A very pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Mary's Church on Thursday, July 10, when Stella May, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Fisher, became the bride of Dr. George W. McWade, younger son of Gen. Robert M. McWade, United States commissioner of conciliation, department of Labor, Washington, D. C. Dr. McWade has but recently returned from France, having been for the past two years attached to the 14th Canadian Field Ambulance Corps. He wears the Belgian Military Cross of Honor, which he received for distinguished service. The bride, who is well known here, looked charming in a beautiful gown of white silk, with an over-bodice of embroidered georgette, carried a bouquet of white carnations and maiden hair fern, wearing a white picture hat of silk and georgette, embroidered to match her gown. Her traveling suit was of dove-grey and pale pink embroidered georgette. The happy couple were the recipients of many handsome gifts. Dr. and Mrs. McWade left for Detroit on their wedding trip, where they will reside.

HEATH—REEVES.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Reeve, Barrie, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday morning, July 9, when their daughter, Gertrude, became the bride of Horace J. Heath, B.A., of the Barrie Collegiate Institute. The bride looked charming in a gown of white georgette trimmed with silver lace and veil of white tulle embroidered in pearls, and caught up with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of sweetheart roses and pink sweet peas, and wore the gift of the groom, a necklet of diamonds. Miss Alice Armstrong was bridesmaid, and wore a dress of silk jersey and georgette, with Melnotte-Simonen jacket of black velvet, and picture hat. She carried Amelia roses and mauve sweet peas. Mr. Lorne Richardson was the groomsman. Miss Frances Hurlburt made a pretty little flower girl, in a frock of pink and white. The wedding march was played by Miss Olive Oekley, L. T. C. M., of Toronto, and Miss Ada Richardson, L. T. C. M., sang "The Crown" during the signing of the register, and "All Mine Alone" after the buffet luncheon, Miss Viola Richardson accompanying her. The ceremony, which was conducted by Rev. R. J. Fallis, took place under an arch of evergreens and marguerites. Mr. and Mrs. Heath left on the noon train for a honeymoon trip to the Muskoka Lakes, the bride traveling in a suit of French blue faille with vestee of white embroidered silk jersey. Her hat was of black maline and ribbons, and was trimmed with French flowers.

THORNDALE W. I.

The July meeting of the Woman's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. McIntyre. There was a good attendance and the topics were taken by Miss Vining and Miss A. V. Hueston. A solo was rendered by Miss Eva Hueston. The August meeting will be held at the home of Miss F. Harrison. Mrs. McMechan and Mrs. Harrison of London will give addresses.

EMBRO L. M. S.

The ladies' missionary meeting, which was held in the Sunday school room of Knox Church on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, was well attended. Mrs. Kent, the president, was in the chair. Miss Marion McLeod sang a solo, and Mrs. W. P. Law gave an excellent and full report of the missionary conference of the Paris Presbytery, which was held at Mount Pleasant a short time ago.

EMBRO M. S.

The regular missionary meeting, which was held in the Congregational Church on Wednesday afternoon, was not as largely attended as it should have been, as different members are away, while others have company. Nevertheless, the meeting was interesting for those who did attend. Mrs. Cody, the president, opened the meeting by reading Psalm cxix., followed by prayer. Then, as the secretary was not present, no minutes were read. Mrs. D. J. Matheson read a very impressive missionary story, after which Miss Mabel Munroe read a story entitled "Thank You," which was very helpful and instructive to all.

LONDON GIRL WINS LAURELS IN VAUDEVILLE

Miss Alice Graves Scores Success in Allentown Theatre.

The Allentown Democrat says the following of Miss Alice Graves, a well-known London girl: "Miss Alice Graves, who is doing ingenue parts so charmingly at the Central Park Theatre, this summer, is winning for herself a great number of admirers. Miss Graves bids fair to become one of those universal favorites whom everyone adopts and worships ever after. She is pretty, petite and charming and reads her lines in a way that bespeaks the keen appreciation that she has of the needs of her weekly roles. Then, too, she can dance and sing in a way that is most delightful. All her friends will be glad to know that already she has received several offers for the coming season with New York productions. Last season she played in vaudeville and became a prime favorite."

