to meet its liabilities. Not many weeks since it was stated that $12,000 had been pledged on condition that the whole amount were subscribed. The pledges came from reliable business men in St. John and elsewhere through the province. A month ago Free Baptist brethren at their conference in Marysville agreed to take $1,500 as their share of the $3,000 remaining. This left $1,500 for our own denomination to subscribe. Dr. Hopper's health has become impaired through his noble and untiring efforts, and much against his will he has been forced to seek medical aid in Boston. In his absence the work of collecting has fallen upon pastor Williams and myself. There is still $800 to be raised, and these last hundreds are very hard to get. Our friends must help us. The creditors gave us till the end of December to secure the $15,000. That period has almost gone and there is yet $800 lacking. If this is not obtained the other subscriptions are valueless. If this is not obtained in five weeks our seminary is doomed!"

A Man Hunt.

Constable Roberts and J. B. Orr went up the Woodstock road on a man chase on Wednesday. It appears that John McKenna hired a horse at the Barker, as he said to visit Marysville. Not returning when he should, it was soon learned that he had taken a different route. When Roberts' grip fastened on McKenna's shoulder, the horse was well over the line, and an hour more would have seen McKenna safe on Uncle Sam's domain. He was brought back to town and is now in jail waiting the next turn of affairs. He is the same individual that made a stir at the Queen hotel last week, the particulars of which were not made known, but which will likely come against him now. McKenna was up before Mr. Marsh on Friday but remanded till Monday so that witnesses may be brought from Woodstock.

Sad Homes.

John Miller, of St. John, well known here, as he was for some time clerk at the bank of B. N. A., died at St. John on Tuesday. He was married to a Miss Blair of Truro about six months ago.

Much sorrow was expressed here when the sad news reached the city of the death at St. John, on Tuesday, of Fred McLellan. He was one of the most popular conductors in the service of the C. P. R., and the many patrons of the road between St. John and Vanceboro will miss his cordial greeting. He had been out with his train and had only been at his home a short time when he fell dead from heart failure. He ran the train between this city and St. John for some years and made many friends here. He was not married.

Scott Barracks.

It is not often that the health authorities of the city have to take extreme measures for public protection, but at the last meeting of the council, attention was called to the filthy state of the Scott barracks, generally known as Scotch barracks. People living in the vicinity of Charlotte and Regent street corner have reason to complain and even those whom chance or business take that way speak strongly respecting this blot on an otherwise clean city. The council have decided that it shall be thoroughly cleansed and that only twenty-five persons shall inhabit it, instead of forty as at present. It is hoped this prompt resolution on the part of the authorities will be followed at once by earnest action.

In the Courts.

A case, that has excited some interest, was before the judges on Thursday. Thos. W. Purvis, of Millville, has in course of erection at that place a fine building, which it is claimed, is on the limits of the road as well as on lands claimed by the C. P. R. The commissioner of the parish entered a suit before B. R. Burt, justice of the peace, to compel the removal of the structure. The case went against Purvis and an appeal was then made to the judges. No decision has as yet been given and the construction of the building is yet going on. Purvis says that the road now used is not the one commissioned.

Military Ball.

Monday evening there was a very brilliant assemblage at the officers' barracks, the occasion being a ball given by the officers of the corps. Several of the rooms were tastefully decorated with flags and bunting, the quarters of major Buchan and capt. Hemming lost their usual military aspect and became converted in very commodious dressing rooms. The I. S. C. orchestra rendered a special programme. Col. Maunsell and Mrs. Hilyard, major Buchan and Mrs. Maunsell, Mr. Hilyard and Miss Winslow, lieut. Carpenter and Mrs. Hemming were in the first set.

Shot Too High.

Two young sports, from Rhode Island, one the son of the state superintendent of schools and the other a son of a large stock broker of that state, paid a visit to Gaspereau plains a short time since, accompanied by two Indians from the St. Marys reserve. They saw five caribou and fired five shots at them at about sixty yards distance, but being excited, shot over and missed. They were very much disappointed, but think New Brunswick superior to the west for large game.

Gibson and St. Marys.

Rev. Mr. Manzer preached at Hanwell on Sabbath last to a good congregation.

Reed Blair, although yet suffering severely from his accident, is recovering rapidly.

Mr. Blakeny, principal of the school here, goes to Keswick Ridge superior school for next term.

Four candidates for baptism will receive that ordinance at the Gibson Baptist church to-morrow morning.

Herbert Gunter, son of Samuel Gunter, St. Marys, left on Thursday to join his brother in Montana

Hiram Brewer and others chose a site on Monday for a new Orange hall, to be built here during the winter or early spring.

Carpenters were at work during the week repairing the R. C. chapel. Iron rods were put in to prevent the building spreading.

There is a rumor going the rounds that a well known pastor is shortly to be presented with something to keep him warm when going his circuit.

St. Marys Foresters are justly proud of their handsome organ, won as a prize for the greatest initiation list in the time of any court in Canada.

