In a few days this locality will be one of the most beautiful of the far-famed Annapolis Valley. Already the morning air is laden with the perfume of bursting blossoms, and vegetation is very rapid, owing to the late showers.

Broke Loose.

BARNUM'S BIG GORILLA BREAKS OUT OF HIS CAGE.

Binghamton, May 20.—Barnum & Bailey's $5,000 gorilla created considerable excitement here Monday. While the workmen were at dinner the brute forced the door of his cage and, jumping out, made for the dressing rooms, which were occupied by two women. The frightened women ran screaming from the tent, and the big gorilla escaped into the open air. The people immediately scattered in every direction.

The gorilla finally took his stand near a barn, where several of the convansmen who tried to capture him were injured. His Portuguese keeper finally arrived, and, after hugging and kissing him with joy, the gorilla readily accompanied him to his cage. He would not enter, however, until an elephant, of which he stands in mortal fear, was brought in.

Green Goods Swindling.

The books of a "green goods" swindling company, seized in the states the other day, show that this one firm has swindled people—many of them Canadians—out of $40,185 since the first of April of this year! The victims get absolutely nothing in return for their good money—not even the counterfeit money the fools thought they would get. When it is remembered that every newspaper in the country has, time and time again, exposed this swindle, one is thoroughly convinced that nothing short of personal experience can teach a fool. In this particular case it cost each fool from $140 to $650 to learn that the newspapers had been telling the truth.—Hamilton Spectator.

A Knitting Needle Causes Death.

A correspondent of the Windsor (Hants Co.) Journal writing from Newport, says:

A very sad occurrence took place on Tuesday of last week, which resulted in the death of Miss Esther Harvie, of this place. Miss Harvie was knitting and thoughtlessly began probing an ear with one of the needles. Just at that moment a young girl accidently ran against Miss Harvie's elbow driving the needle deep into the interior of the ear. Intense agony and vomiting succeeded the withdrawal of the needle with no appearance of abatement. No hope was entertained of her recovery from the first, and on Friday she passed away after great suffering.

Should anything more serious result she will be removed from her cell to the keeper's house, and will continue to receive the best of care.

John D. Rockefeller's Latest Gift.

Chicago, May 20.—John D. Rockefeller has given $150,000 to the University of Chicago in order that Martin A. Ryerson's gift of $100,000 conditional on the raising of $400,000 more might become available. About $100,000 has been raised already, so that now there remains only $150,000 to complete the half million dollars needed as an equipment fund. The money must be secured by July 1st or the Ryerson and Rockefeller gifts will be lost to the university.

The Act Will Not Be Enforced.

New York, May 18.—The "Herald" has the following from Washington: President Cleveland had a long conference with the Secretary of State and the Secretary of the Treasury on the Chinese question. Afterwards Secretary Gresham said that when Congress passed a law and failed to appropriate sufficient money to carry out its provision that law became a dead letter. The Chinese Exclusion Act, therefore, will not be enforced.

New York, May 22.—A despatch to the Advertiser from the manager of Nicaragua says: President Sicaza declared himself dictator on Saturday and proclaimed martial law throughout the republic. The result is not yet known.

A Clear Statement.

The Journal and Messenger of Cincinnati, O., gives the following wise editorial on Home Rule for Ireland:—

The danger which lurks in Mr. Gladstone's Home Rule bill for Ireland lurks in the certainty that it is a step toward the secession of Ireland as a separate nation; its injustice lies in the relations of the Catholics and Protestants. Home Rule has a taking sound, especially to Americans, because with us it means local government under the national rule. In Great Britain it will mean the secession of Ireland, precisely as the success of the Confederate armies would have meant the secession of the Southern States. If Ireland were as far removed from England as Canada or Australia, there would be no question about allowing it to set up as an independent power; but the country lies alongside England, and has always formed a good base for a foreign attack. In a war with France, Ireland would form the landing-place for French armies. No one can read the terrible tales of the efforts of the Roman Catholics to dominate England in the past without seeing the danger of an independent Catholic power. Mr. Gladstone, as a High Church Episcopalian, has always had a leaning towards Catholicism. He has written a great deal against certain Romish views, but it was such a conflict as might take place between Baptists and Methodists, between whom there are more points of agreement than of difference; both denominations belong to the ardent supporters of evangelical Christianity. Mr. Gladstone has always been disposed to favor Catholics rather than Dissenters. He was eager to disestablish the state church in Ireland in favor of Catholicism; until recently he has refused to favor the disestablishment of the church in Wales, which would favor Dissenters. For disestablishment in England, he has repeatedly said that his party must wait until after his death. There are a large number of Protestants and loyal supporters of the government in the North of Ireland, who, under the proposed Home Rule bill, will be utterly in Roman Catholic power, with all the gathered hate of centuries. It is said that the Catholics of Ireland must be trusted to do justice; the church is ruled from Rome. So far as American feeling is concerned in the matter, it is only the subserviency of the daily press to Catholic interests that has created a sympathy with the Catholic rule in Ireland. Naturally our sympathies would go out to the people of Ulster in the danger which awaits them.

