Mr. Rand, Superintendent of Education, addressed the Convention, suggesting that it was highly desirable to promote an educational sentiment among the people, and that this might be done by the distribution of Educational Tracts. Several members followed Mr. Rand, all approving of the suggestion, and the Convention voted the sum of thirty dollars to be devoted to three prizes of ten dollars each for the best tracts for this purpose—competition open to all teachers, and Superintendent of Education with others, by him selected, to be the judges. A resolution was passed against any material change being made in the School Act, and against the principle of separate Schools. The election of officers resulted in the following choice:—A. TORONTO, Dec. 31st.—The Whelen case came up to-day before the full Court of Error and Appeal. Hon. J. H. Cameron said it was doubtful whether the case should be brought before the Court by a writ of Error issued by the Court of Error and Appeal. To be certain he adopted both methods. He preferred to proceed by a writ of error, as under that writ he would assign new grounds of error, not argued before the Lower Court. The Court adjourned till Monday, when the point as to the mode of procedure, will be decided.

MR JAMES I. FELLOWS,

Sir,—Having, while at your Establishment, carefully examined your prescription, and the method of preparing your Compound Syrup, I feel anxious to give it a fair trial in my practice. For the last twelve months I have done so, and I find that in Incipient Consumption, and other diseases of the Throat and Lungs, it has done wonders. In restoring persons suffering from the effects of Diptheria, and the cough following Typhoid Fever prevalent in this region, it is the best remedial agent I have ever used. But for persons suffering from exhaustion of the brain and nervous system, from long continued study or teaching, or in those cases of exhaustion from which so many young men suffer, I know of no better medicine for restoration to health than your Compound Syrup.

If you think this letter, of any service, you are at liberty to use it as you see fit.

I remain, yours, &c.,

SEASONABLE FESTIVITIES.

Whether attending, in solemn duty, to religious service, at the lecture, the concert, or at social gathering, we find at this period coughs and colds are very prevalent: unpleasant alike to those who suffer as well as to those who have aura. demonstration of the fact. Many an impressive discourse, many a choice selection of music, has been marred by a din of coughing that seems at times contagious. To remedy this, our readers should use and recommend Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, one of the best medicines in the world for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, and all throat and chest affections.—Montreal Transcript.

There is probably, no way in which we can benefit our readers more, than by recommending to them for general use Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. It is adapted to almost all the purposes of Family Medicine; and as a specific for coughs, colds, whooping cough, sorene s of the chest, lame stomach, rheumatism, spitting of blood, and all lung difficulties, it has no equal that ever we saw or heard of.

The propriety of giving condition medicine to horses, cattle and sheep, was discussed and admitted by many of the Agricultural Societies throughout the State last fall, and we believe that in every case but one they decided in favor of Sheridan's cavalry candiiton Powders. Good judgement,