It is reported that T. Turney, who was fined by Mr. Marsh last week for violation of the C. T. A., has gone to Houlton, and the fine will remain unpaid. Very few tears were shed here over his departure.

Mr. and Mrs. Whitman Haines, of St. Marys, celebrated their sixty-eighth anniversary of their marriage on Tuesday. They have nearly 100 grand children. Their many friends wish that they may yet long enjoy married life.

Sunday evening, the Rev. Mr. Parsons, F. C. Baptist, preached in Garden's hall at Gibson. The hall has been put in fine shape, has been furnished with a pulpit and platform furniture and one hundred and eighty chairs put in. At the dedicatory meeting, however, there were not seats for all, many chairs were brought in and yet several had to stand. Miss Ida White is organist.

Marysville Notes.

Rev. Mr. Nobles will have service in the hall to-morrow at three o'clock.

Harry Capens and John Lynch have returned from Medway, Maine, on a visit to old friends here.

Rumor says that a wealthy Woodstock gentleman is to take away one of this towns fair ladies in the near future.

Although reports have been going the rounds of the press respecting the prevalence of scarlet fever at Marysville, yet there are but few cases, and these of a mild type.

On Tuesday evening, Webb's bus when taking a load of passengers from the factory to their homes at Gibson, upset while passing a team near the old Colter farm. The waggon turned completely over into a culvert but luckily there was but slight injury done to the occupants.

Miss Mary White, daughter of William White, Marysville, was married at her father's residence on Wednesday, the 11th inst., to Hugh Harrison of that town. The Rev. Mr. Parsons officiated. None but immediate relatives of the contracting parties were present. Woodford White and Miss Hattie Tufts supported the happy couple in the ordeal.

The incandescant light in the cotton mill at Marysville has given the very best satisfaction, which speaks well for the light, but speaks better for the care and attention bestowed upon it by A. G. Robison, who has had full charge of it since the mill started. There has not been five minutes lost, the light always being ready for work. Sandy has made a thorough study of electricity, and is now quite an expert in electric lighting.

Charles Simpson, a young man of seventeen years of age, shot himself seriously on Thursday evening. He had snapped a cap on a muzzle loading gun and it "hung fire." He attempted to look into the barrel when the gun was discharged, tearing away one cheek and ruining one eye. There was only powder in the gun or the wound would have been fatal.

Happy Hearts.

St. Dunstans was the scene, Tuesday, of one of those pleasant affairs that make life worth living. It was the occasion of the marriage of Miss Bertha Kelly, eldest daughter of John Kelly, of the Lorne hotel, this city, to John Rowan, jr., of Lincoln. Miss Sarah Rowan acted as bridesmaid while John Boyle made a very efficient groomsman. There was quite a gathering at the church. Among the many beautiful presents that attested the popularity of the happy couple were:

On Friday evening, the 13th inst., the Rev. Mr. Payson performed the marriage ceremony that united Miss Sarah Lyons and Andrew Lindsay for life. King street blazed with the light from a huge bonfire kindled to do them honor and many fine bridal gifts told the feelings of their many friends. An elegant set of china from the firm of Geo. Hatt & Sons accompanied by an address attested the respect in which the contracting parties are held by the donors.

A beautiful set of glasses from Miss Eunice Kelly; a pair of handsome vases from Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Duffy; silver butter knife from Mrs. Capt Johnson; a very pretty fruit dish, Thomas Rowan; set of glass dishes, Mrs. Walter Kelly; butter knife and linen, Miss Bessie Kelly; silver butter cooler, M. McGahey; silver spoons, John Rowan; a handsome lemonade set, Mr. McGorty, of St. John; handsome dressing case, Mrs. M. Ryan; silver knives and forks, Ald. John Moore; silver butter knife, Mrs. John Moore; silver sugar bowl and spoon, the groomsman, John Boyle; table linen, Mrs. M. McGowan; silver tea spoons, Mr. McGowan; silver pickle dish, Mr. and Mrs. Quigley; handsome set of glassware, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sewell; silver castor, Jas. Rowan; silver cake basket, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Scully; silver berry spoon, Frank Rowan; silver cake basket, Miss Sarah Rowan; a very handsome lamp, Miss Lizzie Rowan; silver castor, Peter Farrell; bronze lamp, Miss Agnes Kelly; tea set, Mrs. John Kelly; breakfast castors, Mrs. Dennis Lynch; hand painted plaque, Miss Lena Meehan; pair blankets, Miss Elsie Ward; fur muff, John Kelly, and by little master Rowan, a crumb duster.

SOMETHING FOR ALL. — All intend to visit the grand fair to be held at St. Dunstan's hall, beginning on Tuesday afternoon, the 24th inst. Those who remember the success of the last one will go this time and take all their friends with them There will be an attractive display of elegant artistic work and useful fancy articles. New amusements, new attractions, competitive voting, humorous and interesting games will be introduced. The Fredericton brass band have kindly tendered their services. For further particulars see advertisement in another column.