Miss Graves, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Graves, 347 Piccadilly street, has numbers of friends in London and family friends who will be pleased to hear of her success. She has appeared several times in the past year in recitals, concerts and amateur theatrical performances in this city, winning much popularity. She had a prominent part in the most recent S. J. Meredith & Co. production, "Owing to the War," delighting by her "Waltz Song" and graceful dance. Subsequent to that she was heard at an evening recital of the Woman's Music Club.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

For X. Y. Z.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am forwarding my address to you in reply to X. Y. Z. No. 1's letter. Will be glad to have her address. Thanking you in advance, yours truly, SAILOR'S SISTER.

Ans.—A pleasure to effect the exchange of addresses for these two. If Sailor's Sister pays that visit to X. Y. Z. No. 1, she will be in a most delightful spot, and would enjoy every bit of it, I am sure.

Give These a Trial.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am sending a couple of recipes that may be of some use to the Mail-Box:

Eggless Cake.—One and a half cups of sugar, half cup butter, one cup sour milk, one teaspoon soda, three level cups flour, half teaspoon cinnamon, half teaspoon nutmeg, one cup chopped raisins.

Bran Muffins.—Two cups flour, one cup bran, half cup butter, half cup sugar, one small teaspoon soda, one larke teaspoon baking powder, a little salt, enough buttermilk to make a soft dough. Roll out to about half inch thick; bake in good hot oven.

Nut Bread.—One egg and pinch of salt, three-quarters cup of brown sugar, one cup milk (scant), two and a half cups of flour, two teaspoons baking powder, five chopped walnuts, one teaspoon vanilla. Beat egg and add salt and sugar, beat well, then add the milk and nuts. Sift in flour and baking powder last. Let raise twenty minutes before baking. Bake in loaf tin in moderate oven. LONESOME.

Names and Dates.

Dear Miss Grey,—This is my first visit to the Mail-Box, but enjoy reading the letters. What are the meanings of Bernardine, Lizzie, Gertrude, Margaret, Rosanna, Olive and Mary?

What day did May 20, 1902, fall on, also July 5, 1904; August 7, 1885? GOOSEBERRY.

Ans.—1. Bernardine, bringing victory; Elizabeth (Lizzie), worshipper of consecrated; Gertrude, spear-maiden; margaret, a pearl; Rosanna, combines the names Rose and Anna. Rose means beauty, and Anna, grace; Olive, an olive; regarding the significance of Mary, I wonder if Extorris, who makes a special study of name-history and meaning, will give us some information upon this very old and very familiar name?

2. A Tuesday; a Tuesday; a Friday.

Formulas All Gone.

Dear Miss Grey,—May I ask the help of your Mail-Box to solve my difficulty? Would you kindly publish a recipe for a "rose jar." Thanking you in anticipation, yours sincerely, FLORENCE.

Ans.—I should be more than pleased to do so, but only last week I sent out my last clipping containing a rose jar formula. Am in hopes that some reader may be able to supply you with a recipe, although I suppose the roses are fast fading and soon it will be too late. Sorry I cannot oblige.

Hair Is Greying.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am only 23 years of age, and my hair is beginning to turn grey. Would be pleased if you could tell me of something to prevent this. I have considerable dandruff. Would that be the cause of it turning grey? Thanking you in advance, I am, Yours respectfully, DAISY.

Ans.—It is possible that you have inherited the tendency to prematrue greyness, but if not the dandruff which indicates too dry a scalp is likely to responsible. If you can, I should advise your taking treatment from a scalp specialist. By massage and perhaps electric treatment your scalp could be brought to a more healthy condition.

If you prefer an application for use at home this formula of Dr. Hirshberg's should be helpful, and I should advise adding the glycerine in your case.