Canada Astonishes them.

Just to the north of the great dome, on the east side of that wide room which has been set aside for exotics, the Canadian exhibits is placed, says the Chicago Herald: There is not a state in the union thus far which approaches it; and those who know what things are destined for the fair assert that not a State has a collection which can rival that of Canada.

To Mr. Thorpe, in general charge of the department of floriculture, the exhibit is a treasure indeed. He revels in every spray from the hair like ferns, and gloats in a gardener's satisfaction on the splendid leaves of the cateus variety. And crowds that have been in the past admitted to the building pause before the great plants and accredit them to tropical regions, or at least to the extremes of our southern border.

The cyclamin, cinerarias, primulas and cactus plants which created such a sensation in Canada when their successful culture was first announced, have created an even larger wonder in Chicago. A Californian, drifting past them, confessed with a true Californian's regret that his one state, proud of its exotics, could not compare with this exhibit.

But it is not alone the larger varieties in floriculture that will challenge admiration for Canada's contribution. Its pansies and roses are equally beautiful. The former are particularly large, "double" and handsome. The list will interest growers of flowers everywhere, and will doubtless surprise them when they come to know that our northern sister—and not Louisiana—produced them.

Worth Considering.

Mr. Inches, Secretary for Agriculture, in his report, calls attention as follows to an important matter. Writing of potato bugs he says:—

The bugs should be more thoroughly exterminated. Many farmers do not attend to this and others only in part. The result is the pests spread all over the country and eat all they want. The tubers can only grow through the leaves; when the supply is devoured by these bugs the crop must suffer. The result is, we seldom see the fine, large, dry potatoes that formerly were so plentiful all over the province. Every farmer should make an effort to clean his crop of these gluttons, and if all would do this the improvement in the crop would repay them for the labor. The cost of the small quantity of Paris green required is very little, so the labor is nearly all that can be counted. And here we may remark that usually far too much of the poison is used. The smallest quantity that can be applied is sufficient to kill the bugs. One pound of Paris green to eighty or one hundred gallons of water is sufficient, provided it is properly applied, which should be done as often as required to kill all. It is a great loss to the country to allow such a valuable crop to be destroyed, when a moderate amount of labor and cost will save it.

Two Monster Cruisers.

New York, May 18.—Information received by United States naval authorities is to the effect that the British admiralty is drawing up designs for two monster cruisers, which will be not only the largest war ships in the world, but the fastest. They will be known as the Terrible and Powerful. Each ship will have a length of over 500 feet and a beam of about 70 feet. Engines will be placed aboard each craft capable of developing 30,000 horse power. A speed of 25 knots per hour is aimed at. With these engines the two ships will be space in engine capacity of the new Cunard greyhounds Campania and Lucania. Their length will be less than the Cunard ships, but each of the cruisers will possess displacement greater than either of the liners. Save for torpedo boats the speed of 25 knots per hour aimed at will place the Terrible and Powerful ahead of all speeds now attained by any vessel afloat. The cruisers are to have an armor protection and will carry large and powerful rapid-fire gun batteries.

A Wise Conclusion.

