FOSS AND WALKER TO DO BATTLE

Nominations For Governor In Massachusetts Yesterday

NO PROGRESSIVES YET

They and the Prohibitionists Are Likely to Be Heard From Before Many Days—Foss Nearly Doubled the Vote Given Pelletier

(Canadian Press)

Boston, Sept. 25—The Democrats, Republicans and Socialists lined up today for the state campaign of 1912, having chosen their party leaders at yesterday's primaries.

Governor Eugene N. Foss, who won the primary contest over District-Attorney Joseph C. Pelletier, of Boston, by a margin of 26,614 votes, will head the democratic ticket for the third time. Former speaker Joseph Walker, of Brookline, who defeated Col. Everett C. Benton, of Belmont, his opponent in the republican struggle, by 10,302 votes, will lead the Republicans.

Robt. D. Sawyer, of Ware, was nominated officially for governor by the Socialists, but the vote was so small that no record was made. Revised and complete returns in yesterday's primary for governor follows:

Democratic Governor Foss 63,018, Pelletier 36,404.

Republican Walter, 53,514, Benton 43,812.

These two parties also chose candidates for other state offices and made nominations in the sixteen congressional districts, the forty senatorial and nearly all the representative districts.

The progressive and prohibition parties did not figure in yesterday's primaries, but it was expected that before many days their candidates for state and congressional offices would have sufficient number of endorsements to obtain places on the ballot in November.

Newark, N. J., Sept. 25—That Governor Wilson won a sweeping victory in the New Jersey primaries yesterday was judged from the returns which sifted into democratic headquarters here during the early hours of the day.

In his fight to prevent the nomination of former Senator James Smith jr., from United States senate, Governor Wilson carried the state by a plurality of nearly, if not quite 20,000, winning in every county except Essex, the stronghold of the Smith forces.

The Morning Star, owned by Mr. Smith, concedes the election of Hughes, the Wilson candidate.

IN THE COURTS

An Interesting Case Follows in Chubb's Corner Auction Transaction

The circuit court resumed its sitting this morning, but adjourned until tomorrow morning, when the case of McGowan Adm. vs. Warner, will come up for trial.

County Court.

The case of Gertrude Porter vs. Wm. J. Mahoney, which was set down for trial in the county court this morning, was stood over until the next sitting of the court on the fourth Tuesday of February. M. G. Teed, K. C., who appeared for the defendant, contended that this trial could not now go on as there is a suit in chancery pending, in connection with the same matter, and the postponement was made on these grounds.

This is quite an interesting case. The plaintiff through Messrs. Baxter & Logan, offered a property in Lancaster for sale at auction at Chubb's Corner a few months ago, and the defendant, acting for Bartholomew Rogers, bid in the property, and gave his own check for about $20 in part payment. The client later discovered that the property was not the one he wanted, and refused to accept the conveyance, and the defendant had payment stopped on the check. The action was then brought in the county court to recover the amount of the check, and the suit in chancery, to obtain a decree for specific performance of the contract. Baxter & Logan appeared for the plaintiff.

The case of The Dunlop Tire and Rubber Co., Ltd., vs. Jones, an action for goods sold and delivered, which has been pending in the county court, has been settled. Geo. H. V. Belyea appeared for the plaintiff and Mr. Steeves of Moncton for the defendant.

THE WEATHER

Toronto, Sept. 25 — Since yesterday morning rain has fallen over the greater portion of Ontario. A few showers occurred in Quebec, while heavy frosts are again reported in the west. A disturbance which is now developing over Wisconsin is likely to cause westerly gales.

Probabilities.

Maritime—Easterly winds; fair today, and becoming showery.

MANY PROCESSIONS ON ULSTER DAY IN IRELAND

Elaborate Programme for Belfast—Demonstration Planned For Liverpool Also

(Canadian Press)

New York, Sept. 25—A London cable to the Tribune this morning says:—

Three days hence, the great loyalist campaign in Ulster against the passage of the home rule bill will reach its culmination with the signing of a solemn league and covenant. The official programme announces solemn services in many churches on Ulster Day, Doctor McKenna, former moderator of the Presbyterian church of Ireland, assisted by clergy nominated by the Bishop of Down, will conduct a service in Ulster Hall, which Sir Edward Carson and other leaders will attend, and they will subsequently proceed to the city hall in solemn procession for the signing of the covenant. They will be met there by members of public bodies and organized processions will march in later from the various districts.

The headquarters of the Ulster Unionist Council at the old town hall, Belfast, presented a scene of unwonted activity last evening. The staff is doing its best to meet the demand for books of the covenant, and declaration forms, card texts of the covenant and parchment certificates.

