WILSON IS RETURNING IN HASTE TO CAPITAL

Washington Believes Sinking of Persia Has Created Fresh Crisis.

LINER CARRIED A GUN

Circumstance May Possibly Become a Factor in the Case.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—President Wilson will return to the capital tomorrow to take charge of the new crisis in foreign relations caused by the submarine campaign in the Mediterranean with the loss of American lives.

After conference over the telephone between the president and his secretary, Mr. Tumulty and Secretary of State Lansing, it was announced at the White House and also at Hot Springs, Va., that the president would start back to Washington tonight, arriving tomorrow.

Another Crisis.

It was stated authoritatively that the destruction of the British liner Persia with loss of American life and the destruction of the British ship Glengyle, had put such a grave aspect on the relations of the United States with the Teutonic powers that the president considered it necessary to return to the White House at once for conferences with the members of the cabinet.

The situation today was described in official quarters as paralleling the crisis which was caused by the sinking of the Arabic close on Germany's assurances in response to the representations of the United States on the destruction of the Lusitania.

Open Mind as Usual.

While American officials are keeping their minds open until they have all the facts officially and know whether Americans were endangered in the sinking of the Glengyle, the gravity of the situation is not minimized, and the declaration of Baron Zwiedinek, the Austrian charge, that he was confident the final explanation would be satisfactory, has not lessened the tension.

Secretary Lansing announced he had instructed Ambassador Penfield at Vienna to ask the Austrian Government for any information which might establish the nationality of the submarine which is said to have sunk the Persia, and which would give the facts in the case.

One new fact developed today. The American consul at Alexandria reported that the Persia carried one 4.7-inch gun, but did not state where the gun was moun