Quinine	1 tablespoon
Sage	1 ounce
Sulphur	1 tablespoon
Boracic acid	1 tablespoon
Rain water	1 pint

Steep the sage over night, after pouring the pint of boiling water over it. Strain and add the other ingredients. Let this stand two days, strain and use with massage every night, applying directly to the scalp. If the scalp is very day two ounces of glycerine is a good addition.

Grandfather's Clock.

Dear Miss Grey and Readers,—I am a stranger to your circle, but also a silent reader of it, too. I come to ask you for a favor. It is only a trifle. Can any one of the Mail-Box send me the music to the song called, "Grandfather's Clock"? I have the words, and would be very thankful if anybody could comply with my request. I will inclose the first verse and chorus so that it will be easier to send the music. I will step out of your circle now, and leave the rest to you. Thanking you in advance, I will sign myself as I really am, ADOPTED.

My grandfather's clock was too large for the shelf,
So it stood ninety years on the floor;
It was taller by half than the old man himself,
Though it weighed not a penny-weight more.
It was bought on the morn of the day that he was born,
And was always his treasure and pride,
But it stopped short—never to go again,
When the old man died.

Chorus—
Ninety years without slumbering, tick, tock, tick, tock;
His life seconds numbering, tick, tock, tick, tock,
It stopped short—never to go again,
When the old man died.

Ans.—Can anyone oblige Adopted with a copy of the music for this oldtime song? I have her address.

Hints for the Brides.

Dear Miss Grey and Readers.—What has become of the Mail-Box? Is everyone too busy to write or does the editor crowd Miss Grey's Corner out? If so it isn't fair. Miss Black's corner and some others should take their turn, for I am sure there are lots of us disappointed. I am going to give a few helpful hints for the brides:

If your saucepans get burned fill them with cold water, add a half handful of salt, and leave till next day, when they may be cleaned easily.

When preserving, sprinkle some ashes on the stove lid beneath the kettle of boiling fruit; this will save you standing over a hot stove stirring it, as it will not burn or stick.

Another use for the wonderful hairpin—it makes a good cherry pitter. Push the head of the hairpin into the cherry below the pit, give it a twist and pull the pit out.

To prevent damp and rust attacking the piano wires, tack a little cloth bag of lime inside the instrument just beneath the cover; it will absorb all moisture.

To remove iron rust from white goods lay spot over a kettle of boiling water, rub with lemon juice while over the water, and rust will fade away.

To remove fruit stains from most delicate colors, wet the stain with camphor before putting in the wash.

If the cup molasses is measured in is greased first with a little lard every bit of molasses will run out.

Miss Grey, if you ever get those recitations, "When Father Rides the Goat," "The Aspiring Dishwasher," "When Pa Hooks Ma's Dress," and would send them to me, I will return some extra copies of them. Will close, hoping we will soon see more letters in the Box again. SLIM.

Ans.—I am sure our bride housekeepers will be sincerely grateful to Slim for her helpful hints along so many lines. Can someone supply the recitations desired by Slim? Copies of the "Aspiring Dishwasher" were sent to several readers, so I hope one of these will be kind enough to return the reading for Slim.

Chirper Is Growing.

Dear Miss Grey,—Just a line to you and the Boxites to let you see I have not quite forgotten you all. I don't often get a writing fit, but I have tonight. Will you kindly tell me what should be the average weight and height of a girl 15½ years? We are living in the country now, and I have grown several inches since we came here. We are in a nice breezy spot, lots of fresh air and fun, so I think I ought to start and shoot up; they tell me lots of exercise will make me grow. I am to disgusted to try. I must close now, hoping to call on you again, your truly, CHIRPER.

P.S.—Could any of the readers give me a cure for warts? I have two and they refuse to go away.

Ans.—Cheer up, little Chirper; you have time to grow into a big girl yet. And if not, remember that most all the good and valuable things in this life are done up in small packages! A table which I have just consulted gives the average normal and size of a 15-year-old as being: Weight, 138 pounds, height, 5 feet 2 inches. Am sure that country air and outdoor life (do you go berry-picking?) is just the thing for you, and how you must enjoy it.