What the demand is may be estimated by the fact that the orders for the covenant are approximately 500,000 and for the declaration 50,000. The covenant is to be signed by Ulster men over sixteen years old, and the declaration by Ulster women subject to the same age limit.

Belfast, Sept. 25—From an oratorical viewpoint yesterday was comparatively quiet in the Ulster campaign, Sir Edward Carson and Frederick E. Smith the chief leaders, both resting and reserving themselves for the strenuous events in the coming few days.

Baron Willoughby De Broke, who was a strong supporter of the "no surrender" policy during the debate on the veto bill in the House of Lords, was the moving spirit of a demonstration at Dromore, which had all the features of previous campaign meetings—a guard of honor for the principal speakers, a torchlight procession and similar attractions. Meanwhile unceasing activity is displayed in the preparations for September 28, when it is expected some half million persons will sign the covenant to oppose home rule to the end.

The organizers resemble a military general staff. There is a council to give directions, and many staff and subordinate officers to execute them. There are generals of division and brigade commanders in the different districts. Tons of packages of covenants are being mailed to all parts of the province, entailing heavy work on a special staff at the post office.

In Liverpool, Too

The signing of the covenant on Saturday will be an elaborate ceremony. After a solemn service in Ulster Hall Sir Edward Carson with his colleagues the Belfast corporation, the harbor commissioners and city magnates, will march to the City Hall, escorted by guards of honor from the Orange Lodges. Additional guards numbering 2,500 men will be provided by the Unionist clubs in five shifts of 500 each, to keep the precincts of the City Hall during the period of receiving signatures. All the guards of honor will wear dark clothes, red, white and blue armlets and carry five-foot staves surmounted by a small Union Jack.

After the ceremony the same guard will escort Sir Edward Carson to a steamer sailing for Liverpool in which city a similar demonstration on Monday is projected. As the steamer proceeds down Belfast Lough, huge bonfires will be lighted on the hills. A regular army of signallers will be employed Saturday to transmit news of the day's doings to every corner of the province by heliograph and lamp signals from church spires and mountain top.

Mr. O'Brien's Views

(Special Cable to The Times)

London, Sept. 25—William O'Brien's message has been reproduced at length today in nearly every English newspaper and has aroused considerable discussion. The Daily News describes it as a striking suggestion, and a remarkable proposal. The Daily Chronicle, in a leading article, says "Tory and Liberal in Canada believe in home rule, but some Canadians seem to be disquieted by the reports from Ulster.

The Manchester Guardian editorially supports Mr. O'Brien's diagnosis of the situation.

EXPRESSION BY ATTORNEY-GENERAL UNCALLED FOR

Judge Carleton Comments on Attitude of Hon. Mr. Grimmer in Case in Woodstock

(Special to Times)

Woodstock, N. B., Sept. 25—Potter vs. O'Donnel, a civil case, is on today in the county court. Louis Young is attorney for the plaintiff, and Hon. W. P. Jones for the defendant.

Attorney-general Grimmer's first visit here in his official capacity was marked by a rather unfortunate incident which has occasioned much criticism of his methods in conducting a case.

In the trial of a criminal matter yesterday, Mr. Grimmer, in his cross-examination of one of a prominent physician, asked the witness a question and said: "Now you can answer that if you know anything." The question was asked in a very insulting manner.

Hon. W. P. Jones, whose witness the doctor was, said with some heat to the court that he protested against the nominal leader of the bar of the province insulting a witness without anything in the world to justify it. The doctor was merely called to give his opinion as to a case which he had attended and was not interested in the suit whatsoever. Mr. Jones thought Mr. Grimmer's tactics were a disgrace to the administration of justice in the province.

Judge Carleton, in summing up to the jury, took occasion to say that he regretted very much that the attorney-general should have made use of any such expression, and that it was entirely uncalled for.

JEWISH FEAST OF THE TABERNACLES

The Feast of Succoth, or in English the Feast of the Tabernacles, will begin this evening with the Orthodox Jews throughout the world, and last for seven days. During that time special services will be held and the feast duly observed. In the Carleton street synagogue during the festival, it is probable that Rabbi B. L. Amdur will officiate at the services, although he is at present confined to his bed with a touch of la grippe. Rabbi Herman Benmoshe will conduct the services in the Hazen avenue synagogue.

The feast opening today is the anniversary of the Hebrew thanksgiving. During this feast the orthodox Jews eat their meals in temporarily constructed booths, decorated with the fruits of the season, and with garlands of flowers suspended from the ceiling. In the synagogue the prayers are observed with the esrog, the finest specimen of lime imported from Palestine, and the lulav, the branches of the palm and myrtle.