The following item, which is going the rounds of the press, contains the germ of a great truth:—

"There is something for the 'native American' stock to reflect upon, says the Worcester Spy, in the remarks of one of the Indian girls from the Carlisle Indian school, which was represented by three hundred and twenty-two pupils in the great parade of school children in New York this week. This girl had been taking in the sights of the metropolis, with others, in charge of a white teacher. They had been down to Ellis island to witness the landing of some emigrants, and after witnessing for a while this great horde of foreigners who were crowding ashore, this Carlisle girl remarked to her white teacher: 'Your people drove us out centuries ago. Now these people are coming to drive you out. If you don't stop them, you will be in a few centuries what my people are now.'"

Saw the Ship Come Up.

Mr. W. A. Letson left for Port Medway this morning to attend the funeral of his father, J. J. Letson, who passed away on Tuesday morning—his 86th birthday. The life of the deceased was well studded with striking events. He was born on board ship at Port Royal, Jamaica, in 1808, his godfather being the father of the late Hon. J. W. Johnson. His father was lost at sea the next voyage. His mother was a connection of the Howe family; he and the late Joseph Howe attended school together in Halifax. While a boy he stood on government wharf, Halifax, and saw the Shannon and Chesapeake come up the harbor. He afterwards removed to Miramichi and was there during the great conflagration. Later on he removed to Port Medway, doing business there until appointed collector by the provincial government in 1855, which position he held until 1883.—Lunenburg Progress.

In this act at Lake Placid the horses used had been lately purchased, and were never before in the ring.

They became frightened and reared and plunged, and Blondin, in his efforts to hold them ruptured blood vessels of the head and chest.

Miss Lettie Huntley

Is the sister of Mr. W. S. Huntley of Cortland, N. Y., a well known carpenter and builder. Her frank statement below gives only the absolute truth concerning her illness and marvelous recovery by the aid of Hood's Sarsaparilla. She says:

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Dear Sir: Twelve years ago I began to have hemorrhages and four years ago became so low that the physicians told me

There Was No Hope

and I should soon die. I could not be moved from my bed. Under my face were napkins continually reddened with blood from my mouth. I could eat nothing and had no action of the bowels for a week. The doctors said the cause was ulcers in the stomach. At this time my mother said she wanted to make one more trial, and asked if I would take Hood's Sarsaparilla. I told her it would be

A Waste of Money

but finding it would comfort her, I began taking it. In a few days the bloating began to subside, I seemed to feel a little stronger, but thought it only fancy. I was so weak I could only take ten drops of Sarsaparilla at first. In two weeks I was able to sit up a few minutes every day. In a month I could walk across the room. One day I asked what they were to have for dinner, and said I wanted something hearty. My mother was so happy she cried. It was the

First Time I had Felt Hungry for Two Years

I kept on with Hood's Sarsaparilla and in six months was as well as ever in my life. It is now four years since I recovered, and I have not had a day's sickness since, nor any hemorrhage. If ever a human being thanked the good Lord on bended knees it was I. I know that Hood's Sarsaparilla, and that alone, unquestionably Saved my Life."

Messrs. Sager & Jennings, the well known druggists of Cortland, say that Miss Huntley "is a highly respected lady; her statement of what

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Has done for her is worthy the biggest confidence."

AT DEATH'S DOOR.

NERVOUS PROSTRATION.

EXTREME DEBILITY AFTER THE GRIP.

Mr. Peter Lingley, Councillor, Petersville, Queens Co., N. B., says:

"Oct. 31, 1892.—Last winter I had a very severe attack of the Grip, which left me very feeble and prostrate in flesh. I had no appetite, and was so nervous I could not sleep. I was under Doctors' treatment for months, but received no benefit. My friends thought I had consumption and I felt so low that they were expecting my death at any day. As a last resort they decided to try

HAWKER'S NERVE AND STOMACH TONIC,

3 bottles of which

Rapidly Restored Me To Health.

I slept well, my appetite was restored and I soon became stronger, stouter and more vigorous than I had been for years. I cannot speak too highly of this medicine, as I feel that I Owe My Life to its Virtues.

Mr. Isaac G. Stevens, Gate Keeper I. C. R. Depot, St. John, N. B., says: I was with Mr. Lingley during his severe illness and was daily expecting to have to notify his relatives of his death.

Sold by all Druggists and Dealers for 50 cts, per bottle. 3 bottles $1.25.
