SHIPPING NOTES.

British steamship Hardanger, Captain Hall, arrived in port last night from Gloucester, Mass., to load deals for U. K.

Furness line steamship Kanawha arrived at St. Johns, Nfld., last Saturday on her way to Halifax and St. John, with a large general cargo.

British steamship Mora which sailed from this port last Saturday for Cork, Ire., took a cargo of 3,125,417 feet of deals, etc., shipped by W. Malcolm Mackay.

Steamer Calvin Austin, Captain Mitchell, arrived yesterday afternoon at 3.45 o'clock and landed 82 passengers. The travel of passengers eastward out of the hot weather has set in and from now until September the tourists will come this way.

Schooner H. H. Chamberland passed City Island last Sunday on her way to this port with a cargo of hard coal for Fredericton.

Steamship Manchester Shipper, Captain Parry, will sail today for Philadelphia and Manchester with a general cargo.

Furness line steamship Rappahannock, Captain Hanks, is scheduled to sail for London via Halifax today at noon with a general cargo.

The United States schooner Caroline Grey, arrived yesterday from Newark, N. J., with 470 tons of hard coal for E. H. Vanwart of Fredericton. The vessel will be towed up the St. John river to Fredericton to discharge her cargo. The schooner will probably load a return cargo of lumber at that place.

Another well known Maine ship has made her last voyage under sail, the Alexander Gibson, which arrived at New York on Saturday last from Tacoma, Washington, which port she left on August 7, last year. She was forced to put into Valparaiso for repairs, which accounts for her long passage. The ship is laden with huge timbers, some of them the largest ever shipped from the Pacific coast, and also has an immense flag pole in two sections for the Woodbridge, N. J., high school. The pole will be 215 feet in height when erected on the school campus. After discharging her cargo of timber the ship will be sold to join the large fleet on the Atlantic which is composed of many famous ex-clipper ships. For the past 33 years the Gibson has been a famous figure in the American merchant marine, and the old vessel has seen many years of service on the Pacific. She was built at Thomaston in 1877 and is of 2043 tons register.

A report of the greatest interest to shipping men has been made to the Canadian government by Prof. H. T. Barnes of McGill University, who was commissioned last winter to make a thorough study of the ice conditions in the St. Lawrence river and the possibility of year-round navigation to Montreal. The expert declares that moderate expenditure of money for improving the channel will make winter navigation a possibility. "With the growth of the volume of trade and the opening of the West," says Prof. Barnes, "the need of a winter port at Montreal is being increasingly felt. I do not think that the river as it is at present is commercially navigable even with the use of ice-breaking steamers. The danger from inshore ice and snow storms is too great. But improvements in the channel may be made without very great expense, which will so alter conditions as to render the course perfectly safe in winter. I have no hesitation in predicting that Montreal will be a yearly port as soon as commercial interests demand it. The problem is not as difficult as at present believed."