SAYS STONE WAS STOLEN.

Mr. Roakes called at the police court this morning and laid information against several parties for stealing stone from a quarry at Drury Cove. The matter will come up in the police court on Friday morning.

POPE PRESSES HIS CAMPAIGN AGAINST MODERNISM IN CHURCH

Padre Smeria, Noted Scholar and Preacher, is Transferred to Brussels

(Canadian Press)

New York, Sept. 25—A London cable says:

"A telegram to the Daily Chronicle from Milan says the Pope is pressing his campaign against modernism in the church with renewed vigor, his latest move being the summary banishment from Italy of a famous scholar, Padre Giovanni Smeria of Genoa, who enjoys the reputation of being the most cultured pulpit orator in the country.

"He is a great favorite in court circles and has been a frequent guest of Queen Margherita. He is the author of numerous works relating to the early history of the Christian church, which were originally published with the special sanction of the Vatican during the pontificate of Leo XIII.

"Some months ago the archbishopric of Genoa fell vacant, and Mgr. Caron, the new archbishop elect, a man of extreme conservative sentiments, solicited as a condition of his acceptance of the office, the banishment of Padre Semeria, who for many years has presided over the Barnabite college there for youths of the upper classes.

"This attitude of intolerance led a deputation of influential Genoese citizens to protest to the Pope and to petition the Italian government to withhold from the appointment of Mgr. Caron the royal approval, which indeed has so far been refused, but Padre Semeria, by the Pope's express orders, was sent away to Brussels yesterday."

ANOTHER FIRE IN THE REVERE HOUSE

Boston, Sept. 5—The historic Revere House, which was the scene of a great fire early on the morning of Jan. 16, last, which resulted in the loss of several lives, was damaged to the extent of $4,000 by flames again yesterday afternoon. Just before one o'clock a fire was discovered burning in several rooms on the sixth floor. The rooms faced Bowden Square, and were in the main part of the building, which was damaged heavily in the fire last winter.

Stephen R. Dow & Company Fail

Boston, Sept. 24—Richard M. Edwards, of Houghton, Mich, a director of the Franklin, Indiana, North Lake, Algoma and Corbin Companies, succeeds Mr. Dow as president of all five corporations. In a statement, President Edwards said: "Unfortunately, the failure of Stephen R. Dow & Company will embarrass somewhat the cash position of the various companies under its charge, and at the presnt the most of them are practically without working capital. Franklin has notes outstanding for $223,000 and an early assessment must be called. While Algomah, Indiana and North Lake can show a balance of quick assets over current liabilities, the amount of actual cash has been pretty well used up."

WILL LEAVE IT TO THE TOSS OF COIN

Decision as to Which City Will Have First of World Series

ALL ARRANGEMENTS TODAY

The National Baseball Commission, in Session in New York, May Have a Wrangle Over the Sale of the Tickets

(Canadian Press)

New York, Sept. 25—Members of the National Baseball Commission, with representatives of the Boston American and New York National League clubs gathered here today to fix dates for the world's championship series, to settle a disputed question as to how and by whom the sale of tickets to the game shall be conducted, to fix the price for seats, formally announce the eligible players and dispose of any other business bearing upon arrangements for the big games.

Although New York is still in need of two games, to clinch the National League pennant, the commission will proceed on the supposition that the championship is assured and devote its main attention to arrangements for a world series between New York and Boston. The schedule adopted, however, will be announced with a provision, in deference to the Chicago Cubs, who have something like a 1,000 to 1 chance of displacing the Giants.

After deciding upon the dates the commission will invite Presidents Brush and McAleer of the New York and Boston clubs to toss for the honor of starting the series in their cities. With the honor goes the advantage of home sympathy for the first two games, if the plan to stage two games in each city instead of alternating each day is carried out.

The desire of the commission to have supervision over the sale of tickets, and the fact that the American League has adopted resolutions refusing to be represented in a world series unless accorded sole charge of the sale of tickets to games played on its grounds, may result in a wrangle today.

It appeared, however, that the commission would let the clubs handle the tickets as usual, but would assume close supervision. The three members of the commission, Messrs Hermann, Lynch, and Johnson, and President McAleer and Secretary McRoy, of the Boston club, after gathering in the city this morning, planned to go the home of John T. Brush, president of the New York club, at Pelham Manor, a suburb, to hold a meeting there. It was said that no announcements would be made until in the afternoon.

