TURNED THE HOSE ON THEM

An Effective Way of Dealing With Students—Lively Proceedings at 'Varsity.

TORONTO, Oct. 26.—Last week the second year men at 'Varsity, at a secret meeting, set a day on which the freshmen were to be "hustled" in regular old-time style; but a rumor of it reached the ears of the professors, and the freshmen were dismissed fifteen minutes earlier than usual and thus succeeded in evading the trap which was to have been sprung upon them.

Another meeting was held by the sophomores, and this time the secret was so well kept that the unsuspecting freshmen filed out of the Latin prose lecture room at noon yesterday and walked straight into the arms of the enemy, who, with the third and fourth year men were lined up the full length of the main corridor three deep on each side.

The first man out of the class room was a little in advance of his fellows, and being off his guard he took a flying trip down the corridor in a rather undignified manner, and was shot, minus his collar and one cuff, straight into President Loudon's bosom. The president had suddenly appeared through the doorway at the end of the corridor, and this was the unceremonious way in which he was greeted by his students. He attempted to quell the disturbance by ordering an instant dispersal of the assemblage, but the boys either couldn't or wouldn't hear the order. "Litoria" was being sung by almost 500 lusty young voices, and amid shouts, cries and peals of laughter the "hustling" went merrily on, the boys being excited to the greatest efforts by the bevy of young lady students at the head of the staircase, who applauded each act of either side which appealed either to their sympathies or sense of the ludicrous.

The president disappeared, but he called in a couple of caretakers, and with their assistance an inch and a half nozzle was fitted on the large coil of hose at the main entrance. Before the students could realize just what was about to take place the president was upon them and with a swish the water came hissing through the air. The foremost of the combatants ignominously took flight and all the others were not long in following their leaders' example.

The caretakers were busy for several hours removing the debris and collecting the hats, collars, cuffs, buttons, studs, neckties, etc., which marked the scene of this conflict.

Nellie's Mother Knew What to Do.

Little Nellie came home from school and told her mother that she had a very sore throat. Indeed, Nellie had caught a bad cold; she was hoarse, and when she spoke her voice was scarcely heard. Nellie's dear mother knew exactly what to do; she was prepared for dangers resulting from colds. She had three other little ones, and therefore had acquired a goodly amount of experience with children.

The good mother at once proceeded to doctor her daughter with that never-failing remedy, Harvard Bronchial Syrup, which was always kept in the house.

When Nellie awoke next morning the sore throat and hoarseness were banished, and she was quite well enough to go to school.

The above facts are worthy the attention of every mother who has the management and care of young children. An expenditure of 25 cents for a bottle of Harvard Bronchial Syrup will often save hours and days of suffering and sickness. No other cough remedy gives such satisfaction in the home; no other can give such instant relief. Your druggist should keep it in stock. Ask for it.

HIS NAME IS DENNIS,

And He Came from the Barnardo Home.

WOODSTOCK, Oct. 25.—The Woodstock Sentinel-Review says: "Dennis Ryan, aged 19, is from Dr. Barnardo's home in Toronto. He has been working in North Norwich, but his present address is Woodstock jail. He has been committed for trial on the charge of stealing $114 in bank notes and $500 in bank deposit receipts from Mrs. Mary Ann Wade, who resides with her son about six miles from the village of Norwich. Ryan formerly worked for Mrs. Wade, but at the end of three months left and has been in the employ of W. J. Lyons, on the fifth concession. One night Mrs. Wade's house was burglarized and the cash box in the parlor stolen. Herbert Leech, who did a term in the Central, for a previous offense of the same character, was at first accused of the theft but Constable Sweet finally arrested Ryan. This boy bought a revolver in Norwich on Tuesday and a lantern which was found under Mrs. Wade's bedroom window was identified as the same one which Ryan had purchased in the village. The constable made a search of the premises and found buried in one of Lyons' back fields the missing cash box with the money.

ELEPHANTS ON THEIR MUSCLE.

Battle Royal Between Five of the Ponderous Pachyderms.

PERU, Ind., Oct. 25.—A battle royal occurred yesterday at Wallace's winter quarters, two miles east of this city, in which five mammoth elephants were the participants. For some time an enmity has existed between Prince and Diamond, two great beasts of the herd which culminated during the absence of Keeper Sweeney. Diamond, whose weight is four tons, was the agressor, but Prince was his match, and succeeded in breaking his tusk and fairly crowding him through the heavy brick wall of the building, which fell upon them. All the elephants broke loose from their chains and engaged in the melee. Half an hour pandemonium reigned. Quiet was finally restored, but not before the elephants were badly hurt. The place presented the appearance of a slaughter house. The noise could be heard for a mile.

Choked to Death With a Towel.

HALIFAX, Oct. 25.—Emmerson Brown, a son of John J. Brown, blacksmith, met death suddenly last night. He was noticed by his mother to leave the sitting-room and go to the kitchen. The boy not returning, the mother went to the kitchen, where she found her son strangled, having wound the wash hand roller towel about his head. It is not yet known whether death was due to accident or suicide.

To Prevent the Grip

Or any other similar epidemic, the blood and the whole system should be kept in healthy condition. If you feel worn out or have "that tired feeling" in the morning do not be guilty of neglect. Give immediate attention to yourself. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla to give strength, purify the blood and prevent disease.

Hood's Pills cure liver ills, jaundice, biliousness, sick headache, constipation. a

We have no hesitation in saying that Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial is without doubt the best medicine ever introduced for dysentery, diarrhœa, cholera and all summer complaints, sea sickness, etc. It promptly gives relief and never fails to effect a positive cure. Mothers should never be without a bottle when their children are teething.