CAUGHT IN A SNARE.— A gentleman from this city and another from Glasier, were out gunning on Saturday on the York and Sunbury boundary line, when a peculiar accident happened the man from Glasier. As he was going along a path he put his foot in a fox snare and the spring pole to which the snare was attached, jerked him up, but his weight brought him down again, so that he rested with his head on the ground and his feet in the air. He was soon rescued, however, none the worse for his hanging.

CLEVER ENGINEER. — Engineer Robert Donaldson is one of the best men that hauls a train to or from this city. Although the cylinder of his engine was damaged a few days since near Morrison's mills, the train was delayed but about twenty minutes, Robert disconnecting on one side and running his regular trips on time with one set of drivers. He is the right man in an emergency.

SURPRISE PARTY.— A beautiful and well known pacer is on his way from one of the Maine stables to a gentleman farmer in this vicinity. There will be more snow king's than one this winter. He is intended for a surprise party and it will not do to give him away.

SILVER WEDDING.

Superintendent Hoben of the C. P. R. visited by his friends.

On Saturday evening, the 14th inst., one of those social affairs took place which tend so much to bind in firmer bonds of friendship those who engage in them, namely, a silver wedding. It was the twenty-fifth anniversary of the wedding day of Thomas Hoben, superintendent of the Canada Eastern railway. He was married at Burton, Sunbury, to Miss Frances Babbit, whom all now know as Mrs. Hoben. The invited guests were:

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Nobles,
Mr. and Mrs. Rand Staples,
Geo. Miles,
Ran. Foster,
Charles Yerxa,
Dan. Babbitt,
B. H. Babbit,
Thos. Babbit,
Robt. Macklin,
Emery Sewell,
Charles Sterling,
H. Hoben,
Mrs. P. Babbit,
Mrs. Colwell,
Mrs. P. Cowperthwaite,
Chas. Cowperthwaite,
Miss Titus,
Miss Miles,
Albert Miles and others.

The guests made a joint presentation of a handsome silver service, the presentation being made by Rev. Mr. Nobles in a very pleasing address. The children presented their parents with a silver salver. It was a surprise to the parties most interested and was therefore the more appreciated. The address was as follows:

DEAR SIR AND MADAM, — It is fitting that certain events in our varied experiences should be commemorated and we meet here to-night to commemorate a pleasing event in yours. Twenty-five years ago at the marriage altar you pledged to each other your vows of fidelity and love. Then the vigor and strength of young manhood and womanhood were yours; the future was rosiate with promise; your hearts were buoyant and hopeful. Now with more mature characters, with fuller knowledge of the reality and earnestness of life, in your own beautiful home and surrounded by a happy family you look back upon the past with its remembered and forgotten blessings, and forward with sober thought to whatever may be hidden for you in the bosom of the future. The years have left their touch upon you, still you feel young and strong and hopeful. To-night we wish you well, we wish you long years of health and happiness, we pray the loving kindness and tender mercies of our God and Saviour to crown your lives. As a token of our love and esteem, and as a tribute to your worth and excellence, we ask you to accept this silver tea service, and may the buoyancy and hopefulness of your spirits, the energy and kindness of your hearts which have cheered and helped so many in the past continue to make your presence welcome and memories of you fragrant.

AS OTHERS SEE US.

A Tourist's Views of Our City as Seen on a Brief Visit.

During the tourist season I visited your city and was much impressed by its great beauties; it forms a worthy terminus to your summer highway, the lovely St. John, the scenery on which, varying as it does with every mile of travel, can hardly be surpassed. Fredericton may be called the forest city of New Brunswick. Magnificent elms and maples shade its streets and ornament its residences; public buildings and churches which will bear favorable comparison with those of many an older and richer city. No tourist should miss seeing Fredericton and its surroundings.

Your boats, however, are hardly up with the times, and consume too many hours on the journey from St. John to Fredericton, and few travelers can afford to spend eight or nine hours in covering some eighty miles. A well appointed steamer, fast and with modern and economic engines, would induce travel greatly and prove a paying investment, not only to the stockholders, but indirectly to both terminal cities. One wonders that hotel keepers, not only in Fredericton, but in St. John and along the route, do not move in this matter. If I wish to travel in New Brunswick with rapidity, I must leave the interesting river, with its fertile fields, and roll through miles of uninteresting and uninhabited forest, through much of which the fire has made sad havoc — a poor advertisement for a country seeking immigration.

Permit me to say that attention should be paid to the river front, which presents a sorry and delapidated look and mars the approach to the city. The beauties of Fredericton are not enhanced by the rotting wharves and untidy banks that open on the eye as one passes through the drawbridge; even your noble provincial buildings are half obscured and their proportions destroyed by unsightly lumber piles and shanties allowed to succumb on the river bank.

Disagreeable impressions, however, rapidly banish as we land, and I feel nothing but pleasure as I traverse your broad streets. What a view I enjoyed from the spire of the Cathedral! The founders of the university took high ground and broad views in establishing their institution. Of the beauties of the Nashwaak and the view of the Keswick and the islands from the old road, so-called, too much can not be said. Truly you have a city and country you may feel justly proud of. Yours truly, VISITOR.