RICHIBUCTO FIRES

Two in Kent County Town in Early Hours This Morning

(Special to Times)

Richibucto, N. B., Sept. 25—Between half past two and three o'clock this morning the citizens were aroused by fire in the residence of J. F. MacDougall. The fire department were soon at work, assisted by most of the able bodied men of the town, but in spite of their efforts the house with store in front was burned to the ground; also the adjacent office of Geo. A. Hutchinson, barrister.

At the home of Mrs. J. M. O'Brien unceasing effort was required to keep it from burning. About half an hour after most of the citizens had returned to their homes they were again aroused by the alarm of fire, this time in the barn of Joseph Michaud, which had caught from an ember. This also burned to the ground.

GREAT LAND SALES

WELSH LAWYERS DECLINE TO WELCOME WOMEN TO THE PRACTICE OF LAW

Cardiff, Wales, Sept. 25—The law society of Cardiff is opposed to women practicing law. A resolution in favor of the admission of women to the bar was defeated at the annual meeting of the society yesterday. The resolution also urged the counsel of the society to support a bill that is to be introduced in parliament, enabling women to practice.

The chief ground for this opposition, it was said, was that competition by women would be injurious to man who practice law.

RED HAT FOR ARCHBISHOP OF MONTREAL?

Report Says Mgr. Bruchesi Will Soon Be Cardinal

CONSISTORY IN NOVEMBER

Accepted in Montreal as Coming From Good News Source and Likely to Prove Correct—His Grace Prominent in Church Work

(Canadian Press)

London, Sept. 25—Canada is to be granted a cardinal at the next consistory in Rome, which will be held in November, according to the Milan correspondent of the Daily Chronicle, in the person of Mgr. Bruchesi, Archbishop of Montreal.

The Pope's decision, says the correspondent, is largely due to the encomiums which have reached the Vatican respecting the archbishop's masterly ability displayed in the organization and conduct of the Eucharistic Congress, held in Montreal in the autumn of 1910.

Montreal, Sept. 25—His Grace Paul Bruchesi, Archbishop of Montreal, was born in Montreal on October 29, 1855 He was educated at the Montreal College and Seminary and in Paris and Rome, and ordained a priest on December 21, 1878. On June 25, 1897, he was nominated Archbishop of Montreal. His consecration took place on August 8. He received the pallium on August 8, 1898.

Mgr. Bruchesi, besides discharging the duties of his ecclesiastical office with zeal and ability, has taken active interest in the temperance movement and other movements designed to promote the welfare of the city. It was recognized generally that the notable success of the Eucharistic congress in Montreal two years ago, was due in large part, to his work.

While the dispatch is not official, it comes from a source that has in the past been found trustworthy, and is in agreement with other reports that have been circulated. Its confirmation will be in the order of things expected.

I. C. R. INQUIRY IS RESUMED TODAY

Evidence About Matter of Passes Mr. Brady's Position

(Special to Times)

Moncton, N. B., Sept. 25—The I. C. R. pass enquiry was resumed this morning in the city hall before Hazen Adair of Sussex, commissioner. George W. Fowler of Sussex, again appeared as counsel.

Frederick Lewis of Salisbury, farmer and contractor, said he had worked for the N. B. Wire Fence Company and asked the president of the company, Dr. Murray, two or three times for passes. "He turned me down," said the witness. The witness kept on asking Dr. Murray for passes and got one for some point north. Dr. Murray charged him nothing for it. In 1908 the witness got a pass from Sydney to St. John. He did not get that pass from Murray. He declined to give the name, except privately, as he promised not to tell. The man is now dead. He was a railway official. The witness got no other passes.

George W. Taylor, Salisbury, farmer and sub,contractor for the N. B. Wire Fence Company, said he got one pass from Dr. Murray, president of the company, for himself and four or five men. They were working on the I. C. R. at Coldbrook and the pass was made out for St. John and return to Moncton. He paid nothing for the pass. He got no other passes.

J.P. Rodgers and E. T. Francheville, clerks in the I. C. R. audit department, told of the system in vogue in the audit office regarding checking conductors' returns.

Mr. Fowler said he had seen F. P. Brady of the I. C. R. board of management, this morning and Mr. Brady said that while he was perfectly willing to go on the stand there was no evidence that he had except hearsay. Mr. Brady said that a newspaper report which stated that he wondered why he had not been called as a witness was absolutely untrue. It was a matter of wonder to him that he would be called as he knew nothing about passes, except hearsay. Mr. Fowler said Mr. Brady was very busy and he did not think it was necessary to call him.

The enqiury adjourned till this afternoon.
